AMUSEMENTS.

Ever since its organization the Eden Musee has been a popular success. At the annual meeting of the stockholders held a few days ago, the report showed that the past year was the most successful in its history. It was decided to increase the attractions and make the Musee more popular than ever.

One of the things for which the Keith management is to be particularly commended is the continual endeavors made by them to please the younger members of their clientele. It is a well-known fact that a large portion of Keith's patrons are comprised of little people, and this fact is due, no doubt to the special features secured for the entertainment of the young people. No theatre in the country more assiduously caters to the desires of the little folks and as a result Keith's theatre has become a model playhouse for the young as well as the old.

Mr. Robert Love, of 44 Duer street, member of the firm of Love Brothers, grocers, of 257 West Front street, says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for eight or nine years—pain across the back and a lameness over the kidneys. Cold always settled there and aggravated it. At last my back grew weaker and any heavy lifting or too much standing or sitting gave me additional pain. In the morning my back bothered me greatly until I moved about and took some exercise, when it became better to a certain extent. I doctored and used different kinds of so-called kidney cures but it was throwing money away. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our papers, and, being in bad shape at the time, I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. Before taking half of it my condition was greatly improved, and, continuing their use, all the pain left me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

MAINE TOWN RAIDED

Desperadoes Attack Norridgewock's Business Section.

CHASED BY AN ANGRY TWO HUNDRED

Men Were Heavily Armed and Showed No Hesitancy In Shooting at Their Pursuers—Two Now In Custody

NORRIDGEWOCK, Me., Oct. 15.—After a running fight through the woods of several towns in this vicinity between four men who raided Norridgewock's business section and a posse of 200 officers and citizens two of the fugitives were captured, and the others are surrounded in the woods skirting the Carrabassett river near North Anson. The men are heavily armed, and as they showed no hesitation in using their weapons when in tight places during the day it was expected that they would make a spirited defense before submitting to capture.

The two men now in custody were arrested only after one of them had been disabled by a bullet wound in the ankle and the other hopelessly cornered. The other pair were driven into a narrow strip of woods surrounded on three sides by boggy swamps. The posse believed that the escape of the men was impossible, and a peremptory demand was made to surrender. The only reply was a fusillade of shots from the thicket, and then the fugitives quietly slipped across the apparently impassable bog, with quite a lead over their pursuers.

The chase continued through the village of Madison and into the woods beyond Anson village, where the hunt was stopped by darkness. It was expected that the men would make an attempt to cross the Carrabassett river during the night and continue in their flight toward Canada. Both banks of the river were strongly guarded by deputy sheriffs during the night.

The men captured at Beech Hill were removed to Skowhegan and will be given a hearing later. They gave their names as Charles P. Smith of Pittsburg, N. H., and John Morrison of New York and said their companions were John and Fred Burns of Canada.

EMBEZZLER KILLED.

Filipinos Attack and Kill Inspector of Constabulary.

MANILA, Oct. 15.—Inspector Herman and Supply Officer Johnson of the Philippine constabulary, who embezzled funds of the Mindanao government and started out to be pirates, were attacked by six Filipinos, the crew of a native boat which the pirates had taken forcible possession of. The encounter took place off the west coast of Negros.

Johnson was killed at once. Herman was stabbed in the neck, and a native deserter of the name of Fuentes was also stabbed.

Herman fought ferociously and killed four of the attacking party at the closest range.

The struggle took place in a narrow boat, and the remaining two of the attacking party, who were covered with blood, jumped overboard. It is not known whether they escaped or were drowned.

Senator Green Arraigned.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Senator George A. Green was arraigned before United States Commissioner Hall on an indictment charging him with conspiring with George W. Beavers and Willard D. Doremus to sell the government, through Beavers, stamp canceling machines known as the Doremus machine, in which Senator Green was largely interested. Senator Green appeared with his attorney, Theodore R. Tuthill, at the commissioner's office, where he met Abram R. Holmes, post office inspector, who brought the indictment to this city. Assistant United States District Attorney Arms appeared for the government. Senator Green, through his attorney, demanded an examination, and the case was set down for Nov. 9.

KODOL
Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

Bottles only. $1.00 Size holding 2½ times the trial size, which sells for 50c.

AT BRIGHTON BEACH.

Jockey Miller Was Thown and Received Fatal Injuries.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—In the sixth race at Brighton Beach Jockey Miller was thrown from the filly Clytie, belonging to Benjamin Eckert, and so seriously injured that he died shortly afterward. Miller was not considered one of the expert jockeys, having a mount only occasionally and in big fields.

There were nineteen starters in the race, and there was considerable crowding at the start, but the field was soon strung out. Sonoma Belle fell for some unknown cause, as she was apparently alone at the time. Clytie was in her wake and fell over her.

Furman, who rode Sonoma Belle, seemed to roll under the fence and crept out of danger. He was uninjured, but Miller was not so fortunate. Both horses got up and galloped off. Miller was placed in the track ambulance and taken to the temporary hospital on the track, where he died shortly after his arrival.

The mark of a horse's hoof was plainly visible on the boy's chest. This would indicate that he was crushed by the foot of one of the horses while it was arising. Neither of the horses sustained injury.

J. E. Madden's The Minute Man broke his leg in the first race and had to be destroyed. Emergency won the Undergraduate stakes, with the favorite, Hello, second.

Colonial Girl at Worth.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Colonial Girl, the favorite, won the mile handicap at Worth by a nose from Wilful after a hair raising finish. Sarah Mazim was third, four lengths back and a head in front of I Know. The winner covered the mile in 1:30, the fastest race of the present meeting. Wilful finished with a rush and would have won in another jump.

Gettysburg Beaten at Football.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—The University of Pennsylvania football eleven defeated the Gettysburg college team by the overwhelming score of 72 to 0 in halves of twenty-five and twenty minutes each. The heavy Pennsylvania players simply toyed with their lighter and inexperienced opponents and went through the visitors' line almost at will.

Bob Could Not Knock Grim Out.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15. — Bob Fitzsimmons failed to knock out Joe Grim in the scheduled six rounds. The plucky Italian, who has met many good fighters and never been knocked out, was given severe punishment by Fitzsimmons and was knocked down probably a dozen times, but was on his feet at the end of the bout.

Crosby Was High Man.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 15. — William Crosby of Ofallon, Ill., was again high man in the Omaha Gun club tournament, breaking 151 out of a possible 160 targets. Heer and Powers again were placed, breaking 150 and 149 respectively. Cloudy skies prevented high class shooting.

Nationals Shut Out.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. — Sensational catches in the outfield on both sides and Tannehill's brilliant work at short were the features of the game, in which the Nationals were shut out through inability to hit Owens. The score—Nationals, 0; Americans, 2.

Grace Bond Won.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 15. — The Lexington stakes, $2,000, for two-year-old trotters, was won in two straight heats by Grace Bond, the favorite, driven by Roy Miller. Jessie Benyon was second. California Cresceus was third. Best time, 2:14¼.

Japs Were Good Shots.

KWANGCHANWAN, China, Oct. 15. There has been a steamboat disaster on the Laichow river near the French settlement in south China, in which over a hundred persons lost their lives. The steamer On Hing, 250 tons, was capsized during a heavy breeze, and of the large crew on board few were saved.

ZIONISTS' ADVANCE.

Three Thousand Dowieites Entrain For New York.

WILL ATTACK EVERY HOUSEHOLD

Choir of Six Hundred and the Children's Choir the Last to Leave Zion City—The Prophet In Private Car Arcadian.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The "restoration host" from Zion City has begun its movement upon New York city. At intervals of one-half hour train loads of followers of John Alexander Dowie left the north shore city, eight trains in all, bearing over 3,000 "crusaders."

At the blowing of the fire whistle every inhabitant of the city knelt and prayed for a safe journey, and over 7,000 men, women and children gathered at the railway station to listen to the final instructions of their leader. The cars are decorated only with a Zion banner at the rear of each train.

Uniformed guards were distributed throughout the cars, while the Zion band, the restoration choir of 600 voices and the children's choir gathered about to inspire the departing hosts. The trains go over various lines, passing around Chicago. The band and choir trains were the last to leave, the latter including Dowie's private car, the Arcadian.

Dowie's plans contemplate the arrival in New York of all the trains at the same time. Upon leaving the trains the crusaders will spread themselves about the city in search of their quarters. Once established, the work of proselyting will begin in preparation for the grand celebration meeting in Madison Square Garden. In bands of ten, commanded by captains, the host will endeavor to carry the teachings of Dowie into every household, while the leaders will hold street corner meetings.

Among the crusaders are representatives of nearly all Caucasian races, while there is a sprinkling of Asiatics among the guards. The orient is represented by several Japanese and Syrians.

Old men with long, flowing beards, old women, middle aged and youthful, even some with infants in arms, crowded the cars. Two Pullman coaches were attached to the rear of each special for the accommodation of the more well to do of Zion's host.

Getting Ready For Dowie.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Madison Square Garden is being prepared for the use of John Alexander Dowie and his adherents. The decorations of the Old Guard fair have been removed, and workmen are building at the east end of the Garden a platform with a seating capacity sufficient for Zion's 500 officers and choir of 550. In front of the platform will be a baptismal pool thirty feet long and fifteen feet wide.

Storm Bound Ships Sail.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The congestion in the coastwise shipping by reason of the long drawn out storm was relieved by clearing weather and the wind shifting to the westward, with the result that schooners and tugs with their barges started out of various harbors of refuge for their destinations. No less than fifty-six schooners sailed from this port alone, while fifty-one left Vineyard Haven, and nineteen left Salem. Off Chatham there was a large fleet of sailing vessels becalmed, while during the day a long procession of tugs and barges passed through the narrow channel of Pollock Rip Slue, bound to and from points north of Cape Cod.

Turkey Promises Amnesty.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 15. — After correspondence with the Macedonian refugees through the Bulgarian government the sultan has promised a general amnesty and funds to aid in rebuilding their homesteads if the fugitives return to Macedonia. The refugees have consented on condition of their repatriation being under foreign control. The authorities in Roumelia are now estimating the amount necessary to carry out the arrangement.

Presents For Menelik.

DENVER, Oct. 15.—Brigadier General John Chase, who was relieved of the command of the national guard in Cripple Creek by Governor Peabody, was formally placed under arrest on charges in connection with his attempt to take possession of the military pay rolls and will be tried before the court martial which is to convene at the capitol next Monday. The general will not be deprived of his liberty.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 15, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

The trolley company is running undertakers' excursions on its lines. A ride in its open cars in such weather as this is an invitation to pneumonia.

Franklin Murphy has come out in favor for a constitutional convention and has many suggestions to make as to its work. While his suggestions may not all be wise, is there any sound reason why a convention should not be called to revise the present constitution? The sooner the work is commenced the better it will be for the State.

The newspaper might be compared to a large megaphone, which will enable the advertiser to talk to a large audience all the time. With the megaphone it is difficult sometimes for the speaker to be understood, but with the newspaper the advertiser is himself at fault if he fails to make a reasonable, clear, forcible statement.—Impressions for August.

It is indeed unfortunate that the leaders in the Legislature dissent from Governor Murphy's wish that the mistakes of the regular session be remedied at this time in addition to the passage of a school law. The opposition to consideration of all subjects of State importance at this time is the fear that senators and assemblymen will attempt to have pet measures by threatening to vote against the proposed school law.

The Newark Evening News says that "there might be great possibilities for good if the members of the Supreme Court could be prevailed upon to lay down the law from the sacred desk," and suggests that Rev. John MacMurray invite Chief Justice Gummere to express his views on gambling from the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church pulpit. Let's see, isn't he the man who values a child's life at one dollar. Probably the Methodist divine would desire a man of a trifle broader gauge to address his congregation.

Charles L. Moffett's withdrawal of his declination to run as a candidate for a Democratic Assembly nomination was the only proper thing for him to do under the circumstances. No matter how good his excuse is for not desiring to run as a candidate for the office, his refusal to have his name presented to the convention this afternoon would be a great injustice to himself as it would probably led some to believe that his act was prompted by ulterior motives. Mr. Moffett could not afford to allow his good reputation to suffer this way.

It was unanimously decided, however, to try to keep the remaining members together during the winter in hopes that more men will come in when the work picks up.

About seventy-five men have been laid off at Levering & Garrigues' iron works during the last two weeks. They have plenty of orders but are unable to obtain any steel from the Pennsylvania mills. There are at present only about twenty men employed.

Editor, The Daily Press:

She came from Old Kentucky, but she Didn't care for that,
For she left them in a jiffy
When she knew her alphabet.

She learned some things besides that
And they stood her well in hand,
For she now lives in North Plainfield,
She's a peach to beat the band.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 18.—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Great men of the Bible—What Moses teaches us.—Ex. xxxiv, 29-35; Matt. xvii, 3, 4; Heb. iii, 1-5.

The life of Moses is the most easily remembered of all the Old Testament characters. It is divided into three equal periods of forty years each. He was born in Egypt and spent his first forty years there, being trained in the home and afterward in the palace, where he learned all the wisdom of the Egyptians for the work which God had in store for him. His second period was spent in Midian, whither God sent him after a serious exhibition of impulsiveness that He might teach him the lesson of patience. The third period of his life was spent in leading the Israelites from Egypt to Canaan, and, this accomplished, God called him up higher. Alone with God on Mount Neto he "fell in sleep" and was not seen on earth again until he appeared with Moses upon the Mount of Transfiguration.

The life of Moses is rich in practical lessons, and the difficulty is not what to say, but what to leave unsaid in the limited space before us. Yet some lessons in the life of Moses stand out more prominently before us, and these may be mentioned.

1. Moses teaches the importance of education for a successful life work. Many decry education, but it cannot be done without in the light of Moses' life. God educated him in the home, in the learning of the schools of Egypt and in the great school of experience before he had him ready for his life work. He spent eighty years in preparing him to do forty years' work. And it paid. His life stands out in great prominence as the deliverer of his nation and, under God, its founder and lawgiver. Too much time and study cannot be spent in preparing for a life work if it is to be a great and successful one.

2. Moses teaches a lesson on Christ. In many respects he was a type of the Christ who was to come to Israel and to the world. But, with all his greatness, he cannot be compared to Christ. Moses served God as a servant, Christ served Him as a son, and if we honor and try to imitate the life of God's great servant how much more we should honor and love and imitate the life of the Son of God? Christ was far superior to Moses, and should therefore have a far more superior place in our hearts and lives.

3. Moses teaches a lesson in faithfulness to God. With but one exception, an act of disobedience that cost him an entrance into Canaan, Moses was most faithful to God. He carried out his instructions in relation to Pharaoh, he followed his guidance in the wilderness and organized the nation and the national church upon the lines laid down by God, and God rewarded his faithfulness. He took him to Himself and honored him beside Elijah in that most interesting scene in the life of Christ upon the Mount of Transfiguration. Like Moses, let us be faithful and there will be laid up for us "a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give us in that day."

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. ii, 1-10; iii, 1-10; xii, 21-28; xv, 1-18; xxxiv, 29-35; xxxvi, 2-7; xxxiv, 1-12; Josh. i, 1-7; Matt. vii, 1-8; I Cor. xv, 58.

Maryland Song.

The Maryland Endeavorers make the welkin ring with their state song, which they sing to the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland." The song in its entirety is as follows:

File into rank for Christ today,
Oh, Maryland, dear Maryland.
Free to the breeze His banners play,
Maryland, dear Maryland.
Your noblest work for Him be done
From early dawn to setting sun,
Nor cease till latest victory's won,
Maryland, my Maryland.

CHORUS.

Shout, shout for joy the glad refrain,
Maryland, my Maryland.
Our King shall claim His own again,
Maryland, my Maryland.

"Christ and His church" your watchword be,
Maryland, dear Maryland,
Till time becomes eternity,
Maryland, dear Maryland.
His gospel spread through all the land,
His heralds each Endeavor band,
And may they make a gallant stand
For Maryland, dear Maryland.

Oh, sound the call both loud and well,
In Maryland, dear Maryland,
For all who would His legions swell,
Maryland, my Maryland.
From mountain, river, hill and plain
Ring out the loud, resounding strain
And bid the welkin ring again
In Maryland, my Maryland.

Additions to the Church.

During the past year 175,000 have come from the ranks of Christian Endeavor into the membership of the churches, and thousands more would have come if more pastors had appreciated what a magnificent field for evangelistic effort God had placed at their hand.—William Shaw in General Secretary's Report at Denver Convention.

Not "Shall," but "How."

The question for us to consider this year is not "Shall we expand?" but "How can we best expand?"—Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark.

Quiz Box.

[Any question may be asked that pertains to any phase of Christian Endeavor work. Address Lock Box 674, Binghamton, N. Y.]

106. B. M. N., Selma, Ala.—Several states are now employing field secretaries who largely give their time to working inaccessible parts of the state.

107. P. B. C., Woodbourne, N. Y.—New York state C. E. union has a superintendent of fresh air work in the person of Rev. J. Foster Wilcox of Syracuse. A great deal of aggressive work was done along this line the past season.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 18, "The Law of the Harvest." Text, John xii, 23-26.

"Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit."

Every one knows that who knows anything of planting and harvesting. Who first learned it, among men, we are not certain. Perhaps it was that first son of man, Cain. It was a great discovery to find the secret of vegetable life. What wealth of possibilities is in the grasp of that discoverer! Calculate what harvests can be had from this single seed in the world fields now wilderness in the ages to come! What accumulation, what distribution, what feeding of multitudes, what industries! Measure the volume of the world's agriculture and all the commerce and industries related to it, and you may then estimate the worth of this discovery of the first man who penetrated the secret of nature and learned how to make the earth yield him harvests from his own seed sowing.

Is that all he learned? That is all. He learned about wheat and its growing—seed and earth and increase of wheat—nothing more. That is why "in the process of time it came to pass that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto Jehovah." He could plant and he could gather, but he could not make seed reproduce itself. Jehovah must do that. "Jehovah, be favorable and give greater harvests." Jehovah is the reproducer of wheat. We want wheat, and so worship the wheat god with the offerings of wheat. We give little and expect much. That is the law of harvest. It is our business to plant and gather, build barns and hoard wheat. It is God's business to give us all the wheat we want. That is what Cain learned. It is all His children have yet learned in harvest field and wheat pit. Wheat is known, but God is unknown.

Is that the secret of nature? Far from it. That is only the parable. The law of harvest is a spirit given and spirit discovered law.

The Son of Man discovered the law of wheat harvest and taught it to His brethren. There must be planting and gathering. This is the work of men. The increase must come from God. He says, "Whosoever would save his life shall lose it." Keep the seed unplanted and you shall reap no harvest.

"Whosoever shall lose his life for My sake and the gospel's shall save it."

You have powers and all the equipment of human life. What will you do with yourself? To cast yourself into the midst of the world's darkness and the damp of its misery and sin, to realize the decay of all outward advantage, to deliberately shut yourself from the sunshine of worldly gayety and gain, to die to its honors and praises and blaming—this is sowing. But to feel your inner nature expand as the outer decays, to realize the steady impulse and expansion, the elevation of soul bursting the old, outer husk of bodily appetites and earthly lusts—this is the growing power of God transforming seed into blade and ear and full grain in the ear. What marvels of grace and wisdom and beauty! We know the decay of earthly planting in order to know ourselves as we become blade and ear and mature wheat. But the single seed has now become thirty. Planted in the manner of Jesus, we rise in His likeness.

Are you learning the secret of the law of harvest? Not that any of us has yet mastered it. Only the Christ has yet been offered up as a kind of first fruits. We grow on until the angel reapers shall sing "harvest home." Then shall the Son of Man bring of the fruits of earth unto Jehovah and shall not be ashamed, because the Lord shall have respect unto the offering and the offerer. Are you growing into an acceptable offering which Christ shall be able to present to the Father with joy at that day?

A Morning Prayer.

Blessed be God, through whom I laid me down and slept and rose up again, because He sustained me. Give me, O Heavenly Father, a spirit of modest and cheerful thankfulness; with love to all my kindred, neighbors and fellow creatures, who are brother pensioners with me upon Thy bounty and members of one body, the household of souls. Continue to me, and all whom I ought to pray for, Thy compassions every morning so long as may be Thy holy will and for the good of our weakness, and whenever Thou sendest bereavement among us strengthen us to intrust our beloved into Thy hands. Amen.—From "Psalms and Litanies," by Rowland Williams, D. D.

Trust God For Tomorrow.

Tomorrow is not for us to rejoice in or to fear. It may never come to us, and if it comes its bringings may be very different from our thought. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof and the good thereof. However trying today may be, it can be endured for today, and tomorrow may be without trials. However joyous may be today, tomorrow may be far better. Therefore let us have heart and hope today and trust God for tomorrow.—Sunday School Times.

Choosing the Wrong Road.

In morals, when a man reaches a place where the road diverges to the right and left, he must take one or the other. He must go on. It is willful stupidity to assume that he need not take either. When he reaches that conclusion he has already entered upon the wrong path.—Philadelphia Methodist.

A Power For Good.

There is always power for good in the smile that God puts on the face.—American Friend.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS IN a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL

An Up to Date Game

YOUNG women athletes are now greatly devoted to basket ball. It is one of the most energetic of all the games participated in by feminine college students. These say that girls' basket ball is not so rough as boys', but that it is more scientific. At any rate, the girl who at school learns to shove a basket ball ever afterward knows how to throw a stone and thus, so far as she at least is concerned, refutes one of the traditional charges against her sex.

In point of strenuosity basket ball for girls is what football is in boys' schools. There is hardly anything equal to it for physical development and eye training. It is the favorite game of the strongest and most athletic girls or those determined to become such. And since accidents of any kind have been very rarely reported in the girls' basket ball field there seems every reason to encourage this vigorous game.

The plan of it is not elaborate. There are five players on a side. Four stand in the form of a rectangle, with the fifth girl some distance in front and between the two at the head of the rectangle. These two are called "forwards." The fifth girl in front of them is called the "center," and she must be one of the tallest, spriest of the whole team. The two players composing the rear of the rectangle are called "backs" or "guards."

The apparatus required is simple, consisting of two baskets and a ball of considerable size. Each side has a basket, and it is fixed upon a board above the heads and back of the two rear guards of the team. The framework back of board is to keep the ball from flying away, likewise to make it rebound when it fails to drop in the basket.

The game consists in hurling the ball into your enemy's basket. That is called "making a goal." Exactly half way between the two center girls stands the referee, so called, and the game begins by the referee throwing the ball straight up into the air. Each center instantly tries to catch the ball and hurl it into the enemy's basket, but the enemy is taking every precaution to prevent this. If the ball comes near the basket the backs who understand their business know how to prevent its dropping in. An expert basket ball player says the tallest girl is usually chosen for the center, the foxiest girls are selected for the forwards, while the strongest defensive players and stayers constitute the backs or guards. All the fine fighting and staying qualities of human nature are thus called into play and developed.

Running, dodging, turning, thinking and acting at the same instant and, lastly, correct throwing are the requisites for good basket ball and the accomplishments aimed at in the training. First a team to be is put through running exercises. The girls must also practice catching a ball and holding fast to it, as well as hurling it. The mental qualities the girls develop are, if possible, even more desirable than their physical gain. Of course they are tanned, robust, bright eyed and merry faced and good to look upon, but at the same time they become courageous, resourceful and self dependent in habit of thought. The basket ball girl never has hysterics, and morbid, diseased sentiment has no place in her healthy mind. This is a tremendous acquisition for a member of the feminine sex.

The costume worn in this brave game is the ordinary gymnasium dress, modified slightly. It consists of bloomer trousers and blouse, all entirely loose and unrestricting, the trousers bottoms gathered in by elastics just below the knees. "Done up" hair would have a poor showing in basket ball, so the player braids her tresses into one plait and usually lets it hang down her back.

The difference between girls' education today and that of fifty years ago can in no way be better appreciated than by a comparison of the present basket ball college girl with the "dear old maiden aunt" of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes' poem, where—

They pinched her up, they starved her down,
To make her light and small.

Nearly every natural movement of a girl's body or natural intellectual aspiration was condemned as "unladylike." Now only bad temper, bad manners and bad morals are unladylike.

MARCIA CAMPBELL.

The Silly Women.

Women sometimes act silly and excitable because they think it looks womanly to do so. It does not. It is babyish, the action of a fat, overgrown old baby.

THE ROYAL VISIT.

Sentiments of Friendship and Amity by King and President.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—The banquet at the Elysee palace given by President Loubet in honor of the royal visitors, Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena, was an occasion for toasts in which host and guest alike expressed their pleasure at the rapproachement between the two nations and dwelt on the happy effect that the Franco-Italian friendship would have on the relations of the European powers generally.

President Loubet rose and, addressing King Victor Emmanuel, said:

"Sire, France realizes the significance of your majesty's visit to the president of this republic, in which it sees a striking demonstration of the close agreement which, responding equally to the sentiments and interests of the Italian and French peoples, has been established between their governments. It is assured that the two countries henceforth can pursue their national tasks with reciprocal confidence and good will.

"France hails your majesty's arrival with sincere joy, which joy is doubled by the gracious presence of your queen. With all my heart I raise my glass in the name of France."

King Victor Emmanuel in reply to this toast thanked the French president and expressed his delight at the hearty welcome that he and Queen Helena had received, adding that he saw therein more than a mere demonstration of the traditional politeness of the French. His majesty then continued:

"France rightly considers my presence in Paris the natural result of that work of rapproehement happily accomplished between the two countries. Italy's interests make her ardently desire the consecration of peace. Her position in Europe enables her to contribute by her attitude to the realization of this eminently civilizing result, toward which my highest and warmest aspirations and the constant efforts of my government are directed.

THE TILLMAN TRIAL.

Judge Gary Has Given the Case to the Jury.

LEXINGTON, S. C., Oct. 15.—The closing arguments in the case of J. H. Tillman have been made. Judge Gary has given the case to the jury.

Senator Tillman, uncle of the defendant, was present. Colonel Croft made the closing address for the defendant and final appeal for his acquittal. In summing up the defendant's case he dwelt upon the testimony of witnesses for the defense relative to the position of Gonzales' hands as he approached Tillman. He also pressed the point that the defendant was to be judged in the light of circumstances as they appeared to him. Colonel Croft was followed by General G. L. Bellinger, who closed for the state and made the final argument of the trial. General Bellinger made a general summing up of the state's case, analyzing and comparing it with the testimony of witnesses for the defense, calling especial attention to the witnesses whose veracity had been attacked by the state.

Concluding his charge, the judge said:

"Gentlemen, bring to bear on the case your best judgment, and find a verdict according to the facts, disregarding any outside claim or that too many homicides have gone unpunished."

THE LOST WHALER.

Details of the Wreck of the Schooner Joseph Manta.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Oct. 15.—A second cablegram was received from Fayal in further confirmation of the loss of the whaling schooner Joseph Manta and, in addition, giving the names of the crew, all of whom were lost, and its statement that four bodies, as yet unidentified, had been recovered.

The Manta sailed from Fayal on Oct. 8 and apparently ran into the gale which a day or two after swept the British isles and the coast of France. She was thrown upon the northern end of Pico and totally wrecked, with all on board. The hull of the vessel was discovered on Monday, and four bodies have been washed ashore.

This Neglect May Be Serious.

GENESEO, N. Y., Oct. 15. — The chairman of the Democratic county central committee for Livingston county neglected to file the list of nominations until so late that the county clerk refused to file them. There was a hot fight on for member of assembly, but the prospects now are that by the neglect of the chairman of the county central committee to file the certificate in the specified time there will be no Democratic ticket in the field in Livingston county.

Rankin Got Life Sentence.

LAPORTE, Ind., Oct. 15.—Nathan Rankin of Englewood, Ill., third of the murderers of John R. Koonsman of South Bend, was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to imprisonment for life. Rankin, Malvin Boone and "Red" Mallory attempted to rob Koonsman's store and killed him while trying to escape. Rankin's two confederates were sent up for life, and Boone died within a month.

Raised Value of Bank Notes.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 15.—During the past twenty-four hours five one dollar bills which had been raised to $5 have been passed on local merchants. The work of changing the figures on the money shows it to be that of a person of cleverness.

Ex-Governor Dead.

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 15.—Ex-Governor Henry T. Mitchell is dead at his home here of general debility. He was governor from 1893 to 1897.

RAILROAD ADVERTISING.

Has Done Much to Reveal the Beauties of Travel in America.

When the passenger departments of the railroads began to advertise the advantages of their respective lines and the beauties and points of interest along the right of way, the conservatives stood aghast at the innovation, says the Toledo Tomes. It was freely predicted that they would get tired of wasting their money or that their employers would call them down and refuse to countenance such expenditures. Yet how different has been the outcome. The pioneers in the business have been followed by imitators and competitors, until some of the most attractive and interesting and instructive advertising of the day is done by the railroads. It is, of course, impossible to know the full extent of the influence of this advertising, but the result has been to immensely stimulate travel. We Americans are just learning to appreciate leisure and to know that one doesn't have to go a thousand miles from home to get genuine recreation and an education that is a pleasure to acquire.

The theory that everything worth seeing is in Europe has been exploded and the railroads, with their persistent, artistic and well constructed advertising have lighted the fuse that led to the explosion. Everyone with a spark of ambition desires to see surroundings different from his own. He wants to travel. But he dreads going into strange scenes and conditions.

DRYING OUT ZUYDER ZEE.

Hollanders Are Constantly at Work Reclaiming Land from the Sea.

The Chicago drainage canal is a mere plaything compared with the engineering feat of draining Haarlem lake in Holland, says a writer in the New York Tribune. The Dutch built a dike around a piece of the sea and then pumped the lake they had made entirely dry. This was so successful that other portions of the sea have been reclaimed in the same way. Now the Netherlanders have set out to dry up a sea, the Zuyder Zee, and reclaim about 600 square miles. The cost of this undertaking is estimated to be $41,000,000 or $6,000,000 more than the cost of the New York subway. The Dutch government, however, expects to get its money back, as it will have 450,000 acres of land, from which it expects to get a rental of $4,500,000 a year.

One might think that such a marshy tract of land, even after it had been reclaimed and drained, would be malarial. Not so. The draining of the land will be done a little at a time, so as to shorten the marshy stage as much as possible. Coast land, even if low, when past the marshy stage, is especially healthful. Furthermore, the people of that country are used to low land. At any rate, they succeeded in drying up Haarlem.

LIGHT AND HEAVY BRAINS.

Professional Men Said to Have Far More Gray Matter Than Laborers.

In a recent memoir on the human brain, Dr. Matiagta, of Prague, one of the most eminent specialists of Europe, records the fact that the heaviest brain he has found is that of a young man of 22 years and 1.80 meters in height, which weighs 1,820 grams. The female brain does not seem to rise over 1,500 grams, and the lightest he knows about (excluding the very aged) was 1,020 grams, that of a woman of 25 years, 1.50 meters in height. There is one of 1,000 grams belonging to a woman of 89 years. The average male brain weighs 1,400 grams, and the female 1,200 grams, between 20 and 59 years. Of remarkable brains that of Konstantinoff, a Bulgarian novelist, weighed 1,595 grams, and that of Smetana, a composer, only 1,250 grams. The average weight of the brain of different occupations he gives as from 1,410 to 1,440 for workmen, 1,468 for business men, professional musicians and photographers, and 1,500 for medical men and persons whose calling supposes a university education.

GREEN TURTLES OF FLORIDA.

Fishermen Catch Them with Nets as They Float in Balls of Grass.

The green turtles of southern Florida live in deep water and feed on sea plants, mostly the kind called "turtle grass," which they cut off near the roots, eating the lower parts and leaving the tops floating so that it collects in great fields and marks the spots where the animals are to be hunted for by the fishermen. After browsing in such ocean pastures the green turtles go to the mouths of rivers for baths of fresh water, which they seem to need from time to time. The Florida fishermen say the reptiles enter the creeks and roll together in masses of grass, cementing them into balls with clay. When the turn of the tide takes the balls out to sea they follow them. The fishermen watch for such balls floating down the creeks, and when they see them they stretch nets across the mouths of the streams and always catch the turtles.

Use of Hydroscope.

The treasures that lie at the bottom of the sea are now more easily obtainable by the invention of an instrument known as the hydroscope. The contrivance is shortly to be put in operation in order to find the lost fleet of Xerxes, which has reclined on the sea's bed undisturbed for about 2,300 years. Search is also to be made for the ship chartered by Pompey to carry Roman art treasures to Athens and wrecked in the archipelago 1,950 years ago.

WAR ALARMS FALSE

Japan Denies That There Is Fear of a Rupture.

NOT SEEKING IT, BUT IS PREPARED

Official Announcement at Tokyo That Reports Current Abroad Have No Foundation or Are Exaggerated.

LONDON, Oct. 15. — The Japanese government has issued a denial of the alarmist reports of the imminence of war with Russia in a dispatch from Tokyo and sent to the Japanese ministers abroad. It says:

"The negotiations concerning Manchurian and Korean questions are following their normal course, and there is no reason to anticipate a rupture between Japan and Russia. The alarmist reports current abroad are devoid of foundation."

The Japanese papers have their columns filled with reports of imminent war, and some are so irresponsible that the Japanese war office has summoned representatives of all Japanese newspapers and news agencies and warned them to be more discreet.

War department officials say that these reports telegraphed abroad exaggerate Japan's stand into a bellicose position, while the truth is Japan is not seeking war, but recognizes that it may be forced on her, and she is preparing accordingly.

It is recognized that the negotiations going on are of supreme importance and that they may reach a dangerous deadlock or be terminated by Japan, which is regarded as being determined to reach a favorable understanding with Russia or take warlike steps.

A dispatch from Kobe says:

"Baron von Rosen, the Russian minister, and Baron Komura, the Japanese foreign minister, have had another conference.

"It is reported that a council of the "elder" statesmen (veterans outside the cabinet), General Kodama, late interior minister, who has been appointed chief assistant to the military staff, being present, adopted a resolution to the effect that Japan cannot tolerate any Russian move endangering the independence of Korea.

"Russian military activity at Yongampho and beyond the Yalu river continues."

A St. Petersburg correspondent says that Russia claims under her treaty with China the right to retain troops in Manchuria, as the robber bands constitute a danger to the Russian railway.

CASTING THE BALLOT BY THE NEW METHOD

Instructions on the Proper Use of the Voting Machine at Coming Election.

FULL EXPLAINATIONS

RESULT OF AN ELECTION KNOWN IN TEN MINUTES.

How to Vote Straight Ticket and How to Cast a Split—Some of the Features of the Machine—"Yes" and "No" Indicator.

The voting machines now on exhibition here are attracting much attention. They are the object of considerable curiosity particularly among the voters. Three of these machine will be used in this city while one will do service in the borough.

When set up on its skeleton standards the machine is about eight feet in height and four feet wide, with a depth of about eighteen inches. The riveted steel sides are painted a dark green and the green draperies which enclose the front give the impression of the hurdy-gurdy.

The internal mechanism is complex, and every part is of necessity hardened steel. It is an impossibility to vote for two men for the same office, while a ticket can be split as readily as in voting a paper ballot.

At the end of the machine is a knob, which is raised and returned to its place by an election official as the voter is allowed to pass between the divided draperies. This sets the machine. The voter is confronted by a series of rows of names of the various candidates to be voted for—one row for each party—while above these is a device which is set for thirty questions to be used in voting on constitutional amendments, special appropriations, etc. At the top is a row of closed, slides that can be opened if the corresponding ones in the straight tickets or party rows are closed, and the name of any candidate not on the ticket for whom the voter may wish to cast his ballot can be written on the exposed scroll.

The first duty of the voter is to swing an extended lever, which is above his head, from left to right. This automatically closes the curtains, and, the lever having locked, the voter cannot get out of the booth without using force until he has voted. If none of the candidates meet with his approval he can vote a blank by pulling a knob at the bottom of the machine, which records on an exposed counter that he has voted, but does not affect the automatic counters for the candidates. This releases the lever and permits him to leave the booth.

To the left of each row of candidates whose names appear on the face of the machine is a disc on which appears the emblem and name of a party; for instance, an eagle for the Republican party with the party name below it. Above the disc is a little knob with an indicator pointing from right to left. Before a vote can be cast for any candidate one of these knobs must be pushed over. This turns down a little indicator toward each name on the ticket opposite the disc. If the overhead lever is then returned to its place a straight ticket is cast. If it is the desire of the voter to split his ticket he can do so by manipulating the little indicators with his hands. If one on the straight ticket he has set is pushed up the corresponding ones on the other tickets are released, but the moment the voter pushes another down the others are locked.

The vote is recorded in the back of the machine. If there are four tickets in the field, they are on the machine a, b, c and d, and the candidates are 1, 2, 3, etc., up to 30. Assembly candidates would, numbered, be from 19 to 30, and above each name on the front of the machine is that candidate's number. The vote of a district where a machine is in use could without doubt be announced within ten minutes of the closing of the poll without regard to the size or complexity of the vote.

Indicators pointing to "yes" or "no" permit the voter to register whether he is for or against any question that may be up for consideration.

At one end of the machine is a protective counter that registers every time a vote is cast. This cannot be reset, but will register indefinitely.

C. L. MOFFETT NOMINATED

Plainfield Delegates Protest at Elizabeth's Action in Naming Him for Assembly.

EXCITING CONVENTION

Joseph Gunn and Joseph Hague Are Moffett's Colleagues on Democratic Assembly Ticket in Union County — Chairman Moody Scores Mr. Hall.

Declaring that the action did "great injustice to Plainfield" and was "very undemocratic," Andrew Nolan, chairman of the local delegation, protested against the nomination of Charles L. Moffett, at the Union County Democratic convention at the Lyceum theatre in Elizabeth yesterday. As a reason for his surprising position, Mr. Nolan said that Mr. Moffett declined to be a candidate. Robert H. Mc Adams, of the Eleventh ward of Elizabeth, placed Mr. Moffett in nomination in a ringing speech before Plainfield was called. Replying to Nolan's vigorious objection, an Elizabeth delegate shouted "It looks very strange that Plainfield should make such a statement." Moffett was nominated unanimously, however, and his name was greeted with much applause by the county Democrats. When the vote was being cast, Mr. Nolan said: "While I know that Mr. Moffett will not stand for that nomination as sure as I am standing here, yet we cast the entire vote of Plainfield for him. We do protest against the way he was put in nomination." The candidate, upon whom the Fowler people here count to defeat W. T. Kirk, the Republican nominee, did not appear at the convention.

Joseph G. Gunn, of Springfield township, nominated by County Chairman John Moody in an able speech, and Joseph T. Hague, of Elizabeth, a member of the board of education, were unanimously named as Mr. Moffett's colleagues on the assembly ticket. Dr. Alvin R. Eaton, Jr., of Elizabeth, was selected as the candidate for coroner. County Chairman Moody called the convention to order and announced John L. Crowell, of Rahway, as temporary chairman, the selection subsequently being made permanent. In the makeup of the committees these Plainfielders were selected: Credentials, J. F. Dilts; resolutions, F. J. Shattle; and Andrew Nolan on vacancies. A. H. Atterbury and James E. Martine were among those selected as vice presidents. In nominating Gunn, Mr. Moody scored a certain Republican assemblyman saying that the Democratic candidate would not need to be taken home on a shutter and would represent moral decency. After the nominations were all made the Plainfield delegation, under Nolan, started in again to protest and the chair shut Vincent W. Frasee off by giving others the floor and finally an Elizabeth delegate made a motion that the old standby, James E. Martine, make his customary convention speech.

Mr. Martine attacked the Republican administration in the State for its recent blunders and finally paid his respects to Assemblyman Hall. The farmer-orator declared that "the only thing that Hall has ever done was to do 'Ham' Kane." He declared that the "captains of industry," Morgan and Schwab, are captains of piracy. When he had concluded, Mr. Hague made a neat speech thanking the convention for the honor done him.

The platform decries the violation of the laws by great corporations and moneyed interests and points to the dominent influence of these bodies controlling public utilities in political affairs. It charges that the Republican party is subservient to these interests and that it assists them in violating the laws. Public ownership of public utilities is strongly advocated as is the enactment of an eight-hour day law and the equalization of taxes. It condemns State interference in municipal affairs.

Next Convention at High Bridge—125 Delegates Present—Concert by Euterpean Club.

The afternoon session of the thirteenth annual convention of the Elizabeth District Epworth League, held in the First M. E. Church, yesterday, opened with an address on "Christian Citizenship" by Rev. C. S. Kemble, of Jersey City. These conferences followed:

"Spiritual Work," led by Dr. W H. Morgan, Central Church, Newark; "World Evangelism," Rev. W. B. Fleming, Bergen Point Church, Bayonne; "Mercy and Help," Rev. Dr. A. S. Kavanagh, M. E. Dr. Doherty gave an address on literary and social work, and Dr. Kavanagh on mery and help tasks. The report of the treasurer as audited by the committee showed that the receipts for the year amounted to $116.72 and the expenditures $104.22, leaving a balance of $12.50 in the general treasury.

Thanks were extended to the First M. E. Church for the use of the edifice; to the three local leagues for the entertainment provided; to the retiring president, R. F. Fenno.

Somerville, High Bridge and Rahway asked for the next convention and it was unanimously voted to go to High Bridge. Fraternal greeting was extended to Rev. H. J. Johnston, of the Jersey City District, and he made a happy response. The enrollment committee reported that 125 delegates and 129 visitors were present, representing thirty-two leagues. Mrs. Samuel Burhans, superintendent Junior League, made an address and her remarks were emphasized by Rev. Dr. Halleron.

The afternoon session closed with an able address on "The Tongue," by Rev. Dr. W. H. Morgan, of the Central M. E. Church, Newark. After adjournment the delegates retired to the basement of the church where supper was served by the women of the church.

The largest attendance at the convention was noted in the evening, when every seat in the edifice was taken. A selection by the Euterpean Glee Club, E. D. Cutting, E. Maxwell Honeyman, Sydney R. Titsworth and Howard T. Lewis, opened the programme. Rev. Dr. George P. Eckman, of St. Paul's M. E. Church, New York, made an address, his subject being "The Heir Apparent."

At the close of the address a few remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Halleron, presiding elder, in which he said that he was pleased to inform the congregation that the convention had been the best ever held in the Elizabeth District. Another selection by the glee club, a hymn and the benediction brought the convention to a close.

One of the prettiest of October home weddings was celebrated last night, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ira G. The event united two of the oldest families in this section of the State. His father is the oldest original resident of Summit and still occupies the house which has been the family homestead for the past 150 years.

The home was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. Promptly at 6 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, Miss Laura E. Batcheler, a niece of the groom, presiding at the organ, the brid's party marched through the reception room and library to the parlor. Here they were met by the groom and his best man, Otis D. Batcheler. Preceding the bridal party were the ushers, Messrs. Edmond and Herbert Monney, brothers of the bride, little Ethelwyn Walker, her niece, as flower girl and her sister, Mrs. Walker, maid-of-honor. In the parlor the happy party was met by Rev. George Angleman, of Piermont, N. Y., an old friend of the bride's family and formerly pastor of the Methodist Church.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Dean will reside at 131 Morris avenue, Summit, where a furnished house awaits them. REV. J. S. ZELIE INSTALLED PASTOR Impressive Services in Crescent Avenue Church Witnessed by Many.

MR. LOVELL ORDAINED

REV. DR. WILLIAM R. RICHARDS PARTICIPATES IN CEREMONIES.

Prominent Divines Attend Service—Rev. Dr. Henry E. Mott, of Elizabeth, Preaches the Evening Sermon—The Programme.

Rev. John Sheridan Zelie was formally installed pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church last night, in the presence of a large and sympathetic congregation. Seated on the platform were Mr. Zelie's predecessors in office and his associates in the ministry of Plainfield.

The services began by the pronouncing of the benediction by Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, former pastor of the church, and the scripture reading by Rev. Lawrence R. Howard, pastor of Hope Memorial Chapel. Following the singing of an anthem, "Whose Dwelleth Under the Shadow of the Most High," the sermon of the evening was preached by Rev. Henry Elliott Mott, D. D., of Elizabeth. Rev. John T. Kerr, moderator of the Presbytery of Elizabeth, presided.

Dr. Mott propounded the doctrine of loyalty to the unseen Christ as the working force in Christianity. It is this spirit of loyalty, he said, that changes the science of life and Christianity into the art of the Christian life.

The constitutional questions necessary in the installation of the pastor were addressed to Mr. Zelie and to the congregation by the moderator, Rev. John T. Kerr. Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian Church, made the prayer of installation.

In his charge to the pastor, Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, former pastor of Hope Memorial Chapel, spoke of the importance of personality. "Be yourself" and "Be a man of God," were his words of advice. Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, of the Brick Church, of New York, formerly of the Crescent Avenue Church, delivered the charge of the people upon whom he urged a helpful attitude toward the pastor, an attitude that would proclaim its joy as the richness of the coming ministry developed and that would maintain silence in a time of trouble or error. The exercises closed with the singing of a hymn.

After the installation, Gilbert Lovell, of this city, son of Leander Lovell, was ordained to the ministry to be an evangelist in India. The exercises were: Prayer of ordination by Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren Chapel; charge to the evangelist by Rev. William R. Richards, D. D.; prayer by Rev. F. D. Tildon, pastor of Bethel Chapel.

WM. WATT IS ARRESTED

TO BE BROUGHT HERE TO ANSWER CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

Peter Zimmerman Made Complant Before Justice Huff a Year Ago—Watt His Employe.

William Watt was arrested in Springfield, Mass., yesterday on a warrant issued more than a year ago by Justice Huff, of this city, charging the embezzlement of $800 from his employer, Peter Zimmerman, of the Plainfield Packing house on West Front street. Watt will be returned to this city without requisition papers.

Watt drove a butcher's wagon for Zimmerman for a long time and was implicitly trusted by his employer. He was in the habit of collecting money from his customers and it is $800 of this money that he is charged with embezzling. One of these customers was requested by Zimmerman to make a payment on a bill which had already been settled through Watt, and the fact of the embezzlement came out in that way. Watt heard that his employer had discovered his defalcation and left town on Labor Day of 1902. He was never heard of since then until his arrest in Massachusetts.

TO PASS SCHOOL BILL TONIGHT

EDWARD COLBY INTRODUCES MEASURE WHICH IS NOW BEING PRINTED.

Legislation to Confine Its Attention to New School Law—Murphy Defeated.

It was almost 1 o'clock this morning when the Second Special Session Assembly Bill No. 1, which, if passed, is to take the place of the unconstitutional McKee school law, was passed from second to third reading by the House of Assembly. This was only accomplished after almost the entire bill, 248 sections and 89 pages, had been gone over section by section, and after more than a score of amendments to the bill had been introduced.

Although it will be strongly opposed, the programme is to place the bill on third reading in the house when it convenes tonight.

The Senate, by a vote of 10 to 8 in caucus, decided to consider only the school matter, and the joint caucus vote on the same question was 26 to 15 against the Governor's recommendation.

The school bill was introduced by Everett Colby, of Essex, and after Attorney-General McCarter had given an opinion as to its constitutionality it was taken up on second reading, in spite of the opposition of the minority, who asked that action be postponed until a matter so important could be given more consideration.

MELLICK TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

A Wealthy Farmer, at Oak Tree, Ended His Career While Insane.

BULLET IN HIS HEART

Body Found on Frasee Farm—Searching Parties Scour Woods—Dead Man Suffered From Carbuncle on Wrist—Was Thirty-One Years Old.

Dayton Mellick, a wealthy farmer living near Oak Tree, ended his life by shooting himself through the heart early yesterday morning, while suffering from temporary insanity from the intense pain caused by a carbuncle on the wrist. Searching parties scoured the woods all day for the man when it became known that he had disappeared. His body was found at 3:30.

He arose at 5 o'clock yesterday morning and went out to the barns to supervise the milking of the cows and the shipment of the milk to this city. His wife and children were in the house when he re-entered. He went to his room and brought down his pistol, which he always carried when he went to the fields. A little while afterwards some neighbors came in and said they had seen Mr. Mellick going towards Frasee's farm.

Fearing that something was wrong, Mrs. Mellick organized searching parties and all day yesterday the woods were scoured. The entire country in that locality was searched but it was not until 3 o'clock that the body was found in a marsh with a bullet wound in the chest. The pistol, still clenched in the dead man's hand, told the story only too plainly.

There was every indication that the dead man planned his death with much care. He had dug a small grave for himself and then wiped the mud from his hands on some grass. His coat and underclothing had been pushed aside and the black powder marks about the wound showed that the muzzle of the gun had been placed close to his chest. That death was instantaneous was shown by the fact hat there were no signs about the secluded spot to prove that he had died in agony.

Mr. Mellick was the wealthiest farmer living in that locality. At one time his relatives owned the property on which the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club are now located. He owned several fine properties in Jersey City which brought him in a handsome income monthly.

He is survived by his wife, Carrie VanNess and two children, Grace and Howard, who live at Oak Tree. He is the son of William Mellick, of Mt. Pleasant.

The funeral will be held at his late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The dead man was thirty-one years of age.

During the course of the trial which was begun last Tuesday, the plaintiff claimed that her injuries were the result of being thrown from the trolley car by the car starting suddenly after coming to a full stop. The verdict in favor of the husband, who claimed $2,000, was nominal, he not having been hurt and not having expended any money for doctor's bills or nursing.

Trinity Commandery to Hold Knights Templar Service Over Remains of Departed Brother.

Holy Cross Commandery, of Appleton, Wis., has communicated with Eminent Sir Samuel Bingaman, of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, Knights Templar, asking that the local organization hold a Knights Templar service over the remains of Dr. S. S. Willis, whose death was reported yesterday. The body is now being brought East. The interment will be made at Marlboro, N. J., and the arrangements for the obsequies will be announced later by Mr. Bingaman.

Engagement Is Announced.

HAHNE & CO., - - NEWARK, N. J.

EAST FRONT ST. IMPROVING

REMODELED BUILDINGS AND NEW STRUCTURES.

Plainfielders claim that they live in the only up-to-date city on the line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and has not only shown remarkable growth during the past five years but is still rapidly growing. As an evidence of this they point to the large number of new residences now going up in different parts of the city and borough but right in the heart of the city are evidences far more convincing which strikes at the secret of the city's growth—its business interests.

A year ago when it was announced that Woodhull & Martin was about to erect a large store on East Front street many of the West Front street merchants shrugged their shoulders and said that the Front street business would never follow up that far. East Front street, between Park avenue and Watchung avenue, was occupied by second class stores, with several exceptions. Today it is different.

Then there was a tendency to make the real business community of Plainfield on West Front street. Today it seems to be the opposite. During the year great improvements have been made in property along that part of Front street. Old stores and residences have been remodeled. Not only has the patronage followed the large firm eastward but the large white front store has been the means, largely, of attracting other business houses to that block. Among the latest changes have been the transforming of the store formerly occupied by Wickoff & Sitglits into two fine stores which are occupied by Cook & Company on one side and Roth & Company on the other. Both these stores are up-to-date structures.

And the end is not yet. It is understood that negotiations have been underway for some time to purchase other property along East Front street, which, if the deal is closed will make one entire business block of the south side of the street on that block.

HARMONY NOW IN SOMERSET

MAYOR SMALLEY MAKES PEACE AT REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

Democrats to Choose Candidates Tomorrow—Fight for County Clerk Nomination.

The Republican County convention at Somerville here yesterday, the result of which has been told in The Daily Press, was a very tame affair indeed.

The resolutions unanimously adopted declare allegiance to party principles, uphold the policy of government of President Roosevelt and pledge the candidates undivided support.

Charles M. Dolliver, of North Plainfield, for member of Assembly and Alexander G. Anderson, of Somerville for County Clerk—were introduced and made brief speeches. Dolliver said he was suddenly thrust into this position and it had come to him so unexpectedly that all he could say was to thank his friends for the honor. He stated that he was aware the Democratic party had got a little bit the lead in Somerset County, but was of the opinion that that could be overcome with a little effort.

Amid thundering applause Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, was called before the convention. He said: "That noise I hear seems to come in the nature of a challenge for me to present myself. I never like a challenge unless I respond. I am still a Republican and expect to be as long as the majority rules." He then continued and declared he would support the ticket and meted out praise for Candidate Dolliver.

Tomorrow the Democratic County convention will be held in the Court House at Somerville. Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, will be renominated by acclamation. For County Clerk the following candidates are known to be in the field: John L. Anderson, of Bridgewater; M. Mount Corle, of Branchburg; A. G. Spencer, of Bridgewater and Jacob Shurts, of Somerville. The battle at the present seems to be principally between Anderson and Spencer, although Shurts and Corle have a host of friends.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Martine Barred Out.

Farmer Orator Martine is growing anxious over the political situation in Union County. It is alleged by his home paper that he would like to be informed at once whether the Democrats are going to enforce the three-minute rule for stump speakers. That would bar out the farmer orator.—Newark Evening News.

United Plainfield.

A number of influential people in Plainfield and North Plainfield believe that the true solution of the vexatious problem of combining these two municipalities under one government lies in the formation of a new county, with the combined cities as the county seat. They say there can be no other solution of the question that would be satisfactory to all. Somerset would resent the annexation of North Plainfield to Union County, and Union would get its back up over a proposition to transfer Plainfield to Somerset County, whereas each could view with some complacency a scheme that would strip both alike of some territory. The idea is to take a part of three counties—Somerset, Union and Middlesex—in forming the new county.—New York Herald.

AMUSEMENTS.

There remain but a few more opportunities to witness the acting of Mrs. Fiske at the Manhattan Theatre this season, as she will close her engagement on Oct. 10 and start on her tour of the country. Mrs. Fiske's last week at the Manhattan is devoted to Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," in which she is seen to remarkable advantage in the subtler and more incisive illustration of character for which this great actress is noted. In fact, "Hedda Gabler," as it is being presented by Mrs. Fiske and the admirable company that she has trained in it, affords a rare dramatic treat that no one who admires the stage beyond its superficialties should miss.

With a production surpassing almost every comic opera of the past ten years, F. Ziegfeld, Jr., presented the Ziegfeld Opera Company in a new romantic opera, "Red Feather," at the Chestnut Street Opera House, Philadelphia, last Monday night and the success scored presages a return to the old line of comic operas, a return which will unquestionably be heartily welcomed by music lovers throughout the length and breadth of this country. There were two distinguishing features of "Red Feather" which will linger long in the minds of those who witnessed the premier and they are the perfection of the chorus work and the elaborateness of the production. F. Ziegfeld, Jr., has never given any production in which he has been interested a more superb mounting and certainly he never gathered together a chorus with more real merit than the "Red Feather" chorus possesses.

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps will hold a regular meeting on Friday evening, October 23, when business of importance will be considered.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

The iron furnaces at Port Henry, N. Y., owned by Whitherbee, Herman & Co., which have been operated for about fourteen months past by Pilling & Crane, of Philadelphia, have been shut down. It is rumored that the furnaces will be remodeled at a cost of $60,000 and blown in again.

The Demler Tin Plate Works yesterday suspended operations for an indefinite period. A few days ago all except that of the hot mills closed without notices to the men, but it was expected that the other three mills would be kept running, however, the order came to shut down also. The officials say that it is for the purpose of making repairs and that it will not likely be of long duration.

The figures for the September traffic in iron ore, as completed at this and other receiving ports of the Great Lakes, show a decrease over the preceding month. This is on account of a number of the steamships of the Steel Trust fleet losing a trip, owing to the strike situation in September. Had it not been for this situation some of the ports, Conneaut and Ashtabula in particular, probably would have broken their record for a month's traffic.

Notice was posted at the Pencoyd Iron Works Saturday to the effect that there would go into effect the following day a 20 per cent. reduction in the wages of employes of the 12-inch rolling mill, who earn from $4 to $9 per day, while those receiving less than $4 and more than $2 will suffer a 10 per cent. Unskilled laborers who receive $1.40 a day are not included in the reduction. The order is signed by Charles Major, president of the A. & P. Roberts Company. About 400 hands employed in the rolling mill are affected by this order.

Perhaps the most important piece of work performed by a very busy meeting of business men was the action taken at the National Convention of Master Plumbers in regard to the apprenticeship question. It has long been a standing menace to the improvement of the grade of American workmen that it has been made as difficult as possible for young men, ambitious to properly master the rudiments of their art, to get a chance to learn its practical side. In no line, perhaps, have these conditions obtained more notable than among plumbers and steam fitters. The point was brought up by Prof. Kent at the last meeting of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers. He told of his desire to have his son, a graduate of a technical school, take up the profession of a heating and ventilating engineer, and of his idea, it would be a good preliminary for him to learn the practical side of the work by actual experience. He found, however, that while several master fitters were willing to employ the young man the unions would not permit it, so that, as Prof. Kent said, if it had been necessary for him to make his living at the steam-fitting trade or starve to death, he would have had to starve—and that in the face of an urgent demand for intelligent and capable helpers. A natural consequence of this state of things is, he said, the frequent employment of men of low intelligence and doubtful character and without a proper ambition and pride in their work. The plumbers, it is gratifying to see, have taken hold of this matter in a way calculated to bring about a prompt improvement, and hereafter boys will have a chance to learn the plumbing trade.

A nine-hour day was yesterday instituted at the Central Railroad round house. Heretofore the employes have been working a ten-hour schedule and the change is highly pleasing to them.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Nelson, formerly of the borough, but now of Nutley, has been visiting in town for a few days.

Rev. Dr. John Wyckoff, a returned missionary from India, will occupy the pulpit at Trinity Reformed Church Sunday morning.

An especially important meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E., of the First Baptist Church will be held Sunday evening, and all who can attend are earnestly requested to do so.

Rev. John McMurray and Rev. E. L. Earp, pastors of the Monroe Avenue and Grace M. E. Churches, have returned from Philadelphia, where they attended a missionary conference.

The annual institute and eighth anniversary of the Plainfield Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union will be held in the Seventh-Day Baptist Church on Monday afternoon and evening, October 26.

Last night the women of the First M. E. Church had charge of the serving of the dinner to the delegates attending the Elizabeth District Epworth League convention held in the church during the day and evening.

The work in the Swedish Evangelistic Church is prospering. A new feature will be the establishing of a Sunday-school Sunday with sessions in the morning at 10. The pastor has seen a number of Scandinavian families who have promised to send their children. A good attendance is hoped for from the beginning.

The temperance revival meetings being held at Reform Hall this week are attracting large crowds and there is a great deal of interest. Mr. Sandford and Mr. Fisher, reformed drinkers, of Newark, have been conducting the meetings and the special music has been an attraction. Messrs. Sandford and Fisher are excellent singers and the audiences have greatly enjoyed their solos and duetts.

Joseph T. VanNess, of Martinville, was the guest Tuesday of Chauncey F. Colthar, of Duer street.

Miss Edith Roseberry, of West Front street, is recovering rapidly from an attack of appendicitis.

Miss Eva Malcolm, of Nyack, N. Y., who has been the guest of friends on Watchung avenue, has returned home.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The Plainfield Electric Light Company is stringing new wires along West Front street in place of the old wires.

—Republicans of the city have secured comfortable quarters on the first floor of the Babcock building, where meetings will be held frequently.

—Window dressing is an art. Just notice the artistic way the Robert Burns and Capadura cigars are displayed in Timbo's windows, North avenue

—Edward Vail, of fire department headquarters, who has been seriously ill for some time past, is now convalescing rapidly, although he has not yet returned to duty.

—The scantlings on which will be placed the tiling for the roof of the new borough fire engine house were placed in position yesterday morning. The tiling has arrived and will be placed in position this week.

—Ira Randolph, of this city, has in his possession the rattle of a snake which he killed many years ago when he was railroading in the West. He was about to turn a switch for a train, when he spied the snake nearby in the grass. The reptile was killed and he retained the rattle.

—Rev. George Bowers will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Douglas Lane, basso of the Mendelssohn Club, of New York, will be the soloist. Mr. Bowers is a favorite speaker in Plainfield and Mr. Lane was one of the soloists in the oratorio of "The Messiah" that was given in the Crescent Avenue Church a few years ago.

MR. JOHNSON SUCCESSFUL.

Superintendent of New York Mission Listened to by Large Crowd.

The services at the Reform Hall last evening were largely attended, the speaker of the evening being James Johnson, superintendent of the Florence Crittenden Mission in New York City. Solos were rendered by Mr. Johnson and William C. Smith, Jr. Other speakers were Robert Love, William C. Smith, Sr., and J. W. A. Bauersachs. Mr. Smith rendered a pleasing solo.

A testimonial meeting is to be held this evening and it was announced that the meetings will be continued all next week when it is expected that Mr. Johnson will be present as a speaker on at least two occasions.

Clothing on Credit

EASY TO BUY — Hundreds of Men and Women Have Taken Advantage of Our Special Offers — EASY TO PAY

IT IS OUR CONVICTION that such a store cannot fail to attain interest and lasting popularity if conducted along modern lines and divested of the exorbitant prices which invariably characterize these establishments. It is our purpose to give to our patrons the very highest grade of goods and workmanship, at prices never before attempted by any other house in the city. Our experience of fifteen years in the making and selling of Clothing for Ladies and Gentlemen has convinced us that there is a legitimate demand for a LIBERAL SYSTEM OF CREDIT at a store which can be depended upon to offer only strictly reliable, high-grade goods at reasonable prices—in other words—many people would like to buy their clothing upon a credit basis providing they could know they would not be obliged to pay exorbitant prices.

We shall offer any article from our entire store at LESS THAN CASH STORE PRICES, and allow you to pay a small, convenient sum down, and the balance, as much as you can spare, every pay day. Take all the credit you wish; don't hesitate a moment to call on account of shortage of cash. Credit will cost you nothing here. That is a pretty liberal proposition, isn't it? And we mean it literally, too. Every statement made by us must be as represented, or no sale. All our goods are marked in plain figures and one price to all—No Less for Cash, no More on Credit. Every man and woman is invited to call and compare our goods and prices with the prices asked for the same quality of goods elsewhere. Courteous treatment and fair dealing are assured to one and all.

SPORTING NEWS.

FOOTBALL.

Football rivalry for Saturday's game between the Orange Field and Norwood Clubs is keen. The teams have never met before on the gridiron although for the past four years efforts have been made to bring them together. Norwood outweighs the Orange men, who are relying upon end runs and trick plays to win. The elevens will face each other as follows: Orange F. C.—Emmons (Capt.), Todd and Toblin, ends; B. McCullough, Slingland, Martin, Toblin and McVoy, tackles; Bliss, Kenyon and McCullough, guards; Bliss and Helyer, centre; Hamilton and McVoy, quarter back; Strauss, Smith, Sherwin and Todd, half backs; Galvin, Bliss and Smith, full back. Norwood—Thayer, McNaughton and Bird, ends; Robertson, Marsh, Buckle and Mundy, tackles; Koons and Cahoone, guards; Blumm, centre; Messersmith and Phillips, quarter back; Young, Beard, Overton and Springer, half backs; Hobbie, full back. Both elevens include out-of-town players, Orange having Bliss, of the Staten Island Y. M. C. A., Toblin and Galvin, of Westfield, and Strauss, of Elizabeth; and Norwood using Young, of New York, and Springer, of Elizabeth. Captain Mason, of Norwood, will not play. The arrangements for the game are in charge of the managers, Egan, of Norwood, and Smith, of Orange.

The football eleven from Pennington Seminary will meet the Alis Club eleven on Crescent Oval, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

SOMERSET REPUBLICANS' ASSEMBLY CANDIDATE

Charles Marvin Dolliver, of North Plainfield, a Cousin of U. S. Senator Dolliver.

SON OF G. Q. DOLLIVER

A MEMBER OF THE NEW JERSEY BAR, PRACTICING IN THIS CITY.

Only Twenty-Five Years of Age, But a Hustler—Member of Fraternal Order and of Church—Graduate of Plainfield High Schools.

Charles Marvin Dolliver, who was nominated for the Assembly from Somerset County Wednesday at the Republican County convention at Somerville, is the son of Mr. and and Mrs. Garret Q. Dolliver, of North Plainfield, and a cousin to Senator J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa.

He is twenty-five years old and except for four years, at his birthplace in Royceefield, N. J., has lived in North Plainfield all his life. At the age of six he entered the North Plainfield public school and graduated in 1894. He spent two years at the Plainfield High Schools, graduating in 1896 among the second honor pupils. He again entered the North Plainfield High School which was then established and took a graduate course in languages. He studied stenography and entered the law offices of Codington & Swackhamer, the junior partner of which firm he was nominated as an opponent. He remained in their employ until 1899 when in order to study law in a law school entered the railway service to gather funds for this object. He occupied several positions in the Central Railroad Company's system. He was in the office of W. Montgomery, division master mechanic of the New Jersey Southern division, at Lakehurst, N. J.; was transferred to the office of A. A. Scott, supervisor for the same company at Somerville, and was again transferred to the offices of A. D. Edgar, trainmaster, at Jersey City.

Charles Marvin Dolliver.

In the fall of 1900 he registered as a student in the New York University Law School. In the mean time he did some work in the office of the superintendent of the railroad, at Jersey City. During his vacation he was employed by William McIntosh, superintendent of motive power, of the railroad. He graduated from the law school in June 1902 and again associated himself with the law firm of Codington & Swackhamer. He was admitted to the bar as an attorney a year ago and opened offices in Park avenue. He is a member of Trinity Reformed Church, and of its Sunday-school and Christian Endeavor Society, Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, and district secretary of the Union County Sunday-school Union.

MIANTONOMO TRIBE'S 14TH ANNIVERSARY

Celebration by Red Men Attended by High Officers of the Order.

BIG INDIANS' POW-WOW

VOCAL SELECTIONS, LEGER-DE-MAIN, AND STORY TELLING, FEATURES.

Past Grand Sachem William Newcorn as Master-of-Ceremonies—Degree Team to Do Work at Cranford and Westfield.

Miantonomo Tribe, No. 118, I. O. R. M., celebrated the fourteenth anniversary of its founding, last night, in the lodge rooms on Park avenue. The attendance was large. It was announced at the business meeting that an invitation had been received and accepted by the degree team to go Cranford next Wednesday and Westfield Thursday to perform the degree work at the institution of new tribes in those places.

When the council fire had been quenched, the meeting was given over to the direction of Past Grand Sachem William Newcorn, who was master of ceremonies. Mr. Newcorn detailed briefly the history and progress of the tribe and order since its fonding and also explained the legislation enacted at Atlantic City at the Great Council of the United States.

The programme that followed was entirely impromptu. Short talks were given by Past Sachem W. A. Westphal, one of the charter members of the tribe, District Deputy John T. Greene, Past Sachem A. J. Stiglitz, Chief of Records C. L. Holstein, Past Sachems V. W. Nash, Peter Doeringer and Thomas Osmund, and John Stryker, of Onas Tribe, of Trenton, and Henry Orr, of Worcester.

Robert V. Stott entertained his fellow tribesmen for three-quarters of an hour with an exhibition of legerdemain and a monologue. There were vocal solos by Asa Pope, J. Carney and Past Sachem Joseph Johnson and a sward dance and Highland fling by Past Sachem Robert Siorer. Comic stories by Past Sachem David C. Allen and piano selections by John Hill completed the most excellent programme.

APPRENTICES IN A FIST FIGHT

JOHN FRITZ PUMMELS LARRY BRAY BEFORE BIG CROWD.

Had Dispute Over Ten Cents—Decision of George Schuck, the Referee.

John Fritz and Larry Bray, apprentices at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works, had a fistic duel in the rear of the company's plant yesterday afternoon in the presence of a howling mob of enthusists. The fight was of the free-for-all, go-as-you-please variety. John took Larry's head underneath his left arm and beat upon it with his right like a Siamese mandarin on a tom-tom. Larry kicked like a bucking broncho landing one well directed shot on the unoffending shin of the referee, George Schuck, who, in a moment of compassion, separated the contestants with a barrel stave. Larry's features bore a striking resemblance to the countenance of a youth after his first encounter with a razor, and as the dents in his face were more conspicuous than those of his adversary, the referee decided the bout in favor of Fritz. The fight resulted from a dispute over the winning of ten cents in a game of craps.

WANDERED FROM HOME.

Little Children Found on Street Returned by Police to Their Home.

Two lost children, a boy of two and a girl of six, and a dog, wandering about the streets of the city yesterday afternoon, were cared for by the police. The youngsters told Patrolman McCarthy that their parents had moved to Park avenue, but it was discovered instead that they had just removed from somewhere over the mountain to Dunellen, from whence the children had evidently wandered to Plainfield. Communication with Dunellen established the fact that they were Poles named Pojlyck and they were claimed later by their father.

Geo. MacKenzie, of Newark, will preach the gospel in the hall corner of East Front street and Bank place on Sunday evening at 7:30.

MRS. ROGERS WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Plainfield's Popular Golf Woman Victorious at Baltustrol Club.

MUCH COVETED HONOR

IN THE FINALS OF THE MATCH WINS BY 5 UP AND 3 TO PLAY.

Mrs. Manice Vanquished—Mrs. Rogers Defeats Mrs. Kenney and Mrs. Morgan—Six Players in the Competition—The Results.

For the first time in its history as a club, the championship of the Baltusrol Golf Club is now held by a Plainfield woman. This coveted honor was won yesterday by Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of East Front street, whose work on the various golf courses throughout the East has attracted widespread attention from enthusiastic players. Last year Mrs. Manice, one of the best golfers in the East, was champion at Baltusrol and when Mrs. Rogers wrested the honors from her yesterday afternoon, it was with no little pride that she received the highest ambition of the club.

There were six women entered in the championship play which began on Wednesday. On the first day Miss Willis and Mrs. Kenney drew byes and were not compelled to play. In the opening play Mrs. Morgan beat Mrs. Manice, 2 up and 1 to play and then Mrs. Rogers had her most difficult match with Miss Harrison, beating her 1 up in 20 holes. The match was very close from beginning to end, but Mrs. Rogers played her steady game throughout and this won for her a great victory. Mrs. Morgan beat Miss Willis, by 8 up and 7 to play and Mrs. Rogers beat Mrs. Kenney by 2 up. Yesterday afternoon the final match was played between Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Morgan, when the former won by 5 up and 3 to play.

Upon the conclusion of the match the victor was congratulated by the other contestants and the best wishes of all were extended to her. Mrs. Rogers will do her best to retain the championship against next year's players.

DILTS FOR TAX COLLECTOR

PROBABLE CHOICE OF DEMOCRATIC CITY CONVENTION.

Timpson and Atterbury Mentioned for Council—Rev. E. M. Rodman for School Trustee.

The Democratic city convention is to be held in the Democratic headquarters Monday evening at which time a tax collector for the city is to be nominated, three councilmen at large and three school trustees are to be named. It is probably that representative Democrats in the city and county will be present.

Several names have already been mentioned for offices. J. V. F. Dilts has been talked of as the candidate for the office of city tax collector. He comes from the Second ward and it seems probable that he will get the nomination. There have been two names prominently mentioned as possible nominees for the office of councilman-at-large. L. G. Timpson has been talked of as the candidate for the Second ward and A. H. Atterbury from the Third ward. The third councilman at large will be secured from either the First or the Fourth ward.

No names have been seriously talked of as a possible candidate from either place.

Only one name has been mentioned for school trustee. The one which seems likely is that of Rev. Dr. Erskine M. Rodman.

Rev. George Angleman, of Piermont, N. Y., is visiting relatives in Plainfield for a few days.

VALUE OF TEMPERANCE.

TRIED TO BUTT HIS BRAINS OUT

Mind Unbalanced by Strong Drink, John Higgins Attempts Suicide.

CONFINED IN A CELL

BROKE HIS TEMPERANCE PLEDGE AND DOWNFALL FOLLOWS SPEEDILY.

Sad Case in Borough — Higgins' Mind Completely Unbalanced—He is Under the Care of a Physician.

Driven insane through rum, John Higgins, a mason, who has been employed on the new fire engine house in North Plainfield, made an attempt to butt his brains out against the walls of his prison cell last night. He was unsuccessful, however, and was given an opiate to quiet him for the night.

Higgins' case is a pathetic one. It is the old story of a weakened will combating against the evils of strong drink. He tried hard to mend his ways. He signed the pledge and lived up to the contract for many months. He began to prosper. He secured work where before that he was repeatedly refused employment on account of his intemperance. Tuesday morning the craving for drink became unbearable and he left the house to have a drink before breakfast. The desire was too much for his weakened system and he overstepped the bonds of propriety.

The drink affected him with double fury. He raved and craved for more. The neighbors in Stone street were terrorized at the man's violence and they fled before his wrath as he waved a loaded pistol at his friends. Chief Marshal Campbell was called to that locality and placed him under arrest. His condition gradually became worse and it became necessary for the authorities to place handcuffs on him.

He became entirely irrational and on several occasions he made attempts to end his life. To frustrate his plans it became necessary to place handcuffs on his hands and ankles and chain him in his cell. He is still confined there under the care of a physician.

The authorities in the borough are at a loss to know what to do with the unfortunate fellow. They do not care to take steps to have him committed to the State Institution for the insane until it has been learned whether he is permanently deranged or only suffering from a severe case of delirium tremens. He is still confined in the lockup.

SMOKER AT THE ALIS CLUB

MARCUS HOYT ENTERTAINS MEMBERS WITH PIANO SELECTIONS.

Euchre and Whist Features of the Affair—The Club is on the Boom.

The Alis Club provided a good time for the members and friends, last night, after the football eleven had finished their practice on the grounds adjoining the clubhouse. The eleven showed up strong at play.

After the practice all adjourned to the clubhouse where for an hour whist and euchre were played. There were musical selections on the piano by Marcus Hoyt and phonograph selections by C. Stillman Mumford. At 11 o'clock a buffet supper, consisting of salads, sandwiches and coffee, was served, by the club steward, after which a smoker was enjoyed until a late hour.

The interest in the club is constantly increasing and the success of the football eleven this season and the baseball team next year seems assured. Last night B. A. Mumford assisted in making the entertainment a success.

Junior Department's Course.

The opening of the entertainment course of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will take place Thursday, October 26, when Fred and William VanEps will perform on the mandolin and banjo and William E. MacClyment will give piano selections. The entertainment in the course will be of a public nature.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

HOT CAMPAIGN TO BE WAGED FOR STRAIGHT TICKET.

Resolution Unanimously Adopted by Club—Reports Read—John W. Murray, Jr., Chosen to Steer the Ship to the Shores of Victory.

The Third Ward Republican Club pledged its loyalty to the party and endorsed the whole county ticket at a rousing meeting held in the Casino last night. During the session officers were elected for the ensuing year and arrangements made for a vigorous onslaught on the Democratic ticket. The various committees presented their reports and these were approved by the club. Much enthusiasm was shown and from the trend of the conversation it was clearly evident that a vigorous fight is to be made for the success of the ticket in this city.

Without a dissenting vote this resolution was adopted: This association does hereby heartily endorse the nominations made at the county convention and pledges the support of the association to the entire Republican ticket at the coming election.

John W. Murray, Jr., a stalwart Republican, was chosen president of the organization and Former Sheriff William T. Kirk, the local Republican nominee for Assembly, was elected vice president. Oliver B. Leonard was selected to act as secretary. Ernest B. Ackerman, a member of the city and county committees, was named as treasurer. The executive committee consists of Former Mayor Charles J. George Lunger in Plainfield.

George Lunger, retired-policeman visited his old comrades on the local force yesterday, having come in behind a wagon from Whitehouse, yesterday. Although he declined to be interviewed on what he thinks of the marvellous changes in this city since he departed nine weeks ago, he intimated that Plainfield could well afford to copy the Hunterdon County village which he honors by residing there. He says that the telephone rate is only $12 a year and declares that there are at least three 'phones in the place. East Whitehouse has a population of nearly 200 including exactly twenty-seven eligible widows. "Plainfield can't boast of such a proportion, so there," exclaimed the former policeman as he started down the pike for home.

Reducing Expenses.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey is reducing the expense in the movement of heavy coal trains over the New Jersey division by cutting out a number of cars from coal trains at Junction, and making up the accumulated cars into trains with crews for short runs. It is said that this system reduces the cost of hauling per ton mile as well, and shows economy in pay rolls for crew service.

AMUSEMENTS.

Francis Wilson is coming to town with "Erminie," which means genuine enjoyment for Casino theatregoers, who are sure to take advantage of this opportunity to witness a performance of the classic comic opera by the most famous light opera artists now before the public. Mr. Wilson and his big organization of 100 people are announced for an engagement positively limited to four weeks. Although Francis Wilson has a great number of successes to his credit during his career as a star, the first and foremost of these is acknowledged to be his matchless characterization of the part of Cadeaux in "Erminie."

Grace George, whose engagement in "Pretty Peggy" was one of the big successes of last season, is now presenting that play with great eclat at the Madison Square, New York. The house is crowded at every performance and there seems to be every prospect of business continuing as large as it was before the interruption of the run. Mr. Brady is said to have outdone himself in making what the New York Herald called "a scholarly and lavish presentment." The four settings utilized were painted by Moses & Hamilton. Miss George, always charming and pretty, does the best work of her life in the title role, while her supporting company includes Robert Loraine, the young English actor who created the part of Rudolph Rassendyll in London, and 300 others.

CHAPLAIN OF THE TUILERIES.

Former Notable in Paris Social Life Who Has Abandoned His Odd Calling.

A singular personage in Paris social life has disappeared in the person of ex-Mgr. Bauer, who was formerly the brilliant chaplain of the Tuileries, says the Paris correspondent of the London Chronicle. Mgr. Bauer, who was of Jewish extraction, began life as a stock broker's clerk, but suddenly abandoned that calling and entered the seminary of St. Sulpice. After his ordination his eloquence attracted Napoleon III., who offered him a court chaplaincy, with the special task of teaching the prince imperial elocution. M. Bauer drew large congregations and on several occasions he occupied the pulpit of Notre Dame. He accompanied Empress Eugenie to Egypt and delivered a magnificent discourse at the inaugural ceremony of the Suez canal. During the war of 1870 M. Bauer attended the sick and wounded outside the walls of Paris.

In 1872 he wrote to Cardinal Guibert informing him that for personal reasons he could no longer support the yoke of the priesthood. Since then the ex-prelate has been a constant frequenter of the opera and the affable patron of art and literature. His means were considerable and he gave away a good deal in charity. He was very popular among his former imperialist friends and enjoyed a joke over his former career. On one occasion he met Gen. de Galliffet on the staircase of the opera and gave him a punctilious military salute. The general smiled benignantly and, raising his hand, solemnly blessed the ex-monsignore.

THRIVES ON KEROSENE.

Smallest Mosquito of Its Class Is a Terror and Grows Fat on the Oil.

Dr. L. O. Howard, the government's chief expert on the mosquito question, frankly admits that one variety of the pestiferous insect has turned up in New Jersey and on the islands around the harbor of New York with which he and all the government forces cannot cope. This species has been named and classified as the Aedes Smithii. A member of Dr. Howard's staff named Smith discovered this most tormenting species of the entire family and that accounts for the latter part of the terror's name.

The Aedes Smithii is the smallest mosquito known, as well as the most ravenous and the hardest to kill. Every other species of the tribe succumbs to kerosene oil when that fluid is poured on water in which the young mosquitoes are maturing. But not so the Aedes Smithii. This little vixen thrives and grows fat on kerosene.

Dr. Howard's experts hint that they have found a poison that will kill Smith's terror, as it is called among the scientists of the agricultural department, but until they satisfy themselves by further tests they will make no public announcement.

A NEW BUILDING MATERIAL.

Great Things Are Expected of Uralite, the Invention of a Russian Officer.

A new building material which promises much for the future is called uralite. It is the invention of a Russian artillery officer and chemist named Imschentezky. Uralite is composed of asbestos fiber, with a proper proportion of silicate, bicarbonate of soda and chalk, and is absolutely fireproof. In a soft form a sheet of uralite is like an asbestos board; when hard it resembles finely sawn stone and has a metallic ring. Besides being a non-conductor of heat and electricity, it is practically waterproof (and may be made entirely so by paint), and it is not affected either by atmospheric influences or by the acids contained in smoke, which rapidly destroy galvanized iron. It can be cut by the usual carpenter's or woodworker's tools; it can be veneered to form paneling for walls or partitions; it can be painted, grained, polished and glued together like wood; it is not affected when exposed to moisture or great changes of temperature, and it can be given any desired color either during the process of manufacture or afterward.

A NEW FOOD PLANT.

Curious Growth of Uganda Recently Discovered by a Coffee Grower.

There have recently been imported into England specimens of the "glycine subterranea," a plant which is in some respects the most curious in the world, reports a London paper. Mr. Balland, who has reported on it, says that its roots contain every principle necessary for human food. The plant was discovered by a coffee grower in Uganda. Its bulb is shaped like an egg, and is of a dark red hue with black stripes. It is ground into a flour which tastes like chestnuts. Two pounds of this flour is sufficient to keep a man for a day, and will supply the place of bread, meat, butter and vegetables. Unfortunately, the glycine will not flourish in cold climates. It is, however, to be introduced in India and Brazil, where it should prove an enormous addition to the food plants there available. No doubt its finder will make a very good thing of his discovery.

FREE FOOD LEAGUE.

Duke of Devonshire Will Head Opposition to Chamberlain's Scheme.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Duke of Devonshire, late lord president of the council, has conditionally accepted the presidency of the Free Food league, which is organizing a campaign against the fiscal policy of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour.

This important move in the fiscal contest developed at the meeting of the parliamentary committee of the league, when a letter from the Duke of Devonshire to Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Mr. Ritchie's predecessor as chancellor of the exchequer, accepting the proffered presidency of the league upon certain conditions was read. The committee passed a resolution unanimously accepting the conditions, and this action was communicated immediately to the Duke of Devonshire. The substance of the duke's letter follows:

"You informed me when we last met that the wish had been expressed that I join the league and take a leading part in its operations. I understand that the principal object of the league is to oppose the new departure in the fiscal policy, which now has been definitely announced and which includes the taxation of food imports from foreign countries and preferential treatment for the colonies as well as a general tariff on imported manufactured goods. I understand that these objects do not involve opposition to the policy of the government in so far as that policy is limited to reserving to the government the right of proposing to parliament tariff legislation for the purpose of negotiating commercial treaties and the mitigation of hostile tariffs."

The duke referred to the desirability of restraining "the strongly protectionist tendencies manifested at the recent conference at Sheffield" and says the duty of combating before the country the doctrines of the Tariff Reform league should not be left entirely to Radicals and members of the Cobden club.

LAMAR AND EASTMAN FREE.

Broker and Members of Eastman Gang Acquitted.

FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 17.—After an all night debate the jury acquitted David Lamar, his brother-in-law, Bernard Smith; "Monk" Eastman and Joseph Brown, the quartet that has been on trial before Judge Heisley in the Monmouth county court accused of conspiring to assault with intent to kill Lamar's former coachman, James McMahon, who started a train of events by refusing one day to pick up Mrs. Lamar's lapdog when the perverse animal jumped from its mistress' carriage.

After the verdict had been rendered Judge Heisley ordered the prisoners discharged. David Lamar and Bernard Smith, who were in the court room when the verdict was announced, were immediately released, and soon afterward "Monk" Eastman and Joseph Brown, who had been locked up in the jail, were set free.

Quite a crowd had waited up all night to hear the fate of the prisoners, but there was no outward manifestation of approval or disapproval when the conclusion of the jury was given out.

The young men who have been in town a few days and who were said to be members of Eastman's gang just chuckled quietly at the announcement of the verdict.

Murderer Cornered In Cornfield.

OSKALOOSA, Ia., Oct. 17.—At Buxton, Ia., C. H. Smith shot and killed Mrs. Cannaday. Smith, who had been before the grand jury, charged with assaulting the woman with intent to commit murder, went to her home and when she opened the door in response to his knock fired two shots, killing her instantly. After an exciting man hunt a determined posse of miners, armed with shotguns and accompanied by bloodhounds, cornered Smith in a cornfield. It is not believed that Smith will surrender, and he is expected to sell his life dearly.

Little Plume Killed Seven.

BROWNING, Mont., Oct. 17.—James Little Plume has confessed to the murder of the seven persons killed Sunday on the Blackfoot Indian reservation. Among the seven killed was the wife of Little Plume. The Indian said his intention was to kill fourteen more, but a shell stuck in his rifle, rendering it useless. He then cut a gash in his own throat and arm to allay suspicion, and his name was turned in as one of the wounded.

Twenty-three Autos Stood the Test.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—In the New York-Pittsburg endurance run the number of entries was forty-two and the number of starters forty-four. There are now in the Pittsburg garage, after having covered the entire distance on schedule time, twenty-three. Nine dropped out or had to leave the contest at different points along the line. The various officials are still at work on their reports of the tests.

Socialist Deputy Stabbed.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 17.—M. Pepin, a Socialist member of the chamber of deputies, was stabbed at Mons while walking upon the street with some friends. There are slight hopes of his recovery. The assassin struck M. Pepin from behind and succeeded in making his escape.

Stern Committed to Jail.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Leopold J. Stern, the Baltimore contractor recently indicted in connection with a postal contract, appeared in police court here. Judge Scott denied the request of Stern's counsel for an immediate hearing. Stern was committed to jail.

OLD ARMIES BANQUET

Tennessee, Cumberland, Ohio and Potomac Join Hands.

GLOWING TRIBUTES TO SHERMAN

Great Social Function Followed Unveiling of Statue to the Beloved Leader of the Army of the Tennessee.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—With a joint banquet of the Societies of the Armies of the Tennessee, the Cumberland, the Ohio and the Potomac, the social functions incident to the unveiling of the Sherman statue were brought to a close. Five hundred sat down in the Arlington hotel banquet room, which was elaborately decorated with flags and flowers.

The only invited guests were the president, Admiral Dewey of the navy, Lieutenant General Young, chief of the general staff of the army; General Miles and the members of the cabinet.

Five addresses were made, the speakers being Mrs. John A. Logan and one representative from each of the four societies. The invocation was delivered by Archbishop Ireland.

Major General Brooke, who represented the Society of the Army of the Potomac, gave an account of the part played by that army in the civil war.

Captain John J. McCook in behalf of the Army of the Cumberland paid an eloquent tribute to General Sherman and to the record of the Army of the Cumberland. Captain McCook is, with one exception, the youngest member of the society of that army.

John McElroy recounted the deeds of the Army of the Ohio. He declared that in the 1,044 days of its existence more combatants fell before its rifles than were slain in any previous war and that its losses were greater than those of all the armies of the United States in the Revolution or the Mexican war.

Prolonged applause greeted Rev Thomas E. Sherman, a son of General Sherman, as he arose to speak in behalf of the Army of the Tennessee. Father Sherman's address was a splendid tribute to the record of that army and the memory of the men who made its name famous.

Reference to the quarrel between General John A. Logan and General Sherman was the feature of the speech of Mrs. John A. Logan, the subject of whose address was "Sherman." Of this incident Mrs. Logan said: "It may not be inappropriate for me on this occasion to say that whatever of misunderstanding and estrangement may have existed between the two great commanders of the Army of the Tennessee at one time was wholly obliterated by General Logan's tribute to General Sherman at a notable banquet given by Colonel Corckhill to General Sherman on his retirement as general of the army. When General Logan finished General Sherman arose, went around to General Logan, put his arm about his neck and shook his hand cordially while the tears ran down his cheeks. His emotions were too great for words."

MACEDONIAN REFORMS.

Lansdowne Urges an Extension of Russo-Austrian Scheme.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Lord Lansdowne has urged upon the Austrian and Russian governments an extension of the reform scheme, including the appointment of a Christian governor or the retention of a Mussulman governor assisted by European assessors; the withdrawal of the undisciplined Turkish irregulars and reserves, the dispatch of the military attaches of the powers to accompany the Turkish forces and some system of relief for the victims.

The Austrian and Russian governments informed Lord Lansdowne that his suggestions accorded with the views of the czar and Emperor Francis Joseph, and they would be embodied in the joint note to the porte decided on at the imperial conference at Muersteg.

Let Three Chinamen Escape.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 17.—Acting upon orders from Washington, Judge Wheeler of the United States circuit court appointed Deputy Marshal Frank Chapman as the successor of United States Marshal Fred A. Field for the district of Vermont, who was removed from the office by the president. The charge upon which Marshal Field was removed was dereliction of duty in permitting the escape at Providence, R. I., of three Chinamen who had been intrusted to his care for deportation.

Unknown Killed Joseph Gray.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 17.—Joseph Gray, while returning to his home at Salem from this city, was attacked by some one unknown, who, without a word of warning, shot him through the stomach. Gray crawled to his home, where he died shortly afterward. Officers and bloodhounds are scouring the country. The murder is regarded as very mysterious.

Aberdeen Has Great Fire.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 17.—A special to the Times from Aberdeen says: "Four people are known to have been killed in a big fire here. Eight more are supposed to have perished. The fire is now under control. One hundred and fifty buildings were destroyed. The loss is over $1,000,000."

Hunchback's Suicide.

CATSKILL, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Brooding over his crippled condition, Benjamin Brenn, aged twenty-eight years, a hunchback through injuries resulting from a fall from a cherry tree about fifteen years ago, drowned himself in a cistern on his father's premises on the outskirts of this village.

MILLER AND JOHNS

Arguments Now On In Conspiracy Trial at Cincinnati.

BOTH DEFENDANTS ON THE STAND

Miller Was Cool and Deliberate During Five Hours' Examination. Johns' Testimony Consisted Mainly of Denials.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 17.—The evidence was concluded and arguments were begun in the trial of Miller and Johns for alleged conspiracy to extort a bribe. As six hours were allowed for arguments and only a half hour was consumed before court adjourned it is evident, with five and a half hours for arguments and additional time for the charge of the jury and motions, the case will not go to the jury until this evening. It is thought by some that there will be no verdict until Monday.

The principal feature was the testimony of the two defendants, Johns being on the witness stand three hours. He denied that he had told Inspectors Vickery and Fulton when they were investigating him at Rockville that he would talk if he thought nothing would come of it except the dismissal of a clerk in Washington. Most of his evidence consisted in such denials.

Miller was on the witness stand for nearly five hours and was generally conceded to be an exceptionally strong witness for himself, both in direct and cross examination. He was cool and deliberate, and the court frequently stopped him from arguing his own case while answering questions. Miller was confronted with a severe examination without being disturbed even in trying to explain contradictions in his own statements.

KOREAN QUESTION.

England Endeavors to Avert Hostilities.

PORTSMOUTH, England, Oct. 17.—A battle ship of the Mediterranean squadron and the cruiser Europea have been ordered to China.

No explanation of the ordering of the vessels has been given, but it is presumed that they are sent to the far east to protect British interests there in the event of a clash between Russia and Japan.

It is said that a stream of cablegrams has passed between the foreign office and Sir Ernest Satow, the British minister at Peking, for several days past. An endeavor is being made by England to bring about a settlement of the Korean difficulty to the satisfaction of both Japan and Russia and thus avert a clash.

In this connection the Korean minister at London was specially requested to call on Foreign Minister Lord Lansdowne. Soon after the interview, which was protracted, dispatches were sent to Sir Charles Scott, Sir Claude MacDonald and Sir Ernest Satow, British ministers at St. Petersburg, Tokyo and Peking respectively.

Forty-one Rioters Arrested.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Forty-one persons have been arrested at Armentieres, department Du Nord, for being implicated in the riots, pillage and incendiarism in that town a few days ago. Their arrest has caused no commotion, the strikers repudiating any sympathy with the prisoners, who are alleged to be habitual criminals. At Dunkerque 200 workmen of the Saint-Pol spinning factories paraded the town in company with other strikers. Their dispersal by the military resulted in two of the latter being wounded. Later the rioters reformed and threw up barricades in the streets, which were destroyed by the soldiers.

Honor to Victor Emmanuel.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—The dinner given by Foreign Minister Delcasse in honor of the Italian sovereigns was a brilliant function. The guests included the president of the republic and Mme. Loubet, the high officials of the government, the foreign ambassadors, Count Cassini, Russian ambassador to the United States, and Countess Cassini. King Victor Emmanuel conversed at considerable length with the ambassadors.

Dynamited Post Office Safe.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 17.—By using nitroglycerin mixed with soap burglars blew open the safe of the post office at St. Regis Falls, securing a few checks and a large quantity of stamps, but very little currency. The burglars then stole a hand car and ran on a sharp down grade on the New York and Ottawa railroad a distance of fifteen miles. From there, it is believed, they made for Canada.

Cuyler Laid Corner Stone.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17.—C. C. Cuyler of New York laid the corner stone of the '79 dormitory. The new structure is rising at the east end of the campus. It was presented to Princeton by the class of '79, of which President Woodrow Wilson was a member. The building will be called Wilson Hall. The members of the class gave a banquet at the inn, at which President Wilson was toastmaster.

Big Four Increases Wages.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 17.—The board of adjustment of the Big Four engineers adjourned after reaching a settlement with the company. Wages are increased from 5 to 8 per cent. The company is considering the demands of the firemen, brakemen and conductors. The firemen are asking an increase of from 15 to 18 per cent.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; fresh southwest winds.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Crop Situation Very Good.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

While some contraction in trade and industry has undoubtedly taken place, it is not in proportion to the reduction of 20 per cent in pig iron output or the reaction in prices of securities, although in normal years these have usually proved fairly reliable barometers. From the top point last year the sixty leading railway shares have fallen almost a third in market value, and the industrial stocks have lost more than that percentage, the leading metal properties touching new low records this week. Many branches of manufacture, however, are working full force, with large orders still unfilled, while the latest returns of the crops are most encouraging.

Finance and labor are the disturbing elements this year, neutralized very largely by favorable commercial and agricultural conditions. The net result is a fairly well maintained volume of trade, offset by conservatism in carrying out protected new undertakings and proposed extensions of facilities. Temporary losses to business were caused by the recent floods at the east, and factories were rendered idle while repairs were made. Prices of commodities declined slightly during the month of September, Dun's index number on Oct. 1 being $97.378 against $98.541 a month previous, but in the last two weeks some recovery has occurred.

Foreign commerce expands, the September return comparing most favorably with preceding months, and for the last week at this city exports were $1,200,278 larger than a year ago, while imports rose slightly. Railway earnings thus far available for October are 6.2 per cent larger than last year and 12.7 per cent above 1901. Bank exchanges at New York for the week were 36.8 per cent less than in 1902, largely because of reduced speculation and lower prices, while at other leading cities there was a loss of .4 per cent.

Following the encouraging official crop report there was some weakness in quotations, but net changes for the week were small, and the better export demand had a good influence on prices. Wheat was supported by a French estimate which indicated some deficiency in the total crop of the world, although actual foreign buying did not increase, prices ruling above the views of many bidders for export. A crop of corn second only to last year's yield is now promised, but a very heavy loss is expected in oats. All movements of grain are below normal, although corn surpasses the limited business in the same week last year; receipts amounting to 2,686,740 bushels against 1,955,937, and Atlantic coast exports of 1,308,412 bushels compare with 163,920 a year ago.

Failures this week numbered 208 in the United States against 206 last year and in Canada 28 compared with 24 a year ago.

Murderer of Helen Kelly Captured.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 17.—Albert Beckmann, who killed Helen Kelly, a former sweetheart, here, was captured at Melrose by Sheriff Quinn. Beckmann was escaping on a hand car when a rifle brought him to a halt. A heavy force of deputies has gone to bring the prisoner back. Lynching is feared.

Funeral of Eighty-three Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The bodies of eighty-three American soldiers who died in the Philippines were interred at Arlington National cemetery. The remains were accompanied to the grave by a platoon of soldiers, and there were appropriate religious services.

W. J. Bryan Denies Report.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 17.—W. J. Bryan authorized a denial of the report which quoted him as saying he believed that free silver would not be considered at the Democratic national convention in 1904.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN.

Dan Patch at Lexington Smashes Pacing Record.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 17. — Dan Patch, 1:59, broke the world's pacing record to wagon in an exhibition mile here and came within a half second of equaling his own sulky record. The previous pacing record to a wagon was 2:01½, made by Little Boy on the Memphis track. Dan Patch clipped two full seconds off this record and went the mile in 1:59½.

The king of pacers was accompanied in his round of the track by two runners driven by Hudson and Maguire. His time by quarters was 0:30¼, 0:59½, 1:29 and 1:59½. His third quarter was made in 0:29½.

The track has been in lightning fast condition all week, and the weather conditions were perfect. Four thousand people saw the record broken and cheered Driver McHenry lustily as he went under the wire.

There were no wind shields or any other speed accelerators used for Dan Patch in his record breaking trial.

Feather Weight Championship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. — Champion Young Corbett and Ben Jordan, the English feather weight champion, have been matched to meet in a battle for the world's feather weight championship. Articles of agreement have been signed. The fight will take place before the Hayes Valley Athletic club of San Francisco and consist of twenty rounds. The Englishman will leave for America next Wednesday. The weight agreed upon by the fighters is 126 pounds on the day of the contest.

Racing at Worth.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—S. C. Hildreth's entry, Major Tenny and By Ways, coupled in the betting and backed from 3 to 2 to even money, ran first and second in the feature event at Worth. The race was a mile and a sixteenth handicap, in which there were eight starters, including His Eminence, which won the Kentucky Derby two years ago. Third place went to Alfredo.

Jay McGregor Got Stakes.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 17.—The Blue Grass stakes of $2,000 for 2:19 trotters was won by Jay McGregor in three straight heats. McGregor was the favorite and was driven by Scott Hudson. Kinney Lou was second, Lady Patchen third and Judge Greene fourth; best time, 2:09¼. This is a new record for the event.

Golf Champion at Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17. — Mrs. Theodore W. Reath of the Riverton (N. J.) Golf club won the golf championship of Philadelphia on the links of the Huntingdon Valley Country club. She defeated Mrs. C. F. Fox, who held the championship.

CHARGES AGAINST CHASE.

General Must Answer to Military Court at Denver.

DENVER, Oct. 17.—It has been definitely learned that the charges on which Brigadier General John Chase of the Colorado national guard had been summoned before a military court are perjury and disobedience of orders. The perjury is in connection with the imprisonment of Davis, one of the strike leaders at Cripple Creek.

General Chase signed court papers which stated that Davis had been released. His friends say he did not read the papers carefully and committed the act inadvertently. His enemies say that is no excuse for the act. Charges against Colonel Frederick Cross and Colonel Frank Kimball have been formulated by Mayor Arthur H. Williams and General Chase. They allege that loaded weapons were drawn by Cross and Kimball on Major Williams and two orderlies.

General Chase will file charges with the governor against Adjutant General Sherman Bell, but the governor, it is intimated, will not hand them to the judge advocate unless Chase should demand a special court martial.

Captured After Year's Search.

SALAMANCA, N. Y., Oct. 17.—After searching for over a year Sheriff Williams of Little Valley captured Emmet Wheeler of Salamanca, who is wanted for manslaughter in a lumber camp at Cyclone, Pa. Wheeler shot a boy named George Sharpe of Elmira, who was stealing a ride on an Erie freight train. At that time Wheeler was an Erie detective. He was tried and convicted. An appeal was made, and Wheeler was granted a new trial. The prisoner then slipped his bail and disappeared.

Hurricane Sinks Many Boats.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Oct. 17.—A hurricane raged here and has caused immense damage to fishing property. The schooners Duchess and Lassie are ashore at Bonavista, and the Albion has stranded at Thusselton. Many boats have foundered, and it is feared that the fishing fleet which is now making its last trip to the Grand banks may have suffered a disaster.

Dr. Chapin Indicted.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The Chautauqua county grand jury has indicted Dr. Henry C. Chapin, a leading physician of the county, for manslaughter in the first degree for causing the death of Miss Estella Comfer of Marionville, Pa. Miss Comfer died at Findlay Lake, in this county. Her death, it is alleged, was due to a criminal operation.

Sailor Drowned Off Senator's Yacht.

WARWICK, R. I., Oct. 17.—Isaac Taggart of Providence, one of the sailors on Senator N. W. Aldrich's steam yacht Chichota, was drowned by falling overboard from a small boat in which he was rowing. The body has not been found.

THE ZIONISTS' WORK

Army of the "Prophet" Encamps at Madison Square.

WATCHWORD IS, "PEACE BE TO THEE"

Elijah III. on the Balcony at the Garden Marshals His Army With Talismanic Words—Will Visit Every Home in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—John Alexander Dowie's carriage, as fine as there is on Fifth avenue, drove up to Madison Square Garden, and the "prophet" emerged, followed by his wife, Colonel Stern, the chief of police of Zion City; Alexander Gladstone Dowie, son of "Elijah III.," and Mrs. Stern, wife of the chief of police and secretary to Mrs. Dowie, who is general overseer of the women's work in Zion. The crowd was plenty for one carriage to hold, but two secretaries for Dowie and Overseer Speicher and Overseer Excell, the closest men to Dowie, also piled out. Some of them had certainly to lie on the floor of the carriage.

The Zion guard saluted Dowie, and he pompously returned the salute and said in a roaring voice:

"Peace to thee."

"Peace to thee be multiplied," was the concert reply of the guard, having been previously drilled by Dowie and Colonel Stern. It was effective.

Walking into the Garden, Dowie was escorted to the west balcony and shouted to those of his host who were there, "Peace to thee," but the words were hardly out of his mouth when he shouted in a thunderous voice, "Stop that hammering."

And it did stop. While the "prophet" was assigning the various divisions of the host to sections in the Garden two newspaper photographers got up in the gallery back of Dowie and were focusing him when the eagle eye of Colonel Stern espied them.

"Put 'em out!" he yelled, and a dozen of the Zion guards laid violent hands on the camera men.

"Sir, you're handling me in an unChristian manner," said one of the photographers, with a wink. But out he went.

The Zionists have laid out the following work for themselves in New York: They will chase the devil to the tall grass and raise $5,000,000, establish another Zion City and baptize 2,500 persons, establish Zion tabernacles in various parts of the city, leave tracts in every house, flat and apartment in the five boroughs, the restoration host will visit every home and personally deliver Dowie's message, and they will hold 1,800 street corner meetings every night, commencing this evening.

PLAY CAUSED TRAGEDY.

Boy Shot at Every One in sight at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 17.—Herbert Hall, a fourteen-year-old boy, returned from the theater at midnight and found his mother, Mrs. Jennie Hall; his sister and the latter's sweetheart, Charles Harley, at home eating candy. After taking several pieces he suddenly drew a revolver and began shooting.

One bullet passed through his mother's jaw. Another struck Harley in the face. He fired three shots at his sister without effect and then shot himself dead.

The boy had been ill with typhoid fever, and it is supposed he was mentally unbalanced, although it is thought the tragic performance at the theater was the immediate cause of the deed.

Dinner to United States Officers.

HAVANA, Oct. 17.—Sixteen United States artillery officers were entertained here at a farewell breakfast by General Rodriguez, commander of the Cuban forces, and thirty-one Cuban artillery and rural guard officers. General Rodriguez referred to what American soldiers had done for Cuba and proposed a toast to the American army and President Roosevelt, "the true and generous friend of Cuba." Major Brown, in command of the American troops, replied to General Rodrigues and thanked the Cuban officers for their tokens of friendship. Captain Dwight E. Aultman of the American artillery corps made a speech in Spanish and said he hoped that Cuban and American soldiers always would fight side by side.

Arrested For Robbing Mails.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Charged with having robbed the mails of thousands of dollars, Alexander Haff, superintendent of the foreign mail branch, was arrested here by two United States marshals. He was arraigned later before Commissioner Shields and in default of bail was sent to Ludlow Street jail. The arrest was made after a long search on the part of the marshals. The arrest was due to several complaints made early in the summer by persons in Norway, Sweden and Denmark, who declared that letters from New York to them had been stolen.

Ether Anniversary at Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—The fifty-seventh anniversary of the administration of ether, which was first made at the Massachusetts General hospital Oct. 16, 1846, was observed at that institution by the formal opening of a new out patient building constructed and equipped at a cost of $400,000.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Women are interested by trifles. If advertising to interest women, give the details.—Printers' Ink.

An exchange says of itself: "Try a Gazette ad—one brings relief." A little rough, but the editor meant well.

While "Bill" Devery holds forth at "the pump," "Elijah II" Dowie plays the game in Madison Square Garden. "Mother" Jones, "Carrie" Nation and "Philanthropist" Schwab are taking rests between performances.

Whenever Noah Raby develops new symptoms from printers ink germ it is a sure sign that news is dull in Plainfield — New Brunswick Home News.

Sorry we have to cover the territory for you.

Those who are of the opinion that advertising doesn't pay should consider the vast amount of money being expended for publicity by the shrewdest merchants in the country. Isn't it likely that if advertising was unprofitable they'd have found it out before now?—Retailer and Advertiser.

The unexpected change in the political situation in Somerset County brought about by the harmonizing of the two elements in the Republican party has caused much comment. There can be no doubt that Mayor Smalley and his friends in North Plainfield are sincere in their declaration of loyalty to the party and there is no reason to believe that Former Senator Thompson and his cohorts will be equally true to the Republican ticket.

Somerset County may congratulate itself that it has the choice between two clean and capable men in selecting a representative for the Assembly. Charles M. Dolliver, the Republican nominee, has never figured in politics and consequently has made no enemies among the politicians. The only objection against him that we have heard is that he is too young but in this advanced age, years are not considered a serious handicap provided the man is mentally endowed with good judgment, discretion and ability. These we believe he possesses to a degree. As for Samuel S. Swackhamer, who is named today by the Democrats for the office, his record is a sufficient guarantee that if elected he will ably represent the sentiment of his constituents, and may be depended upon to protect their interests. During the last session of the Legislature, Mr. Swackhamer won an enviable reputation and now figures prominently in State politics, although he was never heard of outside Somerset and Union counties before his election. Somerset's voters are indeed fortunate in having two good men in making a choice for Assembly.

Dead Man's Curve?

The large number of automobiles and carriages which pass the corner of Park avenue and West Front street every day is a constant menace to the pedestrian who wishes to cross that thoroughfare, especially in the afternoon. During the busy shopping hours, it has been suggested by a citizen who had a narrow escape a few days ago from being knocked down by a carriage at that crossing, that a police officer be kept at that corner constantly. During the rush hours in the evening when so many carriages cross the corner of Park and North avenues, an officer is stationed there to regulate the speed of carriages. One should also be stationed during the afternoon at the corner of Park avenue and Front street.

THE INFLUENCE OF LAND.

Highest Type of Manhood Comes from the Country Where There Is Room for Action.

The causes which control the ebb and flow of humanity between city and country are among the most subtile and obscure of social phenomena, says the San Francisco Chronicle. The characteristic of the people of all new countries is vigor. It is due to the abundance of land for all the people, and the action and reaction between land and man. The life of new countries is rude, but the nourishment is abundant, and the pure air sends pure blood coursing through the veins. The result is a race of strong men. When class distinctions are marked the gentry gain culture without losing strength. That is the highest type of manhood. It was seen in the pre-Augustan age of Rome, in the chivalry of medieval western Europe, in the planters of our own southern states in the first half of the nineteenth century. The development of the highest type of manhood involves the condemnation of the majority to a rude and laborious life. But such men can be propagated from generation to generation only so long as they remain in their rural environment. In the cities degeneration occurs. Here and there vigor is transmitted through several generations of city bred men, at least in individuals, who maintain the family name and standing. The tendency is to degeneration, and the mass yields to the tendency. The result is seen in the slums and the potter's field. The new men who dominate the cities—at least in America—are country bred.

TRIP TO THE DENTIST'S.

Western Woman Rode Her Pony Sixty Miles to Have Her Teeth Fixed.

"The experiences of a city bred girl on a western ranch are positively thrilling to me," remarked the woman who was reading a letter from a friend of her youth, to the Philadelphia Record. "Now this friend of mine, so she writes, found herself in need of the attention of a dentist. Did she call a cab or hail a trolley car? She did not. Rather, she had her pony saddled early in the morning and rode 25 miles to the nearest doctor of dentistry—only it was 30 miles, because she had to go five miles out of her way on account of the freshets. Instead of resting at her destination she barely had time to eat a bite when she resigned herself to the filing, scraping, buzz-sawing and hammering which is the lot of the victim of ailing molars. A few hours of this modern mode of torture and she was again in the saddle, with the refreshed pony setting out gallantly to complete his 60 miles. Equines have a way of being light-footed when their heads are turned homeward. As for his rider, a husband and three babies anxiously awaited her in the cool, mysterious moonlight."

THIRTY-TWO-WHEEL CAR.

Has Sixteen Steel Trucks and Is the Largest One Ever Constructed.

A perfect car has recently been built by the Bethlehem Steel company for its own use. The company is supplying some very large castings for a 12,000 ton forging press for the Carnegie Steel company, and this car is for their transportation, says the Engineering Record. Both iron and steel castings are being supplied, some of the latter being of extraordinary size. One of them requires about 325,000 pounds of steel and 60 40-ton open-hearth furnaces are employed to provide the metal for it.

The car has 16-wheel trucks, connected by bridge trusses, 66 feet 10 inches long and 6 feet deep at the center. The distance between the king bolts is 44 feet. The car is 103 feet 10½ inches long, over the couplers, 10 feet 2¼ inches high, and 9 feet 9 inches wide. It weighs 196,420 pounds, and has a rated capacity of 300,000 pounds. The largest car hitherto constructed was probably that used by the Pennsylvania railroad for transporting a Krupp gun to the Columbian exposition. It also had 32 wheels, but its rated capacity was somewhat less than that of the new car.

SAD FOR SPINDLESHANKS.

Fashion Set by King Edward Brings Woe to Gentlemen with Small Calves.

Now that King Edward has set the fashion for knee breeches in full dress affairs, and is being followed by many of his subjects, it is likely that they will be received ere long on this side of the water. They must, of course, be made of black silk satin, and the effects resulting from such a dress will, to say at least, be somewhat curious, says the American Wool and Cotton Reporter. Those who favor the innovation will be the well-built, athletic class, while those who cry out most loudly against it—that they will not adopt such a ridiculous fashion — will have, no doubt, some personal reasons for not wanting to be seen in knee breeches. It will not be the first fashion adopted that has made men look ridiculous, nor will it probably be the last. King Edward is still the criterion of fashion in London. There is little question as to the style there, at least.

An Immense Opal.

An opal has been found in Australia, on the White Cliff fields, which, with good fortune in the cutting, will make a gem eight inches long by five wide, or larger than any of the crown jewels of Belgium, weighs nearly a pound and is valued at $250,000.

Sardines and People.

A Nebraska family has been poisoned by sardines. Sardines are like people says the Chicago Record-Herald. There are some bad ones.

DO THEIR OWN COOKING.

There Is an Increasing Demand for Attractive Appliances for the Kitchen.

Very attractive and handy appliances are now brought out for the amateur cook. They are of bronze, copper and silver plate, and each may be mounted on its own spirit lamp or electrical fitting, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"Epicureanism is on the increase, and many more people are particular as to the preparation of their food than formerly," said a household goods dealer. "Fastidious people who buy the best the markets afford in food supplies have awakened to the fact that much of their care in this regard is wasted if the cooking be unintelligently done, so we are selling more and more of these individual cooking appliances.

"Many settled people, particularly, amuse themselves by amateur cooking. The health culture propaganda has also been a stimulus to the amateur cook. Food eaten under proper conditions will obviate the need of medicines or curatives and add to physical exhilaration, good looks, etc. These theories are getting strongly impressed on the public mind, and particularly on those folks who are able to indulge themselves, to experiment in the matter and make permanent progress.

"They secure food supplies of the best grade and then seek for appliances by which they can supervise the cooking with least inconvenience, and so get the full profit of the investment. The cooking schools have tended also to make people recognize the value of delicate cookery applied to a good grade of food. Slowly but surely their maxims are being exemplified."

USE AMERICAN IDEAS.

French Crooks Copy the Tricks of Swindlers in This Country.

French swindlers, about whose methods a good deal has been written of late, are for the most part copiers of American crooks, says the New York Sun. The trick of following a woman into a store, and just as she goes to make a purchasing assuming the role of an indignant husband, taking her money away from her and getting away before she has a chance to recover from her surprise, was worked for some time in the west. It wasn't successful long here, because American women are harder-headed than their French sisters and, unlike the latter, do not assist the crooks by promptly going into hysterics or fainting when robbed.

A simple little swindle that was successful in this city for years was worked by a man and a boy. The boy would walk up the street swinging a pitcher around his head. The man standing on an opposite corner would call attention to the boy's recklessness and offer to bet $5 or some larger amount that the boy would break the pitcher before he reached the corner. The crook rarely failed to hook a victim. Of course, just as the boy reached the corner he would break the pitcher and the crook would win the bet.

THE POPES AND TOBACCO.

Heads of the Catholic Church Who Proscribed the Weed and Those Who Used It.

It is well known that Pope Leo was for years an inveterate snuff taker. The times have changed since Urban VIII. and Innocent V. vigorously proscribed tobacco, the former pope going so far as to threaten to excommunicate anyone who might take a pinch of snuff within the precincts of the vatican. The brief issued by Innocent X. on the 1st of February, 1650, against the use of tobacco was abrogated on the 16th of January, 175, by Benedict XIII. for very good and sufficient reasons. For, like Leo XIII., Benedict XIII. took snuff in large quantities, and he could not give his sanction to an act which was violated daily by his own example. From that time until the present day the popes have remained silent on the subject of tobacco, but their personal habits seem to favor the use of the fragrant Virginia weed. In addition to the snuff-taking popes, it is well known that Pius IX. used to smoke in his private study and in the more secluded parts of the vatican gardens.

German City Regulation.

The Leipzig, Germany, city council has passed an ordinance compelling city employes to take up their residence within the city limits. As the waterworks, lighting plants, storage warehouses, markets, pawnshops, hospitals, etc., are municipal, a large number of people will be affected. It is said that the action was taken in order to foster Leipzig's growth, to increase the city's income and to concentrate the conservative votes.

Scarecrows on Roofs.

Scarecrows are now placed upon slate roofs in Victoria, B. C. The crows which swarm the beach and dig for clams fly over the buildings and drop the clams on the roofs, by this means breaking the shells and leaving the meat free to be eaten. In many cases when the clams were dropped, the slate would be broken.

Action of Poisons.

Nature seems to have provided that no poison which acts externally shall have any effect internally, and vice versa. Thus the most deadly snake venom can be swallowed with impunity, the juice of the stomach presumably decomposing it and rendering it harmless.

COUNTESS DE MONTAIGU.

A Famous American Newspaper Woman With a French Name.

From a petted girl on a quiet, dreamlike Mississippi cotton plantation, amusing herself doing something or nothing, as her own sweet fancy prompted, to a newspaper woman hustling for her bread in the largest city of the western world, where the competition is fiercest and the chances are most desperate, is a change the girl herself could never have imagined in her furthest flights of fancy, yet it was entered on the destiny book of the girl Anna Kershaw. Her father was Colonel Thomas Kershaw of the old South Carolina Kershaw family.

As little as they themselves did Colonel Thomas dream his daughters would ever need to earn their living. They were sent to Europe to be educated as ladies should be in the judgment of southern cotton plantation owners. They spent considerable time in Italy. When they returned to the plantation a French governess came with them and lived in the Kershaw family twelve years. The proper ladylike accomplishments were drilled into the Kershaw girls.

Meantime Anna got considerable lively enjoyment as she went along. She was the best shot and best horseback rider among women in that part of the south. If she aimed at a squirrel or game bird it had to come down. There was no horse she feared to ride. Sometimes she varied the amusement by canoeing in the magnolia fringed bayous with others as young and lively as herself. Water lilies stirred as they paddled past, hanging gray cypress garlands touched their faces, and now and then a great alligator made at them with open mouth, snapping as though he would swallow them, canoe and all.

Some years passed and the old happy life was destroyed. Those who lived it had to face working for their bread, that, too, with no more real preparation than a child of ten years has. Anna's older sister, Mrs. R. K. Walker, a widow, became society editor of a St. Louis paper and filled the place twenty years.

Meantime Anna married a titled Frenchman, Count de Montaigu. Once Mrs. Walker took a vacation and went to Europe for three months. Anna occupied her chair and was society editor till her return, and thus Countess Anna de Montaigu entered the field of newspaper labor. Events whirled on, and the countess, too, found it necessary to work. She knew something of journalistic writing by this time and began in that path the steep, uphill road to success. She worked awhile on St. Louis newspapers, then was a Washington correspondent, later still tried her luck in New York, managing always to sustain herself, and also by her sweet temper and gentle, gracious manners to gain the warm good will of those she met.

In her profession Mme. de Montaigu is indefatigably industrious and energetic, likewise painstaking and sincere, as the conscientious woman always is. Of late years she has lived much in Paris. Her command of the French language and her living interest in the woman movement and in all human progress enable her to gain a knowledge of the real life of Paris such as probably no other American woman journalist at present possesses. In this respect she resembles the late Lucy Hamilton Hooper. Mme. de Montaigu is now in the United States visiting her sister in St. Louis.

France is not like America, says the countess. There everything changes slowly, though now French women are waking up, really trying to get out from the iron bondage of the cruel old Code Napoleon. They have won some success. Formerly a married woman could not without her husband's written consent draw out of the bank in which she had deposited it even the money she had earned. She may now do so. The woman's daily paper, La Fronde, still moves on. It has become a co-operative enterprise, the employees being its stockholders. Mme. Margaret Durand, its leader and inspiration during its first years, has returned to the stage. La Fronde's parliamentary reporter has a permit from the Paris legal authorities to wear male attire, because it is safer for her as she moves about in performance of her tasks. Her hair is cut short. JANE STORY.

THE BUSY WOMAN

Why She Seldom Accomplishes Much

"THERE are two kinds of busy women—the woman who never has time to do anything and the woman who does a lot," remarked the wise woman.

"H'm!" here put in the old bachelor. "I reckon I have met quite a few of the first kind!"

"Yes, I know. They are always late for everything, fluttering around in a perpetual state of confusion and rush. They don't have time to attend to their children. They don't have time to put anything in order. They don't even have time to eat their meals or to say their prayers, and yet if you were to pin them down to the schedule of their week's work you would be surprised to find how little of importance it really contains. It is all trifles and fuss, and yet they flatter themselves that they are most overworked and indispensable; that without them the whole of their little world would come to a standstill. And when such a woman falls ill or is temporarily incapacitated she is simply lost in surprise, while the machinery runs as smoothly as otherwise—more so, in fact, half the time."

"It is all a lack of management, of course."

"Naturally. It is simply wonderful the amount of work one can do when one has system. You learn, too, to save yourself on comparatively unimportant things in order that you may have time for the more important ones. When a woman is capable of earning with her brain a large amount of money it is foolish of her to waste moments which might be made profitable doing petty or menial work which she can hire others to do for her while she makes four and five times the amount spent. What would be thought of the head of a great concern if he persisted in doing all the work, including that of the office boy? Yet this is the principle on which some women work. Take the woman who works hard at some business and in her spare moments wastes her strength making finery for herself. I have no sympathy with her if she breaks down. She should reserve her strength for her more important work and be content with fewer clothes, which she can purchase ready to put on without any fuss or bother."

A DISORDERLY BUREAU DRAWER.

"And the woman who never can lay her hand on anything when she wants it?"

"Oh, she is the worst type of them all. She never can be a good business woman, for owing to her unfortunate habit she never is on time for anything. She is always tearing madly through a disorderly bureau drawer or rummaging along the tables, floor and even the mantelpiece in her wild search for something she just threw down because she was too much in a hurry to put it away. And if at the end of the year the minutes she wasted in this manner were to be counted the total would appalling."

"What about lack of concentration?"

"Yes. Thank you for reminding me of it. That is another pitfall in the way of the business woman. She has not been taught to focus her energies upon the subject in hand. She writes or she draws or she clicks the typewriter with her mind but half fixed on what is before her."

"One of my chief quarrels with the business girl is that she does not dress the part."

"That is without doubt another evidence of her lack of concentration. If she thought it all out she would see how she is impeding her own progress and wasting her strength by wearing top heavy and expensive hats, trailing skirts and neckwear that needs constant fussing and renewing. It is far better to see an alert, healthy looking girl in a plain shirt waist and stock than to see a jaded one stupid from lack of sleep who parades around in chiffon fripperies which hardly last the day. A neat walking suit, a smart plain hat with becoming curves on the brim and shirt waists which will launder on all occasions, these are necessary to the comfort of every business woman, and she would recognize that they make her look nine times more attractive, too, if she only had a sense of the fitness of things."

HELEN CLIFTON.

Honeysuckle and Gallum.

It would be a disappointment if yellow ladies' bedstraw, or gallum, came not in its season, year by year, among the stones around our sun dial. The peculiar perfume of it refreshes greatly, more especially if mixed with honeysuckle. It is only in Scotland, I believe, where wild honeysuckle blooms, late, deep within woodland shades, while yellow gallum, with flower stalks rising a foot or more, makes gay the sunny banks outside, that one can breathe this mixed sweetness. Galium is far less vigorous of growth here in the south, where, according to Gerarde, "it wanders hither and thither upon the ground, supporting its yellow spikes upon the herbage or stones near at hand." Red lamium, always rather coarse-looking, is inclined to be a tiresome weed; though now and then it is impossible not to enjoy the dash of red given suddenly by a cluster of it at the edge of a border, in the grass or somewhere else where it ought not to be; a short-lived triumph, to be too quickly ended as soon as the gardens "come round."—Cornhill Magazine.

Dogs Having Their Day.

The twentieth century dog is a much pampered quadruped, we all know, but the London dog would seem to be a special object of attention, according to the following announcement in a London weekly: "There are sun bonnets to wear on the heads of dogs, sheets for their bodies and shoes for their feet. Now we have a new and improved collar made for the special delight and gratification of the animal's mistress. It may, we understand, be had of leather of almost any kind, made narrow at each end, the width being in the center. It is ornamented with silver studs, in the recesses of which are perfumes, wherein lies the novelty. Of course, these sweetly ornate collars are only suitable for terriers and top dogs generally, as it would be somewhat expensive to provide daily scents which would annihilate the somewhat strong canine aroma which usually lingers around a St. Bernard or a Newfoundland, or even a deerhound or Borzoi."—N. Y. Tribune.

Cure for Talking Habit.

Formula: One part horse sense, two parts manly determination to keep still; mix well, with an unlimited amount of the best quality of thought. It is impossible for a woman to talk all the time without saying a lot of things that she shouldn't or without proving a jolly bore to everybody about her. This tattling habit is not confined to women, though. Some men have the affliction terribly. Sometimes it's May wheat, sometimes it's Roosevelt, sometimes it's chess, sometimes it's baseball. A steady diet of one-kind conversation is always tiresome. Take a nibble of this and a nibble of that, and your chatter will be more interesting—particularly if there are plenty of rests between nibbles. Talking improves when there's silence by way of contrast.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Where He Drew the Line.

The following notice was posted on the bulletin board of a famous London club:

"Will the nobleman who purloined Captain ——'s umbrella kindly deliver it to the hall porter?"

A well-known peer, taking umbrage at this slight on his order, acosted Captain —— and demanded an explanation.

"Well, you see," was the reply, "the rules state that this is a club for noblemen and gentlemen. I am certain no gentleman took my umbrella; hence there was no other conclusion to come to."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Fashion Spreads.

'Oh, doctor!" moaned the suffering young woman, "I have such an excruciating pain in my side."

"Um—yes. What seems to be the nature of the pain?" asked the physician. "Does it cover the side, or is it confined to one spot?"

"It seems to be scattered all over," explained the patient; "just as if it were a hundred little spots at once."

"Ah!" mused the physician. "This corroborates my theory of the influence of current fashions upon the human system. You have what we would colloquially term a drop-stitch in the side."—Judge.

Pigeon's Milk.

The joke about pigeon's milk has a foundation in fact. After the incubation of the young has been completed the crops of the parent bird become thicker and secret a sort of curd, with which the young are fed. This description of nourishment is necessary for them, for if the young pigeons are deprived of it during the first week or two after hatching they are sure to die.

In the Editor's Room.

Politician—I want to talk to you, sir, about a remark you made respecting me in your paper. You called be a political jobber, sir!

Editor—Yes, it was a very annoying typographical error, and I promptly dismissed the compositor.

"Ah! Then you didn't mean to call me a jobber?"

"No, sir; I wrote 'robber' very distinctly."—Stray Stories.

Might Be True.

Mrs. de Flatte—Dr. Knowall says milk should not be used in large quantities, because it makes the hair fall out. Do you believe that?

Mrs. Suburb—Dear me! It might be. Our cow sheds its coat dreadfully.—Stray Stories.

Didn't Waste It.

Giles—I always take the advice that is offered to me.

Miles—What do you do with it?

"Oh, I distribute it among my friends and enemies."—Chicago Daily News.

Why She Cooked It.

The happy-faced man swung onto a College avenue car, and this was the story he had to tell as an explanation for his good humor:

"I have a good joke on my wife. We have a new girl, a German, just over from the Fatherland. She is a hard and willing worker, but is greatly in need of judgment and common sense. Yesterday my wife ordered fish and instructed the girl to serve it for dinner. As soon as I tasted it I knew there would be something interesting when my wife discovered it was not as fresh as it should be. Her first mouthful caused her to ring for the girl.

"'Mary, is this the fish that came to-day?'

"'Yes, ma'am.'

"'Didn't you know it was not good when you cooked it?'

"'Yes, ma'am.'

"'Then, why did you cook it?'

"Well, you bought it, and I thought you knew it, too.'" — Indianapolis News.

Famous Moated Houses.

The moat which so often surrounded halls and castles in the old days is now generally dry and filled up, but some remarkable specimens still remain. Perhaps the finest example of a moated house is Helmingham Hall, the seat of Lord Tollemache, in Suffolk, about eight miles from Ipswich. The drawbridge still remains, and it has been raised every night for more than 300 years, the ancient precaution being observed even though the need for it has long passed by. The moat which surrounds Leeds Castle, near Maidstone, is so wide that it may almost be called a lake. The ancient episcopal palace at Wells is surrounded by walls which inclose nearly seven acres of ground, and by a moat which is supplied with water from St. Andrew's well. A venerable bridge spans the moat, giving access through a tower gateway to the outer court.—London Tit-Bits.

Chinese Homespun.

The Chinese of Ningpo are successfully introducing their hand-woven cotton goods in Manchuria. The cloth is made from yarns spun in Chinese mills and from imported yarns. The yarns are colored before being woven and the colors are fast and durable. The cloth is made in pieces 20 yards long and 25 inches wide. The price of these goods at Ningpo is three dollars Mexican ($1.85 United States) per piece. The company furnishes the yarn to the villagers and pays them by the foot for weaving. The work is done on handlooms in the homes by women and children, whose earnings are only a few cents per day.

Cycling Backwards.

A novel cycling feat was accomplished recently by Albert Hunter, a Skipton youth. Starting from Robinson's bridge, in Skipton, at half-past two in the afternoon, he rode with his back to the front wheel of his machine to Keighley Station, arriving there at 20 minutes past three, thus accomplishing the nine miles in 50 minutes. He passed through the villages of Kildwick, Eastburn and Steeton, and through the busy traffic in Keighley streets. There was a strong wind against him part of the way, and he had to avoid 45 traps and carts, 26 cyclists, one motor car, and two road engines repairing the highway.—London.

Gen. Napoleon's Decoration.

The cross of St. Andrew, which the czar has just presented to Gen. Prince Louis Napoleon, has a very remarkable peculiarity attaching to it. All those who are decorated with this order have the right once in their lives to demand a pardon for a Russian subject who has been condemned to death. The ungracious part of this privilege is that it by no means follows that the condemned man will be reprieved; but, at any rate, the poor wretch has a chance, for his case is thus brought directly to the notice of the czar, without the intervention of any officials, and, unless there is something political about his crime, the probability is that he will escape with his life.—London Sketch.

Leo Lacked Commercial Bent.

While Pope Leo was bent on making as much money as possible for the church he was not commercially inclined. True, he sold the products of the vatican vintage to the highest bidder, but the proposals of a stock company to market the wine under the vatican label and with papal authority were indignantly declined. Even an offer of $1,000,000 cash for the monopoly failed to tempt Leo.—N. Y. World.

Behind Her Back.

"She's very studious," said one woman.

"Yes," answered the other.

"And doesn't seem to care for gossiping in the least."

"Oh, I don't know about that," answered the other, with a sniff, "she merely prefers to talk about Helen of Troy and Romeo and Juliet to paying attention to what is going on in her own neighborhood."—Washington Star.

Rank.

Higgins—Why do you encourage persons to call you colonel?

Wiggins—Because if folks called me by my army rank of major, people would think I was only a captain.—Boston Transcript.

Anticipating Him.

"Jenkins, I believe you have some of the elements of success about you."

"Not a dollar, old man. Honor bright. You'd be welcome to it if I had."—Stray Stories.

Hygienic.

The Judge—You are charged with taking two laundered shirts.

The Prisoner—Yes, your honor; my doctor told me I must take something starchy.—Yonkers Statesman.

FAILINGS OF CORRESPONDENTS

Letters Folded Wrong and Otherwise Made Troublesome to Business Recipients.

"Not one person in ten folds a letter and puts it in the envelope right side up," said the correspondence clerk of a large New York publishing house, according to the Times. "This firm receives upward of 1,000 letters a day, and it is my duty to sort them and send them to the various heads of departments. Each letter must be sent opened flat, with the envelope attached by a clip. In almost every instance the letter is folded and put in the envelope so that I have to turn it around before I can read it. I have talked with friends in similar positions to mine, and they tell me they have the same experience. It seems a trifling matter to a person who opens only five or six letters a day, but to me this loss of time caused by either the ignorance or carelessness of letter writers is considerable.

"Fully two-thirds of the letters received by a business house are filed. Cabinets for this purpose are arranged so that one must refer to the beginning of the letter, on the right-hand side, to find the date. One-half the persons who write on matters of business, particularly women, put the date at the end of the latter and on the left-hand side, so that we have to lift the whole bunch to get at it. These failings of correspondents are worse than illegible writing and incorrect spelling."

GOOD IN CHANGE OF AIR.

Too Close Confinement to Any Atmosphere Is Injurious to the Health.

The quasi-miraculous benefits which are associated with change of air in the popular belief are in reality derived when they accrue from change of environments, or change of habits of life, says the Medical Review. In a great many instances the measure of benefit obtainable would be as effectually secured and at much less expense by mere change of habits, without the fatigue and inconvenience of change of domicile. The overwrought city clerk might advantageously take to driving a cab, while the cabman would find it a relief to discharge for a time the functions of caretaker of a deserted house. Many an overworked physician would experience a distinct improvement were he to qualify as chauffeur, with no other object in view than to cover space, and there are few domestic servants whose health would not be sensibly modified by a brief experience as milkmaid or gleaner, should the season lend itself to that pursuit. The literary gent, whose brain is sterile of new ideas, might recuperate his energies by usurping the role of a sick man and remaining in bed for a week or two.

LOWER ANIMALS HAVE SENSES

This Has Now Come to Be Admitted by Nearly All the Scientists.

Many scientists, until quite recently, have been reluctant to admit that a number of the lower animals possibly possess other senses than ours. So much new and undeniably affirmatory evidence is, however, now being offered on this point that there can be no longer any substantial reason for doubting that the five senses man imperfectly exercises are by no means all that are possible to sentient creatures.

One such sense not possessed by the human beings, but to a greater or less degree almost universally present in mammals, birds, reptiles, fish and insects, is what, perhaps, may be called the sense of localization. It enables its possessor, apparently by its sole use, to find a desired spot. It is evidently closely connected with an instinctive and perfect memory of distance and direction. That the homing pigeon exercises it to some extent though undoubtedly aided by the landmarks it recognizes, is indisputable; that the honeybee has it in its fullness and perfection cannot, after the careful experiments of Albrecht Bethe, in Germany, be doubted.

TOLD BY DOGS' TAILS.

Most Striking and Infallible Index to Their Descent from Wolf or Jackal.

A writer, in tracing the ancestry of the dog to the wolf and jackal, notices typical differences in the case of their eyes, their body colors and markings, the habit of turning around before lying down, and other interesting peculiarities; but he does not mention the most striking and infallible way of distinguishing them, namely, by the curious and distinct fashion in which they carry their tails.

Wolves have a sneaking way of carrying their tails low, almost dragging on the ground, while dogs carry their tails up, and the farther removed they are from the wolf type the higher they carry them. Shepherd dogs and collies, which retain many of their racial characteristics, carry their tails lowest of all; setters and pointers a degree or two higher, stiffening out straight when drawing on game; terriers and hounds elevate their tails to the spinal line; St. Bernards and Newfoundlands affect a curve over the back; while pugs actually come to a full twist.

The New York team will comprise: McGraw, Matthewson, Warner, McGann, Gilbert, Dunn, Babb, Cronin, Browne and George Davis. Matthewson will positively pitch, this being a consideration in the contract arranging the game.

The North Branch Gun Club will hold its monthly shoot on Thursday, October 29.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Dr. Richard Moldenke is North Plainfield township's member of the Somerset County Republican Executive Committee.

Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer made an address at a Democratic rally at Monmouth Junction last night, his subject being "Political Regeneration."

The Republican Club of Plainfield will hold a meeting in its rooms in the Babcock building tonight. A smoker will be a feature and all voters are invited to attend.

Charles L. Moffett, Democratic candidate for Assembly, stated this morning that he is in the race to the finish and expects to wage a vigorous fight for the office, thus setting at rest a rumor that he would withdraw.

None of the political parties in Union County has yet adopted a party emblem for use on the new voting machine. Voters who can not read will have difficulty in picking out the candidates that they want to vote unless every effort is made to acquaint them with the arrangement of the levers before they make their ballot out.

REORGANIZATION OF LEAGUE

BOWLING CLUBS TO CONTINUE CONTEST FOR THE DAILY PRESS CUP

A Meeting to be Held October 30—Some Changes Planned.

The Daily Press Bowling League will be re-organized at a meeting called for Friday, October 30, by President S. C. Greaves, of Roselle. The place of meeting will be The Daily Press office. A schedule will be drawn up and officer elected. The question will be brought up of the advisability of doubling the number of games usually on the schedule.

Roselle Casino and Westfield have each won The Daily Press trophy twice and this, together with the fact that the team winning the championship three times secures permanent possession of the cup, makes the interest this year high. Practise has already begun at Roselle. Westfield will have the same five that won the championship for her last year and should make another strong bid for leading honors.

The game promises to be more popular than ever at the Park Club, where it is expected that F. O. Ball, one of the cleverest bowlers in the city, will captain the team. Practise at the Park Club will begin as soon as the alleys are ready, probably early in November.

WANT THE DAM REMOVED

BOROUGH COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL SESSION TO TAKE ACTION.

Dam on Dr. Cooley's Property Cause of All the Trouble—Conference to be Held.

With a view of devising some scheme for preventing the upper part of Somerset street being washed out by water from Stony brook during a freshet, a meeting of the street committee of the North Plainfield Common Council was called last evening at which time Dr. Justus H. Cooley was present and was consulted as to what could be done. He favors making some changes to abate the nuisance and a meeting of the committee, the roads committee of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders and Dr. Cooley will be arranged in the near future.

The meeting was the outcome of the washing away of $300 worth of top dressing from the surface of Somerset street above Codington avenue, during the recent storm. It was alleged that the water was backed up in the stream by a dam which was erected by Dr. Cooley a dozen years ago. The dam is maintained for the purpose of keeping an ice pond full on Dr. Cooley's property.

It was shown that the level of the brook was not heightened by the erection of the dam which is not over two feet high. The water, blocked in its course by a fallen tree which lodged against the low dam, seeking an outlet, rushed into the roadway and damaged property of citizens and the borough to a considerable extent. The same thing occurred last year and on several occasions before.

Dr. Cooley declared that he was perfectly willing to erect a stone wall along the Somerset street side of the brook which would be sufficiently high to keep the water within the confines of the water course. The committee seemed desirous of having the dam removed and the water course deepened. No conclusion was arrived at and it was left to the committee and Dr. Cooley to confer with the Board of Freeholders and to report back at another meeting.

Present at the meeting were, Mayor Smalley, chairman of the committee, James K. Arnold; Councilman Robert Clark, Jr.; Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed, and W. J. Titus, Louis Wickoff, C. T. Bilyeu, and Edward Olson, all property owners residing in that part of the borough.

VOTING MACHINES O. K.

Secretary Davis Says They Cannot be Tampered With.

Secretary Seward Davis, of the New Jersey Voting Machine Commission, does not take any stock in the story which comes from Indianapolis to the effect that the new voting machines can be made to "repeat." He thinks the story was inspired by some rival voting machine company.

"The Standard machines," said Secretary Davis, "have been in use sixteen years and have stood every test successfully. They cannot be tampered with unless an entire election board were in collusion with voters, and in such a case no machine ever built could withstand a conspiracy to defraud. But it would be morally impossible for such conditions to arise anywhere at an election.

"Edward L. Phillips, who is president of the New Jersey Voting Machine Commission, is an engineer of thirty years' experience and a graduate of Cornell. He personally put the Standard voting machine to every test possible, and not the slightest defect was discovered. The machines are as perfect as human ingenuity can make them, and mistakes in the casting or counting of votes are impossible."

Miss Lillian Brouthers, of New York State, is visiting friends in Plainfield for a while.

Miss Alice Scribner, of 33 Maple avenue, returned home Friday by Steamship Monroe, after a month's pleasant sojourn in the South.

PLAINTIFF OFFERED BRIBE?

Sensation Sprung in Case of John H. Stevens Against Trolley Company.

A sensational feature in the case of John H. Stevens, of Watchung avenue, against the North Jersey Street Railway Company, developed yesterday when Howard MacSherry, the company's lawyer, produced photographs tending to show that the plaintiff has offered to bribe several individuals with the object of securing them as his witnesses. He also attempted to prove that the company's cars did not strike the plaintiff and asked for a non-suit. This Judge Vail denied and the case will be resumed Monday morning. Stevens is suing for injuries alleged to have been sustained while riding a bicycle Sunday afternoon, May 19, 1902. Craig A. Marsh, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, rested his case yesterday.

CHARACTER IN THE FACE.

Prof. A. E. Willis' Talk on the Human Face and What it Indicates.

The commercial room of the Plainfield Business College was well filled last night with pupils who listened to a lecture on "The Human Face and What It Indicates," by Professor A. E. Willis, of New York City. The speaker indicated with what frequency failure in a busines career results from the neglect to study one's own nature and the character of others. He said that people to a large extent make their own facial expressions by the force of thought and habit. Considerable information was given on the art of reading character by the forms of features, colors of eyes, hair and skin, facial expression, walk, laugh and hand shake. Professor Willis will address the High School pupils Monday.

REV. DR. WYCKOFF AT TRINITY CHURCH

Minister Speaks of Missionary Work in India Before Reformed Congregration.

PEOPLE AND CUSTOMS

GOOD RESULTS BROUGHT ABOUT BY EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

Population More Than Six Times Denser Than That of the United States—600,000 Converts Made in the Last Ten Years.

From his experience of twenty years in the mission service in India, and from his natural gifts as a speaker, Rev. Dr. John Wyckoff was enabled to hold closely the attention of two large congregations at the Trinity Reformed Church yesterday. He had a vastly interesting subject upon which to speak and he treated it in a vastly interesting manner.

Dr. Wyckoff referred to the wide extent of territory covered by the Christian missions in India and said that the population was more than six times denser than that of the United States. His own mission is as large as Somerset and Hunterdon Counties combined.

The educational work in India was the theme of the greater part of Dr. Wyckoff's discourse, there having taken place in that land during the last seventy years, according to him, the grandest educational efforts that the world has ever seen. This educational work has resulted in the adoption of English instead of Sanskrit as the official language; and has greatly relaxed the restrictions and harshness of the terrible system of castes. It has brought about the founding of colleges and schools for the native Hindus who, once brought under the spell of the Christian religion, have been eager in the study of the lessons of the Bible.

In connection with his remarks about the schools as levellers of caste, the speaker alluded to the fact that there are 200 distinct castes in India; that members of one caste cannot eat, drink or intermarry with members of another caste; and that natives of one of the lower castes are made abjectly subservient to those of a higher caste.

The results of this vicious system have been greatly mitigated by the missionaries with their schools and churches. Dr. Wyckoff read a hymn, couched in beautiful and devout language and written by a native Hindu. He quoted statistics of the schools and said that the number of native Christians had been increased by 600,000 souls in the last decade.

In the afternoon at the Sunday-school exercises, Dr. Wyckoff exhibited many interesting souvenirs of his mission work including specimens of the dress of the women and children of India.

At the evening's service, Dr. Wyckoff's subject was "India: Its People and Their Customs."

REPUBLICAN SMOKER.

Much Enthusiasm Among the Members of the Plainfield Republican Club.

While the disagreeable weather of Saturday night affected to some degree the attendance at the smoker of the Republican Club, in the Babcock building, there was plenty of enthusiasm. There were about twenty-five members out and the chances of the G. O. P. ticket at the coming election was discussed at some length. Everyone promised to give his undivided support to the entire ticket. The club decided to keep the rooms open every night until after election, and a cordial invitation is extended to all persons interested in the success of the Republican ticket to visit the place.

Successful Cake Sale.

A successful cake sale was held Saturday afternoon in the parish house of the Church of the Holy Cross for the benefit of the Missionary Society of the church. About $35 was realized and the patronage was good considering the inclemency of the weather. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey, Mrs. William Westphal and Mrs. A. E. Faber.

To Reopen Classes.

The Girls' Club of Hope Chapel will meet Wednesday afternoon in the chapel for the purpose of reopening the winter classes. Any girl, under eighteen, who wishes to join the club will report at the chapel at 4 o'clock on the date mentioned.

SWACKHAMER IS UNPLEDGED

CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY IN SOMERSET ADDRESSES CONVENTION.

If Elected Democratic Nominee Says He Will Pursue Same Course in Legislature.

Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, who has been nominated for the Assembly by the Democrats of Somerset County, made an address at the Democratic County convention at Somerville Saturday. After thanking his constituents for placing him in nomination, he said the welcome with which he was received was a strong indorsement of his services as the representative of Somerset County in the last Legislature.

"If I should be re-elected," he said, "I shall pursue the same course in the Legislature as heretofore. I will endeavor by every possible means to guard the rights of the people of Somerset County and prevent such legislation as I should consider injurious to their interests.

"That is the only pledge a representative of the people should be called upon to make and I believe it is the duty of a public servant to stand independent and unpledged except to a faithful performance of those high and sacred duties which are imposed by a public trust."

THE FIRST BRICK BUILDING

ALBERTI, WHO BUILT IT, NOW OLDEST ACTIVE MAN IN THE STATE.

Lives in New Brunswick—Formerly a Resident of Philadelphia—Interested Here.

Thomas Shipley Alberti, who erected the first brick building in this city, now occupied by A. M. Griffen and others on West Front street, almost opposite Park avenue, is said to be the oldest active man in the State. At a service given especially for old people in the Second M. E. Church in New Brunswick a few weeks ago, Rev. Dr. Shaw, declared that the oldest man present was Mr. Alberti.

Mr. Alberti was a former resident of this city and is very well known here. He makes his home with his son-in-law, Prof. Alfred A. Titsworth, of Rutgers College, New Brunswick, and although 92 years old, visits this city frequently. He was born in Philadelphia and was named after Thomas Shipley, the great abolitionist, who was the brother of Mr. Alberti's mother. He readily recalls his boyhood days, the days when there were no railroads, no coal, no gas, no big buildings, no matches, no other conveniences of today.

The streets of Philadelphia were lighted with oil in those days and a big oil tank occupied the site where the big public building is located today. The slumbers of the night were interrupted at intervals by the town crier, who rapped on the houses or the walks and called out things about the time and the weather.

Mr. Alberti left Philadelphia in 1839 and settled in West Jersey. From there he went to New Market. His only sister was married to Rev. William B. Maxson, who was the pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church there. Mr. Alberti taught school in New Market.

Mr. Alberti spent some time in this city, where he was fortunate in real estate transactions and later lived on a farm near that place. He has been retired from active business for some time and has been devoting himself to religious work.

After Franchises.

The Central Jersey Telephone Company is making an effort to get a franchise at Cranford. A hearing was granted last week to representatives and the matter is now under consideration by the officials of the town. It is also said that a similar effort is being made at Westfield by the same company. This is the company that has been trying to get into Plainfield.

Carpenters Want Raise.

Plainfield carpenters have notified the bosses that beginning with April 1 next, they want forty-three cents an hour, for an eight hour day and half holiday Saturdays. They have been getting thirty-seven cents. The bosses will consider the matter at an early meeting but it is declared they will not grant the increase.—Architects' and Builders' Review.

GOLF AT HILLSIDE IN DRIVING RAIN

Contestants for Golf Committee Cup Made Round of Course on Saturday.

PETERSON LOSES LEAD

J. REEVE STOCKTON WON FIRST HONORS AND NOW RANKS FIRST.

Erickson, Reinhart, Baker, Peterson and Stockton Played the Game in Pouring Rain—Low Scores Made—Standing for Cup.

The only golf in this vicinity on Saturday was at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, where five players braved the elements and competed for honors in the weekly play for the Golf Committee cup. The driving rain had no terrors for the contestants who made the round of the course and succeeded in turning in low scores. As a result of the play Walter Peterson lost his lead for the trophy and he is now in second place with only a half point's difference between his standing and that of H. R. Stockton, who won first honors in Saturday's play.

J. E. Erickson won second honors, with a net score of 79, giving him a total of nine points. The one remaining point was divided between Frank O. Reinhart and J. Whitney Baker, each making a net score of 81, while Mr. Peterson finished last with a net score of 86.

These scores were posted for the Golf Committee cup:

H. R. Stockton,	81, 4—77;

SAYS WATT HAS CONFESSED

PRISONER CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT PLACED IN COUNTY JAIL.

How Watt Was Caught in Springfield, Mass.—Warrant Issued on Labor Day, 1902.

William Watt has confessed to Chief of Police P. S. Kiely that he is guilty of the embezzlement of a sum of money amounting to about $800 from Peter Zimmerman. Chief Kiely brought Watt back from Springfield, Mass., Saturday.

Watt's arrest resulted from an attempt on his part to pawn a watch in Springfield. His actions were so suspicious that the police decided to investigate. Watt told them that he had obtained the watch in this city and the Springfield police sent on his description to Chief Kiely, who recognized it at once. Watt was taken to Elizabeth from this city this morning to await trial before Judge Vail.

On grounds of "Loss of Consortium," Donna Zoo Blume, of New York, has brought suit against Mrs. Marie Geibelhouse, of this city. Mrs. Blume claims she has lost her husband's affections through the influence of her mother-in-law and that she is now suing Mrs. Geibelhouse to recover damages. Action was originally brought in the Supreme Court but the case has been removed to the United States Circuit Court, in New York.

Game Law Case Dismissed.

A case brought by Game Warden George H. Miller against Mrs. Anna Barclay was heard this morning in Justice VonMinden's court in New Market and dismissed. The charge was violation of the game laws by allowing dogs to chase rabbits. John S. Voorhees, prosecutor of pleas of Middlesex County, secured the dismissal on the technical ground that the complaint was insufficient. The same complaint had been made previously against Col. Daniel R. Boice, of New Market, who was able to prove that the offending dogs belonged not to him but to his housekeeper, Mrs. Barclay.

MINISTER SCORES YOUNG GAMBLERS

Rev. John McMurray, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church, Speaks on Vice in This City.

GAMBLING IN SOCIETY

CONDEMNS THE PRACTICE OF PLAYING CARDS FOR PRIZES.

Reminds Chief Justice Gummere of Law Against Sunday Baseball Playing — Pastor See Danger Ahead if Vice is Not Checked.

A gambling mania has reached this city and even the fourteen-year-old school boy gambles his spending money away throwing dice, declared Rev. John McMurray in his sermon at the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church last evening.

Rev. Mr. McMurray said that betting is illegal in this country, and in all the kingdoms of Europe with one or two exceptions. In referring to the decision recently handed down by Chief Justice Gummere, wherein he declared that Sunday baseball playing was legal the minister said that the jurist evidently overlooked a recently revised statute wherein it distinctly says that baseball playing, football playing or throwing quoits are unlawful on the Sabbath.

Mr. McMurray declared that in this city it is not a difficult matter to find places where gambling is going on openly. It is not an uncommon thing to find women of society going from house to house playing whist and euchre for prizes and very often for money. The small boy in the school has the gambling fever and from the youngster who carries papers on the street to the sixteen-year-old boy in the lower grades of the high school, all have the gambling fever. They play dice and bet on baseball games and horse races. The police cannot stop this gambling mania, they are too few in number. If it is allowed to continue, unchecked, it will bring about an incipient sort of anarchy which may increase to greater magnitude. Mr. McMurray said that the most effective method of combatting against the gambling habit was to create a public sentiment against it.

Changes Almost Completed.

The changes at police headquarters are almost completed. A partition extending to the ceiling has been built between the court room and the cells which are now all in place. The court room has been made larger by the removal of the gateway to a position nearer the door and the judge's desk and platform has been moved to the side of the building on the left of the entrance. Small lockers, six to correspond with the number of cells, have been placed opposite the cells, their purpose being to contain the belongings of the prisoners.

FRELINGHUYSEN RE-ELECTED

SOMERSET COUNTY REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ELECT OFFICERS.

Committeemen Enthusiastic and Already Claim Victory—Dolliver as Youngest Assemblyman.

Joseph Frelinghuysen was chosen chairman of the Somerset County Republican Executive Committee at a meeting held in Somerville Saturday afternoon; A. V. D. VanDyke was elected as vice chairman, Fred Pope, secretary and Daniel Hastings, treasurer. The reports from different parts of the county showed that the Republicans are confident of a victory and were well satisfied with the ticket named. Charles M. Dolliver's chances for election to the Assembly are considered exceptionally good. While Swackhamer has made many friends throughout the county and his vote is considered strong especially among the farmers, Republicans claim that Dolliver has many friends in North Plainfield and about the county.

If Dolliver is elected to office he will be the youngest Assemblyman in the State. New Brunswick and Middlesex County, it is said, had the honor of being represented in the House by the youngest member in the person of "Young Hickory," William H. C. Jackson. If Dolliver is successful North Plainfield will wrest the honor from Middlesex.

ANNEXATION, PARTY SCHEME?

SOMERSET'S DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM SO CHARGES.

Republicans Denounced Generally and Specifically—Trusts Attacked.

Assembled in convention Saturday the Democrats of Somerset County adopted a set of resolutions condemning the Republicans for trying to push through the annexation bill, for providing for two additional township committeemen in counties having a population of 4,500 or more and for the appointment of a road supervisor, and they place at the door of the Republican party the responsibility for making laws of benefit to the Trusts. The resolutions follow:

The Democratic party of Somerset County, in convention assembled, do resolve:

That we commend the action of our representatives in the State Legislature at the last session respecting the attempt of the Republican party to dismember our County, and if re-elected, we pledge their hearty opposition to all future attempts of the Republican party in that direction:

We believe in a rigid enforement of the laws of the State designed to regulate its financial institutions and in the adoption of such measures as will ensure the protection of the depositors and investors therein:

In order that the taxpayers burden shall be confined to municipal necessities and progress and not for the filling of the pockets of unscrupulous and high salaried office holders, we urge the observance of the Democratic doctrine of economy in the management of public affairs.

We lay at the door of the Republican party the responsibility for laws which have made possible the existance of trusts and combinations of capital to such an extent as to prevent competition by persons of moderate means, and which force the laboring man to yield to the imperious will of the corporate powers.

We especially condemn the action of the Republican Legislature at the last session in railroading through laws especially designed to benefit corporations, in burying in committee measure beneficial to taxpayers and their bungling and careless manner of transacting the important business for which elected, thus necessitating the calling of two extra sessions within the year at great expense to the taxpayers.

We denounce the Republican party for acts passed providing for the appointment of road supervisors and for two additional township committeemen in townships having a population of over 4,500 and for road supervisors instead of three township committeemen, thus creating additional offices and extra expense and depriving the farmers of the immemorial custom of working out their taxes on the roads.

We pledge our hearty support and that of our party to the candidates nominated at the convention.

SEVERAL BURGLARIES REPORTED TO POLICE

Small Amount of Booty Obtained by Thieves in This City and in Dunellen.

NO CLUES TO WORK ON

SUPPOSED THAT BURGLARIES WERE COMMITED BY LOCAL MEN.

The Residences of Daniel Manning, L. B. Morgan and Geo. VanNess Entered—In Dunellen They Worked at Homes of Dineen and Bodine.

There were several burglaries in the western end of the city and Dunellen on Saturday night, but in a majority of cases, the thieves obtained little for their trouble. Owing to the nature of the operations it is believed that local people are guilty of the invasion, although the police have no clue.

The thieves entered the homes of Daniel Manning and L. B. Morgan, but before they could get anything were frightened away. Mr. Morgan's son have the intruders a lively chase, but could not catch them. At this house as well as at the one of Mr. Manning, entrance was effected by lifting a window with a stout stick.

The next place entered was the home of George VanNess on Clinton avenue. Here the thieves were more successful. They bagged a silver dollar and a silver watch and made their escape without being detected. It is also reported that they entered the house of Daniel S. Pound, of West Fifth street.

From VanNess's home the thieves went to Dunellen, where they effected an entrance to the houses of Charles H. Dineen and Thomas C. Bodine. They got nothing at Mr. Dineen's home, where they were frightened away, but from Mr. Bodine's house they stole a gold watch and a considerable sum of money. In each case where things were stolen the fact was not discovered until yesterday morning.

BARROOM TO POLICE BAR.

Same Old Story Illustrated by Appearance of Drunks.

Three Saturday night drunks faced City Judge Runyon this morning and each left a portion of the long green in his charge. Stephen Perrine paid $3 for unseemly hilarity while boosed; James Brown, whose face looked as though it had been caressed by a threshing machine, abstracted $5 from his little roll, and James Brann, who fell off a West Front street trolley car and passed down the avenue like a Sulu Indian running amuck, was detained in default of payment of $5. He will ornament the county jail for twenty days unless he produces the wherewithal before night.

Hallowe'en will be properly celebrated in Plainfield, Saturday night, Oct. 31. Already plans are being formed for several parties in the city and borough.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Edward VanArsdale, of Boycefield, has secured a position with the Pond Machine Tool Works.

Wallace Morton, of West Front street, is suffering from a badly lacerated hand. Morton was cutting a block of wood with a gauge chisel in the pattern shop of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant Friday, the chisel slipped and imbeded itself in his left hand. Three stitches were taken in the wound. The injured lad will be unable to resume work for a week.

"Let our aim be to be the first in the hearts of our working-men—first for peace and last for war," said Frank C. Munemacher, of Louisville, before the National Manufacturers' Association. On another occasion this big-hearted employer said: "At home there is nothing sweeter to me than to have my employes speak of me as 'Mr. Frank,' instead of using that term, void of all affection — 'the boss.'"

The Texas Farmers' Improvement Society has just held its seventh convention. This remarkable society is composed of 3,000 negro farmers, owning 50,000 acres of land, 8,000 cattle and 7,000 mules. By co-operation and hard work, these farmers have become prosperous. They take care of their sick and bury their dead. They introduce the latest methods of farming, and they are trying to abolish the money-lenders.

James Long, who was injured in the eye at the Aluminum Press Company's plant two weeks ago, will lose the sight of his right eye. A steel bar became tightened in the head of a screw-machine, and while Long was bending over the machine to see what caused the trouble, a new man he was "breaking-in" pushed the bar through, striking him, Long, in the eye. The injured lad went home and medical assistance was summoned.

The policy of President Buchanan, of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers International Union, is avowedly peaceable. In Chicago on Thursday he said: "There are no conditions in the iron trade to warrant a general strike. The union is at present on the friendliest terms with employers, and it is my policy to remain in that State." Sam Parks, however, threatens a general strike throughout the country against employers in the structural iron trade.

Now that Japan is attracting so much attention it is worth knowing that there are 300,000 members of the labor in that little country. Since the unions were organized, they have amost entirely abolished child labor: have cut down the working hours and improved the sanitary conditions in the factories. Until unionism sprang up in Japan nothing had ever helped the mass of working people. Today the national government is obliged to listen to the demands of the unions, and to pass laws for their protection.

The Colorado Court of Appeals has decided that if an employer hires men to take the place of strikers, he is liable for damages if any of the men are injured. The Denver Gas and Electric Company hired a man named Holshauser during a strike, without telling him that he was taking the place of a striker. The man was shot during a riot and sued the company for damages. Judge Thompson, who gave the final decision against the company, said: "No employer may knowingly expose an employe to personal danger without telling him of that danger."

Justice Dean, of the Pennsylvania State Supreme Court, has handed down a decision in the case involving the rights of unions as brought forth by the Allied Building Trades' organization and the Plumbers' League. The decision sustains that handed down by the lower Court of Common Pleas. The cause of the strife between the two labor organizations was the attempt to force the Plumbers' League into affiliation with the Allied Building Trades' organization. The lower court granted an injunction prayed for by the plumbers, and the Allied Building Trades appealed to the Supreme Court The Supreme Court, in affirming the action of the lower court, holds that the allied trades, in seeking to force the plumbers to affiliate, and attempting to prevent them working when refusing to affiliate, acted in contravention of the rights of every man to work, and such action was therefore illegal.

The O'Brien.

If the custom observed in some places of naming the police patrol wagon after the prisoner who happens to be its first passenger is followed in Plainfield, the new addition to Plainfield's police equipment will be called "the O'Brien." Patrick O'Brien was arrested in the West End Thursday by Patrolman Flynn in so helplessly intoxicated a condition as to necessitate a call for the wagon.

GROUT HAS SPOKEN

Candidate Gives His Views on Municipal Affairs.

WANTS THEM ON THEIR OWN MERITS

Says That a Change of Opinion When Circumstances Have Changed Is Neither Treachery Nor Apostasy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Edward M. Grout, the Tammany candidate for comptroller, has made public his letter of acceptance to T. C. T. Crain, chairman of the Democratic city convention. Mr. Grout says in part:

"I believe that the business affairs of municipal corporations should be managed upon their own merits.' In this spirit I have managed the affairs of the comptroller's office. I supposed that the Citizens' Union generally believed and would practice this doctrine and was deluded into the belief that the Republican party had adopted it as its guide in municipal affairs. They have both deliberately put aside and repudiated that doctrine by Republicanizing the fusion movement. The party issue has been squarely put into the campaign by those who profess the contrary. Until this was revealed I was committed to the support of Mayor Low and resented the bitter and prejudiced attacks made upon his personality by the district attorney. You expected when you proposed what was then intended as an indorsement and not as an original nomination that I would support Mr. Low for re-election. You intended to eliminate the comptroller's office from contest and to leave me free to act as my judgment and conscience should decide.

"But I was not 'committed' to the support of Mayor Low in any unreasonable sense. I had during my term of office publicly criticised the conduct of the fire commissioner and had objected to the expenditure of public money to induce crimes and to the employment of plain clothes men to enforce the Sunday excise laws. I was the only public official of the city to say a word against the increase of the excise tax and the increase of the share of the state in that tax or to protest against the proposed repeal of the franchise tax, while the mayor in the one case supported the measure and in the other observed silence. It is now clear that he was in accord with the Republican schemes of taxation, which have of late years been so hostile to the interests of the city of New York and have so steadily and greatly increased its contribution to the expenses of state government.

"I have been reproached as a traitor and as an apostate. A change of opinion when the facts and the circumstances have changed is neither treachery nor apostasy. Once it became clear to me that this contest had lost its pretense of a nonpartisan discussion of local questions, that those who were with me had abandoned the only principle which held us together, that the fusion party had become essentially Republican, then inevitably I went with the Democratic party. It is my former associates who have forsaken the principle upon which we stood, not I who do so."

ZIONISTS MAY REVOLT.

"Restoration Host" Lacks Food and Does Not Want to Fast.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Rumors of a revolt among the Dowieites on account of food were rife about Madison Square Garden, where 4,000 of the Zion "restoration host" of John Alexander Dowie are being fed twice a day during the visitation for reforming New York.

Various complaints about the food were heard among members of the "host," and it was said that one man had gone to the Plaza hotel, where Dr. Dowie has a handsomely appointed suit of apartments, to lodge a complaint with the general overseer.

Many of the Dowieites who got up at 5 o'clock and were at the Garden at half past 6 for a two hour prayer meeting had to wait until after 9 o'clock before they got any breakfast. One woman said she waited until shortly after 9 and then went outside and got her breakfast. She said that at Saturday night's dinner everybody had to stand at the long tables in the Garden cafe where the 4,000 were fed.

Demand That Company Enter Trust.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 19.—A. C. Gray, counsel for P. H. Brudage of New York, has entered suit in the United States court here against the Lobdell Car Wheel company to show cause why it should not be compelled to enter the National Wheel company, recently formed. W. W. Lobdell, president of the company, was one of the appraisers of the various plants which were entering the new company. It is said the local plant would have been taken for $1,500,000, but the negotiations fell through. Just what the defense will be is not known, but it is reported that under the will of the late George G. Lobdell the concern could not be sold to a combination or company.

Banker Killed For Unkept Promise.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—A Turko-Armenian named Inadzian has been condemned to ten years' hard labor at Moscow for the assassination of a Russo-Armenian banker named Margaroff, who failed to contribute 15,000 rubles to the Armenian national fund, according to a promise made by him when he was kidnaped in the Caucasus.

LABOR TRAIN WRECK

Pennsylvania Coach Filled With Italians Telescoped.

FIFTY-ONE KILLED OR WOUNDED

Washington's Crossing the Scene of Terrible Railway Disaster—Survivors Made an Attack on the Train Crew.

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., Oct. 19.—Seventeen men have been killed and thirty-four injured in a wreck on the Belvidere division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Washington's Crossing.

A train of flat cars loaded with gravel, at the rear of which were two passenger cars filled with Italian and negro laborers to the number of about 200, started from Trenton to repair damages caused by the recent flood.

At Washington's Crossing the train stopped to attach ten additional loaded cars. While standing on the tracks another train of work cars with only the crew on board came thundering up the track and ran into the rear of the first train, telescoping the two passenger cars filled with men. Instantly thirteen men were killed, and four others died later.

The injured lay in heaps on the ground and under the cars, and the wreckage was scattered over the main track. Physicians who were hurried to the scene rendered assistance to the injured, and the Rev. W. H. Lynch, pastor of St. John's church, also hurried to the scene and ministered to the dying.

The dead were terribly mangled, and a frightful spectacle was presented as bodies were packed into the wrecking train. Heads were severed from bodies and legs cut off and bodies cut in two.

As soon as the accident happened the Italians became frantic and made an attack with stones, picks and shovels upon the engine driver, fireman and crew of the colliding train, who were forced to fly for their lives.

The railroad authorities here are reticent, but it is believed that the gravel train either failed to see any adverse signal or that the flagman of the first train failed to go back a sufficient distance.

A GREAT CANAL.

Steel Trust May Open Waterway Between Dorchester and Providence.

DORCHESTER, Mass., Oct. 19.—Officials of the American Steel and Wire company, part of the United States Steel corporation, have plans drawn for the construction of a canal between this city and Providence, R. I. The estimated cost is $40,000,000, and it will be a difficult engineering feat. For the new water route a greater part of the fifty miles the old Blackstone Valley canal will be dredged and utilized. Sixty years ago the canal was abandoned and a railroad built to take its place.

The plans also call for the construction of a gigantic reservoir just outside of the city to supply water for the canal, thus making the use of locks unnecessary. Several big mills in the various towns will lose their power under the new plan, and several million dollars will be used to pay land damages.

The officials of the steel trust will visit Worcester, when the plan will be considered in detail. If the plans are carried out the big Worcester plant will be greatly enlarged; otherwise there will be an extensive curtailment.

Two hundred and eighty-two men employed in the rolling department of the American Steel and Wire company were laid off on account of a general depression in the steel business. The south works, which have been running day and night for many years, will not run nights in the future. A general layoff of steel workers in all the Worcester plants has thrown many hundreds of men out of work.

Pennsylvania Halts Big Contracts.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19. — The Pennsylvania railroad will suspend further operations on a great part of the vast improvements and extension work now under way. In all it is estimated that nearly $10,000,000 worth of new work already under contract will be stopped within thirty days. Formal notice was given to several contractors to suspend work. Other orders of like tenor will be issued without delay. The territory to be affected will be principally along the main line between Altoona and Pittsburg. The purpose is to stop all improvements and extension work from which direct benefit cannot be derived this year, except where the work is so far advanced or in such shape that operations cannot be suspended without danger of serious damage to the work already done. Heavy excavation work will be stopped.

Bishop Potter Did Not Rise.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Bishop Potter's familiarity with popular airs was illustrated at the opening of William H. Seward park. The Seventh Regiment band was playing a potpourri of American melodies when a patriotic citizen who was sitting near the bishop jumped to his feet, removed his hat and said, "Get up, bishop, that's the national anthem!" Bishop Potter's left eyelid drooped suspiciously as he replied, "No; you don't get me on my feet for the 'Suawnee River.'"

Postmaster Pleads Guilty.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—On a plea of guilty to having embezzled government funds Ferridon Vise, former postmaster at Fairdealing, Mo., was sentenced in the federal court to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary and fined $1,050.

Alaskan Boundary Decision Sustains America.

INLET TO GOLD FIELDS IS OURS.

Long Standing Dispute With Britain and Canada Is Settled—Dominion Wins Only Her Claim Relating to Portland Canal.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—An official definite decision has been reached by the Alaska boundary tribunal whereby all the American contentions are sustained with the exception of those in relation to the Portland canal, which Canada wins. All that now remains to be done is for the commissioners to affix their signatures to the decision and complete the map which will accompany it. On the map will be marked the boundary line definitely fixing the division of American and British territory on such a basis that no American citizen will lose a foot of land he already believed he held, while the United States will get all the waterways to the rich Alaskan territory with the exception of the Portland canal, which gives Canada the one outlet she so much desired. The decision gives the outlet from the gold fields to the United States.

The long standing dispute was only settled after a week of keen, trying, secret deliberation between the arbitrators. For a time there was a possibility that a disagreement might result and the whole proceedings fall to the ground.

Lord Alverstone, though openly inclined to believe in the justice of the American argument, that the United States was entitled to the heads of inlets, held that Canada had established her claim in relation to the Portland canal.

Senator Lodge, Secretary Root and Senator Turner agreed to cede those points and to start the American boundary line from the head of the Portland canal, thus giving the Canadians that channel and some small islands. This accomplished, the majority of the tribunal agreed to fix, with this exception, the entire boundary as outlined in the American case.

Whether Messrs. Aylesworth and Jette, the Canadian commissioners, will refuse to sign the decision and make it unanimous is not yet known, but it will not affect the validity of the agreement.

BONAVITA'S PERIL.

Frank Bostock Tells of Wild Beasts In Atlantic Storm.

PLYMOUTH, England, Oct. 19.—Frank Bostock, the noted animal trainer, on arrival here on his way from New York to Hamburg on the American liner Pennsylvania gave a thrilling account of the exciting times his assistants had during a hurricane on the Atlantic ocean.

"As I was anxious to give some of them more room we decided to take two of the quiet lions out of their cages and keep them behind strong barricades in a corner on the lower deck. No sooner had Tamer Bonavita gone into the cage to get them out than Romeo flew at him, cutting off his retreat by getting between him and the door.

"It was a terrible moment, but Bonavita gallantly defended himself while we beat back the lions with iron bars. But we could not get him out until finally we turned the ship's hose on the infuriated beasts, who, half smothered and choking with water, at last were driven off.

"Bonavita's left arm was ripped right up by Romeo's claws, and he had several minor bruises. It will be several weeks before he can use his arm again."

Feared Lynch Law, Hanged Himself.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—It is believed by the police that the mystery of the murder of Mrs. Kate Lauman, whose dead body was found lying by the roadside near Normandy, has been partially solved through the suicide of John Williams, a negro, arrested as a suspect. A fire occurred near the jail and caused some excitement. After it had been extinguished Sheriff Hencken went to Williams' cell and found the prisoner dead. He had hanged himself. It is thought that the excitement caused by the fire alarmed Williams into the belief that a mob was approaching the jail to lynch him, and he quickly hanged himself.

Sultan Thinks End Is Near.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 19.—The council of ministers has decided to grant £50,000 (Turkish) to rebuild villages and alleviate the distress in Macedonia. In an audience held with the German ambassador to Turkey, Baron von Bieberstein, the sultan said that the present rebellion was almost entirely suppressed and that Turkish troops were meeting with opposition only in the Djumbala district.

Those who have the ambition to achieve big things in Wall street would do well to study the career of John Alexander Pecksniff Dowie. In his ability to practise upon the credulity of his fellows and make profit of it, the "restorer" is probably without a rival.

LITERARY.

Among the noteworthy books of the autumn is one which will have a special interest for New Jersey people. It is "Laura Bridgman, Dr. Howe's Famous Pupil, and What He Taught Her." It is written by two of Dr. Howe's daughters, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Plainfield, and Mrs. Maud Howe Elliot, and is on the point of being issued by Little, Brown & Co., of Boston. This will be the first recountal of the story of Dr. Howe's labors with Laura Bridgman, the girl with but one sense, that of touch. The doctor's valuable records have been drawn upon for material, and much has been found in Laura Bridgman's own journal and in the accounts of certain of her teachers. Dr. Howe's pioneer experiments have been of the greatest service in the training of deaf mutes, and the book containing a complete record of them is awaited with keen anticipation. It has been said with truth that the way in which Laura Bridgman's "shut in" mind approached the various problems concerning God and immortality will have a profound significance for all thoughtful people.

A NEW

Signora Duse Regains Her Voice by the Help of English Professor.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—During Signora Eleonora Duse's visit to the Adelphi theater this season the critics have frequently mentioned the singular improvement in the melodiousness of her voice. She now tells the secret through a letter which she has written for publication in the hope that her experience may be useful to all actors, singers and public speakers.

Signora Duse says that there are thousands whose careers depend upon the human voice. There are thousands who never realize it until from abuse, neglect or wrong use of the voice it refuses to perform its function.

At Rome she consulted a professor of Santa Cecilia, who assured her that the trouble was due simply to wrong usage of her voice and that by following a new method of voice production she would be able to resume most of the exacting work of her art. She carried out the method, with the result that she is now in better voice than she has been for many years.

Signora Duse does not give the details of the wonderful cure she went through, but the professor in Santa Cecilia was an Englishman, Mr. Henry Russell, son of the author of the song, "Cheer, Boys, Cheer!" He was the first Englishman to be elected to a professorship of Santa Cecilia.

UNDERGROUND RIVER.

Engineering Expert Will Look For Pure Water on Governors Island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Persistent in his belief that there is an underground river of purest water rushing under these city streets, Benjamin K. Turner, an engineering expert, will attempt to demonstrate for the war department that he can tap a perpetual source of supply on Governors island. Ponce de Leon pursued not more persistently the waters of everlasting life in old Florida than the government officials have searched for pure water on Governors island.

Mr. Turner and his financial backer, Sherman Kingsley, have got the government so interested in the claim that an underground Manhattan river can supply these cities that the war department sent Colonel Carson of the quartermaster's department from Washington to investigate the claims of the "wizards."

SAD TALE OF THE SEA.

Schooner's Crew at the Point of Starvation.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—Captain Nielsen of the British Transatlantic steamship Haverford, from Liverpool, reports having fallen in with the coasting schooner Rubic and Bessie, with all on board in a weakened condition from lack of food. The schooner was sighted 300 miles east of Cape Henlopen. Some of her sails were gone, and she appeared to be in trouble.

Captain Marshall of the schooner said he sailed from Georgetown, S. C., for Patchogue, N. Y. Besides his crew he had with him his wife, four children and a passenger. Adverse winds drove the schooner out of her course and sails were lost in gales. The entire party had been without food for four days. The members of the crew were so weak that they raised distress signals with difficulty.

REV. W. M. SPARGER.

Attempts to Take His Life on Account of Some Great Trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—The Rev. William M. Sparger of New York attempted suicide at the Walton hotel here. He is in a critical condition at the Jefferson hospital.

Mr. Sparger, who is cantor at Temple Emanuel, Fifth avenue, New York, registered at the hotel and later was found unconscious in his room.

Rabbi Henry Berkowitz of this city was notified, and he hastened to the hospital. Mr. Sparger said he tried to kill himself because of some "great trouble."

Rabbi Berkowitz stated that he was unable to account for Mr. Sparger's desire to end his life.

Unlucky Number Reaches Mokuahopo

HONOLULU, Oct. 19.—An exploring party of thirteen, the first to reach Mokuahopo, the summit of the crater of Mauna Loa, gives reliable details of the eruption. They found the inside of the crater very active. Out of the mass of molten lava fiery geysers were shooting up to the height of 200 feet or more.

Hendricks' Widow Very Ill.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Eliza Hendricks, the aged widow of Vice President Thomas A. Hendricks, is critically ill at her residence in this city. She suffered a slight stroke of paralysis a few days ago. Mrs. Hendricks for many years has been largely engaged in charity work.

Honor to Memory of Unser Fritz.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—The statues of the Emperor and Empress Frederick opposite the Brandenburg gate were unveiled in the presence of Emperor William and his empress, the crown prince and other imperial personages and a brilliant assemblage of ministers, officers and officials.

Hills Are White With First Snow.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Northern New York had its first snowstorm of the season. The mountains about Lake Placid, Loon lake, Chateaugay lake and Lake Titus are white with snow.

Wireless From Pek ng to the Sea

PEKING, Oct. 19.—The Marconi system of wireless telegraphy has been inaugurated between Peking and Tientsin.

THE MOTOR CAR TRIALS.

American Autos Are the Strongest In the World.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Several of the officials of the automobile endurance run from New York to Pittsburg arrived here by train from the latter city. They were a unit in declaring the contest the most thoroughly successful of its kind ever held in this country. Henry Unwin, secretary of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, expressed the opinion that the extraordinary conditions under which the test had been held had stamped American motor vehicles as the strongest in the world.

Others among the homecomers, who included some of the observers on the run, were eulogistic of the great improvement in engine building in this country. It was pointed out that in the endurance run to Rochester two years ago, when two days of rain were encountered, engine troubles were prevalent, whereas in the severer trip to Pittsburg such troubles had been exceedingly light.

Yale Beats Pennsylvania.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19.—Under conditions both as to weather and players that were not conducive to the best football Yale's eleven bore down the Pennsylvania State college eleven by the score of 27 to 0. Yale's line was weakened by the absence of Kinney and Bloomer.

New Cycling Record.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—At the Parc des Princes track M. Dangla made a new cycling record for one hour by covering 52 miles and 918 yards in that time.

RECORD MILITARY CAMP.

Largest Force of Men Under Canvas Ever Formed In Peace Time.

FORT RILEY, Kan., Oct. 19.—The largest military camp ever formed in this country in time of peace is now located here on the government reservation. About 13,000 men are under canvas.

The general scope of the maneuvers, which will continue for a fortnight, is the most comprehensive that has yet been arranged, and practically every situation a soldier can be called upon to face in time of war, save the two so eminently disagreeable—danger of death and lack of rations—is comprised in the programme. It is safe to say that from a sanitary point of view no better camp was ever designed. Every possible arrangement has been made by Major Baker, chief quartermaster, who has laid miles of water pipe, built bath houses and provided seemingly for everything.

It is expected that there will be a greater number of foreign military attaches in attendance upon the present series of maneuvers than upon any previous similar occasion. Colonel Raspapoff of the Russian army, Colonel Foster and Colonel Birkbeck of the British army and Lieutenant Colonel Monteverde of the Spanish army are in camp. Governor Bailey of Kansas and General Ian Hamilton of the British army are expected to visit the camp.

TO SECURE PEACE.

British Minister Will Try to Settle Russo-Japanese Dispute.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—It is reported that the British minister to Japan, Sir Claude Macdonald, has undertaken to mediate between Russia and Japan and, having secured Japan's consent to the following proposals, is now negotiating with Russia.

These proposals are that Russia shall restore Manchuria to China and that the principal Manchurian towns be opened to foreign trade; Russia is to withdraw all her troops from Manchuria with the exception of the railway guards; she is to renounce her forestry concessions on both sides of the Yalu river, as well as the Yongampho concession, and the whole country south of the Yalu is to be admitted as belonging to the sphere of Japan.

Japan Wants Peace With Honor.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 19.—The Japanese minister of war, Lieutenant General Terauchi Ki, denies that the army is desirous of war and says that the cabinet is unanimous in wishing peace with honor.

Live Wire Cut Off His Head.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 19.—Melion Basselego, a Polish miner, was decapitated by an electric light wire here. The storms washed the earth from about an electric light pole and caused it to fall. He was out hunting for a lost cow and encountered the fallen wires. It is supposed he touched one of them, was shocked into insensibility and, falling with his neck across one of the wires, was gradually decapitated. The head was found three feet from the body, having rolled down a slight declivity.

Gilbert Islanders Return Home.

HONOLULU, Oct. 19.—The steamer Islewerth has left for the Gilbert islands with 200 Gilbert islanders, the last of several thousand imported during the last twenty-four years for plantation labor. As laborers they have proved unsatisfactory. Many of them are destitute. They have been trying to return home for a long time.

Custer Soldier Shot For Burglar.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

DON'TS FOR WOMEN.

Little Things the Wise Ones Know and the Unwise Ought to Know.

Don't talk about other people's promises to you and your future plans.

Don't be good in a superior manner and don't be perpetually pointing out the fact that you are doing things in the right way. It is an excellent method of getting yourself hated.

Don't bluff and don't boast. You may have a more intelligent audience than you think, and anyway there are always enough clever people to see through you.

Don't talk all the time. Give others a chance.

Don't forget that all really good conversation is impersonal.

DON'T TALK ALL THE TIME.

Don't tell what you could do if you had the chance. Either do it or don't talk about it.

Don't be afraid to acknowledge when you are in the wrong, but when you are in the right stand firm.

Don't run after other women, and they will run after you.

Don't, when a woman tells you her troubles, immediately cheapen her tale of woe by hatching up a more doleful one of your own.

Don't tell your women friends' secrets. Remember that their friendship may some day be dissolved, and, while some women do keep secrets, no woman ever allowed a secret to last any longer than her friendship.

Don't tell everybody if you make your own clothes.

Don't be a slave to your house or your furniture.

Don't doubt your own success, and others must believe in you.

Don't forget that personality counts for more than beauty.

Don't do twice as much for people as they do for you.

ORIGINAL DRAWING ROOMS.

Odd Effects the Fashion Just Now. Old Rose Walls.

The formal reception room is a thing of the past, and today the idea is to obtain an original effect different from one's neighbors.

The drawing room in the picture has a most attractive arched effect through the center of the room and leading up to the fireplace. Wide windows furnished with window seats occupy nearly the entire side of the room.

The walls are tinted old rose and the woodwork is white. A tall lamp in the distance has a pretty old rose shade. The tables and wicker chairs are placed around carelessly, and small rugs cover the polished hardwood floor. R. DE LA BAUME.

Girl Harvest Hands.

The girls of Pawnee county, Kan., intelligent, pretty girls, too, in the harvest field this season beat out of sight the trained athletes of eastern college students when it came to shocking wheat. Two sisters named Swenson did more work than four of the men students. The girls' muscles were stronger and more nimble than the men's. Is not the new woman here?

BEAR WAS TOO GREEDY.

Unique Animal Story Which Has Its Origin in the Strawberry Famine in Maine.

The failure of the wild strawberry crop this year has brought trouble to many homes in eastern Maine—to the city families who expected to buy the fruit brought in from the country, for making their winter preserves; to the country boys and girls who hoped to secure their circus money from selling what they gathered in the fields and to the bears, who lay on the first coating of fat for the year by foraging among the rocky pastures and gorging themselves upon the ripe berries.

Early in July, while Mrs. Martha Jordan, of Aurora, Me., was picking some strawberries in her garden, a bear climbed the stone wall at the boundary line and ambled close up to her side, picking the fruit from two adjoining rows, apparently unconscious of her presence. As soon as she realized the character of the visitor she dropped her large tin pan, which was about half full of fruit, and ran to the house and locked the door.

Finding about four quarts of ripe berries, all picked and ready to eat, the bear nosed about the pail for a moment, and, inserting her head under the wire bail, began to fill herself at leisure. No sooner was the last berry gone than the bear discovered that she had made a mistake. The wire bail had gone over her head and her neck with great ease, but when she tried to remove it she met with trouble. She scratched and clawed at the pail and tore the hair from her neck in trying to get released, and, finding that the pail remained in place as firmly as ever, she staggered over the wall and groped her way toward the west branch of Union river, into which she fell and swam across, in the hope of washing the pail away.

Meantime Mrs. Jordan had escaped from her house by the front door and called the neighbors to her aid. They pursued the bear with shotguns and dogs. They crossed the branch of the river on a bridge below the village, and, putting hounds on the track of the bear, soon overtook her. She was lying dead among a bunch of ferns, having been drowned in about two gallons of water which remained in the pail after her swim across the stream. The taut wire fitted so closely over her neck that her nose was forced to the bottom of the pail, and the water did the rest.

WHIPPED INTO LINE.

Two Girls Lash a Preacher Until He Gives Consent to His Daughter's Marriage.

The Toledo (O.) correspondent of the New York World is authority for the statement that Rev. Martin Harris, a Baptist preacher in the Matamora district, refused to let his daughter Minnie marry Harvey Carter. The young man is the idol of his two elder sisters. The other evening the girls intercepted Mr. Harris just as he was entering his own yard. He still refused to give his consent to the match and, drawing a long mule whip from beneath the folds of her dress, the eldest Carter girl brought it with terrific force across the neck and shoulders of the divine.

SWISH! WENT THE WHIP.

Before he could recover his astonishment the other sister struck him about the legs with another whip, and for a moment the blows rained thick and fast upon the dominie, until he fairly howled for mercy. The sisters renewed their request for consent to his daughter's marriage, and he attempted to argue the question. Swish! went the whip in the younger girl's hands about the preacher's thinly-clad nether extremities. Again and again she cut him with the whip. Finally he begged and pleaded so hard that they desisted the punishment, but continued their demands until he promised anything they asked. The wedding is to take place in August.

China's Population.

We have heard so much of what is poetically termed the "teeming millions" of China, that the official census recently published by the imperial treasury department of China is of no little interest, since it furnishes a method of determining just how many "teeming millions" there are. It appears that the celestial empire contains 426,000,000 inhabitants, and that China proper—the 18 provinces—contains 407,000,000. The table is given in the Mouvement Geographique, of Brussels, to which readers are referred for details. The number of inhabitants per square kilometer varies from 201, in Ho-Nan, to 32, in Kan-Sou, and is, on the average, 103 in the 18 provinces. In Mongolia, the number is 0.7; in Manchuria, 9; in Yibet, 5, and in Turkestan, 0.8. For comparison, we may recall that Germany has 105 inhabitants per square kilometer; Belgium, 220, and the United Kingdom, 130.—Scientific American.

Room Papered with Envelopes.

A most quaint and novel way of papering a room has lately been invented by a young lady of more originality than taste. She has adorned the walls of her special sanctum with the envelopes of all the letters she has received for the last few years. These are, of course, of every conceivable shape, color and size, and also bear all kinds of stamps and handwritings, so the effect is most odd. She has pursued no plan in regard to them, but has pasted them on the walls in all kinds of positions as soon as she has received them. The effect is startling, but it cannot be said to be in any way artistic.

Pontiffs Once Wore Red.

There are many people who will doubtless be interested to know that it is only since the thirteenth century that the popes have been accustomed to wear white. Until that time they were always arrayed in the red robes now affected by the cardinals. Boniface VIII., in 1294, however, realizing that the red was no longer a distinctive color of the papacy since his predecessors had accorded to their legates abroad the right to wear it, issued a decree granting to all the members of the sacred college the red robes which they now wear, and decided that white should henceforth be the hue of the raiment of himself and of his successors. The popes, however, still retain from these ancient days the red hat which they wear out of doors, and the red mantle as well as the red shoes.—Detroit Free Press.

House on the Rocks.

Once upon a time there was an ambitious man who desired to found a great and prosperous house, so he worked and worked, and then worked more, and after that continued to work.

While he worked and accumulated wealth to his desire, he saved and invested and reinvested over and over again, while a large family was growing up under his roof.

Finally he and his children found themselves firmly grounded in the Four Hundred, and had no fear of any social winds or floods that might beat against their house.

Moral: A house to stand must be founded on "rocks."—N. Y. Herald.

Remarkable Record of a Village.

Until last week eight months had elapsed since a death was recorded in the village of Stanwick, Northamptonshire, England. Its 800 inhabitants include 13 whose collective ages number 1,086 years. One of them, John Neal, aged 92, gets about easily; another, George Morris, 91, still uses his trowel as a stonemason; two brothers, Thomas and William Ward, are aged 85 and 82 respectively, and the ages of the others range from 85 to 79, one of the latter, Mr. George Tailby, being the overseer of the parish. There are many between 70 and 75 years of age, but they are not considered old men at Stanwick.—London News.

Sex in Industry.

The special report of the Massachusetts bureau of statistics of labor on "sex in industry" shows that women no longer need to depend on men for a living. According to the figures, woman's emancipation is about complete. More than 88 per cent. of the women workers of Massachusetts are unmarried. They prefer freedom, work and income of their own and care nothing for romance. Divorces, too, have increased, being about one to every 18 marriages.

SOVEREIGNS' VISIT ENDS.

Victor Emmanuel and Helena Have Left For Rome.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and his wife, Queen Helena, heard mass early in the Italian chapel here, whither they drove without escort.

Later they left for Vincennes to witness the military review. Upon arriving at the review ground King Victor Emmanuel mounted a horse, Queen Helena took her place in President Loubet's carriage, while Mme. Loubet entered the richly decorated royal stand, where, before the march past, she was joined by their majesties and the French president.

From the review ground their majesties drove in full state to the Elysee palace, where an elaborate lunch was given, the guests being all military or naval officials and including Commander Giles B. Harber, the naval attache, and Captain T. Bentley Mott, the military attache at the American embassy.

In the evening the king and queen left for Italy.

Before his departure King Victor Emmanuel gave $5,000 for the poor of Paris and $6,000 for indigent Italians.

HARSH MEASURES.

German Government Is Down on the Polish Language.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—The German government has decided to adopt still harsher measures against the Poles and to wound them in their tenderest sensibilities.

In the priests' seminary in Posen, where hitherto instruction in literature has been given to young clerics in Polish, an order has been issued that in the future the German language shall be used.

Archbishop Stablewski is enraged, but can do nothing, as the government threatens to close the seminary if he declines to submit.

Hitherto a marriage license has been filled out in Polish. In the future it must be in German.

It is this assault against their language, especially where religion and religious usages are concerned, that the Poles feel most painfully and results in filling the Polish provinces with rebels.

THE CZAR'S CALL.

Russian Sovereign Wants to Preserve Peace in the Far East.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—While expressing the hope of a peaceful issue of the far eastern crisis, the Novoe Vremya points out that if war breaks out the Russians will rise as one man at the call of the czar, and there can be no doubt regarding the ultimate issue.

The Novoe Vremya asserts that the Japanese belief that the viceroy, Admiral Alexieff, represents the Russian war party is quite erroneous, adding:

"While the viceroy has been given extensive administrative powers, he is only the executor of orders of the czar in matters of foreign policy. One of the czar's chief aims, the maintenance of peace, is the fundamental basis of Russian policy in the far east. This has not been modified since the institution of the viceroyalty, and the holder of the post cannot depart from the very clearly defined policy of the Russian government, which has no other object than the peaceful prosperity of the state."

A RIVAL OF ANGELO.

Mark Twain Goes to House Once Owned by Bandinelli.

FLORENCE, Italy, Oct. 19.—"Qui Abito Baccio Bandinelli" ("Here Dwelt Baccio Bandinelli") is graved on a stone slab set in the wall of the residence that Mark Twain will occupy here for the winter at least.

The residence which Mr. Clemens will occupy during the winter months is a large rambling place, formerly known as Villa Mantellini, now as Villa Papiniano, which belonged originally to the sculptor, Baccio Bandinelli, a contemporary and rival of Michael Angelo, whose colossal groups in marble adorn the facade and the main hall in the Palazzo Vecchio of Florence.

The villa is most pleasantly located about halfway between Florence and Fiesole.

Wire Tappers Made a Haul.

FONDA, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The wires of the Western Union Telegraph company over which the race track reports are sent were tapped a few miles north of here. Two small wires were attached to the main line and run down the side of the pole and through tall grass to a deserted shed near by. Two other men were stationed in the turf exchange in Gloversville and placed money on a fake horse put in the race and offered as a 40 to 1 shot. The men won $100 and escaped.

Spanish Claims in Venezuela.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 19.—The mixed commission which is hearing the Spanish claims against Venezuela has closed its session. Of the total amount of claims presented before the commission $304,964 was awarded, $205,388 was withdrawn and $31,004 was refused. Considering the Spanish population of Venezuela, amounting to 40,000 persons, the total of claims presented to this commission is considered to have been small.

Tidal Wave Killed Canadian.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Cunard line steamer Etruria, from New York, which has just arrived at Liverpool, reports having been struck by a tidal wave on the day she left New York. A Canadian named Hall (brought to be Captain G. C. Hall) was killed and several other persons were injured. The port side of the captain's bridge and a number of stanchions were carried away.

DEPOSITS, $700,000.00

It was but a month ago that we announced that our deposits had reached the $600,000.00 mark. Since then we have added another $100,000.00 to the total.

The number of depositors now represented on our books is over 1,400, which means that nearly one hundred accounts have been added during every month the Company has been in existence. Such a record demonstrates in an able manner that our broad and far-reaching facilities are meeting a definite need.

We continue to invite new business, subject to the following liberal terms:

On accounts of $200 or more, subject to check, 3 per cent interest is paid.

On accounts of $5.00 or more 3 per cent. interest is paid, provided the money is left on deposit for three months or longer.

GOLF.

Although the regular schedule of events at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club close on November 27, with play for the Gilbert cup, the play for the Golf Committee cup will extend beyond that time a few weeks.

The events scheduled for the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on election day, November 3, include the finals for the men's handicap cup, play for the holiday cup in the morning and in the afternoon play for the Green's Committee tankard and a Kickers' handicap.

Even the most enthusiastic members of the Park Golf Club failed to put in an appearance on the course last Saturday to take part in the weekly competitions for the President's and Park Golf Club cups. The rain was responsible for the failure of the members to compete for the trophy honors.

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS MAKE MUNICIPAL TICKETS

Bullock, Higham and Murphy, Republicans, and Atterbury, Timpson and Homan, Democrats, Named for Councilmen-At-Large.

SOME EXTRAVAGANCE IS CHARGED

REPUBLICANS RENOMINATE FRANK H. SMITH, FOR TAX COLLECTOR, AND E. M. CAVE, FOR MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

DEMOCRATS SELECT J. V. F. DILTS, FOR TAX COLLECTOR, AND REV. E. M. RODMAN, FOR MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

There was a family jar in the Republican city convention held in Reform Hall last night for the purpose of making nominations to complete the city ticket. The difference of opinion arose over the nomination of one of the councilmen-at-large and it was up to one of the Third ward delegates, Councilman W. S. Tyler, to take the unusual step of nominating a candidate out of his ward.

When nominations for councilmen-at-large were called for H. S. Taylor nominated William Starr Bullock as the representative for the First ward, J. Hervey Doane, from the Second ward, seconded the nomination, and then Mr. Tyler in a somewhat lengthy speech named James F. Buckle as the second nominee. In doing this Mr. Tyler dwelt at some length upon Mr. Buckle's six years of faithful service in the Council and stated that the city could not afford to lose such a servant. He added that he had just seen Mr. Buckle and received from him his assurance that he would accept the nomination with pleasure providing he should receive the unanimous vote of the convention.

"Of all the faithful men who have served the city in the Council," continued Mr. Tyler, "no one has been more faithful than Mr. Buckle. He has had the courage of his convictions and has always stood by them. I don't care who the man may be, there is none better fitted to serve the city's best interest than he. If a public office in the city is a prize to be sought after as such, then I am greatly mistaken in my ideas. A public office is for the city and not the man and it is a confounded shame if it is otherwise."

George J. Tobin, from the same ward, presented the name of J. S. Higham as a candidate. Councilman Robert L. Lee seconded the nomination of J. S. Higham and in return George J. Tobin seconded the nomination of Clarence L. Murphy, the Fourth ward's candidate.

Although not a delegate to the convention, City Clerk J. T. MacMurray took occasion to make a few remarks in which he said that Mr. Buckle informed him that he did not want another term. He did not doubt but what Mr. Buckle had told Mr. Tyler that he would accept the nomination if it was made unanimous, but when he did he knew full well that he would not get the unanimous vote. He added that he would like to have Mr. Tyler withdraw Mr. Buckle's name, believing that it was too much to ask Mr. Buckle to stand for a second defeat as soon after a first one.

Mr. Tyler then declared he could not believe that Mr. Buckle would be defeated in the convention. "I do not know any of the tricks of politics, I am no politician," said Mr. Tyler, "I only know that I am not pledged. There are certain things that I want to carry out next year and I want Mr. Buckle's assistance."

Then for the purpose of testing the sentiment of the convention he declared, "Is there anyone in this convention who would vote against Mr. Buckle if he receives the nomination?"

Mr. MacMurray took exception to this procedure, stating that it was not a fair test. "There is no such thing as making up your mind beforehand," declared Mr. Tyler, "if it has been practiced here it is an outrage on de-

For councilmen at large, Albert A. Atterbury, Lewis G. Timpson, James P. Homan.

For tax collector, J. V. F. Dilts.

For member of the Board of Education, Rev. Erskine M. Rodman.

This was the ticket chosen, each man by acclamation, by the Democrats in their city convention last night in the Democratic Hall. Those attending were few in number but determined in spirit. In their resolutions making an appeal for votes, municipal ownership of a water system was advocated and the present Board of Education was attacked for its "extravagance" in proposing to build a new High School at a cost of $125,000. These were the resolutions as drawn up by the committee, J. F. Casey, Daniel Dugan and Sylvester Sharkey:

"The Democrats of the City of Plainfield in convention assembled hereby affirm their devotion to the principles of Thomas Jefferson and pledge their support to the nominees of the Democratic party in this county and city campaign.

"We hold that rotation in office is both wise in policy and best in results; we believe that long and uninterrupted possession of power by one party is dangerous to the interests of the people; with these thoughts in mind we ask the votes of the citizens of Plainfield for our ticket, pledging our candidates to the economical and honest administration of both State and city government.

"We demand that economy shall be exercised in the expenditure of the people's money; we insist that every boy and girl shall have the benefit of free education, but we oppose and condemn the extravagance of the present school board in many directions and particularly in the proposed construction of a High School at a cost of $125,000. We believe that the sum of $60,000 would be ample for the needs of our city at the present time.

"We favor the municipal ownership of a water system for our city, believing that it would largely reduce our water bills and ultimately prove a large source of revenue to our city.

"We favor competition in all such public utilities as we may not control in order that our citizens may have the benefit of the world's progress at a minimum."

The convention was called to order at 8:30 o'clock by J. V. F. Dilts. Vincent L. Frasee was elected chairman, with Frank Shattle secretary. Andrew Nolan, Joseph Harrigan and Patrick Ravelle were named for the committee on credentials. To the committee on vacancies, A. J. Nolan, Clinton Shannon and Sylvester Sharkey were elected. About the only enthusiasm aroused by the nomination of candidates was when the names of Mr. Dilts and Mr. Atterbury were presented. The Democratic ward candidates for the Common Council named at the primaries are Fred S. Cutter, First ward; Francis L. Montgomery, Second ward; Walter F. Manning, Third ward, and James L. Stryker, Fourth ward.

After the business of the convention was concluded, Chairman Frasee called upon Mr. Atterbury, Mr. Dilts and James E. Martine for remarks. Mr. Atterbury said that the tide of public sentiment was certain to turn sooner or later in favor of the Democrats and that it was the duty of

HER EIGHTY-THIRD BIRTHDAY

MRS. S. M. PARSE, OF SCOTCH PLAINS, CELEBRATES EVENT TOMORROW.

Stricken With Paralysis at Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. F. A. Miller—Her Career.

Mrs. Stites M. Parse, the oldest resident of the village of Scotch Plains, is fighting for life at her home on Front street, in that town, so that she may live to celebrate her eighty-third anniversary of her birth, which occurs tomorrow. Today she lives at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Miller, suffering with a stroke of paralysis and is in a serious condition.

Mrs. Parse went to live in Scotch Plains when that village was composed of only a few houses. Born in Morristown she removed to Newark when a young girl. She was married and later moved to Scotch Plains where she has been for thirty-three years.

For years she has been prominently identified with the work in the Scotch Plains Baptist Church. She is probably the only person in the village who has been a member of that church during five changes in the pastorate, having joined the church at the time Rev. Dr. J. C. Buchanan was pastor. The pastors who have been installed in that church during her membership were Dr. Buchanan, Rev. George Guiscard, Rev. Dr. Henry Parks, Rev. J. S. Braker and the present pastor incumbent, Rev. G. M. Shott. Mrs. Parse was at one time vice president of the Women's Sewing Circle of the church.

Mrs. F. A. Miller, of Scotch Plains, with whom Mrs. Parse lives, is the only daughter of the aged woman.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED ON R. R. CROSSING

Victim Found at Broad Street Crossing of Central Railroad at Westfield.

BODY IN MORGUE HERE

ONLY THIRTY-FIVE CENTS AND A PIECE OF PAPER IN MAN'S POCKET.

Described as an Irishman About Forty Years of Age—Gray-Mixed Hair, Cut Short, and Dark Mustache—Black Trousers.

An unknown man having in his clothes a piece of paper torn from a note book bearing the words, "Frank Rowan in care of Thomas O'Donald," was struck by an East bound fast freight this morning at 2:30 o'clock at the Broad street crossing in Westfield. The man was apparently struck in the head. He was discovered dead by a night watchman. Dr. Westcott, county physician, took charge of the body and delivered it over to George W. Cole, to be placed in the morgue of this city.

The man was about forty years old, with gray mixed hair cut short, and a dark moustache. He wore black trousers, a blue checked coat, black outing shirt, white undergarments and black socks. Thirty-five cents in money was found on his person, besides the paper with the names. A tattoo mark on his left wrist was prominent. The man's clothes were in fairly good condition and were evidently those of a laborer or machinist. He was an Irishman.

The Plainfield and Westfield directories contain the names of neither Rowan nor O'Donald.

Notwithstanding a misleading statement made to this paper by Albert Lederer, regarding his brother, Arthur Lederer, the latter was implicated in a confession made by Elmer Mantz, of the borough, who has been arrested in Jersey City on a charge of stealing goods from his employer there. It is reported that Arthur Lederer made a confession to both Chief Detective O'Brien, of Jersey City, and Chief Kiely, of the local force, and according to Chief Kiely valuable goods were found in his possession. No criminal charge has been made against Arthur Lederer but restitution has been made to O'Brien Brothers.

ST. MARY'S TEAM CLAIMS CHAMPIONSHIP

Westfield Now Reconsidering Refusal to Play the Final Game.

MAY PLAY SATURDAY

MATCH BETWEEN WESTFIELD AND NATIONAL LEAGUE MAY BE CANCELLED.

Game With St. Mary's Suddenly Declared Off—Negotiations for a Match Now Being Made—Other Details of Series.

The Union County baseball championship has been won by St. Mary's team, of this city, and the Westfield team, through the failure of its manager, Charles H. Denman, to fulfill his contract for three games with the Saints, loses the honors. It is a disappointment to all, Plainfield as well as Westfield, that the team from the latter place failed to keep its agreement to play in this city tomorrow. Manager Denman agreed on Saturday to bring his team to Plainfield tomorrow afternoon and play the third and deciding game. Yesterday morning Manager Owens received a telegram from the Westfield manager that he could not get his team together for that game. This was after the members of the team all said that they would play on that date.

Reports from Westfield indicate that the baseball loving people in that place condemn Manager Denman for his action, claiming it to be manifestly unfair. Throughout the past season Manager Denman has had his own way and in his dealings with the Alis Club as well as Scotch Plains he has always had the best end of it. Only once during the entire season has the Westfield team played in this city, and in view of the fact that the people in this city support the game two to one better than Westfield, they were entitled to better consideration. Alis and Scotch Plains, as well as St. Mary's team, have been obliged to go to Westfield if they wanted to play that team. The local managements declare that Manager Denman's backers will have to meet them half way if they want games next season.

Late today it was learned that Managers Owens and Denman were trying to arrange the third game of the series for next Saturday at Westfield, thereby cancelling the Westfield-New York National League game.

BASKET BALL BEGINS.

Local Y. M. C. A. to Play the National Champions Friday Night.

The opening game of the basket ball season on Friday night of this week will be one of the big games of the year. The local Y. M. C. A. team will have for opponents the National champion five, the Twenty-third Street Y. M. C. A., of New York. It has been made possible to secure this game by the fact that the New York team will not enter upon its regular season until Nov. 1. Manager Heywood has been especially favored because he was formerly connected with the Twenty-third Street Y. M. C. A. The New York team has held the National championship for the past six years. The local association team will hold practice Tuesday and Thursday nights of this week at 7:30 o'clock.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

By the terms of an agreement executed by James Smith, Jr., receiver of the United States Shipbuilding Company, and Emmet R. Olcott, of the Olcott, Mester & Gonzales, of New York, counsel for the Mexican Government, the receiver has opened the Crescent Shipyards, of Elizabeth, and will complete for the Mexican Government the two unfinished cruisers there, the Tampico and the Vera Cruz. The yards were shut down several weeks ago on account of funds to pay the workmen. The Mexican Government is furnishing the necessary funds to satisfy existing liens upon the vessels and to pay the workmen. The two cruisers were contracted for in 1901 and should both have been completed by November of last year.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Sechs und-dreisig.

That was the magic number with which John Karesz, a lost Pole, answered all questions addressed to him in the city court yesterday morning.

"Where do you come from?" "Sechs-und-dreisig." "Du bist Deutscher?" "Sechs-und-dreisig." "Do you live in Plainfield?" "Sechs-und-dreisig." "How many times have you been arrested?" "Sechs-und-dreisig."

"Donnerweitter!" said the Judge. "Sechs-und-dreisig," responded John, his features as full of expression as a sheet of blank writing paper.

And that was all the satisfaction that could be obtained from John Karesz, lost Pole, as hard of locating as the North pole itself. He was discovered by Patrolman Flynn at 4 o'clock yesterday morning coming out of a yard on the corner of Grant avenue and West Front street. Judge Runyon told him to go to—sechs-und-dreisig.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Best of Friends," one of the greatest melodramas ever written, will be presented by Charles Frohman at the Academy of Music, New York City, on Thursday evening, Oct. 20 It is from the pen of Cecil Raleigh, the most skillful writer of melodramas connected with the modern stage, and it has achieved the distinction of being the biggest scenic as well as dramatic achievement that ever materialized at the Drury Lane Theatre, London, a house famous for its tremendous productions and sensational triumphs in this respect.

Marvellous Charm.

From the moment one steps from the train at Lakewood he is conscious of entering a different atmosphere. The scent of the pines prevails and the quiet aristocratic surroundings are impressive. The broad roadway in front of the station is thronged with fashionable turnouts, and without noise or confusion the visitor is whisked away to his hotel, than which there is one finer in the land. At these vast abodes there is none of the cold, chilly atmosphere so often found at resort hostelries, instead the spacious reception rooms are cheery with great log fires; tone is added by the charming decorations, and the courtliness with which the guest is met places an assurance on the whole, while the service in every respect is such that the guest remarks it. Lakewood's cottage settlement is now of considerable proportions and George J. Gould has built a magnificent estate at Lakewood, which he makes as his home for a greater part of the year. There is nothing undignified or trashy regarding Lakewood; its streets are of macadam, broad, well kept, and shaded by towering trees, and the prevailing sport is driving for the roads in every direction are excellent. Golf and polo are likewise popular and the facilities for each are exceptional. The New Jersey Central is the only road reaching Lakewood, and its train service from New York or Philadelphia is fast and frequent. If you are intersted in Lakewood, send for Lakewood Brochure to C. M. Burt, G. P. A., New Jersey Central, (143), N. Y. City. The book is free for the asking.

A GREAT TRUTH.

How It Has Spread From Home to Home in Plainfield.

In every part of Plainfield; in the homes of the wealthy, in the humble abode of the man of toil; 'tis now a well-known fact—a great truth—that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought more comfort to backache sufferers and cured more sick kidneys than any medicine of modern times.

Mr. Jos. VanArsdale, carpenter and contractor, living at 213 Spooner avenue, says: "For several years I suffered from severe pains in my back, hips and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape, and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses when I found they were helping me and on completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

WORLD'S RECORD.

Cresceus at Wichita Trotted a Mile In 1:59 3-4.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 20.—Cresceus broke the world's trotting record for a mile, going the distance in 1:59¾, beating the previous record, held by Lou Dillon and Major Delmar, by a quarter of a second.

The day was ideal, and the track could not have been better. Mr. Ketcham worked the horse out before the final test in 2:15 and then sent him for the record.

He broke when he first scored for the word, but on the next attempt was sent off, going the first quarter in 0:30 seconds flat. There was a cheer when he reached the half in 0:59¾, and when the three-quarters was passed in 1:30 the cheer became an uproar. Just before he reached the wire Cresceus broke and, it is believed, lost fully three-quarters of a second. He caught handily and flashed under the wire in 1:59¾. No wind shield was used.

Ocean Tide Won at Brighton.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—John A. Drake's Ocean Tide won the Peconic stakes for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, at Brighton Beach. The Drake filly also equaled the track record for the distance, 1:06 3-5. Lady Amelia cut out the running to the stretch, where Ocean Tide took command. Hicks brought the favorite, Wotan, up, and in a furious drive Ocean Tide won by a head from Wotan, with Flamula third. The finish in the fourth race between the favorite, Hurstbourne, and River Pirate was very exciting, the favorite gaining the decision by a short head on the post.

Could Not Knock Out Grim.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20. — Joe Gans, the light weight champion, and Joe Grim, the Italian pugilist of this city, who stood six rounds before Bob Fitzsimmons and received severe punishment last week, met in a six round fight at the Washington Sporting club. Gans had the better of the fight from beginning to end, sending Grim to the floor one or more times in nearly every round. The Italian received a severe pounding, but the colored champion was unable to knock him out.

Dan McKenna Won Easily.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—Dan McKenna won the fourth race, the feature of the card, at the fair grounds. McKenna jumped into the lead, closely followed by Little Scout, the favorite. McKenna raced the Bennett horse into submission and came on, winning easily in the fastest time for the distance at the fair grounds this year.

ALLEGED DEFAULTER HELD.

William Carthew Said to Have Stolen $100,000 In New York.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 20.—City Marshal Rammage of Haywards has arrested William Carthew in that place on a charge of being a defaulter in the sum of $100,000. The arrest was made on evidence submitted by H. B. Erickson of San Francisco. It is stated that Carthew was a confidential clerk in a bank in New York and while acting in that capacity stole $100,000, which was squandered on a woman. It is claimed that he fled from New York and came to California. Erickson had done business with Carthew in New York and recognized him as the missing bank clerk.

A Irish National University.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—While the government has not yet consented to the establishment of a Catholic university in Ireland, an arrangement has already been consummated, with the approval of the Catholic hierarchy, to form Dublin university into a national university with three constituent colleges—namely, Trinity college, Dublin; Queen's college, Belfast, and University college, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, each to be suitably endowed. It is intimated that this arrangement will insure the government the support of the Irish party during the coming session of parliament.

Bandits Controlled Newburg, Ore.

NEWBURG, Ore., Oct. 20.—For two hours this place was practically under control of a gang of bandits whose object was to blow up the building of the Bank of Newburg and loot the vault. Though several charges of dynamite were exploded, the steel vault failed to give way, and the bandits departed on horseback toward Portland. The vault contained probably $20,000. The building was practically wrecked.

Wentz Is Still Missing.

BRISTOL, Tenn., Oct. 20.—A special from Big Stone Gap, Va., says the disappearance of E. L. Wentz remains a mystery. Rewards offered by his brother, D. B. Wentz, of $25,000 for the discovery of the missing man alive and $5,000 for the recovery of his body have kept 1,000 men in the mountains almost constantly. In connection with the case an arrest will be made today.

No Arrangement With Welsh Miners.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—J. W. Ellsworth, president of the Ellsworth Coal company, which is accused of importing Welsh miners to work at Ellsworth, Pa., wiring from New York, makes an emphatic denial that either he or his company had made any arrangement with foreign miners or their agents to that end.

Was Defending His Home.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The coroner's jury has exonerated Charles C. Wentisch from all blame for shooting and killing Sylvester J. Reeves of Brooklyn. At the inquest the verdict returned was that Reeves died of a shot wound inflicted by Wentisch, who was defending his home and family at the time.

PANIC WAS AVERTED

Baltimore's Wall Street Excited Over Big Failures.

GREAT TRUST COMPANIES GO DOWN

Announcement of Collapse of Maryland Trust and Union Trust Came on the Monumental City Like a Thunderclap.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20.—This is a time of marked excitement and subdued anxiety in the financial and business circles of Baltimore, full of momentous events and of wild, irresponsible, damaging rumors in those streets and marts given over to monetary transactions. Luckily a dozen reports well calculated to prove a wholesale run on banks got no farther than the precincts of South and German streets, Baltimore's Wall street district, and did not reach the great army of depositors throughout the city, thus giving ample time for the conservative leaders of business to allay popular apprehension before it reached dangerous proportions.

It began with the announcement of the failure of the Maryland Trust company, and except to only an initiated few it came like a thunderbelt from a clear sky, spreading consternation in all directions. To these few it was known that the Maryland Trust company had long been struggling with undigested securities, that it sustained heavy withdrawals of deposits and that finally it had failed in its supreme effort to bridge over the yawning chasm by negotiating a $2,000,000 loan in London.

While the bankers in their offices and brokers in clusters on the street corners and money dealers generally and business men in the exchanges were still excitedly discussing the collapse of the Maryland company there came another bolt out of a transparent sky—the suspension of the Union Trust company—and it was this latter event, which happened owing to baseless rumors as to other financial institutions, which might well have created a panic had they been given currency earlier.

It was agreed among the leaders and so given out that there is nothing alarming in the general financial situation in this city, and the mere fact that temporary difficulties overtook one or two concerns is no reason why other perfectly solvent institutions should be regarded with suspicion. As one of the most influential bankers in Baltimore put it, "Our financial institutions are strong and have placed themselves in position to withstand any assaults upon their credit standing."

Or as another leading banker, perhaps the most prominent in Baltimore, put it:

"It all depends upon how the people of Baltimore act. If they do not lose their heads the trouble will blow over in time, and nobody will be hurt, but if they become panic stricken the consequences will be serious. This is a time to use calm judgment."

The total liabilities of the two companies exceed $10,000,000.

The cause of the Maryland Trust company's failure was due, as is set forth in the statement to Receiver McLane, to the investment of the assets of the company in Mexican railway securities which could not be marketed. The Union Trust company failed because of a run on its banking department, about $150,000 having been withdrawn by depositors, but the real troubles of the company had their origin in the organization of the South and Western railway in Virginia, in which a capitalization of about $11,000,000 was contemplated. The Union company was the fiscal agent for the Virginia enterprise just as the Maryland company was the fiscal agent for the Mexican railway.

Mail Pouch Thief Escaped.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Albert E. Bell, the mail pouch thief and forger, who was brought to this city from Denver by Deputy United States Marshals G. H. Baker and Alvah Davis, eluded his guards and is now at liberty. When the train reached the Pennsylvania railroad station Davis and Bell went to the toilet of the Pullman car, and while they were performing their ablutions the prisoner calmly walked to the platform of the car, mingled with the crowd of passengers and disappeared.

Jury Swerved From Sympathy.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—"Isaac Morton came to his death from a gunshot wound in his head from a gun found in his own hands, supposed to be accidental." After this verdict was rendered the coroner said that, while he and the jurors felt that the man had taken his own life, they had purposely swerved from sympathy.

Montello State Bank Closed.

INTO MONONGAHELA

New Wabash Bridge Accident Results In Ten Deaths.

CAUSE, "SOME ONE HAD BLUNDERED"

Thirty-four Men Went Down With the Collapse of the Iron Crane on the Bridge—Bodies Pinned Under the Wreck.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—By the breaking of the ropes carrying five beams to their position, letting the tons of iron fall upon the movable crane at the Pittsburg end of the new Wabash bridge being built by the American Bridge company over the Monongahela river, almost a dozen workmen were hurled to death by a fall of more than 100 feet, striking the water and two barges beneath. Eight of the dead have been recovered. Five are seriously injured. Several bodies are yet pinned under the wrecked barge.

The part of the bridge extending out over the river from the Water street side is a total wreck.

Deputy Coroner L. C. Huchel made an investigation at the scene of the disaster. He believes the blame rests on whoever was in charge of the hoisting and fastening of the "I" beams. He says that a failure to properly secure one derrick load caused the breaking strain to fall on the crane.

"Just before this happened," said Mr. Huchel, "the men had hauled up a load of five 'I' bars. They were fixed in position by a long sleet bar, which was pushed through the eyes at the end. Then five more bars were hauled up to the same point, and this fastening bar was drawn back with the intention of shoving it through the eyes of the five additional bars.

"In some way a blunder was made, and the bar was not put through. As a result the bars suddenly fell, the resulting jerk pulling down the crane."

The accident was caused by the giving way of a two inch steel cable which was used as one of the guys to support the big crane. This cable was tested to bear a strain of 100 tons, and it is said that it did not break, but pulled loose from its fastening.

There were thirty-four men at work on the superstructure of the bridge and in the barge below, from which the beams were being hoisted by the crane, 175 feet above the river level, when the booms collapsed. Of the men who were in the barge some escaped with their lives by jumping into the river the moment they heard the crash above. Some of the men on the superstructure who were engaged in riveting and handling the bars that were lifted from the barge also got off uninjured.

It was rumored that the accident was due to an experiment in the construction of the bridge in order to save time. The rumor had it that this was the first bridge ever built without underpinning and that the company did not use any underpinning because it was thought that much time might be saved.

A special meeting of local union No. 3 of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers has been called for to arrange for the funerals of the victims.

The work on the bridge will be delayed about three months.

Thousands visited the scene of the disaster during the day. It will take some time to clear away the wreckage and recover the missing bodies.

Prosperous Cuba.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Presiding at the annual meeting of the Western Railroad of Havana, J. W. Todd testified by personal observation to the highly satisfactory improvement in the affairs of Cuba, which he considered to be largely due to the enlightened views of the president and cabinet of that republic. He added, "It is wonderful that so soon after the establishment of a new form of government the people of Cuba should be so contented with the new order of things."

Plotted to Rob Emigrants.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The police claim they have ended the operations of a band formed to rob emigrants going to the United States by arresting John Knowley of New York, Lavarelli, a Swiss, and Fondario, a Frenchman. Their plan was to become acquainted with intending emigrants and by various methods obtain money from them. The complaint on which they were arrested was that of Jean Guidiui, who was on his way from Milan to New York.

President Denies Rumors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Roosevelt authorized the statement that there is no truth whatever in the rumors of differences of opinion between himself and Secretary Shaw or among members of the cabinet growing out of the report which has been made to him by Charles J. Bonaparte and Holmes Conrad of their investigations into charges affecting the postal service.

Fear Prisoner Will Be Lynched.

BASIN, Wyo., Oct. 20.—W. H. Smith, in custody here, has confessed to complicity in mobbing the jail at Basin when Gorman and Walters, two murderers, were shot by the mob and Deputy Sheriff Prince killed and Deputy Meade wounded. Smith gives the names of thirty-five other men in the mob. It is feared an attempt will be made to kill Smith.

Schooner Wrecked on Maine Coast.

ROCKLAND, Me., Oct. 20.—The unknown schooner reported as wrecked on the southwesterly side of Burnt island was the Post Boy, Captain D. S. Nickerson, with hard coal for Bangor from Port Johnson, N. Y. The crew escaped to shore over the main boom. The vessel broke up within an hour.

Canadian Members of Alaskan Tribunal Walked Out.

THEY OBJECT TO THE DECISION.

Messrs. Aylesworth and Jette Signified Emphatically Their Stand Against the Agreement by Refusing to Affix Signatures.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A draft of the decision reached by the Alaska boundary commissioners, as announced, was signed by a majority of the commissioners here, but Messrs. Aylesworth and Jette, the Canadian commissioners, refused to sign.

The decision grants all the American contentions with the exception of the one relating to the Portland canal. The signatories were Lord Chief Justice Alverstone and Senator Lodge, Senator Turner and Secretary Root, the American commissioners. They constituted a majority and insured finality. Messrs. Aylesworth and Jette carried their outspoken disapproval of the decision to the point of refusing to sign even that section of the decision giving the Portland canal to Canada, and they emphasized their attitude by walking out of the cabinet room in the foreign office before the signatures of the others had been affixed to the historic document, which has already been printed and is ready for the session to be held today. The only thing remaining to be done at this session is that the majority of the tribunal complete and sign the map which accompanies the decision and which minutely determines the course of the boundary in accordance with the American contentions contained in question No. 5.

An engrossed copy of the decision also will be signed today. The refusal of Messrs. Aylesworth and Jette to coincide in Lord Alverstone's view was only known to a few persons here, but at the foreign office and in high government circles it has created a painful impression. There is no hope expressed that the Canadian commissioners will reconsider their attitudes and sign the engrossed copy of the decision which will stand as the international record of the tribunal's finding.

John Morley In the Fighting Line.

LONDON, Oct. 20. — John Morley, M. P., the former Liberal chief secretary for Ireland, who has been in semi-retirement while writing his "Life of William Ewart Gladstone," returned to active political life and took his place in the fighting line against the protectionist policy of the present government. In the historic Free Trade hall at Manchester the biographer of Cobden and Gladstone, addressing an audience which filled the large edifice to its full capacity, aroused immense enthusiasm by an eloquent and spirited attack on the new policy, against which, he declared, he was arrayed with the whole weight of authority, both practical and theoretical. So crude, raw and unthought out were the proposals launched in this country that men of all parties, Liberals and Conservatives, were united in opposition to them.

Chase Court Martial Opens.

DENVER, Oct. 20.—The court martial called by Governor James H. Peabody to investigate charges against members of the national guard of Colorado met in the senate chamber at the capitol here. The entire morning was taken up with the consideration of the objections by counsel for General Chase to the competency of the court in general because of inferiority of its members in rank to General Chase and two members on the additional grounds of lack of military experience, friendship for the complaining witness, Adjutant General Sherman Bell, and personal animus against General Chase. Colonel Kenneth L. Fahnestock of Governor Peabody's staff is president of the court.

Carnegie Founds Another Library.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—The freedom of the city of Waterford has been bestowed on Andrew Carnegie. In his speech of thanks Mr. Carnegie declared he was proud to be associated on the roll of freemen with John Redmond and John Dillon, two patriots who were doing what they thought was best for their country. Mr. Carnegie also paid a tribute to the tens of thousands of Irish persons who had been in his employ, saying he always felt proud when they said they "liked the little boss." Mr. Carnegie laid the foundation stone of a library and was entertained at a public banquet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Bishop Vernier of Tahiti has arrived here on his way to Paris, where he will spend a vacation of six months before returning to his island home. Bishop Vernier is the French representative of the Calvinistic church in Tahiti and that part of the south seas. He has religious jurisdiction over 125 islands of the Society group. It is said that he is likely to be appointed French governor of the islands upon the first change in the political situation.

The attempt of the Somerset Democrats to drag the annexation question into politics is an unwise one. cency." Mr. MacMurray suggested that Mr. Buckle be brought to the convention to be heard. To this Mr. Tyler objected stating that he wanted him in the Council instead of the convention."

There were nineteen votes cast and this is the result of the ballot: William Starr Bullock, 18; J. S. Higham, 18; Clarence L. Murphy, 17; James F. Buckle, 4.

On Mr. Tyler's motion the three nominations were made unanimous.

The nominations for ward councilmen, made some time ago, are: First ward, William L. Gloak; Second ward, Theodore Wilson; Third ward, Leslie M. Daniel; Fourth ward, Robert L. Lee.

City Judge William N. Runyon was chairman of the convention and I. N. Hill secretary. Dr. W. Kempton Browning was chosen inspector, and H. S. Taylor and J. W. Murray, Jr., were selected as tellers. Before the convention adjourned Judge Runyon appointed H. S. Taylor, Robert L. Lee and W. S. Tyler a committee to fill vacancies.

Political Independence.

Editor, The Daily Press:

To the citizens of Plainfield, there is presented at the coming election, a chance to demonstrate their independence of political bosses, and an opportunity of throwing off the chains of Elizabeth slavery. This has developed from, what at the start was termed, "A factional fight between the Kean and Fowler forces."

When at the county primaries there were elected from our city fifteen Buckle and four Kirk delegates, many were, and more are daily surprised that Mr. Kirk, who has had the highest and most lucrative honors from our hands, should have allowed himself to be used by Mr. Kean's agents both here and in Elizabeth as a club, against his fellow-townsman, James F. Buckle, who for the past six years has served our city and its interests so well; not for the compensation that comes with county offices, but at a personal and business sacrifice he has, like other citizens accepted cheerfully his share of the public work that has made, and will maintain Plainfield in her present high position. And when the question came up, who should represent us the coming year in the Legislature, those cognizant of his work in the past urged the president of our Common Council as the ideal man.

Independent, fearless and honest though he is, there was one bar; he would not pledge himself, if elected this year, re-nominated and re-elected one year hence, to vote for John Kean for United States Senator.

This is the standard established by Elizabeth as necessary for admission to the State Legislature; not that a member should be capable, diligent, and honest, but that he should be a tool of Union County's boss. It comes home peculiarly pertinent at this time, as we have seen; the bill taking the collector out of politics and the sale of high school bonds stopped by reason of the laws amended at the last session, being declared unconstitutional, necessitating an extra session of the Legislature. And again important judicial amendments presented at a special election in such shape that no two of our leading lawyers could agree how they should be voted. The result, a costly farce that has brought fresh shame on our State already loaded with political and corporate scandals, but, can this be wondered at when the only aim of the average legislator is to please his master at home.

This state of affairs that confronts us at the present time is no new condition in Union County politics. Plainfield that is always relied upon to give the Republican majority necessary to insure the election, must take, not what she is entitled to, but what Elizabeth chooses to give. Repeatedly she has turned down our fair requests when headed by our most representative citizens; repeatedly she has forced candidates upon us against the expressed will of our people, and Plainfield, loyal and true, has elected what was put before her, fearing that National and State issues might be jeopardized by any indifference or independence at the polls; but at last we have a year in which outside of city offices there is only assemblymen to be voted for, and the election of Democrats to the Assembly would not only be a warning of the danger that might come, but would perhaps serve to leaven and sober our Republican Legislature, that has been so careless in the past.

every true Democrat to stand for office when called upon, without regard to the fact that the immediate outlook might be unpromising. He said that the Democrats need not depend upon any faction of the opposing party to help them to victory.

EXPLORERS MEET DISASTER.

Steamer El Dorado Sank With All Provisions and Supplies.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—After suffering terrible hardships in a 600 mile march through the wilds of northern Canada Captain Ferry and forty-seven members of the crew of the steamer El Dorado of Liverpool passed through this city en route for Montreal.

The El Dorado struck an uncharted rock at the entrance of Hudson bay near Fort George and sank. Every member of the crew succeeded in getting ashore, but were completely destitute of provisions and saved only the clothing that was upon their backs.

The ship and crew comprised an exploration and trading expedition sent out by a stock company. They carried a large stock of goods suitable for barter with the Indians in exchange for furs, and it was proposed to operate along the lines of the Hudson Bay company. Nothing was saved from the wreck, and the men began their long march southward almost destitute of provisions and supplies of any kind that could be exchanged for food. They marched through the wilderness for forty-two days, covering nearly 600 miles. Their suffering was intense, but not a single man succumbed. They struck the Temiscaming railroad two days ago and were taken on board by a passing train and carried to the junction with the Canadian Pacific road, where they were, transferred to a Montreal train.

In Montreal Captain Ferry expects to meet some of the shareholders of the company which backed the expedition. The captain was outspoken in his condemnation of the sailing charts furnished for the northern waters.

OFFICIALS ACCUSED.

Porto Rico Grand Jury Indicts Three Americans.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico., Oct. 20.—The federal grand jury has found an indictment against Collector of Customs Alonzo Cruzen for having received unlawful emoluments of smuggled goods, and it has indicted Captain Andrew Dunlap, U. S. N., commandant of the naval station here, and Robert Giles, a former contractor in Porto Rico, for smuggling.

Great efforts were made before the grand jury to indict Mr. Cruzen on other charges, but they failed. District Attorney Pettingill immediately nolled the indictment against Mr. Cruzen with the following indorsement:

"The United States attorney, not having been advised of the finding of this indictment and being fully convinced that the testimony produced before the grand jury upon which this indictment was based was false, corruptly fabricated and instigated for purposes of spite and revenge, considers that justice requires a prompt dismissal of the indictment, with a record and a statement of the methods employed to mislead the grand jury. The district attorney fully believing in the innocence of the defendant, a nolle prosequi is therefore entered."

A Prominent Virginian Lost.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Dr. J. S. Wentz, father of E. L. Wentz, general manager of the Virginia Coal and Iron company, who has mysteriously disappeared, accompanied by his wife and youngest son, has gone to Virginia to aid in the search for the missing man. A statement issued by Dr. Wentz's attorney announces that E. L. Wentz was last seen in Kelleyview, four miles from Appalachia, on a public road leading to Wise, the county seat of Wise county, Va. He left his home at Big Store Gap to visit one of his men, and although a small army of men, assisted by dogs, are scouring the woods and mountains no trace has been found of the missing man.

BIT OF CHICAGO HISTORY.

Although Only Seventy Years Old, as an Incorporated Town, It Is a Century Old.

Most Americans will have been surprised at the announcement of a Chicago centennial celebration to be held in September of the present year, says the Review of Reviews. Chicago was still a very minute village when, in 1833, it became incorporated, and the Pottawattomie Indians of the vicinity sold out their lands to the government, but Fort Dearborn dates from the year 1804, and it seems that John Kinzie, the original pioneer, had settled on the site of Chicago in the previous year, with several associates, as Indian traders. Thus, the permanent settlement of Chicago dates properly from the year 1803, and a centennial observance in the present year is appropriate. The celebration is to be merely a local affair, with pageants and tournaments, rowing regattas, yacht races, sham battles, and the like. What will be most instructive, however, to the school children of Chicago will be the reproduction on the lake front of old Fort Dearborn, with an Indian village inhabited by several hundred Ojibways, Pottawattomies and Menominees, all of whom it is proposed to bring to Chicago from Canada for the occasion. The Chicago committee would do well to take some hints also from the recent celebrations in New York.

MAN IS NO GOOD.

Club Woman Classes Him Below Cat, Dog or Monkey as a Domestic Pet.

A leading club woman of the east, who has had considerable experience with men—for, not satisfied with one trial, she has had three husbands—has a very poor opinion of the sterner sex. "I weigh man's moral carat on the scale of his personal habits," she says. "A man, when he is perfectly nice and clean, tastefully dressed and not noisy, is bad enough, but a man who wears his hair in his eyes and over his collar, manicures outside his own room, leans around, sits with his feet higher than his head and all that is unbearable. If I married one of the beasts inadvertently, I'd break him to decency or I'd kill him with indigestion. What's the good of a husband, anyway? He has never been more or less than a pet or provider. By his own admission, female competition has destroyed his usefulness as a provider. That is all right; it simply makes him twice a pet. Now, having reduced him to his lowest terms, since it was only a question of a pet, why not be satisfied with a bird, a cat, a dog, a monkey, a parrot—anything? Such pets do not smoke, get drunk, nor bring mud into the house. They never talk back. They come when they are called, and they do not try to run things."

TAUGHT AMERICAN MANNERS.

Male Immigrants Receive a Forcible Lesson as Soon as They Reach Our Gates.

The first lesson in American manners learned by the male immigrants is usually imparted at the gates of Ellis island. Having passed inspection, proved his fitness to become an American citizen and received his discharge from guardianship, he marshals his family and starts for the boat landing, says the New York Post. He leads the group himself, conducting the youngest walking member of the family, and carrying a bag or small parcel in his hand. Behind him trot the children, all laden, then the wife, bending beneath a huge bundle of household goods or even a heavy trunk. Last of all staggers the grandmother, literally bent double under the load she carries.

Suddenly the head of the family is rudely accosted in an unknown tongue by one of the officials of the island. There is nothing unintelligible in the manner in which the said officer relieves the mother and grandmother of their burdens and the immigrant, to his amazement, finds himself finishing his journey to the boat carrying the heaviest of the load on his own unaccustomed shoulders, while the oldest boys shoulder the rest. This is an everyday occurrence at Ellis island.

Radium and Musk.

Radium was the subject matter under discussion, and a lawyer said, according to the Philadelphia Record: "I don't see anything so very wonderful in radium. Admit that it does throw off light and heat in a kind of perpetual motion, without any loss of weight or energy—well, won't a grain of musk do the same thing? One single grain of musk (this has been demonstrated) will scent for several years a room 12 feet square, and in the end the grain will still remain entire. Consider what this means. A room 12 feet square contains 2,985,984 cubic inches, and each one-tenth cubic inch at least must have its little molecule of musk, or otherwise all the air would not be perfumed. One grain of musk, that is to say, will radiate millions and millions of musk fragments for years, and still will remain whole. Can radium beat that?"

Monkeys in South America.

Monkeys are very numerous along the northwest coast of South America, but are not found west of the Andes from northern Peru to the south end of the continent. Their home in South America is chiefly in the forests of Venezuela throughout the great Amazon basin and along the fluvial systems of the upper half of the Paraguay and the Parana rivers.

Production of Kerosene.

Last year 60,000,000 barrels of kerosene were produced in the United States, and it is reckoned that the proceeds from the sale of this and the various by-products obtained from crude petroleum aggregated nearly $500,000,000.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

HATS FOR FALL WEAR.

Dame Fashion Demands Large Head Gear This Autumn.

Milliners certainly cannot be accused of parsimony in the new head wear, for it is simply enormous in size and, incidentally, in price. Some of the hats actually measure more than two feet in diameter, which means six feet around. The puzzle is how the wearers keep them on their heads in stormy weather. A few of the new felts have no semblance of a crown and must be held on the head by means of hatpins. A narrow band is sometimes sewed around the inside of the brim to give a little hold.

Among the new fall hats apparently the best liked so far are the beaver felt, with the soft and silky fuzz over the surface. These are left flat and garnished, as suits the wearer's face, or are bent into all sorts of curves and dents, along which are laid flatly plumes of the despoiled ostrich or the fricasseed rooster, so that they hang gracefully to one side or the other. Small birds of marvelous plumage are set coquettishly on the sides of other hats—birds such as never flew and never will, for they are made up from dyed and sometimes gilded and burnished feathers. The wings are blue or red or green or yellow and put on the body in absolute defiance of all ornithological laws. But they are pretty, and, though we may recognize some of the wings or other parts of the bird as belonging to some well known domestic fowl, they are becoming and do not conflict with the dictates of the Audubon society.

Wings of rich coloring are set so as to hang stiffly downward, intermingled with bows of ribbon or velvet. Buckles of really fine and artistic work are employed to trim many of the beaver felts. They come in black, white, cream, gray and castor, besides many other colors, but the best and most elegant of the hats are in the colors mentioned. Some dark brown ones are handsome and will be worn to match suits of wool and velutina. When velutina is used for the suit a bias piece is generally put on the hat where it will look best.

Plaid zibeline finished wools are frequently employed to face some of the plain felts, and they make striking hats for ordinary wear. There is little trimming on the crown of such hats, as they turn back very sharply from the face. These are especially pretty for young ladies. Many hats turn upward from the face, and many have brims bent into so many convolutions that one can scarcely describe them adequately. The majority of these have the brim faced about halfway up with velvet or with some of the dress material. One that I saw recently has a velvet foundation faced with rich white lace, and on the left is a handsome rosette bow of black satin ribbon with a strass button in the middle of the bow. In the back is a beautiful white ostrich plume hanging down to the neck.

Plateau hats seem to be made of anything that comes handiest, and they have but little trimming on the top, but at the left side under the brim is a bunch of the most beautiful roses. Another immense plateau hat is of shirred black silk muslin, the edge of the brim on the under side being bound with a bias band of black velvet, which in turn is overlaid with some nice lace, and a shirring of pale blue malines. On the top is a full draping of the malines, through which the stems of two short but fine ostrich plumes are passed so that they curl under the edge at the back.

Some of the more dressy hats are simply covered with roses—pink, white, dark red, almost black, in fact, and from them through the gamut of flowers from violets to skunk cabbage and orchids. Violets are very often seen and are exquisitely fine and beautiful. It seems that no flower is entirely neglected, but there is no doubt that roses are the favorites. Many soft and silky hats have no trimming but foliage, green leaves spread all over crown and brim alike.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

AUSTRIAN TRAMP'S SCHEME.

Overfed by Sympathetic Farmers He Resorts to Trickery to Obtain Transportation.

Bohemia possesses a specimen of the genus tramp which it is doubtful if even America, its native habitat, can duplicate. He is a young man quite well known in the neighborhood of Kolin, and who had a record for pedestrianism that gained him much admiration and a fairly full stomach most of the time, reports the New York Journal.

Through being overfed by sympathetic farmers and village people the man recently became too fat and indolent to put one foot before the other. Patience having ceased to become a virtue with the people of Kolin, the youth found it necessary to move on.

Being too tired to walk, he conceived the audacious idea of getting a free railroad ride—audacious because it is only in America that railway employes wink at the schemes of tramps.

Having decided to go to Vienna the young man calmly went to the police station in Kolin and gave himself up as the murderer of a young woman in the Austrian capital. He was promptly seized and transported in comfort to his destination, where it was soon discovered that no such murder had occurred.

A short term in prison for the technical offense of contempt of court was all that the tramp had to pay for his ride. He showed his appreciation by smiling broadly when sentenced.

WORSE THAN THE PAIN.

Thought of Having Her Beauty Marred Caused Woman of Spartan Endurance to Faint.

A well-known society woman, living in Central Park West, has always prided herself on her Spartan indifference to pain. Never does she murmur when headache or rheumatism or a bruise of any sort happens to be her portion. But she had a new experience a day or two ago, and now admits the truth of the saying that a woman's tenderest point is her vanity, relates the New York Mail and Express.

She had been visiting at a friend's house in Rye, and while watching two young men of the family practicing with a baseball, was struck squarely in the eye by a ball, which was missed by the man to whom it was thrown. "It hurt me awfully for a few moments," said she in telling the story, "but I bore it without flinching. Everyone rushed around with cold water and various medicaments, and then suddenly some one said: 'I do hope, Mrs. Blank, that your nose isn't injured.'

"I gave one scream," said the lady, "and then fainted. The thought of my personal appearance suffering was too much. I didn't mind the pain, although it was intense, but the mere suggestion that my nose might be made permanently crooked was too much. And I believe any other woman would have felt the same way about it."

JAPANESE ARE WILY.

Said to Be Adepts at Perpetrating Frauds on Insurance Companies.

We have been spouting these ten years about the cleverness of the Japanese. Our smart Alecks went into hysterics over them, says the New York Press. Our merchants have gone to extremes in soliciting Japanese trade, and our great insurance companies have sent agents broadcast over the islands of the land of the rising sun to write policies. In no other country on the globe is the work of the insurance solicitor so easy. In one month $10,000,000 of life insurance has been placed by one New York company. Every measly little dwarf of a Jap wants to insure. An agent has just discovered that in medical examinations he has been badly duped, one healthy Jap standing the test for many hundreds of his fellow countrymen. As all Japs look alike, the doctors did not detect the fraud until about $5,000,000 in policies had been written. Local insurance men are exercised about it.

Black Stone of Mecca.

Set into a corner of the Kaaba (the temple or shrine) of Mecca is what is known as the "black stone." It is an irregular, oval bowlder, about seven inches in diameter, three inches broad, and deep reddish brown in color. It is encircled by a silver band studded with silver nails. It has been split by heat, carried away by Karmathians and broken by a blow, but the band and nails hold it together. Some have declared it a fragment of lava, others a piece of volcanic basalt. Millions of kisses have worn its rough surface somewhat smooth. The Mohammedans believe it was a hyacinth brought from heaven by Gabriel to Abraham, and that contact with the human race has changed its properties.

Contempt for the Lion.

Men who have shot nearly all of the dark continent's animals have, as a rule, nothing but contempt for the so-called "king of beasts," the lion. To the hunter he is a cowardly, skulking brute, far more dangerous to the horses and oxen at night than to the human part of the expedition, always ready to slink off and escape a fight if given a chance. There is nothing kingly about him, and a single man can usually put half a dozen lions to flight.

Watch Repairers Work Overtime.

All the watch repairers in New York work overtime hot days. They account for this peculiar business phenomenon by saying that when men discard their vests they do not properly secure their watches in the trousers fob. The result is an epidemic of dropped timepieces.

DOWIE VISITS LOW.

Hosts of the Restorer's Army Invade the Tenderloin.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—There was considerable commotion in the city hall when John Alexander Dowie, the "restorer," called to pay his respects to Mayor Low. The "prophet" had previously made an appointment with the mayor, and when he called he was accompanied by his wife and his son, A. J. Gladstone Dowie, and Deacon William P. Kindle, his chief representative in this city.

The mayor greeted them all cordially The "prophet" then told the mayor of his mission to this city.

Mayor Low in reply said:

"It is a great pleasure to me to have yourself, wife, son and friends call here and express your interest in this city and its mayor as you have done."

This ended the reception, and in leaving the "prophet" in shaking hands with Mayor Low said:

"I leave with you the salute of Zion, 'Peace be unto thee, brother.'"

The mayor smilingly replied:

"Thank you, sir."

The Zion restoration host sent a detachment into the Tenderloin in the afternoon. These venturesome spirits were not led by the "prophet." Deacon Ogden was at their head, and, seventy strong, they sallied bravely forth to do battle with wickedness in what they believed to be its very stronghold.

"Peace be to thee" was the slogan. A wiggling of the right hand accompanied each salutation, and the same hand was extended to distribute tracts. Each of the seventy was equipped with one of the official Zion guides to New York, in which the territory was indicated by map and text.

They entered the gilded cafes, the business houses, theaters, residences and all the variety of places that make up Captain Burfeind's precinct. Their "Peace be to thee" was heard where even Salvation Army lads and lassies never trod.

Their descent upon the Tenderloin was the occasion of considerable interest among the jaded pedestrians along the Rialto. There was a noticeable contrast between the treatment accorded the followers of "Elijah III." and the Salvation Army lassies who sell War Crys. The latter, although they make their way fearlessly into noisy cafes and barrooms, are always treated with cordial respect and rarely leave a place without having received liberal contributions.

The Dowieites seemed to afford only amusement. They were made the butt of facetious jests by bartenders, cafe loungers, pedestrians and men in every walk of life. No one offered to interfere with them, and their trip was not without danger, but it was full of incident of a kind calculated to dampen enthusiasm not tried in the fire.

PEKING IS PERPLEXED.

Czar Says Russian Interests Must Be Maintained by Force.

PEKING, Oct. 20.—Like other cities in the far east, Peking is perplexed by the reports from various points of events portending a Russo-Japanese war. The opinion prevails here that Russia proposes to hold all she has gained in Manchuria and refrain for the present from further advances into Korea. It is also believed that Russia is convinced that no nation except Japan thinks of contesting her position, and, having assembled a fleet and army which she considers strong enough to repel any Japanese attack, she is awaiting developments in Japan's policy.

A majority of the Russian ships have left Port Arthur since the maneuvers for an unknown destination, but it is supposed that some of them are cruising on the shores of Korea, watching Masanpho and other ports.

The Japanese ships whose presence at Masanpho caused the report that Japan had occupied that port have sailed, probably in the direction of Saseho, Japan.

A report from St. Petersburg is current in military and diplomatic circles here to the effect that the czar recently telegraphed Admiral Alexieff, Russian viceroy in the far east, regarding Russo-Japanese relations and saying that Russian interests must be maintained by force of arms if necessary. The viceroy is said to have replied to this message by demanding 50,000 additional troops.

Hugh McLaughlin's Victory.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Hugh McLaughlin's victory over Senator McCarren in the struggle for supremacy fought out at the meeting of the Kings county Democratic committee overshadows all other features of the political campaign. The veteran Brooklyn leader carried his point against indorsing the nominations of Grout and Fornes by the close vote of 148 to 141, by which a resolution was adopted calling the appointment of a committee to undertake the forlorn hope of harmonizing the warring factions.

Injunction on Asphalt Trust.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Vice Chancellor Stevenson in chancery chambers in Jersey City has announced that he would sign a decree restraining the Asphalt Company of America from the exercise of its franchise in New Jersey and from collecting and paying money, etc. The company has been pronounced insolvent by the United States courts, and receivers have been appointed.

Stopped Work From Sympathy.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—Without any prearranged plan, but moved by a common impulse of sympathy and humanity 1,200 bridge and structural iron workers in Pittsburg and its vicinity left their work when they heard of the accident that had befallen their craft at the Wabash railroad bridge and at a meeting decided to remain off until Thursday.

PLAINFIELD BRIDE; NEWARK GROOM

Miss Clara Florence Moore Becomes Wife of Dr. Edgar Holden, Jr.

AT THE BRIDE'S HOME

DR. RICHARDS, FORMERLY OF CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH, OFFICIATES.

House Handsomely Decorated — Groom Well-Known in Medical Profession in New Jersey—The Guests From Four States.

A charming home wedding of last evening was that of Miss Clara Florence Moore, daughter of Mrs. Emma E. Moore and of the late David M. Moore, Esq., to Dr. Edgar Holden, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Holden, of Newark, N. J.

It was celebrated at "Stonerock," the beautiful home of the bride's mother on Central avenue. Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, pastor of the Brick Church, of New York City, performed the ceremony, and it was witnessed by many of the residents of this city and by a large number of guests from New York, Newark, Boston, Philadelphia and Trenton.

The house was magnificently decorated for the occasion; each room with a different flower. The white music room where the ceremony took place was decorated with white roses, and the arches and pillars under which the bridal party stood were wreathed in smilax and white roses. The parlor was decorated with American beauty roses; the library in yellow chrysanthemums, and the spacious dining room, where the supper was served, in pink roses. The great Colonial hall, in white and mahogany, was trimmed with green, with autumn leaves and brilliant autumn flowers. The huge fireplace in the rear of the hall was banked with a profusion of palms and potted plants. Behind the screen of green was stationed the orchestra which rendered an elaborate musical programme before the ceremony.

The bride was given away by her brother, Walter Jefferson Moore, Esq., and was attended by her sister, Miss Lillie E. Moore, as maid-of-honor. The bride's gown was a robe of duchesse lace and pearls over messaline, with a veil of tulle held by diamond pins, a bridal gift, and by a diamond crescent, the bridegroom's gift. She carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley. The maid-of-honor wore a gown of white satin crepe de chine trimmed with Irish lace and carried Carnot roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth W. Holden and Miss Anna L. Holden, of Newark, N. J., and Miss Grace L. Day, of White Plains. The bridesmaids wore gowns of white silk mulle trimmed with lace and carried bouquets of American beauty roses.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. Edgar Holden, the head of the medical department of the Mutual Benefit Insurance Company, of Newark, and like his father is a well-known physician and one of the most prominent members of the medical profession in New Jersey. He is a Princeton man, a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, of New York City, and the surgeon of the Essex Troop. His best man was his brother, John Holden, and his ushers were James B. Barnett, Jr., of Newark, N. J.; Edward M. Hunt, of Trenton, N. J.; Dr. Homer T. Joy, of New York City; Horace E. Moore, of Plainfield; Henry M. Post, of Brooklyn and Dr. John K. Train, of Savanah, Georgia.

After the reception there was a dance during which the couple left on a wedding trip. Upon their return, Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Holden, Jr., will reside at No. 70 Broad street, Newark, and the doctor will continue the practice of his profession at his present office at No. 13 Central avenue, Newark.

She will accompany her husband on his trip through Canada.

REV. G. M. SHOTT ADDRESSES BAPTISTS

Plainfielders at Fifty-Third Annual Session of East N. J. Baptist S. S. Association.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

C. R. VINCENT, VICE PRESIDENT, AND REV. FRANK FLETCHER, TREASURER.

M. C. Dobbins Member of Nominating Committee—G. H. Batchelor on a Standing Commitee—Mr. Robbie Makes An Address.

The fifty-third annual meeting of the East New Jersey Baptist Sunday-school Association held in the First Baptist Church, Newark, yesterday, was considered the best in recent years. There were nearly two hundred delegates present, those from Plainfield being Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, Mrs. Charles Conover, Mrs. Charles Steiner and Miss May E. Howlett.

An unusual feature of the convention was the presence of and a talk by Rev. Solomon Foster, assistant rabbi of the Temple B'nai Jeshurum, of Newark. His address was one of the principal ones of the day. There was also an address by Rev. G. M. Shott, of Scotch Plains.

These officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Wm. Moore, of Elizabeth; vice president, Charles R. Vincent, of Scotch Plains; secretary and treasurer, Rev. Frank Fletcher, of New Market. M. C. Dobbins, of this city, was chosen a member of the nominating committee and in the selection of standing committees, G. H. Batchelor, superintendent of the First Baptist Church, was appointed on one of the most important committees.

PRAISE FOR MR. MOFFETT

ASSEMBLYMAN S. S. SWACKHAMER ADDRESSES ELIZABETH DEMOCRATS.

C. L. Moffett Attends Meeting at County Seat—Swackhamer's Speech.

A ratification meeting under the auspices of the Elizabeth Democratic Club was held last evening at Elizabeth at which a number of Plainfielders, including Charles L. Moffett, candidate for Assembly, was present. President Robert H. McAdams presided at the meeting and made a short speech introducing Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of Somerset.

Mr. Swackhamer spoke in high terms of Mr. Moffett. He declared that he is thoroughly competent, with an unblemished reputation and high moral character and a man who had been before the people in a public and business capacity before and is favorable known throughout Union County. If he is elected, Mr. Swackhamer declared, he would be true to his obligations as a private servant and would seek to promote the best interests of the county. The candidates on the ticket, he declared, were selected on account of their personal fitness and worth.

"I believe that the man who would yield much influence in the county," said the speaker, "is the man who is broad minded enough to acknowledge merit in the opposition party. It is righ to show a spirit of fairness even in political contests. We must acknowledge that the rank and file of the Republican party is composed of sincere and patriotic men. An appeal should be made to this element for the general good of the community at large."

Mothers to Congregate.

The third annual meeting of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers is to be held in the Haddonfield Opera House at Haddonfield, N. J., Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24. Much interest centers in the Congress among the people in this city because of the fact that Mrs. Horace G. Phillips, of Park avenue, is recording secretary and Charles J. Baxter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who resides in this city, is on the advisory board. Mrs. Emma Bourne, president of the State W. C. T. U., will make an address. It is probable that many members of the W. C. T. U. will attend the meetings from this city.

Permit Granted.

Boice, Runyon & Company have received a permit from Building Inspector T. O. Doane for the erection of an addition to their store and stable on Park avenue.

TRINITY'S MISSION BAND ENTERTAINMENT

Mrs. Minnie Marshall Smith Delights Large Audience at the Y. M. C. A.

MISS FROST, VIOLINIST

HANDSOME PROFIT MADE BY YOUNG WOMEN'S MISSION BAND.

Elmer E. Cutting, Harry Drake, M. C. VanArsdale and Fred Cutter Please the Audience With Selections—Those in Charge.

Mrs. Minnie Marshall Smith, the noted reciter, entertained over two hundred people at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening in a number of dramatic readings and recitations, all of which were of unusual excellence. Mrs. Smith was supported by exceptionally fine musical talent, which assisted greatly in making the evening a most enjoyable one. The recital was given under the auspices of the Young Women's Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed Church, for the benefit of the treasury of that flourishing organization. The band realized a handsome profit from the proceeds of the entertainment.

The programme opened with a selection by a male quartette of which Elmer E. Cutting, Harry B. Drake, M. C. VanArsdale and Fred S. Cutter are members.

Just before the quartette rendered the second part of number five, a large bouquet was appropriately handed to Harry B. Drake, of the quartette. The presentation was followed by prolonged applause.

Bjornstjerne Bjornson's "Bergliot," with musical accompaniment by Edward Grieg, was delightfully rendered by Mrs. Smith. Her attitude and expression, both facial and vocal, were so correct that the true lines of the story could be carried by the audience as though they were reading it. "A Midnight Courtship," a humorous sketch, and the "Marriage of the Flowers" were the selections which won much favor. Both were sketches in which the remarkable ability of the artist was displayed to advantage. A Canadian selection closed the programme. Like the first rendition it gave the reciter an excellent opportunity of portraying her ability as a reciter.

Assisting Mrs. Smith was Miss Zella Frost, violinist, who rendered several selections during the evening, accompanied by Miss Lillian A. Force. She proved herself a thorough master of the violin. She played a selection from "IL Travatore" with great skill.

The people were seated by an efficient corps of ushers, who were H. S. Potter, Theodore Mantz, H. W. Marshall, Harry VanEmburgh, H. B. McDonald, William C. Startup and David J. Krymer, assisted by H. F. Crawford in the box office.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss Lillian A. Force, chairman; Mrs. H. S. Potter, Mrs. H. E. VanEmburgh, and Mrs. David J. Krymer, assisted by the decorating committee composed of Mrs Leonard Smith, Mrs. William Olmsted and Miss May VanFleet.

DR. PROBASCO'S GUESTS.

Plainfield Clinical Society Entertained at Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse.

The Plainfield Clinic Society was entertained last night at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, by Dr. J. B Probasco, when Dr. R. H. Halsey, of New York, gave a paper of exceptional interest on the "Treatment of Some Common Stomach Leisons." After the presentation of the paper there was an informal discussion of the subject, which proved to be helpful. There was a full attendance of the Clinic and all appreciated the genuine hospitality of Dr. Probasco.

Look Out for Swindlers.

Co. K, of this city, has received word through its captain, W. B. Martin, that some person has been collecting funds throughout the county for an armory. This work has not been authorized and any persons found making such an appeal can be regarded as impostors.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dumont are home from their wedding trip and have taken up their residence on Stelle avenue.

David Carr, of Newark, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Henry Leifke, of West Front street, during the past two weeks, will return home this week.

NOT A CANDIDATE, SAYS MR. BUCKLE

President of Common Council Nails False Reports in His Characteristic Way.

PLACES RESPONSIBILITY

DECLARES HIS POLITICAL ENEMIES IN PARTY ORIGINATED STORIES.

Declares That Mr. MacMurray Voiced His Sentiments in City Convention — Mr. Buckle Desired Mr. Bullock's Nomination.

This self-explanatory statement was made this afternoon by President of Common Council James F. Buckle, who has faithfully and gratituously served the city for seven years:

"Editor, The Daily Press:

"My attention having been called to the fact that a great deal of comment is being caused, not only in the City of Plainfield but throughout Union County, regarding my candidacy for re-election to the Common Council, I wish to state emphatically that I was, not only not a candidate, but that I personally used my utmost endeavors to induce Mr. William Starr Bullock to stand for the nomination.

"My friends have understood thoroughly from the beginning my attitude in this matter, and their apparent unwillingness to nominate me was a matter concerning which there was not the slightest misunderstanding. I myself hold told Mr. MacMurray on the night of the convention that, under no circumstances would I be a candidate; and his statement made before the convention voiced my sentiments exactly.

"I understand a rumor is being widely circulated that my recent candidacy for the Assembly was only undertaken by my friends for the purpose of eventually shelving me for a re-nomination to the Common Council: Not only do I myself emphatically disbelieve this, but I do believe that any such story as this emanates from those who proved before the County convention to be everything but friends of mine, for the sole purpose of misguiding voters of Union County in the coming election.

"James F. Buckle."

The Production of "Last Days of Pompeii," Postponed Until November 2.

Officers were elected last night by the newly formed Dramatic Club. William Jeffery was chosen president; F. M. Slater, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. A. E. Willard, secretary; A. E. Willard, business manager and coach; Miss C. J. Meare, vocal director; C. D. Mead, of New York, musical director. There was a general discussion by the members of plays and plans for next winter.

The performance of "The Last Days of Pompeii" to be given by the club under the auspices of the local lodge of Odd Ladies has been postponed to November 2 in order to allow of a more elaborate production and a more thorough drill in the difficult dances connected with the performance.

NO MEAT DELIVERY.

Armour and Swift Companies Agree to Discontinue Service After Monday.

After next Monday, the Armour and Swift Companies will cease delivering goods to dealers in meats and provisions throughout the country. This report was confirmed in this city this morning by Herbert S. Taylor, Swift's representative, and Manager R. I. Tolles, representative of Armour. The issuing of the order was caused by numerous strikes of employes of the companies ordered by their unions.

Miss Florence F. Squiers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Squiers, and Robert Gilchrist, also of this city, were married at the home of the bride's parents, 924 Prospect avenue, last night. Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. Church, officiated. There were no attendants. At a late hour Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist left for a wedding tour.

William Tier, of Rahway, was a visitor in this city yesterday.

North Plainfield Laddies Plot to Capture Prize for Drilling in Somerville.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE

MAYOR SMALLEY AND COUNCIL TO ACCOMPANY BOROUGH FIREMEN.

Chief Marshal to Take Fire Engine to Somerset's County Seat To-Night—Somerville Gaily Decorated—Line of Formation.

North Plainfield is to be represented at Somerville tomorrow afternoon by the members of Warren Engine Company in a way in which the borough has never been represented before. The Warren Engine Company is out for a prize and for the past nine weeks Captain William C. Smith has been acting as drill master.

Chief Marshal William Campbell leaves this evening with the fire engine of Warren Engine Company and will drive to Somerville. In the parade at Somerville the engine will be drawn by two heavy dapple gray horses. It is expected that there will be no less than seventy-five men in line representing Warren Engine Company.

The North Plainfielders will be the guests of the Central Hook and Ladder Company. In line Warren's members will be headed by the Liberty Fife and Drum Corps, of Elizabeth, with fifteen men. Mayor Smalley and nearly all the members of the North Plainfield Common Council will attend the festivities at Somerville.

Somerville is being decorated very elaborately. Flags are waving across the streets and the buildings have been dressed in gay colored bunting. It is estimated that there will be at least 1,000 men in line. The line of formation will be as follows:

Chief and assistants, former chiefs and visiting chiefs, invited guests in carriages, veteran firemen, Good Will Band, New Brunswick, Bound Brook department, Crescent Military Band, Raritan, Raritan department, Citizens' Band, Dover, Vigilant Engine Co., Dover, Somerset Cornet Band, Lincoln Chemical Engine Co., Liberty Drum Corps, Elizabeth, Warren Engine Co., North Plainfield, Independent Fife and Drum Corps, Central Hook and Ladder Co., Voss' Band, Newark, Independent Hose Co., Morristown, Flemington Band, Somerville Engine Co., Aeolian Band, Union Hose Co., Cranford, Liberty Band, New Brunswick, West End Hose Co.

HAYES SENTENCED.

North Plainfielder, Who Broke Jail, Sentenced to Two Months Imprisonment.

In the Somerset County Courts at Somerville yesterday Harry F. Hayes, of North Plainfield, who was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of jail breaking, retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult. Judge Schenck sentenced him to two months in the county jail. It is understood that Hayes gave State's evidence, which is the reason his sentence is so light. Charles C. Kemp, indicted for forgery and embezzlement, retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult. He was given six months, less one day in the county jail.

DIDN'T LET HIM KNOW.

Friends of J. H. Freeman Celebrated His Birthday Unexpectedly.

A pleasant surprise party was given to J. Herbert Freeman, of Park avenue, Monday night, in honor of his birthday anniversary. The affair was attended by about forty friends and relatives from this city, Westfield and Oak Tree. It was arranged by Mrs. Freeman and proved a complete surprise. Mr. Freeman received a number of handsome presents. The evening was spent in games, music and dancing, after which supper was served. The party broke up at midnight, when all extended their wishes to Mr. Freeman for many happy returns of the day.

Small Blaze.

Two alarms, from boxes 47 and 83, were pulled in last night for an unimportant blaze in a building located near the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant on South Second street. The building was owned by Mrs. Burke and used as a variety store and dwelling. The blaze was caused by children upsetting a lamp and igniting a curtain. It was extinguished without any considerable damage resulting.

HOPE Y. M. A. PLANS MINSTREL SHOW

Another Amateur Production Arranged for Performance This Winter.

GLEE CLUB ORGANIZED

THOMAS M. MUIR'S RESIGNATION AS TREASURER ACCEPTED.

Entertainment Follows Business Session—Rev. L. R. Howard Gives a Short Talk—William Jeffrey Sang Some Solos.

There will be another Hope minstrel show next winter to delight the hearts of young and old. This was voted by the members of the Hope Y. M. A. last night at their business and social meeting, which was called to order by Judge William N. Runyon. Rehearsals for the show will begin early in November.

The association has also decided to form a glee club on the advice of Robert Snyder, a New York musician of prominence. Mr. Snyder will coach the club which will meet for the first time next Monday.

The resignation from the office of treasurer of the association of T. M. Muir was accepted. The girls in the sewing class requested the use of the gymnasium for Wednesday afternoons and their request was granted. The meeting was then adjourned to Tuesday, November 10.

After the business of the meeting was concluded, the enjoyment of a smoker and collation was considered. Features of the entertainment were songs by Charles Haggerty; buck and wing dancing by Bowers and Lusardi; songs by William Jeffery; phonograph selection by Harry Lister; and a bear dance, the laughing hit of the evening, by Alfred Berry Marsh. Judge Runyon also played and sang, and Rev. L. R. Howard gave a short talk.

MR. DENMAN'S STATEMENNT

EXPLANATION AS TO REASONS FOR CANCELLATION OF TODAY'S GAME.

Declares That He Has Been Acting Fairly With Opposing Managers During the Season.

In refutation of certain statements regarding his alleged "hedging" methods, Manager Charles Denman, of the Westfield baseball team, disclaims that he has acted in any but a fair way with the management of the St. Mary team. As to the third of the series of games arranged between Westfield and the Saints, he says that last Saturday night he did say he would play that game today on Crescent Oval, but it was with the understanding that his captain, George Mallen, would play.

Denman subsequently learned that Mallen, who is a travelling salesman for a New York house, would be in Lancaster, Pa., this week and that it would be a matter of much inconvenience to him to return for the game. In addition to this Mr. Denman says that the concern in which he is employed holds a Board of Directors' meeting today and he has to be present.

Mr. Denman says that he makes no claim to the county championship; neither has he been striving for it. He declares that he could not claim the championship unless he had met and defeated in a majority of games all the teams in the county that wanted to play him. He claims that as matters now stands the series of games between the Saints and his team stand two apiece, the same as in the Alis-Saints' games, and if the Saints should win the next game it would mean little or nothing.

As for the Alis Club, he says that he promised Manager MacLaughlin that he would play no other Plainfield team but Alis while the latter's team was playing ball, that the arrangement of the games between Westfield and Alis was with the full consent of Manager MacLaughlin. Furthermore, Mr. Denman states that the Alis, Saints and Scotch Plains' teams have each received as much money out of the games played as he has.

Eleventh Regiment Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Eleventh Regiment, N. J. Vol. Vet. Association, will be held at Rockaway, N. J., near Dover, on Tuesday, October 27, 1903. JURY DISAGREES IN STEVENS' CASE

Another Trial to be Held in Suit Against North Jersey Trolley Company.

ACTION FOR DAMAGES

BRIBERY ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN RESORTED TO IN CASE.

Said That Jurymen Stood Eleven to One in Favor of Verdict for Defendant Company—Long Drawn Out Trial.

In the case of John H. Stevens, of this city, against the North Jersey Street Railway Company, which has been before the Supreme Court since Thursday last, closing yesterday morning, the jury disagreed. It is understood that one juryman stood out against the eleven who wished to return a verdict in favor of the defendant. A juror who voted in favor of the trolley company said that he did so because he thought that Mr. Stevens was guilty of contributory negligence. None of the jury doubted that Stevens' broken shoulder was caused by collison with the trolley car, but most of them thought it was his own fault. The case will be tried over again and Mr. Stevens' counsel will move for a special struck jury.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Vail occupied twenty minutes. The charge was impartial, as appears since counsel for neither side attempted to interrupt or take any exceptions.

The judge said Stevens had a perfect right to ride his bicycle on the street, even though he was deaf. In doing so, however, it was his duty to use every precaution to avoid injury. The trolley company, he said, likewise, should use every precaution in order not to inflict injuries on others. The only evidence introduced that the plaintiff had been run down by one of the defendant company's cars, he said, was that given by the plaintiff himself. No witnesses to the accident had been brought forward.

Certain testimony had been introduced to show that the plaintiff, in order to procure witnesses to testify in his behalf, had resorted to bribery. If such testimony was believed, then the jury, he said, would be justified, in the absence of any witnesses to the accident, to take for granted that the plaintiff was falsifying regarding the manner in which he received his injury.

By the uncontradicted evidence of physicians it had been shown that the plaintiff had in some manner received severe injury. That his arm had been broken, and further that he would never fully recover. Craig A. Marsh, Esq., was cocounsel for the plaintiff.

A Surprise.

A surprise party was tendered Monday evening to Miss Mamie Kieley at her home on West Sixth street. The programme consisted of the playing of games and dancing, with vocal selections by James Stott, and instrumental solos by Frank O'Neil, of New Market. Among those in attendance were Miss Retta Donley, Dominick Muldowney, Miss Lizzie Crosby, Miss Mamie Flatley, Miss Agnes Huff, William O'Brien, John O'Brien, Miss Molly O'Neil, Miss Mamie Whalen, Miss Annie Kiely, Miss Margaret Mahoney, Michael and Patrick Kiely, and Richard and Lawrence O'Neil.

Pay Your Taxes.

All the tax bills have been sent out by City Tax Collector Frank Smith. Some of those which have been sent out to property owners and voters have been returned to the office because it was impossible for the post-office employes to locate those to whom the bills were addressed. Simply because no bills have been received affords no excuse for not paying his taxes. The Commissioners of Appeal will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at which time all property owners who have a complaint to make about their taxes should be present.

Miss Scribner's Entertainment.

Miss Mabel Scribner, of West Front street, entertained a number of friends at her home, last night. Music was the feature of the evening, there being vocal solos by the Misses Florence and Emily Bennett, piano duos by the Misses Scribner and piano selections by Miss Clara Stam. Games were also played, after which refreshments were served.

Arthur B. Smith, of Grandview avenue, who has been staying at Reedsburg, Pa., has gone to South Bend, of the same State.

Train Porters.

A popular feature of the through trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad which leave New York daily for the West at 7:55 a. m., and 1:55 p. m., and leave Pittsburg daily for the East at 3 a. m., and 7:30 a. m., is the train porters stationed in the day coaches. Their duty consists of keeping the cars clean and rendering whatever service passengers may require. The Pullman porter has long since demonstrated his usefulness; the Pennsylvania Railroad train porter serves the ordinary coach passenger in the same capacity as the Pullman porter serves those who ride in parlor and sleeping cars. The day coaches on the above-mentioned trains, as well as those on trains leaving New York at 8:55 p. m. daily for the West and leaving Pittsburg at 7:10 p. m. daily for the East, are equipped with lavatories, in connection with which the services of train porters are especially convenient. 10-21-2w

EMPIRE WILL PROFIT

Joseph Chamberlain Again Advocated His Fiscal Policy.

A NATIONAL, NOT A PARTY QUESTION

Commercial Preference Was the Only Method of Binding the Outlying Colonies to the Mother Country.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Joseph Chamberlain addressed an enthusiastic meeting of 4,000 persons at Newcastle, it being his first public appearance since his recent illness.

The former colonial secretary devoted considerable attention to ridiculing Lord Rosebery, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Earl Spencer. Speaking seriously, Mr. Chamberlain said he had not raised a party, but rather a national question. He was willing to answer seriously the points raised by men like Lord Goschen and H. H. Asquith. He had not pretended that his system could be instituted without costing anything at the start, but he did urge that taxation be transferred from points where it benefited nobody to points where the empire would profit. If the country had done well in the past it was not because of free trade. Mr. Chamberlain said he was not standing before his hearers because he had had the gout, but in spite of it.

Replying to the charge that he had based his whole system on the boom year of 1872, Mr. Chamberlain said his opponents would find if they took the five year periods working back from 1875 that these would show better still for his side of the case, and he went at length into statistics with the view of proving this contention. He said he did not claim that the empire would break up immediately if his system was not adopted, but there was already a certain tendency toward cleavage, and commercial preference was the only method of binding the colonies to the mother country.

The colonies contained 11,000,000 whites who had offered to make sacrifices if necessary in order to build up an empire such as the world has not yet seen. The United Kingdom should not turn a deaf ear to such an offer and thereby lose a chance which, if now neglected, never would recur.

CONGRESS CALLED.

President Issues Proclamation Naming Nov. 9 For Session.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The president has issued a proclamation calling the Fifty-eighth congress in extraordinary session. Following is the text of the proclamation in part:

"Whereas, by the resolution of the senate of March 19, 1903, the approval by congress of the reciprocal commercial convention between the United States and the republic of Cuba signed at Havana on Dec. 11, 1902, is necessary before the said convention shall take effect,

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, by virtue of the powers vested in me by the constitution, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the convening of both houses of the congress of the United States at their respective chambers in the city of Washington on the 9th day of November next at 12 o'clock noon, to the end that they may consider and determine whether the approval of the congress shall be given to the said convention."

Raid on Whisky and Gamblers.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 21.—All saloons and gambling houses in Kansas City, Kan., were closed tight by Chief of Police Murray on an order from Mayor T. B. Gilbert. A week ago a citizens' committee threatened to oust Mayor Gilbert and other city officials from office for failure to enforce the prohibition law and to close the gambling houses. This is the first time the gambling places here have been disturbed for years, and saloons have been permitted to run with but slight interruptions.

Military Prisoner Escaped.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 21.—David Hammons, a prisoner confined in the guardhouse at Plattsburg barracks, has escaped. Hammons was convicted of grand larceny and forgery and sentenced to two years and a half in the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He unlocked the door of his cell and that of the prisoners' cage with duplicate keys which are supposed to have been furnished him by his wife.

Sternburg to Visit His Home.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Baron Sternburg, the German ambassador, leaves for Germany the latter part of the week. He will carry with him personal messages of friendship and good will from the president to the emperor and to Prince Henry of Prussia. The ambassador will be in Berlin but a short time, as the object of his trip is to pay a brief visit to his home in Lutyschena, Saxony.

Probing Cause of Disaster.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 21.—Officials of the American Bridge company have been at work all day inspecting the wrecked portion of the Wabash bridge where ten men lost their lives. No decision has been made public. A committee of five structural iron workers appointed to endeavor to discover the cause which led to the accident have held a long conference with Coroner McGeary.

President Will Vote at Oyster Bay.

STRUCK BLANCO REEF

Steamer South Portland Lost on Oregon Coast.

FOURTEEN WENT DOWN WITH SHIP

Lifeboat Capsized, and Only Seven Regained It—It Is Hoped Some Succeeded In Escaping on the Life Raft.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Oct. 21.—In a blinding fog the steamer South Portland, bound for San Francisco from Portland with a cargo of wheat and carrying a crew of twenty-three men and fourteen passengers, struck Cape Blanco reef bow on.

She was lifted high out of the water; then she settled aft and later slid off the rocks and immediately began to fill with water.

The captain, seeing that all hope of saving his ship was gone, gave orders to man the life raft with all possible haste.

Two boats and the life raft were lowered. One boat, containing the captain and seventeen souls, capsized as they were getting away from the sinking steamer, and only seven of the eighteen were able to get into the boat again.

The other boat also capsized and was seen drifting away in the thick fog without a person in sight.

The survivors of the ill fated steamer reached Port Cranford in a pitiable condition from exposure to the cold wind and waves. They have little hope for the remainder of the passengers and crew. The survivors are Captain J. McIntyre, John Reamer, sailor, San Francisco; Emmanuel Phomonis, chief cook, and William L. Wilson, Jr., of Baltimore; L. Baker, Alameda, Cal.; Guy Bent, aged twelve years, of Nova Scotia; Al Bailey of North Dakota, passengers.

A heavy fog is hanging over the coast here, and weather indications are most unfavorable for rescue work.

A life raft was seen in the breakers with several persons on it, and the life saving crew has gone to the rescue.

The beach at that point is abrupt, and a landing cannot be effected without great difficulty.

Charles Huzon, the first engineer, has died of exposure. Fourteen persons are yet missing and are probably lost.

The South Portland struck going at a speed of about seven knots.

RUSSIA HAS CONTROL.

Manchuria Said to Be Placed Under the Czar's Government.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—It is reported here that Paul Lessar, Russian minister to China, has concluded a treaty with China which gives Russia practical control of Manchuria, although under a nominal Chinese government.

Russia undertakes to conduct any war arising with a third power from the new treaty.

May Be Strike on "L" Roads.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Unless an agreement can be reached between the "L" motormen and the company through the intervention of Grand Chief Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers there will be a strike on the system, and for the first time in the history of the overhead roads New Yorkers will have to ride on surface cars or walk. Mr. Stone is on his way to this city from the west, as is Grand Chief Hanahan of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, with which order many of the guards who were once firemen on the "L" locomotives are connected.

Maine Raiders Arrested.

NORTH ANSON, Me., Oct. 21.—After a most exciting and tedious hunt several deputy sheriffs and a posse succeeded in capturing the remaining two of the four men who after robbing two stores in Norridgewock escaped from the clutches of 200 or more armed citizens of Norridgewock, Mercer and adjacent towns. The men were taken at a remote point in the wilds of northwestern Maine.

Become Stranded In Africa.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The United States consul general at Cape Town cabled to the state department reporting that a great many Americans who come to South Africa find no opportunities for earning a livelihood and that unless they are skilled workmen or are engaged in some paying business they soon become stranded.

Tons of Prehistoric Bones.

BILLINGS, Mont., Oct. 21.—Tons of prehistoric animals gathered in eastern Montana for the Carnegie museum of Pittsburg have been brought here for shipment. There are several tons, which have been collected in old river beds and other places during the summer by representatives of the Pittsburg institution.

Charged With Larceny of $50,000.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Legal proceedings growing out of the failure here of Lamkin & Foster, shoe dealers, led to the arrest of the former treasurer of the concern, Elmer E. Leavitt, charged with larceny of $50,000 from the National Union bank. When arraigned in the municipal court Leavitt pleaded not guilty.

Archbishop Kain Lying In State.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Thousands of persons viewed the remains of Archbishop John J. Kain, which lay in state in the old cathedral, on Walnut street, here.

One Thousand on Strike.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 21.—One thousand carpenters went on strike for higher wages here. Fifteen out of the 100 contractors here signed the scale.

If the politicians have any more surprises up their sleeves in the present campaign it is time to spring them. Only thirteen more days before election.

It is diamonds to dog-biscuits that the New York hotel lodger who refused to answer the question of the election officers: "Are you married or single?" was a benedict, with a past.

The old problem of the disposal of leaves in the streets comes again to the front. There is an ordinance against the burning of leaves in the public thoroughfares and the neglect to observe this should bring forth corrective measures. The proper way is to collect the leaves in wagons and burn them in some public dump outside the city.

If one went into a store and told the storekeeper he had nothing worth recommending to the people, there would be trouble then and there, but that same storekeeper sometimes acts as if he has not the goods the people want and is keeping still about it. Protect the reputation of your store by telling what you have that is worth buying. — Advertising World (American) for August.

The Elizabeth Evening Journal said yesterday: "In the city Republican convention at Plainfield last evening, James F. Buckle, who was the candidate for assembly before the recent county convention in this city was turned down for nomination to succeed himself as the candidate for City Council from the Third ward. This action shows the inconsistency of the Republicans in Plainfield, who are making threats concerning the assembly nominations, because, as they allege, their candidate for the choice of the district he was to represent was rejected. But in this Plainfield convention, Mr. Buckle, the choice of three of a delegation of four from his ward, and entitled to renomination as an act of party courtesy and usage, was set aside and another selected. It was stated by a delegate on the floor of the convention that Mr. Buckle would accept a renomination. City Clerk MacMurray, who was the stalwart champion of the principle on which the bolters are alleged to have stood when they repudiated the county convention platform and proceedings, was present in the Plainfield convention, not as a delegate it is true, but with a voice, and yet he was silent, permitting the act of inconsistency without a word of protest. It certainly looks as though it was high time the men who are the reputed leaders in this county of the faction represented by the Plainfield bolters, should take a hand in the political affairs of that city and bring about order and reasonableness in action."

What rot and nonsense. The Elizabeth Journal stoops in its effort to make political capital out of the proceedings, juggling with facts and distorting real conditions. In the first place Buckle never was and never will be "turned down" in Plainfield. Some of his over-zealous friends attempted to force his renomination which was prevented by other equally sincere friends, among the number being MacMurray, whom the Journal erroneously says was silent.

Buckle was not a candidate for renomination, though maybe he did say under pressure that he would accept an unanimous nomination. This his friends feared he could not get because of the factional fight and it was the part of wisdom not to attempt to renominate him by an unanimous vote.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The subject of the mid-week meeting at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, tonight, will be "Prayer Meetings, Ancient and Modern."

The Churchman, the organ of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in its last issue defends the circumstances attending the election of the Rev. Dr. David H. Greer as coadjutor to Bishop Henry Codman Potter, of New York.

The next communion service of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church will be held on the second Sunday of November, and notice is given early, in the hope that those intending to bring their letters to this church may be reminded of it in time to procure them.

Miss Sara Curry, of the Little Day Missionary, 93 St. Mark's place, New York, has gone to Lakewood for rest before commencing her winter work. Miss Curry intends to take up new lines of work with the young people this winter; wonderful has been the advancement of this work under the unselfish direction of one led by God in all her ways.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, will hold its meeting for sewing in the church parlor on Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Donations of money and clothing for the missionary box are solicited. It is requested that the envelopes with a silver offering be returned as soon as convenient to Mrs. Wm. Myers, 1100 Watchung avenue.

An exchange says: "It is time for the churches to divert some of their missionaries from foreign fields and send them to Warren County, where it has just been testified to in court that a woman beat a dishpan every time her husband tried to hold family prayers, and pulled the tablecloth and dishes to the floor when he attempted to say grace. Darkest Africa can wait awhile for enlightment pending the conversion of such a sinner here at home."

Children's Home.

Editor, The Daily Press:

We have come from our summer rest to find a condition we all hoped we should never know again! an almost empty treasury! For some reason our cash donations and miscellaneous gifts the past summer have been much smaller than in many years. Our September bills for a family of twenty-five are $215, and we have but $178 in our treasury. James Clark's most generous gift in the early summer was for a specific purpose only—to enlarge out building and not at all for running expenses. I fear some of our good friends thought we had become suddenly rich and did not need their help any longer. A family of twenty-four children, with no means to care for them, is not a cheerful outlook for the winter so near at hand. Will you not listen to the "cry of the children" and send help at once lest our Thanksgiving generally so joyous should be turned into a Fast day? "He gives twice who gives quickly." Cash donations and checks may be sent to Miss Ella Serrell, 122 Plainfield avenue, or to Mrs. Horace Kimball, 826 Central avenue. All other gifts directly to the Home.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

A pleasant party was given at the home of Miss Tillie Merschrod last evening at her home in West Dunellen in honor of her twenty-fourth birthday. A number of friends from Brooklyn and the borough were present, and the evening was spent in music and playing games. Several handsome presents were received by Miss Merschrod.

The borough was awakened about midnight Monday by the ringing of the new fire bell. The members of the department and the citizens at large turned out, evidently only to find that it was a false alarm and only a joke perpetrated by some of the young men about town. The incident proved, however, that the bell is a success.

Councilman Ryno, who was relieved of a kit of carpenter's tools about two weeks ago, has, after some clever detective work, succeeded in capturing the thief. The tools were all marked and was in this way that he traced them.

The friends of John Siriski, a former resident of the borough, but now with the U. S. Army Corps at Sullivan's Island, South Carolina, are sending him their congratulations over his recent marriage.

The borough seems to be infested with a dog plague. There are any amount of dogs racing the streets night and day which are apparently ownerless.

A side track is being laid into the new factory of the Aluminum Press Co. at West Dunellen. The work on the factory is now being pushed ahead rapidly.

The Democratic candidates for the State Legislature, Mayor G. A. Veihman and F. N. B. Berse, were in town again last evening.

The Juniors met for their regular bi-monthly meeting last evening in Apgar's Hall. Routine business was transacted.

The railroad company is co-operating with the Borough Council in laying flag walks in front of the borough hall.

Charles Hack has returned from a two weeks' visit with his brother at Hampton Junction, N. J.

Evangelist Robertson is conducting special services every evening at the Methodist Church.

The dancing class conducted by Jesse Ayers will meet in Apgar's Hall this evening.

Weekly prayer meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Church this evening.

October devotions were held in St. John's Church last evening.

The Elizabeth Democratic Club held a ratification meeting last night. The Democratic nominees, city and county, were present. "Assemblymen Hague, Gunn, and Moffett told of the bills they intend to introduce at the next session of the Legislature, while 'Coroner' Eaton spoke of the Republican inquest he expects to hold." Farmer Orator James E. Martine and Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer debated on the "cause," and there were other inspiring speeches. This was the first Democratic ratification this fall, and as election is but two weeks off, the meeting has considerable significance.

The regular fall election coming so close on the heels of the special constitutional amendments election will put county and city clerks all over the State to the necessity of applying to the Supreme Court for permission to remove from the boxes the ballots cast at the special election in order that the boxes may be used at the regular election. Under the election law clerks of cities, townships or counties are required to keep in their custody without opening for three months after election the boxes used at an election. The special election was held September 22 and the date of the regular election is November 33, a period less than two months.

OFFICIALLY SIGNED.

Alaskan Award Agreement Signed by Majority.

CANADIANS' REASONS FOR REFUSAL

Lord Alverstone Gives His Opinion on the General Issue—Dominion Members Praise Courtesy and Good Faith of Americans.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The official report of the Alaskan boundary commission was signed yesterday afternoon and then issued. It is signed by Lord Alverstone, the British commissioner, and by the three American commissioners, who constitute a majority of the tribunal.

Expressed in ordinary language, it awards the United States all the territory included within the modus vivendi of the past few years.

It establishes the boundary on what is known as the old Hunters' line, giving the United States the heads of all inlets.

The decision in regard to Portland canal gives Canada Pearse and Wales islands. The United States gets Sitkian island and the broad southern portion of the channel.

The decision, as a whole, is of course an overwhelming vindication of the claims of the United States.

Three opinions were also delivered to J. W. Foster and Clifford Sifton, the agents respectively of the United States and Canada.

One is by the Americans, discussing the Portland canal claims; another by Lord Alverstone on the general issue and a third by the Canadians, protesting in the most emphatic language against all the American claims.

Now that the matter is ended it leaks out that the Canadians have practically not taken part in the proceedings since Lord Alverstone declared himself in favor of the main claims of the United States a week ago.

In an interview Mr. Sifton, one of the Canadian agents, stated after the decision had been announced that, while he declined to give an opinion on the result, he wanted to say that the representatives of the United States had acted with perfect courtesy and good faith throughout the proceedings. He added that the Canadians had nothing whatever to say against the American representatives.

Mr. T. C. Wade, another Canadian agent, confirmed all that Mr. Sifton had said in regard to the relations between the American and Canadian representatives. He added:

"We all agree that the Americans have fougirt their case all through like men and won it like gentlemen."

Sir Francis Jette and Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, the Canadian commissioners, have issued a statement protesting against the decision, in which they say:

"We do not consider the finding as regards the islands at the entrance of the Portland canal or the mountain line a judicial one. We therefore declined to be parties thereto. Our position during the conference has been unfortunate. We have been compelled to witness the sacrifice of the interests of Canada and have been powerless to prevent it, though we were satisfied that the course which the majority was determined to pursue in respect to the matters above specially referred to ignored the just rights of Canada."

A Canadian who has been most intimately and prominently associated with the Alaska case said:

"It is the hardest blow the imperial tie has ever received. The place Lord Alverstone filled was clearly that of agent for the British government. It will be a shock to the Canadian people to know that notwithstanding all the professions of friendship and sympathy the solemn formalities of the international court have simply been used for the purpose of handing over Canadian territory to the United States. Canada has been not only spontaneous, but zealous, in defense of British territory and has not hesitated to sacrifice blood and treasure in defense of the motherland. She must now face the fact that when imperial interests or friendships require it her territory may be handed over without the slightest hesitation. This marks a most serious epoch in the relations between Canada and the mother country."

Special opinions were submitted on the second and fifth questions by Lord Alverstone, Secretary Root and Senators Turner and Lodge, which will form part of the record and in which the reasons for their conclusions are explained.

As Lord Alverstone and the American commissioners rely upon these opinions to answer the criticisms of the Canadian members of the tribunal these opinions assume more than a legal and technical interest.

Lord Alverstone, in dealing with the second question, recites his reasons for believing that the entrance of the Portland channel was at 54.45 north latitude.

"After the most careful consideration of every document in the case," Lord Alverstone says, "I have found nothing to alter or throw any doubt on the conclusion I have arrived at, and there are certain general considerations which greatly strengthen it. Inasmuch as the questions submitted to us only involve the determination of the channel described in the treaty by the words, 'the channel called the Portland canal,' subsequent history can throw no light upon this question, but I think it right to say that the use in 1853 of the name 'Portland inlet' in the British admiralty charts upon which the United States much relied has, in my opinion, no bearing upon the question. I therefore answer the second question as follows:

"The channel which runs north of Pearse and Wales islands and the islands of Sitkian and Kannaghunut issues into the Pacific between Wales island and Sitkian island."

On the vital question, No. 5, Lord Alverstone submits seven printed pages. Among other things the lord chief justice says:

"In my opinion it is correctly pointed out in behalf of the United States that the word 'coast' is an ambiguous term. There is, as far as I know, no recognized rule of international law which would by implication give a recognized leaning to the word 'coast' as applied to such sinuosities and such waters different from the coast itself. After a most careful examination I am unable to find any passage in the negotiations connected with the treaty of 1825 which supports the view that Great Britain was directly or indirectly putting forward a claim to the shores or ports at the heads of the inlets. I have felt it my duty to express the reasons which led me to the conclusion to which I have come that the answer of the fifth question should be in the affirmative, because I am constrained to take a view contrary to that presented in behalf of Great Britain."

"The considerations urged in behalf of Canada," continues Lord Alverstone, "strong as they are in favor of a just and equitable modification of the treaty, do not, in my opinion, enable one to put a different construction upon the treaty."

This, briefly, is Lord Alverstone's explanation of why he decided against the contentions of his own countrymen and thereby settled the long standing dispute.

Messrs. Root, Lodge and Turner also submit long joint opinions. Their opinions are peculiarly able and judicial expositions dealing with the contention of counsel on both sides and end thus:

"It is impossible to resist the conclusion that the construction of the treaty now contended for by Great Britain is an afterthought never entertained by any officer of the British government during the lifetime of the makers of the treaty and which originated at least sixty years after the treaty was signed."

"From a British viewpoint the best that can be said of the settlement of the Alaskan boundary dispute is that it is over."

The foregoing words strike the keynote of London press comments on the decision of the Alaska boundary tribunal. This decision is generally denominated "the surrender of British rights on the altar of American friendship." While there is no suggestion of personal criticism of either Lord Chief Justice Alverstone or the American commissioners, the tendency is to regard the Canadian commissioners as the heroes of the hour for their refusal to sign the document surrendering what they considered to be the rights of the Dominion.

The question of the effect of the decision and the attitude of Canada toward the mother country is seriously raised, and in some quarters it is predicted that the findings will strike a severe blow at the arbitration of any future case where there may be a conflict of colonial and American interests. No doubt is anywhere expressed but that Canada will abide loyally by the decision.

The Standard, commenting on the loss of a gateway to the Klondike and the islands strategically commanding the mouth of the Portland canal, says it is useless to dispute their confirmation to another power, however friendly and enlightened. This loss will be regretted deeply by patriotic Canadians. "We could wish that the result had been different, but we cannot doubt that the American commissioners no less than Lord Alverstone are perfectly convinced that as jurists they were giving effect to the purposes kept in view by the framers of the treaty."

Explosion In Heater Causes Death.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Clinton Mullican, eight years old, was burned to death; his sister, Florence, probably fatally injured and his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Mullican, painfully burned about the head and hands in a fire caused by a coal oil explosion in a tenement house in this city. Clinton used the oil in starting a fire in a Baltimore heater.

Yellow Jack Scare May Stop Food.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 21.—Since the appearance of yellow fever at a point in north Texas the people of Fry county have become so frightened that they have refused to permit International and Great Northern trains to run through the county. In the event of trains being stopped the food supply will be cut off.

State Brings 365 Liquor Suits.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 21.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren ordered 365 suits to be brought against wholesale and retail liquor dealers in various parts of the state for selling adulterated liquors. Dr. Warren says 85 per cent of the samples are adulterated with salicylic acid.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE NEW WOMAN

What She Is About

"A WOMAN, a cow and a hen are all alike," said the automobilist. "I never know what to do when I meet one in the road, for I never can tell what she is going to do. This morning, with a friend, I was out in my machine upon a country road. A cow loomed up ahead of us. She was in the middle of the road, and she showed no disposition to get off the track. I slowed up and attempted to pass on one side of her. Just as we reached her she made up her stupid cow mind to move. She whirled to the side where we were and ran bump into the auto. Now, the owner of that cow would swear we ran into her when the clear fact is she ran into us, and it was only good luck that she did not overturn the machine. A girl got badly injured the other day by an automobile through running into it the same way. She ran into it, not it into her, mind again. A rapidly approaching auto tooted its whistle as the girl crossed the road. She hurried to the roadside and reached it in safety, but instead of standing still when she got there she darted right into the middle of the road again, and of course she got knocked down. A hen acts the same way. I don't know what possesses the creatures. If they would only do one thing or the other, no matter which, a man would know how to dodge them." Well, a few mornings ago I myself was out on my bicycle. A fat woman was crossing the street diagonally, wabbling along from side to side. She saw me distinctly. Besides that I rang the bicycle gong. The street was at least fifty feet wide. But that woman just came straight toward me like a blooming old idiot. I dodged this way, then that with the bicycle, but she seemed dead bent on meeting it head on. It was with considerable difficulty that I at length escaped her. Did you ever see a woman advance in front of a coming carriage, then when she had nearly crossed the street start and run back?

It is the long, steady pull that counts. Many women can do things brilliantly and quickly and continue a short time. But when it comes to working on year after year, half a century, if need be, toward the same object, as all have to do who succeed, women are apt to fall by the wayside. Only those who discipline themselves to sustained, enduring effort succeed.

Two women in Paris have a legal permit to wear men's clothing. One is the lady who reported the French legislative proceedings for the now defunct La Fronde, the woman's newspaper. She wears her hair short and roams at pleasure all over Paris in her convenient male disguise. The other woman licensed to wear trousers is Mme. Dieulafoy, the gifted, fearless wife of the famous French explorer. With him she journeyed on expeditions in savage countries and found masculine attire so convenient and safe that when she returned to civilization it was a real hardship to go back into skirts. Consequently the municipal authorities of Paris permitted her to continue in trousers. She wears masculine attire always, even at evening receptions, where she appears in the swellest of swallowtail suits.

Mrs. Ada Landon Hand has gained an enviable reputation as an orchestra leader for both male and female musicians. During the past summer she at the head of an orchestra of fine young women, made music at one of the leading Long Branch hotels. No sooner had this orchestra, the Landon ladies' quartet, completed the summer engagement than it was employed to play afternoons in a great department store, according to the pleasing new American fashion of furnishing music to the customers of the large places of merchandise. Mrs. Hand herself is the pianiste and leader of the orchestra. She deserves all success for her pluck and perseverance as well as her ability.

People who talk constantly of themselves are usually called conceited. They are not really so always. They are persons who know they are nothing uncommon, but are wild to make others think them so. The individual who is really "it" and knows it does not say anything about it. "It" speaks for itself.

Will red bananas grow in the United States? If they will some woman gardener in the south can make a fortune cultivating them. They are delicious and at present quite expensive.

Once more at the beginning of this autumn the tocsin of politics has sounded. Once more women in all our cities have the privilege of raising money for men to use in the political campaign. Women in politics are always warmly welcomed to that extent.

Is there any more unpleasant sight than to see a pretty girl manicuring her neglected finger nails in a street car?

* *

The women of Vernon county, Mo. have a club called the Ladies' Good Roads society. Recently two young ladies belonging to it, Misses Tramble and Hanson, took plow, scraper and a pair of horses and made passable a piece of very bad road the men would not take care of.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

DOWIE'S FAILURE.

The "Restorer" Says Ignorance of the Press Was Cause of Hostility.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—John Alexander Dowie, "Elijah the Restorer," has revealed some of the sources of his income at a meeting which he held with representatives of various newspapers.

Dowie sent out letters asking that representatives of the press meet him. When they were gathered he said he wished to know why it was that he and his people had been, as he expressed it, continually misrepresented and if this could not be explained, so that his meetings would be rendered more orderly.

Stating that he felt that the attitude of the press of New York toward him was due to ignorance, he told the story of his own career and pointed out the fact that all his leaders were college men and men of attainments. Referring to the stories concerning his wealth, he said that money had come to him through wills which had been made in his favor by many persons.

"I'll venture to say," said Dr. Dowie, "that there are probably a hundred wills naming me as the beneficiary, many of them drawn up by persons whom I do not know. But I do not like wills. God has prospered me in Zion City. Some time ago I received a legacy of $80,000, and I built a house and gave it to Mrs. Dowie. Haven't I a right to use money that is willed to me? Does anybody dispute that?"

About 2,000 of those supposed to be detailed to outside work attended the morning meeting. In the rank and file of the host there appears to be considerable demoralization over the situation. They have been so accustomed to take the word of Dowie as law that they do not understand the lack of toleration of his methods here.

This was especially true when the leader was roundly hissed by the audience for his vulgarity in condemning all secret societies and especially the Masonic fraternity.

FAVOR RECIPROCITY.

Detroit Board of Commerce Urges Reconvening of Commission.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 21.—The Detroit board of commerce at a general meeting adopted a resolution favoring Canadian reciprocity and urging the immediate reconvening of the joint high commission for the purpose of negotiating a new reciprocity treaty with Canada. The resolution points out the geographical and racial reasons which, it is declared, make it clear that the most intimate trade relations would be mutually advantageous and says:

"The disappointment of the Canadian people at the failure of the British government to grant reciprocity advantages corresponding with their own preferential tariff and the purpose of the Canadian government to take the initiative in reconvening the joint high commission combine to make this an opportune time for entering anew upon negotiations looking to reciprocial trade agreements, while the growing independence of Canadian industries, the possible adoption of a system of preferential tariffs applicable to all British colonies and dependencies and the movement for raising the Dominion tariffs, especially upon our manufactured goods, in case a reciprocity treaty is not negotiated, all give warning of the danger of delay."

Has Walked Eight Thousand Miles.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 21.—C. E. Norris reached here after an 8,000 mile walk from San Francisco, undertaken to cure consumption. He started on Aug. 8, 1901, and followed the railroads as far as possible. He will continue his journey to New York today.

LOU DILLON WON.

Surprised Memphis Track by Beating Major Delmar With Ease.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21.—What was expected to be one of the greatest harness horse contests in local history proved to be a very tame affair when Lou Dillon gave Major Delmar a decisive beating in two straight heats in ordinary time. The two minute trotters met in the second renewal of the Memphis gold cup. Lou Dillon immediately forged to the front at the start and seemingly without effort opened up a gap of three lengths, which advantage she held to the end, winning in an easy jog.

In the second heat Major Delmar broke badly at the first eighth pole, allowing the daughter of Sidney Dillon to assume a lead of twenty lengths. Turning into the stretch the mare was pulled up and won by eight lengths. Both heats were trotted in 2:04¾. It was the general opinion that had the mare been pushed in the race she could have repeated her great performance at Readville, when she made the circuit in two minutes. The stake feature, the Diamond handicap, a dash at a mile and a half, was won handily by Dr. Strong from the odds on favorite, Billy Buck, with Hawthorne a good third.

Hermis Won Brighton Cup.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The Brighton cup, of $9,000, the last of the big handicaps of the year, was run at Brighton Beach track, and 15,000 persons saw E. R. Thomas' Hermis, second choice in the betting, win easily by eight lengths. The time, 3:53 2-5, was excellent and was next to the best time ever run for the stake. Ethelbert in 1900 ran the distance—two and a quarter miles—in 3:49 1-5, a world's record. Major Daingerfield, owned by W. B. Leeds, the favorite, was second. Only once during the race did the Major display a flash of his speed, when he went to the front in the first mile. A. Featherstone's Igniter was third.

Horses Defeat Wheelman.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 21.—Bobby Walthour was beaten in his ten mile race against running horses by seven-sixteenths of a mile. Walthour had the outside of the track, which gave him a disadvantage of five-eighths of a mile in the ride. The track was too heavy for the bicycle and the motor pacer, and Walthour lost some time from a broken wheel, which made necessary a change to another. His fastest mile was made in 1:49½. The best mile made by any horse was 1:51 flat.

Admission Will Be Charged.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—It has been decided by the Athletic Association of the University of Pennsylvania to charge admission for a portion of the seats at the army and navy football game to be played on Franklin field. Heretofore no admission has been charged to see the game. This year more than 6,000 cards allotted to Pennsylvania will be sold at probably $2 each and the proceeds turned over for the benefit of widows and orphans of soldiers and sailors.

Gans Punished Kennedy.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21. — Joe Gans, the light weight champion, had the better of the six round fight with Eddie Kennedy of Pittsburg at the Southern Athletic club. In the last round Gans pushed his man hard and gave the Pittsburg man a severe beating.

Feature Won by Schwalbe.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Schwalbe won the feature event, a seven furlong handicap, at Worth. Ethylene was second and Gallant third, a neck in front of the favorite, Olympian. Schwalbe took the lead at the start and was never headed.

Frank Bell Won at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Frank Bell won the feature of the card at the fair grounds by a length from Bridge, who led nearly the entire distance. Annie Max came third, three lengths behind Bridge.

Terry McGovern Won.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Terry McGovern got the decision over Jimmy Briggs of Chelsea at the Criterion Athletic club fight in the fifteenth round.

Duke Lands at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—The Duke of Abruzzi set foot in New Orleans ashore, accompanied by Consul St. Martin, and paid his respects to Mayor Capedeville and other city and federal officers.

Fire Ties Up a Railroad.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 21.—A wooden bridge of the Wallkill Valley railroad near Springtown has been destroyed by fire, completely tying up the road.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The plot of fifteen prisoners to escape from the Pittsburg penitentiary was foiled just in time.

Sixteen steamers are reported struggling with ice in the Yukon. Many passengers are in danger.

A Chicago police justice held court in a patrol wagon, the prisoner being a woman ill with appendicitis.

The Chicago council has voted $5,000 to pay the expenses of a committee's search for "graft" in city departments.

James Blair, general counselor of the world's fair, is very ill, having collapsed while trying to attend to business.

A recent storm has killed sixteen persons in Mazatlan, Mexico. A Danish schooner was sunk in the harbor and fifteen persons drowned.

An injunction was granted by a Chicago judge against the janitors' union which prevented food from reaching a house whose janitor had struck.

DEPOSITS, $700,000.00

It was but a month ago that we announced that our deposits had reached the $600,000.00 mark. Since then we have added another $100,000.00 to the total.

The number of depositors now represented on our books is over 1,400, which means that nearly one hundred accounts have been added during every month the Company has been in existence. Such a record demonstrates in an able manner that our broad and far-reaching facilities are meeting a definite need.

We continue to invite new business, subject to the following liberal terms:

On accounts of $200 or more, subject to check, 3 per cent interest is paid.

On accounts of $5.00 or more 3 per cent. interest is paid, provided the money is left on deposit for three months or longer.

SPORTING NEWS.

FOOTBALL.

There will be a football game on Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon, between the Alis and Westfield elevens.

The Florodora Club eleven defeated the Mountain Avenue A. C., yesterday afternoon, on the Mountain avenue grounds, by a score of 57 to 0.

The team which will line up against the Alis team on Crescent Oval Saturday, will be the strongest which Westfield has had this season. The game will be called at 3:30 sharp.

It was given out last evening that on November 7 the Alis team will play a team made up of old college players from this city. It will be a game which will be more interesting than any played so far this season. Such players as Charles DePee, Harry Howell, Edward Brown, George Schoenmacher, Harry McGee, Ray McGee, Fred VanVliet, Louis Darling, Theodore Freeman, George Cathcart, Lewis Waring and Westley Abbott will be in the line up and the game promises therefore to be a hard fought one on both sides.

NO GOOD CAUSE FOR THE BOLT

The Plainfield Republican Club Issues Statement on Situation.

ANSWERS MACMURRAY

Organization Presents Facts and Figures to Prove That the Present Dissatisfaction in Republican Ranks is Unjustifiable —The Statement in Detail.

In order to present the issue to the local voters, the Plainfield Republican Club has made an address, which is reproduced in is entirety. The whole question in dispute is dwelt upon in detail, facts and figures being furnished to prove the fallacy of the position now occupied by the party bolters in this city, and to show that the discontented Republicans here have no argument to make in defense of the stand they have taken.

This is the situation as viewed by the Republican Club:

"The many misrepresentations in regard to the political situation within the Republican party in the city of Plainfield and in the County of Union and the recent bolt of fifteen of the nineteen delegates elected to represent the city in the County convention should not at this time be allowed to pass without a presentation of the matter from a fair and impartial party standpoint to the Republican voters of the city.

"The reason for the existence of a political party is the advocacy of certain political ideas. These ideas are formulated with more or less precision in the platforms adopted at the various conventions at which candidates for the offices to be filled are nominated to carry out, and who are in honor pledged to the support of, the platform adopted.

"An honorable candidate opposed to the platform of the party on whose ticket his name appeared would have but one course left open to him if he would preserve his self-respect, and that course would be to get off the ticket. It is not probable that a convention would stultify itself by knowingly nominating a candidate opposed, or whose sponsors were opposed, to the platform adopted. No one but a mere place hunter would seek such nomination.

"In order that the conventions of a party may not be dominated by members of other parties or by voters not in sympathy with the political ideas for which the party stands, the law of the State has enacted that none but members of that party shall vote for delegates to that party's conventions, and further that no one shall vote at that party's primary but those who intend to support the candidates of that party at the ensuing election. In other words, members of a party participating in that party's primary are, not only in honor bound to support that party's nominees, but the State law makes the intention so to do a prerequisite to participation in the primary.

"The primaries held last month were called by the proper party committees to nominate delegates to the County convention, the duty of which convention it was to nominate a Coroner and three candidates for the Assembly to represent Union County. These offices, it will be noted, apply, not to anyone section of the County, but to the whole County. Plainfield had as much interest in all the nominations as in any one; Elizabeth had as much interest in all the nominations as any one. Rahway had as much interest in all the nominations as in any one. The smallest township in the County was vitally interested in every nomination to be made, because each officer to be elected was as much the representative of that township as of any other part of the County. Therefore, at the convention, every part of the County was entitled to be heard as to every nomination to be made. The delegates elected at the primaries were elected to vote for all candidates to be nominated. That was a part of the duty they were elected to perform.

"The representation in the County convention is governed by the State law. The law enacts that there shall be one delegate for each one hundred votes cast by the party for its candidate for Governor at the last Gubernatorial election, and one for each fraction thereof over forty, and pro-

PLAINFIELD'S TANGLE.

The Local Political Situation From a Newark Standpoint.

The city of Plainfield, in Union County, is in the tightest little political tangle to be found in New Jersey this year. In September last fifteen of the nineteen delegates bolted the Republican county convention because they were not permitted to nominate an anti-Kean candidate for Assembly. Since then the bolters have been endeavoring to strengthen themselves and to defeat the whole Republican ticket, in order to prove that they could not be opposed with impunity, but their success is not yet certain. On Thursday last the Democratic county convention was held, and Charles L. Moffett, of Plainfield, was nominated for Assembly. He had, prior to the convention, positively refused to allow his name to be used in this connection, and it was then reported, with the assistance of the Republican bolters, that Moffett had been induced to decline through Kean influences. In the convention he was not named by the Plainfield delegates, but was forced on the ticket by Elizabeth votes, in opposition to the united protests of the Plainfield men. He was finally nominated, however, and accepted the honor, but hardly had the convention adjourned when the disquieting rumor was heard that Senator Kean desired his nomination all the time. Between the bolting Republicans, the antagonistic Democrats and the double parts that the Kean influences are credited with playing, the political situation in Plainfield is most delightfully complicated. The probabilities are that on election day each party will poll the normal, off-year vote.—Newark Evening News.

DOG POISONER ACTIVE IN CITY

Valuable Canines Killed by Miscreant During the Last Few Days.

NO CLUE TO THE CRANK

ARSENIC BEING USED BY THE RASCAL AT WORK.

Animals Killed Belonging to W. A. Coddington, John Keeley, F. W. Bird, Ralph I. Tolles, Fred W. Dunn and Mrs. Jones.

Again the dastardly dog poisoner is getting in his work here. Every spring and fall there seems to be from twenty to a hundred deaths among the canines who are fed poison by some miscreants.

Almost every day reports come of the work of the dog poisoner. Property owners who pay taxes for the privilege of keeping dogs complain that their pet canines are killed by some crank with a bottle of arsenic which he places on meat and places in the way of dogs. This morning the complaints were more numerous than usual.

Pet dogs belonging to Fred W. Dunn, of Sandford avenue; R. I. Tolles, of Westervelt avenue; F. W. Bird, of East Front street; William E. Dunn, of Norwood avenue; former Judge William A. Coddington, of East Second street; John Keeley, Mrs. Dennis, of Grant avenue and Scott place, and Mrs. John T. Jones, of the same locality, have been found dead from the effects of arsenical poisoning within the last few days.

In each case the dogs were of considerable value. They were kept in their owners' yards and were therefore not causing a nuisance on other people's property.

John Keeley said this morning that he has an idea of the identity of the persons who killed his dog. He said that a man rode up to his stables on a wheel last evening and dropped something near the dogs sleeping nearby.

Frank O. Reinhart and J. Whitney Baker Fail to Score.

Harvard golfers by defeating the Princeton combination yesterday by 21½ points over a double round of the Garden City course, retained the team championship of the Intercollegiate Golf Association. In the morning Harvard defeated Princeton 18 points to 0, neither F. O. Reinhart or J. W. Baker scoring a point. The same was true in the afternoon, when the summary at the end of the two rounds showed 21½ points to 2½ points in favor of Harvard. In this round Baker scored 2½ points, against H. Hollins, Jr. The qualifying round for the individual championship will be decided today.

TENNIS CUPS PRESENTED

WINNERS IN PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL TOURNAMENT RECEIVE REWARDS.

Principal Ira W. Travell Spoke on the Injurious Effect of Tobacco on the System.

The presentation of the cups won in the recent tournament of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association was made this morning. The cup for championship in singles was awarded to Chester Briggs. This is the second year that Mr. Briggs has carried off the honors as tennis champion of the school. The cups for doubles went to Chester Briggs and Howard A. Craig.

The cups for doubles differ slightly in appearance from the one for singles. All bear engravings. Principal Travell made the presentation speech in behalf of the association. He spoke briefly on the honor and also the benefits received from athletics. He took the opportunity of comparing modern athletics and ancient physical training as told by Virgil. In connection with athletics he also spoke of the injurious effects of tobacco on the bodies and minds of those who are addicted to this vice.

The meeting at the Reform Hall last evening was one of the largest attended in the series. The speaker, John Edward Howard, the jail evangelist, of New York, who is also superintendent of the 146th Street and of the Doyer Street Missions, made an interesting address on his experiences while at work in the slums. He will be the speaker for the rest of the week and also on Sunday evening. Last night the musical part of the programme was a specially interesting feature. George Belcher and William O. Smith, Sr., rendered solos and William Richards gave an instrumental solo.

Since the first of May last a local firm of this city has erected six cottages in that part of the city at a cost of about $3,500 each. The same firm has also built three houses at a cost of $6,500 each at Westfield for Wm. Abbott, of North avenue.

MISS B. V. REVILLE, AN OCTOBER BRIDE

Clarence H. Walden, the Groom, at Wedding in St. Mary's R. C. Church.

C. A. SHANNON, BEST MAN

WEDDING MARCH PLAYED BY MRS. WM. A. FREEMAN.

Reception at the Home of the Bride's Mother, Mrs. Mary Reville—Honeymoon in Boston—Groom a Member of T. A. B. Society.

Miss B. Veronica Reville, daughter of Mrs. Mary Reville and Clarence H. Walden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walden, were married at St. Mary's R. C. Church at 7 o'clock last evening. Father Egan, pastor of the church, officiated.

The edifice was decorated in autumnal flowers and leaves and the attendance was large, guests being present from Mass., New York, Penn., and this city. Mrs. W. A. Freeman, organist of the Grace Episcopal Church, presided at the organ and played the wedding march from Mendelssohn as the bridal party entered the edifice.

The bride was given away by her brother, P. J. Reville. She wore a gown of white duchesse satin with applique trimmings. A veil fastened by a cluster of orange blossoms fell from her shoulders and formed the train. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna R. Sears, of Chelsea, Mass., wore a gown of point de esprit and carried roses. The best man was Clinton A. Shannon.

After the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the home of the bride at 733 West Third street. Over two hundred people thronged the house which was decorated with chrysanthemums of red and white. The reception lasted until 10 o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. Walden left for Boston, where they will spend their honeymoon of three weeks. Upon their return they will reside in this city where the groom is employed.

The display of presents was very elaborate. The groom is a well known resident of the Fourth ward. He is a member of the T. A. B. Society, in which he holds a position as secretary, and is a member of the Painters' Union.

STATE AID FOR BARBERS.

Men Who Wield Shears and Razor Want a Law to Regulate the Trade.

State President Troxler, of the Boss Barbers' Association, read a petition at a meeting in Elizabeth Tuesday night, which will be presented to the New Jersey Legislature, asking for the enactment of a law requiring all barbers to pass examination as to their capabilities, the education of journeymen, the enforcement of sanitary conditions, the registration of all barbers, the appointment of a board for the purpose of examining all applicants who desire to practice the barber trade, and the regulation of apprentices in a shop employing more than three men.

The petition also calls for the rejection of all applicants infected with contagious diseases, and the appointment of a physician whose duty will be to examine all applicants to learn the barber trade.

Such a bill was introduced in the State Senate at the last session, but was rejected. Since then the New York State Legislature passed the bill, and by so doing caused some encouragement to the New Jersey Boss Barbers' Association.

Trolley Tracks Spread.

The trolley company had a gang of laborers at work on West Fourth street last evening repairing the trolley tracks which were damaged during the recent storm. Yesterday the tracks spread so that cars could not pass the place during the afternoon. The cars from this part of the city went as far as they would remain on the tracks and then the passengers were transferred to another car. The laborers were engaged at the work almost half the night.

vides that each election district shall have at least one vote. The smallest district is thus recognized and given a voice in the party conventions.

"The total vote cast in the county for the last Republican candidate for Governor (1901) was 10,215, a plurality of 1,359 over the Democratic candidate. Of this total vote (figures taken from Legislative Manual):

Elizabeth cast	4,474
Boroughs and townships cast (Including Summit and Westfield)	2,764
Plainfield cast	1,990
Rahway cast	987
Total in county	10,215

"A glance at these figures show the proportionate strength of each section in the county convention, and completely disproves the statement made on the floor of the convention by the spokesman for the bolters, and in substance repeatedly made since by others, that Elizabeth delegates controlled the convention. A glance at the above figures will show the most casual observer that Plainfield was in a minority even after entirely leaving Elizabeth out of the calculation.

"The plurality of 1,359 in the county was made up as follows:

Boroughs and townships (Republican plurality) (Including Summit and Westfield)	1,088
Plainfield (Republican plurality)	979
Rahway (Republican plurality)	50
Gross Republican plurality	2,117
Elizabeth (Democratic plurality)	758
Net Republican plurality	1,359

"These figures also disprove another statement frequently made by the bolters that Plainfield's majority makes Union County Republican. But it is well to bear in mind that the State law gives representation in convention according to the actual vote cast irrespective of the vote cast for the opposing party. No one would think for a moment of giving representation on basis of the plurality given, because a Republican vote in Elizabeth, or in Rahway, or in the townships and boroughs counts just as much for, and is just as essential to, party victory as a vote cast in Plainfield, and therefore should be given as much consideration.

"For purposes of comparison the vote cast last year for State Senator is interesting. The vote cast for Senator was neither the highest nor the lowest on the ticket and is, therefore, a fair vote for comparison. The entire Republican vote cast for Senator was 10,717, an increase of 502 over the vote cast for Governor the previous year, and the plurality over the Democratic candidate was 1,165, a decrease of 194.

Of this total vote

Elizabeth cast	4,856
An increase of 382
Boroughs and townships cast	2,928
An increase of 159
(Including Summit and Westfield)
Plainfield cast	1,994
An increase of 4
Rahway cast	944
A decrease of 43
Total in county	10,717
A net increase of 502
Net increase in county	502
" " " Plainfield	4
Net increase in county outside of Plainfield	498

"The plurality of 1,165 in the county was made up as follows:

Boroughs and townships (Republican plurality)	1,018
Republican loss	70
(Including Summit and Westfield)
Plainfield (Republican plurality)	683
Republican loss	296
Rahway (Democratic plurality)	92
Republican loss	142
Elizabeth (Democratic plurality)	444
Republican gain	314
Gross Republican plurality	1,701
Gross Republican loss	508
Gross Democratic plurality	536
Gross Republican gain	314
Net Republican plurality	1,165
Net Republican loss	194

"These figures also show that the Republican candidate had a plurality in the county outside of Plainfield of 483. The plurality the previous year for the Republican candidate for Governor in the county outside of Plainfield was 380. The figures show a steady general increase in the plurality in the county outside of Plainfield, but a decrease in the plurality in Plainfield. These figures also show to be false the statement before referred to, and which has been so industriously circulated, that Plainfield's majority makes Union County Republican. They also show how far from the truth is another statement made on the floor of the convention by the spokesman for the bolters, that Plainfield always gave 1,000 majority to the Republican candidates no matter from what portion of the county they came. That statement, as to the vote for Senator last year, was short 317 votes of the truth, and as to another name on the ticket was over double that number of votes from the mark.

"At the recent primaries there were contests in every election district in Plainfield. Many Republicans, however, failed to attend, because the primaries were held much earlier than usual, in accordance with the new State law; and many ballots, unfortunately, had to be thrown out, because not prepared in accordance with the law. Some Republicans divided their suffrages and voted for some delegates from each group. It is impossible, therefore, to ascertain exactly the number of votes attributable to each group; but, by taking the average delegate vote, a fairly accurate result can be arrived at.

"The primary vote for the fifteen bolting delegates (the average delegate vote) was 1,016; and the vote for Governor in the districts these fifteen delegates were elected to represent was 1,545; and the vote for Senator last year in these districts was 1,566. The statement, therefore, made on the floor of the convention by the spokesman of the fifteen bolting delegates that they represented 1,918 out of 2,254 Republican votes cast at the last general election was absurdly false and about 352 votes from the truth. A large enough margin truly to defeat any reasonable proposition.

"At the convention, before the nominations were made, the Committee on Resolutions presented the following platform:

" 'The representatives of the Republican party, of Union County, assembled in Convention, September 10, 1903.

" 'Resolved, That the gold standard finally established by the Republican party, aided by sound money Democrats, as a result of the memorable campaign of 1896, has been amply vindicated by the manifestly solid condition of the prosperity of our country, undisturbed by the fluctuations of Wall street speculation. Money for legitimate business enterprises can be obtained at moderate rates of interest, due to the fact that there is no doubt about the value of the coin or currency in which debts or wages must be paid. We call attention to the fact that the revolutionary and destructive policies proclaimed in the Chicago platform of 1896, and repeated in the Kansas City platform of 1900, twice condemned by the people by most emphatic majorities, are still the creed of the so-called Bryan Democracy, as shown by the platforms adopted by recent so-called Democratic conventions held in the States of Nebraska and Ohio, and hence it is necessary, that voters who think alike on these important questions should continue to work and vote together.

" 'The satisfactory and creditable work of the Government of our State under the administrations of Ex-Governor John W. Griggs, our fellow citizen, Foster M. Voorhees and Franklin Murphy, the present Executive, supported by Republican legislatures, forms a striking contrast to the disgraceful regime of preceding years, and should not be forgotten by citizens who take pride in the good name of our State, and are interested in the character and efficiency of its government.

" 'The administration of the government of our county by the Board of Chosen Freeholders is in harmony with the best sentiment of our people; it is honest, intelligently progressive and at the same time wisely conservative.

" 'We approve the erection of the new court house as a public necessity and creditable expression of the enlightened sentiment of our people.

" 'We think the time has come when the office of Register should be established in this county as it has been in other populous counties of this State, in order that the records of land titles may be kept separate from records of litigation and of other merely clerical work of the county government. As the offices of Clerk and Register are self-sustaining the proposed change would add nothing to the burdens of the taxpayer, but would separate work that can best be done in separate offices.

" 'We commend the course of our representatives in the Senate and House of Assembly in the last Legislature. Every interest of our county involved in legislation has been wisely and carefully guarded by them.

" 'We pledge to the nominees of this Convention our earnest support and shall expect from them a measure of public service that shall be worthy of comparison with their predecessors in their respective offices.'

"A Plainfield delegate—not one of the bolters—moved the adoption of the platform by a rising vote. When this was opposed by the spokesman of the bolters, and inquiry was made as to why a rising vote was desired, the answer came, clear and strong, that it was because the spokesman had passed the word along to the bolters to vote against the platform. A rising vote was taken, and the bolters not only refused to vote for the platform but actually voted against it. They offered neither amendment to the platform nor a substitute for it.

"Read the platform carefully and take in the full significance of the vote of the bolting delegates against it before any nominations were made.

"The bolting delegates voted against: First, The gold standard and the Republican party's position in National affairs; second, the three Republican State administrations of Gov. John W. Griggs, Gov. Foster M. Voorhees, and Gov. Franklin Murphy; third, the County administration of the present Republican Board of Freeholders; fourth, the erection of the new court house; fifth, supporting the nominees of the convention.

"How many of the 1,016 voters who voted to send these fifteen delegates to the County convention to assist in making a platform and nominating candidates would vote against such a platform? Surely, not any of the Republican ones, other than the bolters themselves!

"The County convention was composed of 111 delegates, and each delegate was entitled, and was sent to the convention, to vote for three candidates for the Assembly and for a candidate for Coroner. All the delegates, with the exception of the fifteen bolters, performed their duty in this respect. When Plainfield was called on to vote for candidates for the Assembly, instead of voting for three candidates as they ought to have done, the fifteen bolters voted for but one. The names put before the convention for the other two nominations received no consideration from them whatever. The result was that the highest vote cast for any one candidate was ninety-six, being a bolting fifteen less than 111, the number of delegates composing the convention.

"After the roll call on the Assembly nominations had passed Rahway, and it was seen that the bolters' choice had been defeated, their spokesman interrupted the roll call by rising and saying:

" 'Mr. Chairman: Believing that our further continuance in this convention would be an insult to the intelligence of those whom we represent, fifteen out of the nineteen Plainfield delegates herewith withdraw.'

"Suiting the action to the word, the fifteen bolters arose and walked out of the convention. And this was all done before the vote on any of the nominations had been announced or even completed. Strange to say, the heavens did not fall, neither did the convention desist from continuing the work the Republican voters of the County had sent the delegates there to perform.

"What right had the bolters to expect their candidate to receive consideration when they had just voted against the platform? After voting against the platform, they asked the convention to nominate a man of their choice. Was a place on the tickets to be the price of their adherence to Republican principles? It would certainly appear so. Will the Republicans of Plainfield subscribe to such a selfish and unprincipled doctrine?

"These bolters were exceedingly anxious to go to this convention. They worked hard to get elected as delegates. No one went around with a lantern to find them and to coax them to go. They seemed just as anxious to get away after once there. Where any one's intelligence could possibly be insulted by a convention proceeding, in a very orderly and dignified manner, to adopt a platform and to nominate candidates for the offices to be filled, is impossible to see. That it was the intention to pick a quarrel, and to start a fight within the Republican party in Union County, if it could possibly be done, the action of the bolters makes only too clear. Is such action that of a good Republican with the party's principles and welfare at heart, or is it the action of one who must either rule or ruin?

"It must not be forgotten also that this action was taken on the eve of a presidential campaign. Failure to elect the Republican candidates for the Assembly in Union County this year would give the Democratic party here renewed hope and would doubtless cost many votes in next year's struggle. Have we some spies of the enemy in our camp, and are they now going back to their first love?

"A vote for the Republican nominees for the Assembly this year means more than a mere vote for the candidate named. It means a vote for the platform adopted at the County convention. It means a vote against starting a useless and a causeless fight within the Republican party in this County. It means that Plainfield Republicans are true to the Republican party because they believe in Republican principles. It means a vote against countenancing false public statements to gain selfish private ends. It means a vote for the truth. It means a vote for honor. It means a vote for that most cherished American institution—the rule of the majority.

"We ask every Republican voter in the City of Plainfield to consider the situation well and understandingly, to investigate the matter thoroughly, and to learn the whole truth in regard to it. And we ask him to continue to stand with the Republican party for Republican principles and to vote for the entire Republican ticket."

DIED AT FOOTBALL.

Robert E. Lewin Suddenly Collapsed Through Heart Failure.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 22.—Lewin, right guard of the Baltimore Medical college, dropped dead in the first half of the football game with the navy here. Neither team had scored when the game was called off.

Robert E. Lewin of Plainfield, N. H., was a second year classman of the Baltimore Medical college. The tragedy came like a thunderbolt to the 2,000 or more spectators. The opposing teams had swayed back and forth over the field. Navy by hard line bucking had pushed the ball to within ten yards of the visitors' goal when the latter by herculean efforts hurled the midshipmen back. The medicos made gains of three and five yards and had just lined up for another effort when Lewin, right guard for the Baltimoreans, fell to the ground. His limbs immediately became rigid. He was carried from the field, and five minutes later was pronounced dead by the attending physician, Dr. Henning of Baltimore. The cause of death is given out as cardiac sincope.

Hal Chaffin Won.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 22.—Hal Chaffin, the speedy son of Brown Hal, with veteran Ed Geers holding the reins, won the Sunny South stakes for 2:13 pacers at the Memphis Driving park. Star Hal, another son of Brown Hal, was an odds on favorite for the race and won the first heat handily in 2:06¾. In the second heat Hal Chaffin won by a neck in a hard drive through the stretch in the fast time of 2:05¼. The third heat showed the Geers horse to be a prohibitive favorite. The heat and race was never in doubt after the horses received the signal to start. Star Hal broke badly an eighth from the wire and finished last in the deciding heat.

Y., Oct. 22.—Harvard, as was generally expected, again won the team championship honors of the Intercollegiate Golf association on the Garden City golf links here, beating Princeton by a score of 21½ to 2½ points. NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Coming from sixth place, Divination won the Mercury handicap for two-year-olds and upward, six furlongs, in the last few strides at Brighton Beach. OFFICIALS REMOVED

First Result of Bristow's Postal Scandal Report.

SUPERINTENDENT, CHIEF AND CLERKS

Postmaster General Made an Official Announcement of His Action as a Result of the Recent Investigations.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Postmaster General Payne has removed from office M. W. Louis, superintendent of supplies of the post office department; Louis Hempner, chief of the registry division of the third assistant postmaster general's office, and C. B. Terry, a clerk in the post office department, and directed the postmaster at New York to remove Otto Weis, a clerk.

These removals are the first result of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow's report on the irregularities in the post office department.

The postmaster general made an official announcement of his action as follows:

"M. W. Louis has been removed from the office of superintendent of the division of supplies because the recent investigation shows that he influenced the awarding of contracts for supplies to favored bidders; that he has been extravagant and wasteful, and that he has paid excessive prices for supplies to favored contractors.

"Louis Kempner, superintendent of the registry system, has been removed for incompetent and negligent administration, for wasteful and reckless extravagance in sending expensive manifold registration books to a large number of small fourth class post offices and for violating the revenue laws by a system of petty smuggling.

"C. B. Terry, a clerk in the division of supplies, has been removed for making false affidavit, attempting to obtain money from clerks under the guise that he could influence their promotion and general inefficiency."

The postmaster general also stated that the postmaster at New York had been directed to remove Otto Weis, a clerk in the New York office, for collecting money from clerks to influence legislation and to procure promotions.

Missouri Is Queen of Her Class.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—The new battle ship Missouri proved herself the queen of the seas in her class in a speed trial trip over the Cape Ann course with weather conditions of a considerably handicapping nature. Steaming over a course of thirty-three nautical miles and return, the battle ship made an average speed of 18.03 knots per hour, which, with tidal corrections greatly in her favor, it is believed will advance it to 18.22 knots, a new world's record for battle ships.

A SEALED ENVELOPE

William J. Bryan Requested to Accept $40,000.

LEGACY LEFT HIM BY P. S. BENNETT

Widow Will Contest Part of the Will Relating to the Bryans, Alleging Undue Influence.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 22.—In cross examination in the probate court William J. Bryan testified that the sealed letter mentioned in the will of the late Philo S. Bennett of New York and this city was a request that Mr. Bryan should accept $40,000, of which $10,000 was to be given to Mrs. Bryan and $15,000 invested for their three children, who were to receive $7,000 each when Mr. Bryan thought it wise. The letter was opened by the court, but was not read publicly.

The mystery of the sealed envelope mentioned in the will of the late Philo S. Bennett of this city was thus unraveled in the probate court. Mr. Bennett, the testator, was a New York merchant and a member of the firm of Bennett & Sloan. He was killed in a stagecoach accident in Idaho.

The sealed envelope which has been in the custody of the Mercantile Trust company of New York was produced in court. Mrs. Bennett, the widow, refused to open the envelope. The court took official cognizance of the document and tore it open, giving counsel an opportunity to read its provisions.

In the document William J. Bryan is given $50,000, with the request that he give Mrs. Bryan $10,000 and $15,000 to the Bryan children.

Mrs. Bennett will contest that part of the will which bequeaths part of her husband's estate to the Bryans.

It is reported she will allege undue influence on the part of the Bryans upon her husband.

Mr. Bryan said that not one cent of the money would he allow either his wife or his children to receive unless Mrs. Bennett were willing. He, however, did intend to ask the court to decide the validity of the bequest, so that in case it was declared legal he could distribute the money among educational and charitable institutions.

Mr. Bryan introduced a mass of correspondence between himself and Mr. Bennett from the year 1896 to 1900. He read a number of the letters aloud in order to show that Mr. Bennett repeatedly made offers of financial assistance to him. On four different occasions, according to the witness, Mr. Bennett sent him money to aid him, the amount in all aggregating $3,500. He related that in May, 1900, Mr. Bennett came to Lincoln, Neb., to discuss the provisions of his will and told Mr. Bryan that he wished him to accept a bequest of $50,000, believing that he would need it later.

A suggestion made by Mr. Bryan at that time was to the effect that if Mr. Bennett so desired he could embody it in a request to Mrs. Bennett in a letter to be left with the will. He further suggested that the money be left in trust to himself to distribute among educational and philanthropic institutions. After Mr. Bennett returned east he executed his will and sent a copy to Mr. Bryan of what, he said, was the letter which he left with the will.

When Mr. Bryan's statement had been concluded Judge Stoddard said that the will would be contested by Mrs. Bennett if Mr. Bryan sought to secure the money, believing that Mr. Bryan had no equitable right to it.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—A young woman was squeezed to death by a boa constrictor at Voelklingen, Prussia, while giving a performance in a menagerie. The woman was dead when released.

A GREAT TRUTH.

How It Has Spread From Home to Home in Plainfield.

In every part of Plainfield; in the homes of the wealthy, in the humble abode of the man of toil; 'tis now a well-known fact—a great truth—that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought more comfort to backache sufferers and cured more sick kidneys than any medicine of modern times.

Mr. Jos. VanArsdale, carpenter and contractor, living at 213 Spooner avenue, says: "For several years I suffered from severe pains in my back, hips and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape, and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses when I found they were helping me and on completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

NIXON ON THE STAND

President of the Shipbuilding Company Testifies.

A HISTORY OF THE CORPORATION

Confirms Claim of Bondholders That Max Pam, Counsel For Schwab, Proposed Action That Tended to Bring on the Wreck.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Lewis Nixon, who from naval constructor became builder of war ships and the president of the United States Shipbuilding company, was the principal witness at the continuation of the hearing before Examiner Henry D. Oliphant as to the affairs of the defunct corporation. He did not finish his recital, but in the three hours that he was on the stand he went over much of the history of the corporation and the acts of the men prominent in its history. He confirmed the claim of the bondholders that Max Pam, counsel for Charles M. Schwab, had suggested a number of the directors for the shipbuilding combination and said that the proposed expenditure of $2,802,000 for improvements at the Bethlehem Steel works had been approved by the directors over his protest and warning that the action might in the end leave the main corporation without funds and wreck it. Mr. Nixon swore that after this expenditure was approved he made several attempts to secure a meeting of the directors and that Mr. Schwab had finally told him he had instructed the directors to remain away from a meeting.

An effort was made to show that the directors elected at the suggestion of Mr. Pam had not been stockholders, but, like the young men of the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey who served in the early days of the combination, had been given shares enough to qualify, but Mr. Nixon had no personal knowledge of the transaction.

Mr. Nixon testified that by resolution of the directors passed in December last Mr. Pam was given a salary of $18,000 a year, which was dated back to the preceding September. He also testified that, besides his bonus as an underwriter and the sums paid for the Bethlehem property, Mr. Schwab received a share of the promotion money, part of which he gave to Charles Gates of the brokerage firm of Harris, Gates & Co.

Samuel Untermyer for the bondholders endeavored to prove by the witness that during the negotiations for the purchase of the constituent plants no one looked after the interests of the shipbuilding companies, but that the figures and reports of John W. Young, the promoter, were accepted. Mr. Nixon said that no independent appraisement or investigation had been made and disclaimed all personal responsibility for the negotiations and financial part of the combination plan.

It was brought out in the testimony of Mr. Nixon that misleading statements as to the personnel of the directorate had been made in the prospectus issued in June, 1902, and that Young had taken the options in his name. According to Mr. Nixon, secrecy was observed in paying the venders only because Promoter Young did not want them to know what was being paid for each plant.

Charles Canda was the only other witness taking the stand before Nixon was called. He testified that the Canda Manufacturing company, for which $1,100,000 in cash and securities was paid, had a plant at Carteret, N. J., built for the manufacture of car wheels, but that at the time of its purchase it was turning out some experimental work in motor carriages.

Charles M. Schwab and Max Pam attended the hearing. They came to be sworn, but remained interested listeners to all the testimony. They will testify later in the week.

Made a Strong Plea For Kentucky.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 22.—At the Christian missionary convention here R. U. Simpson of Lexington, Ky., one of a number of students in Kentucky university who spent the summer in evangelistic work in the Kentucky mountains, made a strong plea for this mountain work. He declared that great injustice had been done the Kentucky mountaineers by popular writers and said, "It would be just as fair to take a low browed thief or crook from one of your back alleys and present him as a representative of your citizenship as to hold the moonshiner up as a typical Kentucky mountaineer."

"You can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink." A good advertisement will bring people to your store, but it will not make them buy unless the goods and prices suit. Uncourteous treatment may also prevent them from buying. Your advertising shouldn't be expected to do everything. It does its full share if it brings people to your store.—Retailer and Advertiser.

The plank in the local Democratic platform, which alleges extravagance in appropriating $125,000 for a new High School, is ill advised. How can any man argue that $60,000 would have been sufficient for the purpose when it is considered that the price of building materials and the cost of labor has considerably advanced in recent years. Plainfield claims to be a model town and the improvements it now has are all first class. Why then advocate the erection of a High School structure to cost only $60,000? It would not answer the requirements and would be no ornament to this progressive municipality.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject. Next week's list will be, "Recent books which have been deservedly popular."

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

In your issue of the 20th I read with pleasure a communication concerning the Plainfield political situation, signed "Third Ward Republican." He therein expresses my views exactly. To the honor of Plainfield and Union County be it said, the rebellion is spreading. It is not blatant or declarative, but is progressing in many a plain private talk amongst neighbors and on the railway trains. As examples thereof, let me here set forth a few of the conversations personally overheard.

"Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed?" asked one Republican on the way to New York of another, "that he should assume to rule the party? Is he a statesman? Has he ever given any advocacy to a single important measure? Is he eloquent? Does he hold a powerful pen? Is he even well educated or well informed? Has he winning ways or a magnetic personal presence? How does he happen to be Senator? By what right does he—or his brother, the chairman of the County committee—fix delegates or candidates?" "You forget," said the Republican's seatmate, "that the Keans are rich and that they contribute lavishly for the ticket."

In the trolley car one says to another: "If Kean was really shread, as his friends claim, why did he not let Plainfield name her own candidate for Assembly? Why should the Kean faction insist upon naming Kirk when Plainfield wanted Buckle?" "Because," was the reply, "Kean was looking forward to the fight for the Senatorship two years away and wanted to put none but Kean men on guard. Buckle refused to be bound to or run over by the Kean juggernaut. He insisted on being a free man, and that did not suit the Keans. Sad! wasn't it?"

It is more and more evident from many words heard everywhere amongst Republicans that the earnest men of the party are very sick of Kean rule and mean to make earnest opposition at the polls, and as a lifelong Republican I call upon all thinking citizens of Union County to examine the situation thoroughly in order that on the third day of November they may register their votes emphatically as their consciences dictate and not in accord with the mandates of Union County's boss.

A Straight Republican.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Philip A. Vroom, of Pluckamin, has taken a position at the grocery store of L. C. Ogmer, Park avenue.

—According to the custom of all builders, a flag was raised on the new fire engine house in North Plainfield, yesterday afternoon, signifying that the building had reached its heighth.

—Frank Meahan, of New York City, is spending the week in this city in connection with business for the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. He is staying at Truell Court.

—Samuel Clowston, of West Front street, has returned from a three months' trip in Pennsylvania with headquarters at Pittsburg. He has been engaged in business for the Manganese Safe Company.

—Through a mistake an extra carload of coal has arrived at the North Plainfield High School. With the bins full in the basement and even the janitor's workshop filled with fuel, it has been found necessary to place some of the coal in the school playyard. A fence has been placed about it.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

William O'Laughlin, of Potter's, is still on the sick list.

Alfred Betts has resigned from his position with the Pond Machine Tool Works.

Clarence Shannon, of North Plainfield, has taken a position in the machine shop at Pond's.

William McConnell, of North avenue, has resumed work at the Aluminum Press Company's plant.

The Scott Printing Press Company works is at present rushed with orders. Several rush orders have been received from New York and Philadelphia.

William D. Hansen, of East Third street, while at work at the Scott Printing Machine Works yesterday, had a part of his finger mashed in a drill. He went to his home where a physician dressed the wound.

The Campbell Printing Press Company's works, on account of a rush of orders, will begin night work in a week or two. Just at present there is a great deal of work at the shop and it is possible that the right gang will be put to work next week.

During the past few days there has been an unusually large number of machinists in this city seeking employment. They come from Pennsylvania from the locomotive works of the Pennsylvania Railroad which have been recently shut down. Some of them have been taken on the day shifts of the Pond Machine Tool Works and of the Scott Printing Press Works.

There has been much complaint heard recently from people living in North Plainfield regarding the custom of the foremen at Wilson's stone quarry of discharging blasts in the quarry early in the morning while the residents in that part of the town are still asleep. It is an ill wind that blows no one good and in this case it is true. The blasts serve as an alarm clock to commuters but others are the sufferers and some of them are greatly annoyed. The attention of Mayor Smalley has been called to it.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 25—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—What the Bible teaches about giving.—II Cor. ix. 6-11; viii. 2, 3, 4. (Missions.)

There are many pastors and Christian workers who hesitate to present financial matters to the church, and especially to appeal for money for missions. But in the light of the Scriptures this should not be so. God in His word is not at all indifferent to this phase of the religious life. The Bible teaches God's ownership and man's stewardship. All is God's—the earth, the cattle upon a thousand hills, the silver and the gold. And of all of these that man possesses he does so not in his own right, but as a steward of God, and God expects us to wisely exercise that stewardship, and especially, it would seem to me, in relation to missions. Missions, instead of being the last thing we give to, should be the first and most important. Every church that can do so should have its own home and foreign missionary on the field, and this could be done if the people would give systematically as God gives to them.

Giving to missions should be preceded by a giving of ourselves to Christ. This the Macedonians did. "First they gave their own selves unto the Lord." If we believe that Christ can save the heathen we must also believe that He can save us, and, accepting Him as our personal Saviour, we should then be anxious to make it possible for others to know and to be saved by Him.

2. The example of others should stimulate us to missionary giving. We are exhorted to "provoke one another to good works." Paul appealed to the Corinthians on the ground of what Macedonia had done, and there is no reason why one church and one Christian should not by example stimulate others to missionary giving. Many churches have their own missionaries. Why should not yours? Many individuals give liberally, systematically and proportionately to missions. If you are not among the number, why should you not be stimulated to imitate their example?

3. The example of Christ should stimulate us to missionary giving. "Ye know," says Paul to the Corinthians, "the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, how that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor that ye through his poverty might become rich." Christ gave himself as the world's missionary. Can we hold back our little when the Master gave his all? God forbid, for the servant is not above his Master or his Lord.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. lii, 7; Nah. i, 15; Mal. iii, 7-18; Matt. x, 1-8; xxviii, 19, 20; Acts i, 1-8; Rom. x, 14, 15; I Cor. xvi, 1, 2; II Cor. ix, 6-9; Rev. xxii, 17.

Treasurer William Shaw.

The United Society of Christian Endeavor, the corporate body of the great organization, was formed at the Old Orchard (Me.) convention in 1885. Soon after this convention William Shaw was chosen treasurer of the United society, an office he has ever since held, holding the responsible position and performing its duties carefully and wisely, but never receiving a cent of pay therefor. The cause of Christian Endeavor owes a large debt of love to Mr. Shaw, for he has devotedly served it, not only in this office, but in a multitude of other ways. His ringing voice has sounded a stirring message before many a mammoth convention, and during the months when the United society was without a general secretary he added the duties of that office to his own.

WILLIAM SHAW.

Missionary Volunteers.

During the Boer war many Christian Endeavor societies were organized in the prison camps in Ceylon, St. Helena and Bermuda, with several thousand members. Since the return of these men to South Africa 200 have volunteered for missionary work, and the Dutch Reformed church has opened a training school for them in Worcester, South Africa. We hold in high honor the little group of five missionary volunteers around the Haystack at Williamstown, Mass. What shall we say of the 200 Endeavorer missionary volunteers in South Africa?—William Shaw in General Secretary's Report at Denver Convention.

The Underlying Principle.

The prime principle underlying Christian Endeavor is very simple, the idea of furnishing Christian service and expression for every one, every young man and woman, every boy and girl, for which none is too young, none too poor, none too ignorant, none too bashful.—Rev. F. E. Clark, D. D.

Quiz Box.

[Any question may be asked that pertains to any phase of Christian Endeavor work. Address Lock Box 674, Binghamton, N. Y.]

108.—T. H. O., Pittsburg.—There were a large number of foreign countries represented by special delegates at the Denver convention.

109. S. A. H., Liberty, Me.—If you will send full name and address with a stamp for return postage we will be glad to send you a booklet of all the state songs.

110. E. S. R., Los Angeles, Cal.—Dr. Clark wrote "The Great Secret" during a twenty-three days' voyage from India to South Africa. It is a deeply devotional book of 100 pages and worth many times the 30 cents asked for it.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 25, "Civic Righteousness"—Text, Deut. i, 17; II Sam. xxiii, 3; Ps. ii, 10.

"He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God."

Stable government can find no other base than this. Whatever its form, whether monarchy, aristocracy or democracy, security and permanence can be obtained only as those who rule, discover and put in operation the eternal principles of justice, truth and righteousness. Napoleon Bonaparte may declare that God is on the side of the strongest battalions. He may even be confident that he has the strongest and is invincible. St. Helena will give him time for reflection on the causes of Waterloo. He may even frame eight or nine different theories to account for his defeat. Men may think it was the illegibility of his writing, causing his officers to mistake his orders, and, after all, the only sufficient explanation of his defeat lies in the fact that he relied on the genius and destiny of Napoleon Bonaparte and had greater regard for him than for Almighty God. That he has yet discovered his error who can declare? Others have recognized it. We need to profit by it.

Well did Alexander Hamilton say, "The love and fear of God are indeed the keystone of the political arch." No state can long stand which is rotten within. This truth is of more vital importance to our own nation possibly than to most others at the present time. We are attempting government by the people as a whole. But government is both a science and an art built upon the science. Intelligence and integrity are indispensable requisites in those who rule. Omit either and that state or nation is doomed. Riches and strength may postpone its fall for a time, but its doom is sealed, its overthrow is inevitable.

To rule others one must be able to rule himself. The genius of an Alexander of Macedon may enable him to conquer the known world. His intelligence, trained by an Aristotle, may be equal to planning a new civilization and laying foundations for a world empire. His lack of integrity and self control will cause his death at thirty-five and wreck his scheme with his death.

No more can a republic last if its rulers are corrupt. If officers prove unworthy they can be removed. They will be removed if the people are not debauched. A Tweed may for awhile hold a great city in his power, but that power will be broken unless the people have lost all power by losing their integrity. Our only safety is in a high and awe-ful sense of our responsibility to God. He who finds no other basis for just government except the consent of the governed has no assurance against the mad fury of the mob. Remove the reverence for God and the recognition of His rulership in human government and all safeguards are overthrown. Reason and right go down before the blind fury of unrestrained passion.

Let greed of power or money control and "graft" be tolerated and the land shall reel under the shame of Minneapolis, the shame of St. Louis, the shame of bossism and public office used for private gain. Then vice and crime will be met by lynchings while mob venegeance and anarchy hold carnival.

Our safety lies wholly in rigid self control under the laws of God in righteousness. Our duty is to be pure in politics and demand purity in our officials in the administration of civic government.

Working With God.

All honest, honorable labor has a spiritual significance. The meat which perisheth, the reward which is gained in money or land or some other material form, is worthy of diligent effort, and he would be foolish who should belittle its value; but it is not the only or even the chief reward to be striven for. He who reverently regards himself as working together with God, who therefore cherishes aims beyond and above those of merely immediate and material returns and who tries to gain through his daily work knowledge of the divine character and purposes and fellowship with the good and holy—he it is, and he only, who is laboring for the meat which does not perish. He may or may not become rich in property, but he does grow rich in character, and he alone can carry his accumulations with him into the future life.—Congregationalist.

Faith.

Faith stands for the religion of the heart; works stand for the religion of the life. These two God has joined together. Let no man put them asunder, for there is no genuine religion without them in active union. Just as love in the soul finds a way to manifest itself so as to attract the attention, please and benefit the one loved, so genuine faith in the Lord Jesus moves its possessor to earnest, joyful action along lines of practical Christian usefulness. Where there is no such action there is no genuine faith.—Religious Telescope.

Never Without Help.

We are never without help. We have no right to say of any good work, "It is too hard for me to do," or of any sorrow, "It is too hard for me to bear," or of any sinful habit, "It is too hard for me to overcome."—Elizabeth Charles.

Hope.

As is the chain that holds fast and secure
The vessel to the sturdy anchor's form,
Enabling it thus to safely endure
The wild, tempestuous onslaughts of the storm,
So is the claim of hope, that bids depart
All grim despair as on life's way I plod.
The one end firmly linked around my heart,
The other resting in the hand of God.
—Pancroft Latimer.

A SUMMER VACATION

Mrs. Teller Learns Things

EARLY this October Mrs. Teller returned from her summer outing. She spent it variously—now at a seaside hotel, now at a farmhouse, again visiting a friend in a high style suburban village.

Wherever she went she was thrown mostly among women. This hen party phase of human existence interested her. In two or three days at the seaside hotel she had a sort of "good morning" and "good evening" acquaintance with a coterie of ladies who seemed to have nothing to do but sit upon the verandas, knit eternally and talk. Mrs. Teller is a student of the higher culture among women, that which lifts them above the petty, the spiteful and the shallow. She desired to see how far this higher culture had struck in on womankind in general, and she began investigating among those who haunted the veranda. She hoped soon there were not many like them. The ladies possessed what seemed to be an uncanny intuition for divining facts in people's lives that were not to their credit. Once Mrs. Teller commented to a veranda lady on the beauty of a sunset. The lady said:

"That girl down there seems to be enjoying it, flirting with the hotel keeper's son. She's engaged to a rich old man whom her mother is going to make her marry, and here she is carrying on with young Crabs-on-Toast in a way that's perfectly awful."

Half a dozen of the veranda ladies echoed, "Perfectly awful!" Mrs. Teller concluded Miss Moneylove could not be a girl whose acquaintance was desirable. But half an hour after she had been pronounced "perfectly awful" by the veranda coterie she came in, and every blessed woman of them greeted her as if she had been their dearest friend.

"Dear me!" exclaimed Mrs. Teller to herself. "How unlucky I was in the selection of a summer hotel! I must get out of this and find a place where there are nice women."

She went to a rural neighborhood and had lodgings in a farmhouse. It was a beautiful spot; the farm people were up to date in respect to household conveniences. All seemed to breathe of peace, purity and good will.

"Here I shall be happy," said Mrs. Teller to herself after a few days. "There is evidently more of the higher culture among farm women than among those of the cities. When these good women meet one another they manifest a sisterly kindness and cordiality that is beautiful and most encouraging to a believer in race perfection. These are nice women."

Mrs. Teller went driving in the idyllic neighborhood. She had the homes of the farm people pointed out to her. One was especially neat and inviting, surrounded by flower beds and grass. Appearances hinted of prosperity and thrift. Mrs. Teller was told that Sarah Keturah Barkis lived there, and she was so stuck up that she thought herself better than anybody else, though her great-grandfather had been charged with horse stealing. Susan Jane Perks had run away from home once, and her husband went after her and brought her back. Mary Ellen Hannah had been divorced; therefore Mary Ellen was off color. Lizy Ann Spouter was the long tonguedest woman in the state. Another woman had helped cheat a widowed sister out of all her property. With every family there was something wrong, now and then dating back a hundred years. Day after day went by, and Mrs. Teller in all her stay in the neighborhood did not once hear any woman's graces and virtues enlarged on, but the contrary.

She left that place and spent the remaining few days of vacation with a friend in the high style suburb. The morning after her arrival she looked across the lawn and saw a lady standing in the next yard.

"What a pretty woman that is" she remarked to her friend.

"That? I can tell you things about her."

Mrs. Teller is starting on a great. She will travel around the world in search of a locality where women do not talk evil of one another. When she finds it she is going to stay there.

KATE SHARP.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

Czar's Government Will Keep on the Defensive In Korea.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The German government takes a cheerful view of the Russo-Japanese difficulties. Russia has conveyed assurances to Germany that she will keep strictly on the defensive, even if Japan occupies Korean ports in force. Japan may act aggressively toward Korea without Russia being affronted thereby or making a counter stroke. The only limitation Russia places on Japanese action is that she must not cross the Yalu river.

The impression that might be derived from the foregoing definition of Russian policy, it is pointed out here, is that the negotiations are nearing an end favorable to Japan. But while the result of the negotiations is still pending precautionary military preparations on both sides are going on.

The ministerial conferences, naval preparations and, notably, the appointment of Vice Admiral Toga, known as a "fighting admiral," at Yokohama to command the standing squadron have led to a renewal of the anticipations of trouble.

Japan Wants War Ships.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 22.—It is reported here that the Chilean government is treating with Japan for the sale of two war ships.

SHAW AT LOUISVILLE.

Third and Last Speech In the Kentucky Campaign.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 22.—Before an audience of 2,000 people Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, delivered his third and last speech in the Kentucky campaign. Mr. Shaw paid special attention to the money question and referred briefly to a recent utterance of William J. Bryan, indicating that the silver question would have a prominent place in the Democratic platform.

Referring to the money question, Secretary Shaw said:

"The Democratic party won the campaign of 1892 upon the issue of high living expenses. But that issue could not be used in 1896. And so, looking for an issue with which to win a campaign, the Democratic party adopted the issue of the Populist party.

"They said it was Democratic. It was not. It was Populistic. They said it was Jacksonian. It was not. Jackson was a gold standard man. They said it was Jeffersonian. It was not. Jefferson is on record as favoring the single gold standard. But they made the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 the issue, and on that issue the case was tried."

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Special Reception to Mosely's English Commission.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—President Roosevelt gave a special reception at the White House to the members of the Alfred Mosely English educational commission.

Invited to meet them were representatives of a number of the educational institutions of Washington and of the public schools. President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, New York, made the introductions to the president.

The president made a brief address of welcome to his visitors, speaking briefly of educational matters in Great Britain and the United States. He expressed the opinion that both countries had a great deal to learn from each other in the matter of education. The productive scholarship of England, he thought, was worthy of our closest attention.

The president referred to the Alaskan boundary commission, expressing the conviction that the fact that two nations could meet together and decide disputed points on the basis of justice and equity marked a most decided advance in civilization.

THE PROPHET RAGES.

"Elijah III." Grows Abusive and Thunders "Liars, Dogs," Etc.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—"Just to show that I am in favor with the Christian merchant princes of this city," said Dr. Dowie, "I will announce the money which has come to me alone. These sums are from men unknown to me, but who evidently believe I am right. One sends me a check for $5,000, another a check for $1,000, another for $1,500, and another gave me $200. These contributions were unsolicited. They were accompanied by the kindest words."

During Dr. Dowie's sermon a number of students marched out in squads. Dr. Dowie was forced to stop, and after he began again he was interrupted by a college yell from outside the Garden, ending with the slogan, "Dowie, Dowie, Dowie!" "They are like most of the students I know," said Dr. Dowie—"their brains are in their feet." At this a well dressed man got up, and as he was leaving Dowie shouted at him, "You are not commonly decent!"

For the first time Dr. Dowie ordered reporters excluded, and those who were seated at the reporters' table were escorted to the door at Dr. Dowie's orders to his guards to "clear the tainted vipers out of here. Be careful how you handle them, not to get any of their filth on you. Now get out, you mean dogs, you yellow scoundrels of the press! We will have no more of you in here. I am paying for this place, you liars! This is my building. Hurry up, guards; the sight of them disgusts me. Don't waste any restoration talk on the liars; it is useless. They have sold their souls to the devil. I never hope to convert a reporter. They would be backsliders."

A squad of inspectors from the health department invaded Madison Square Garden and ordered sweeping changes in the method of quartering the Zion guards and a part of the host of 4,000 there. An order was posted that only a certain number of persons could sleep in each room and that there must be better ventilation. The inspectors also visited the kitchens and watched the preparation of the meals. The fact that forty-three members of Dowie's following whom he brought here are now sick warranted the health department in taking action, so Commissioner [illegible] said.

PITTSBURG BANK FAILS.

Federal National Closed by Order of the Comptroller.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 22.—Notice has been posted on the doors of the Federal National bank that the institution had closed its doors by order of the comptroller of the treasury.

It has been known for days that the bank was in a weakened state and that it was not expected to be able to meet its obligations.

The failure of the bank is attributed to its heavy investments in newly organized corporations which have not been successful and also to its heavy speculation in Crucible steel, which has declined slowly for weeks past. The steel broke to 31 on Monday, and instantly there came stories that the bank was in trouble.

So serious did the affair of the bank become that President Langfitt went before the clearing house committee and laid the matter before the members. To prevent a failure, which, it was thought, would cause a panicky feeling, it was decided to extend the bank credit. It was believed then that this would have the effect of tiding over the troubles and that the bank would survive. In this, however, the clearing house committee was wrong.

It was seen at the close of business that the bank was bound to go under. Until late the bank clerks were examining the books and making reports. At midnight it was decided that the institution was hopelessly involved and that it would have to close.

J. B. Cunningham, national bank examiner, has been appointed receiver.

Four Saved on Portland's Raft.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—The steamer Spokane, which arrived from Seattle, brought four of the survivors of the wrecked steamer South Portland. They are Arthur Ravens, second officer; F. Johnson, seaman; Charles Blowberger, seaman, and Ole Gunderson, seaman. These men were taken from a raft by the Spokane about 147 miles south of Cape Blanco. The Spokane cruised about for an hour in search of another raft, finding only an empty boat. The fog shut down thick, and she proceeded on her journey to this city.

Chase Is the Legal Guardian.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The United States circuit court of appeals here declared Frederick S. Chase of Lafayette, Ind., to be the legal guardian of the person and property of his son, Moses Fowler Chase, said to be worth nearly $1,000,000. By this ruling of the higher court George Hoadley, Jr., was loser, and the aunt of young Chase, Mrs. Ophelia Duhme, on whose petition Mr. Hoadley was appointed guardian of her nephew in Cincinnati, failed again to secure control of the young man and his valuable estate.

Syracuse Man Killed In Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Oct. 22.—W. J. Gillette, a contractor of Syracuse, was instantly killed here while engaged with a gang of men in taking down the roof of the old Grand Trunk station, on Erie street. A portion of the roof fell in and crushed him to death. Frank Manning was very badly injured.

Cabinet Has Resigned.

ROME, Oct. 22.—The entire Italian cabinet has resigned. The decision to take this step was reached unanimously at a ministerial council and after Premier Zanardelli had announced that he had sent in his resignation in consequence of failing health.

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

There will be special music at Sunday night's meeting of the Rescue Mission at 8 o'clock.

The mid-week service at the First Baptist Church last night was of unusual interest. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of Orange, was in charge, and he gave a helpful talk.

At the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting on Sunday at 4 p. m., Rev. Chas. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will speak, and Chas. L. Lewis of the Lotus Glee Club, will sing.

The seventy-fourth anniversary of the New Jersey Baptist Missionary Convention is booked for October 26, 27 and 28, in the First Baptist Church at Asbury Park. The meetings will begin with an annual conference of State pastors. The Baptist Young People's Union will also hold its annual meeting. The annual dinner of the New Jersey Baptist Social Union will be the closing event.

The State conference on boys' work among Y. M. C. A.'s will be held in Newark, tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. Many people from this city will be present. Among those on the programme who will make addresses are Dr. Norman H. Probasco, who will read a paper on "Association Boy's Relation to His Own Association," and Martin B. Stutsman, who will make an address on "Association Boys' Relation to Other Boys." Kenneth Robbie, secretary of the boys' deprtment here, will attend the conference.

The Young Men's Brotherhood of Warren chapel held a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Charles Bryant, of Chatham street, when arrangements were completed for an entertainment and social to be held at the church some time time next month. The talent will be supplied by the members of the brotherhood and of the brotherhood glee club, composed of Chas. Wingham, Alfred and Chester Galloway, Wm. Staats, Wm. Walsh and Chas. Bryant. It is planned to serve a light supper after the entertainment. The date will be decided upon at the next meeting of the brotherhood, which will be some time next week.

Trolley War Ended.

The war between the Somerville Board of Commissioners and the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company, arising from alleged violations of the town ordinance on the part of the company, has been declared off.

The Democratic city committee met last night in the Democratic headquarters and appointed election officers.

The Democratic county committee will meet in Elizabeth tomorrow night. The meeting will be important and all county committeemen are urged to attend.

Senattor Kean is confident that the Republicans will win in Union and Somerset Counties at the coming election. He expressed himself at some length on the prospects in the two counties to a reporter in Trenton yesterday. "You may say for me," Mr. Kean said, "that the Republicans are going to win in Union County, and that I believe that the whole Republican ticket there will be chosen." He had no comment, beyond whatever suggestion the above remark may contain, about the reputed Republican disaffection in Plainfield. He simply said that the Republicans were going to carry Union County, and he added, in ending, that he meant what he said. Mr. Kean said that he had been accused of interfering unwarrantedly in the politics of several counties of the State. This accusation Mr. Kean declared to be untrue. He hoped to be re-elected to the Senate, he said, but had never done anything in relation to the politics of the State that any Republican in his position might not do with strict propriety.—Elizabeth Evening Times.

LITERARY.

Those who have approached John Alexander Dowie in anything but a prejudiced and anti-pathetic spirit bear testimony to his remarkable personal magnetism—the extraordinary gift he has of impressing his individuality on all who come in contact with it. His appearance, despite his shortness of frame, his tendency to fatness, his bow legs and his baldness, is rather attractive. He really wears the aspect of benevolence and looks the patriarch. Today he is fifty-six years old; his shoulders are straight and ample, his eyes are bright and piercing, his beard white and flowing.—I. K. Friedman pictures Dowie in the November Everybody's.

Hospitality still exists among both the rich and the poor. The carven portals of Fifth avenue slip open to those of purse or pedigree. The low doors of Cherry street tenements (one room, perhaps, already sheltering a family) swing open to welcome in a neighbor evicted or bereft. Surely, it is one of the most persistent and creditable traits of human nature, this instinct for dividing with our fellows. When unselfish, it is a godlike quality, this desire in man to share his heart and his goods with his comrades of the way.—Edwin Markham in Good Housekeeping.

HOW TO VOTE.

CLOSE THE CURTAIN, by moving the handle to the right side of the machine.

PULL THE STRAIGHT TICKET KNOB bearing the name of your party over to the right, UNTIL THE BELL RINGS. This turns a pointer down over every name on your party ticket.

IF YOU WISH TO SPLIT, turn back the numbered pointer from over the name you wish to cut out, then turn down a pointer in another party line, over the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote for that office.

A vote will be registered for each name and question THAT HAS A POINTER OVER IT, when the voter moves the handle to open the curtain.

HOW TO VOTE A STRAIGHT TICKET.

1st—Move the Handle of the Curtain Lever to the right as far as it will go.
2d—PULL THE STRAIGHT TICKET KNOB bearing the name or emblem of your party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS.

This turns down all the Pointers of your party to a voting position, exposing an X above the names of the candidates you wish to vote for.

3d—LEAVING THE POINTERS AS THEY ARE, move the Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go.
This will count your vote, and set the machine for the next voter.

MISS EDITH CLAPP MARRIED AT HOME

Frank D. Bennett, of Gloucester, Mass., Takes Her as His Bride.

WEDDING A QUIET ONE

REVS. J. P. TAYLOR AND W. MONTGOMERY DOWNEY OFFICIATE.

Miss Meade, of New York, Maid-of-Honor — W. T. Gammage, of Gloucester, Mass., Best Man—Honeymoon in the Berkshires.

Miss Edith F. Clapp, daughter of Mrs. John Clapp, and Frank D. Bennett, of Gloucester, Mass., were quietly married last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, 84 Mercer avenue. Rev. J. P. Taylor, retired, officiated, assisted by Rev. W. Montgomery Downey, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross. There were not one hundred people present at the wedding, it being a quiet home affair to which only the relatives of the bridal party and a few intimate friends were invited.

The house was made unusually attractive by a generous display of palms, ferns and chrysanthemums interspersed here and there with pretty autumn leaves. The contrast of color in the chrysanthemums and the autumn leaves made the wedding arch particularly handsome. The ceremony was performed beneath the canopy of flowers.

Miss Clapp was attended by a maid-of-honor, Miss Leontine Munoz Meade, of New York. The bridal party, on entering the parlors were preceded by two little flower girls, the Misses Margaret and Gertrude Hussey, of Princeton, both cousins of the bride. The best man was W. T. Gammage, of Gloucester, Mass. The ushers were A. Jerome Booth, of Hartford, Conn.; Arthur C. Trainer, of Boston, Mass.; Edward Swan, of Gloucester, Mass., and Howard Tarrill, of this city. The bride being given away by her uncle, Samuel Lloyd, of Brooklyn.

Miss Clapp wore a gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with lace and carried a large bouquet of lillies of the valley. The maid-of-honor wore white mulle trimmed with applique and carried roses. The flower girls were attired in white Swiss.

The gift of the groom to the bride was a handsome pearl and diamond sunburst and the bride's present to the groom was a gold watch and chain. The groom presented scarf pins to his ushers.

After the ceremoney a short reception was held and later Mr. and Mrs. Bennett left for the Berkshires, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside in Gloucester, Mass.

Among those present were: Alfred P. Merchant, G. O. Stacey, Gloucester, Mass.; and Mrs Charles Currier, and Mrs. Samuel Leach, of Manchester, Mass.; Mrs. George Hussey, of Princeton, and Mrs. F. W. O. Hayes and Miss Hayes, of Chicago; George A. Stacy, Alfred P. Merchant, of Gloucester, Mass.; Miss Josephine Wilder, of Brookline, Mass.; Mrs. Charles M. Currier and Mrs. Daniel Leach, of Manchester, Mass.; Mrs. F. W. O. Hayes and Miss Hayes, of Chicago.

VICTIM NOT IDENTIFIED.

Body of Man Killed on Railroad Remains in Cole's Morgue.

The body of the unknown man killed by a train at Westfield early Tuesday morning, is still at George Cole's morgue awaiting identification. The only indication of the dead man's identity found on his person was the piece of paper bearing the words "Frank Rowan in care of Thomas O'Donald." People from New Brunswick and several other places have viewed the remains but none has claimed them. A Brooklyn man telephoned to Cole last night that he would endeavor to identify the body today. Unless the relatives of the dead man are discovered today, the body will be buried tomorrow morning.

Karesz to Serve Time.

John Karesz, a Pole, who has been given the police considerable trouble from his inability to account for himself, was taken to Elizabeth Wednesday to serve a thirty day sentence on the charge of vagrancy. The police have doubts of the man's sanity.

—Chief T. O. Doane, of the local fire department, was among the interested spectators of the firemen's parade and exercisis at Somerville, yesterday afternoon.

MAD ATTACK OF FRENZIED NEGRO

Crazed With Drink Unknown Man Struggles Savagely With Thos. Randolph.

THE ASSAILANT ESCAPES

PATROLMEN SEARCH IN VAIN FOR THE DESPERATE INTRUDER.

Bicycle Left Behind Furnishes Only Clue in the Case—Wheel Stolen From Spencer Conway—The Attack on Mr. Randolph.

In the dark entry way of his home at 414 Central avenue Wednesday night, Thomas Randolph grappled with a negro crazed with drink, and swayed and struggled with him for desperate minutes that seemed hours. The men fought as though for life itself until the delirious strength of the drunken man spent itself and he broke away and escaped.

Randolph's assailant is not known. He was heard by the inmates of the household fumbling with the lock in the first front door several minutes before Randolph opened the door to investigate. As soon as the door was ajar the negro made a mad rush for the white man and the struggle resulted. One of Randolph's guests aided him in his struggle, the others being too frightened to move.

Randolph summoned the police directly after the negro had made his escape and Patrolmen Flynn and Vanderweg searched vainly the premises of residents for a block around. The man left behind him a wheel as the only indication of his identity. This was taken to police headquarters and claimed yesterday by Spencer Conway who explained that he had left his wheel outside the door of a house on West Front street and that it had been stolen from him.

Preceding the election Mrs. Whiton read a paper on "Loyalty to Our Denominational Work," in which she spoke of the many difficulties a missionary experiences in his chosen field.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the union at Germantown, Pa.

Reinhart finished second yesterday in this championship division, with a total score of 83, while Baker made a 92. Today Reinhart will meet Walter Egan, of Harvard and Baker will meet Chick, of Harvard. Yesterday, Reinhart beat Murdock, of Harvard, 1 up, and Baker beat Winston, of Harvard, 4 up and 3 to play.

To Distribute School Funds.

The State Board of Education is at work again and arrangements are being made in the office of State Treasurer Frank O. Briggs at Trenton for the distribution, early next week, of the $916,389 52 due the different school districts as the State's annual portion of the system's expense. A number of new and separate school districts have been created in several counties.

William Jeffery Sang.

John B. Oakley, of Elizabeth, was in charge of the meeting at the Rescue Mission, last night, when an unusually large number of people was present. A feature of the service were the vocal solos by William Jeffery.

COLORED PEOPLE REJOICED GREATLY

The Mt. Olive Baptist Church Opened Its Doors After Undergoing Extensive Repairs.

MAYOR JENKINS SPOKE

MANY OTHERS MADE CONGRATULATORY REMARKS.

Special Music by Two Choirs—List of Contributors to the Church Fund—An Essay on the Race Problem—Other Details.

Resplendent in its fresh decorations the Mt. Olive Baptist Church was opened for services last night for the first time after having been closed for the past five months for alterations and repairs. The occasion was observed fittingly by a special service of song and by speeches by Mayor Jenkins and others influential in making possible the church improvements.

The church has been entirely renovated. The walls have been repapered, new cushions have been supplied, new carpets laid, new electric light fixtures hung and all other up-to-date equipments of a church edifice installed. With its improvements the church interior presents a most attractive appearance. The floral decorations of the pulpit and platform last night were especially beautiful.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell, a former pastor of the church, was master of ceremonies. After prayer had been offered by Rev. J. W. Anderson, of South America, Mayor O. L. Jenkins made brief remarks congratulating the pastor and congregation on their new home and wishing them success in their work. Congratulatory remarks were also made by H. T. Compton, of the First Baptist Church, Henry De Mott and W. M. Kirk, all of whom has contributed something to the fund for making the repairs. Joseph Mitchell read an essay on "The Race and its Problem," stating that the negro race does not seek social equality, but asks from white people recognition and help in its attempt to build upon what is the noblest in the characters of its members. Miss Ida Mitchell read a paper on "Beauty without Culture."

Special musical selections by the senior and junior choirs of the church interspersed the speeches. The senior choir was led by Richard E. Randolph. The organist was Horatio Randolph.

Rev. Scott Wallace, of the Calvary Baptist Church, A. G. Young, of New Brunswick, and Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of Mt. Olive Church, whose labors had made the repairs and improvements possible, were the other speakers. Each member of the senior choir presented Mr. Jackson with a bouquet of chrysanthemums at the conclusion of his address. The exercises were followed by an informal reception and entertainment over which Mrs. Leila Fields had charge. It was announced that a special sermon by Rev. A. J. Anderson, of South American, and social was scheduled for tonight in the church.

The list of contributors to the church fund for repairing the church was read by Rev. E. E. Jackson and included the following: Mrs. David J. Boice, Mrs. Sarah R. FREIGHT WRECK BLOCKS TRAFFIC

Cars Telescoped on Central, Near Grant Avenue, But No One Was Injured.

TWO CARS WERE BURNED

DRUNKEN MEN FOUND NEAR THE SCENE OF THE WRECK ARRESTED.

Quantity of Tea Scattered About Track—Train Was Moving at the Rate of Forty Miles An Hour—Cause of the Wreck.

A Philadelphia and Reading freight train going West at about 12:30 o'clock this morning was wrecked between Clinton and Grant avenues, completely blocking all four tracks for several hours. The train was running down grade at the rate of forty miles an hour when it broke. The engineer not knowing that the rear of his train was running wild, noticed a red signal against him and threw on his air brake. The result was that the cars collided, piled up and fell across the tracks.

Drill engine 37 from Dunellen and the wrecker from Jersey City were called to the scene and by 7 o'clock this morning the tracks were all cleared. Two cars were so badly broken that it was necessary to burn them, and in this way, it is said, that some of their contents, consisting of advertising matter was destroyed. One of the other cars contained a large shipment of tea and this was scattered over the tracks.

Two drunken men lying in a field near the scene of the wrecked freight train near Clinton avenue were arrested by Marshal Mahan, of Dunellen, last night. A number of valuables, including silverware and watches and a suit of clothes that had never been worn, found on their persons, brought suspicion against them. This storm has been denied, however, by Chief Kiely, of this city, who states that the men were released from lack of proof against them.

Plainfield is the first municipality to make use of it, and according to Tax Collector Frank Smith, the city will continue to make use of it whenever necessary.

G. H. FROST'S SON WEDS CHICAGO GIRL

Miss Evelyn Newton Lynas Bride of George Harwood Frost, of London, Eng.

SOCIETY FOLK THERE

MARRIAGE CEREMONY BRILLIANT AFFAIR AT HOME OF BRIDE'S PARENTS.

Francis W. Frost, of This City, Best Man—Handsome Gifts—The Bride Charmingly Gowned—To Live in England.

Miss Evelyn Newton Lynas, of Chicago, Ill., and George Harwood Frost, of London, England, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Frost, of Watchung avenue, this city, were married at a brilliant ceremony in the home of the bride's parents in Vernon street, Chicago, last evening. There was a great outpouring of society folk to attend the nuptial event, both the bride and the groom being members of exclusive sets.

Mrs. Saltinstall-Taylor, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Francis W. Frost, of this city, a brother of the groom, was best man. The scene of the wedding, a large parlor in the Lynas mansion, was elaborately adorned. Huge masses of cut flower, chiefly roses, were placed here and there with fetching effect, and the palms and potted plants were banked up against the walls, lending an attractive appearance to the room.

The bride was gowned in white chiffon cloth and Irish crochet lace, exceedingly becoming to her style of beauty. She wore a veil of tulle and at her throat was a large diamond brooch. A bit of color was given to the toilet by an old English necklace of amethysts. This exquisite necklace was the gift of the groom.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held, there being fully 250 guests gathered in the home. During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Frost left for the East. After spending a few days in New York they will sail for Europe, where their honeymoon will be spent. Mr. and Mrs. Frost will reside in England.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Lynas and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Frost, of this city, who were present at the wedding ceremony.

MISS NEWELL MARRIED.

Quietly Wedded to William Stevens Slape, No Guests Being Present at the Ceremony.

Miss Olive Newell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Newell, of Westervelt avenue, and William Stevens Slape, of East Second street, were married Wednesday night at the parsonage of Trinity Reformed Church by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck. The only persons present to witness the ceremony were Dr. Schenck and his wife. After a wedding trip the couple will reside in this city. The bride was formerly a school teacher and her last position was in the Public School at Westfield. The groom holds a responsible position with the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York.

Probably Fatally Injured.

Edward Hoy, of Easton, Pa., head brakeman on a New Jersey Central freight train, was taken to the hospital this forenoon in the ambulance, suffering from the fracture of several ribs and other external and internal injuries. Hoy, who was in charge of the shifting of freight cars at Bound Brook, was caught between a freight car and the freight station, close by, and before he could get out of the way, sustained the several injuries. While his condition is not considered serious, he will probably be detained at the hospital some time.

WARREN ENGINE CO. RECEIVES APPLAUSE

North Plainfield's Crack Drilling Fire Boys Much Admired at Somerville.

CARRY OFF THE HONORS

INDEPENDENT FIFE AND DRUM CORPS FINEST IN THE PARADE.

Great Entertainment Afforded by Somerville Department—Dinner a Feature—Assemblyman Swackhamer Speaks.

Warren Engine Company No. 1, of North Plainfield, captured all the honors for being the best drilled company represented by the largest number of men in the firemen's day parade at Somerville yesterday afternoon. All along the line of march the company, in neat uniform won unstinted applause from the throngs which lined the curbs along the route. Led by Captain William C. Smith, the company went through intricate evolutions. Such a hit did the local firemen make that the judges without hesitation awarded them honorable mention.

It was a great day in the history of the County seat. Fully 5,000 visitors were in the town. The houses were artistically decorated with bunting, flags and streamers and across the streets huge banners were strung welcoming the fire fighters to the town.

The North Plainfield company was represented by seventy-five men, all in uniform. They were headed by the Liberty Fife and Drum Corps, of Elizabeth and in the rear was the engine, which formerly belonged to the city department. The Independent Fife and Drum Corps was cheered all along the line and deservedly so for it eclipsed all others in the parade.

At the head of the parade was Chief of the Somerville Department William D. Quick. Next came carriages containing county and municipal officials and in the carriages following were Mayor N. B. Smalley, Councilman Robert Clark, Jr., James K. Arnold, Tax Collector George F. Brown, Recorder Thomas Doud, Charles M. Dolliver, Republican candidate for Assembly, Chief Thadeous O. Doane, of the Plainfield Fire Department, and Borough Clerk Rowley. Among the chiefs of the various fire companies in line was Chief of the North Plainfield Fire Department Julius J. Stahl.

There were ten bands and a fife and drum corps in line. At the head of the parade was the old hand engine which was used when the first fire brigade was organized in Somerville in 1850.

The North Plainfield fire laddies were the guests of the Central Hook and Ladder Company and the reports from the members show that the Central firemen are lavish entertainers. In the evening the local firemen were entertained by the Somerville fire department at a dinner in Woollen's mill where 800 sat down to a bountiful repast, four ministers being among the guests. Among those who responded to toasts were Chief Stahl, Captain Smith and many others. No intoxicating liquors were served. The day was an ideal one for the parade and the North Plainfield fire fighters proved themselves an honor to the borough.

Among those who made addresses was Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer. He paid a tribute to the firemen of Somerset County and declared that they were well deserving of the honors which were being showered upon them yesterday.

Special mention is due the members of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, of this city, who paraded for the first time in their new uniforms yesterday. All along the line they were cheered for their neat appearance in line and the catchy airs which they played.

Cut His Instep.

William Rayn, colored, a house-cleaner, was following his vocation on Tuesday, when he met with a painful accident. He was lifting a large piece of statuary, when it broke in two pieces, one of which fell on Rayn's foot, cutting the instep badly. He is now detained from work.

MAD MAN RAVES IN THE STREET

Randolph T. Hoagland Receives Tax Bill and Becomes Insane.

FRIGHTENS HIS WIFE

SAID HE WAS GOING TO MOUNTAINS—SEARCHING PARTY ORGANIZED.

Found Raving and Shouting on Park Avenue by Patrolman Saffron—Doctors Pronounce Him Insane.

While discussing taxes yesterday afternoon at the lunch table with his wife, Randolph T. Hoagland, carpenter, of 17 Linden avenue, went suddenly insane and grasping a large bread knife from the table and after flourishing it about excitedly dashed from the house saying he was going to live in the mountains hereafter. He dashed up Somerset street and eluded pursuers until early midnight when he was found on Park avenue by Patrolman Saffron who placed him under arrest. Once in jail he began to rave. He is believed to be insane and this morning Drs. Zeglio and Buchanan examined the man and passed a tentative verdict of insanity.

Hoagland has been apparently in good health for almost a year. He has had business troubles and, being subject to worry, he brooded over his difficulties. When he sat down to the mid-day meal he was in a desultory mood and had but little to say. He declared that he had been presented with a poll tax bill and this, it is said, incensed him. He was still talking about this matter when he became suddenly deranged. His wife was alarmed at his actions and rushed to the home of neighbors.

Acting Chief Marshal Blaich was notified and a searching party was organized and the woods were scoured for several hours without success. The man eluded his pursuers and finally out-distanced them. When he was found on Park avenue he was uttering wild screams and seemed to be in a dazed condition when questioned. He could not give his name and declared that his home was in the mountains. The police did not know who their prisoner was until this morning when his relatives arrived at the jail and identified him.

Still raving he was taken to his home on Linden avenue, where he was examined by the physicians. A reporter called at the house but the family would have nothing to say beyond stating that preparations were being made to take the unfortunate man to Trenton.

STILL ANOTHER TRIBE.

Meno Tribe, No. 242, I. O. R. M., Instituted at Westfield.

A new tribe of Red Men was installed at Westfield last night and a large number from Miantonomo and Wetumpkah tribes, of this city, attended the exercises and banquet. The new tribe, which includes thirty-eight members, will be known as Meno Tribe, No. 242 and will be included in District 47 under Deputy Great Sachem J. H. Green. The installation officers were Great Sachem W. H. Whitmre, assisted by Great Chief of Records Daniel M. Stevens, Great Senior Sagamore Fred P. Rees, Great Machenewa Charles Thompson and Past Great Sachem William Newcorn, who acted as prophet. The exemplification of degrees was in charge of the degree team of Miantonomo Tribe, headed by Past Sachem C. L. Holstein. Delegations attended the ceremonies from Plainfield, Cranford, Elizabeth, Washington, Somerville and Perth Amboy.

Negro Railroaded.

Benjamin Van de Voort, colored, was taken to the Somerville jail yesterday by Constable William E. Pangborn, charged with violating the borough health ordinance. There has been a case of scarlet fever in Washington valley for the past two days and it has been confined in Van de Voort's house. Regardless of the instructions given by the Board of Health cautioning him to keep away from the borough until the place has been disinfected he continued to come to town. He would not get out yesterday and he was taken before a justice of the peace and sentenced to Somerville.

John W. Connors, Jr., of West Fourth street, attended the firemen's parade at Somerville, yesterday, as a guest of the Bound Brook fire department.

THE sensational values offered at our stores are fast increasing our popularity. The immense sales of last week have passed far above the mark of our own expectations. We are thankful to the public for the intelligent comparison they have made of the values offered in our store with that of other stores, and the opportunity the people of this city gave us to save them hundreds of dollars on their fall and winter garments, and assure them that the confidence they have invested in us will inspire us to labor still harder to increase the standard of values and not only to maintain but to decrease the Moderate Prices. We are glad that the people are coming to perceive more clearly every day that the claim of the small one-horse concern to be able to offer the values we do is a hopeless case. They neither have the opportunity nor the means to produce such high grade goods at such reasonable prices, since they are compelled to pay big profits to the Middleman and which must be added to the goods. No matter where you now trade, or how you buy, you will eventually trade with us for the sake of convenience and economy.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

"Hiawatha," the latest musical craze which is strung off by the yard by almost every hurdy-gurdy on the streets, and which is considered by amateur musicians to be the first piece which must be mastered in order to be considered up-to-the-minute in the musical world has been translated into Chinese and is being rendered nightly with all the Celestial variations at Gee Wah's laundry on North avenue.

Gee Wah is an up-to-date Chinaman. He believes that music hath charms to soothe the Chinaman and accordingly he purchased a phonograph. Gee Wah employes non-union labor and his employes, instead of being ruled by Sam Parks and others of his kind are ruled by the gentle strains of "Hiawatha" reduced to Chinese lingo by Gee Wah, himself.

The proprietor of the North avenue laundry has noticed that his employes have been in the habit of quitting their work here and going to New York where they can enjoy the rare dish of chop suey and birds' nests a la New York and attend their native theatre. He put his Celestial brains at work to devise a method of keeping his employes at home and provide them with those things which charm the Oriental inner man and at the same time appeals to the theatrical instincts of his fellow laundrymen. He arranged to have chop suey served on toast; on the half shell, fried, baked or broiled—any way at all to suit their tastes, if they would only eat it here in Plainfield instead of New York. This was a great scheme but how was he to bring a Chinese theatre here.

Be it said to his credit as an enterprising merchant that he considered opening a theatre in the abandoned opera house, but when he considered that Richard Mansfield and Southern could not appear in that touching Chinese ballad, "Little Ah Sid," or the "Mystery of the Chop Suey Factory," he was compelled to give it up. The phonograph idea struck him and he accordingly purchased one.

One night last week with curtain drawn and the laundrymen sitting on ironing boards stretched across counters a concert was given to which all the Chinese in this city were invited. The phonograph was wound up and the refreshments were passed around and Gee Wah's trouble was at an end. There was no fear of strikes, no deserting laundrymen, peace reigned within the camp and all were joyfully listening to "Hiawatha" reduced to Chinese, between bites of chop suey and French sardines.

AMUSEMENTS.

Francis Wilson tumbled down stairs in a most unique way some years ago. At the same time he tumbled into fame. The little stunt took place in "Erminie," a comedy, of which the public will never tire. He's up to his old tricks again. See him at the Casino.

The big musical comedy success in New York is, of course, "Peggy From Paris" at Wallack's Theatre written by George Ade of "Fables in Slang" fame and produced by Henry W. Savage. Like Mr. Savage's earlier productions, "King Dodo," "The Prince of Pilsen" and "The Sultan of Sulu," the new musical play has captured New York and is in for a long run. One of the features of "Peggy From Paris" is that its fun is always clean.

"Merta of the Lowlands," the Spanish play now running at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, can be seen but a short time, as its engagement of this house will end on Oct. 31, and it will be succeeded on Nov. 2 by James K. Hackett in his new play, "John Ermine," which is one of the most successful that Mr. Hackett has yet appeared in. "Merta of the Lowlands" was originally intended for but three weeks at the Manhattan, that being the only available time between the engagement of Mrs. Fiske and that of Mr. Hackett.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages there should be cleanliness.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.

LITERARY.

The announcement in the November McClure's that Miss Tarbell will again take up her "History of the Standard Oil Company" in the December number will interest many who have followed the first series. These articles, each complete in itself and together forming a complete history, have been a tremendous hit. Another "History of Standard Oil" has appeared in book form lately, but after one has read this one, that of Miss Tarbell remains and burns. It is announced that Miss Tarbell will end her series with a character sketch of John D. Rockefeller—this will be a great document.

The narrowness of the island on which Little Old New York is built, and into which is packed during the working hours of each day a population drawn from a radius of fifty miles, makes its traffic problem the most difficult of any city of the world. Surface and elevated lines are destined to be thrown across the city like a net; its sub-cuticle to be honeycombed with tunnels. Two railway tunnels are already in process of construction under the North river from the New Jersey shore. Others are proposed. One of the tunnels will pass under the city and the East river, and thence to Long Island; the city is already building its own tunnel from the Battery to Brooklyn. A second subway is proposed from Forty-second Street south, on Broadway, and other streets, to the Battery, while a third will probably extend northward from Forty-second street under Lexington avenue to the Bronx.—Collier's Weekly.

—Ira W. Travell, chairman of the educational work committee of the Y. M. C. A., will meet young men interested in the study of bookkeeping at the Y. M. C. A. this evening. Young men who wish to study stenography under J. D. Macnab are also invited to be present tonight.

NEW ORGANIZATION FOR BOYS FORMED BY MR. ROBBIE AND THE PASTOR.

For Lads Between Ten and Sixteen Years of Age—Objects of Organization.

What promises to be a very successful work for boys was started last night in the Epworth House of the Monroe Avenue Church, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. John Mc Murray and Kenneth Robbie, boys' secretary at the Y. M. C. A.

At the first meeting held last night there were fifteen boys present and the movement was given a good start. Mr. Robbie outlined the plans of the scheme. The idea is to give each boy a ticket which gives him certain privileges at the Y. M. C. A. for a nominal fee. In addition to the spiritual side of the work, there will be the athletic features to interest the boys. They will have their own officers, a nominating committee being appointed last night from among the older boys, who will recommend a set of officers to be elected at the meeting to be held Thursday night, October 29, at the same place. The plan is to have a meeting each Thursday night and after the organization is perfected a line of work will be planned for the winter.

The organization will be known as the Monroe Avenue Branch of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A. The age limit was fixed last night between 10 and 16, this being considered just and wise.

POLITICAL TALK OF THE DAY

Governor Franklin Murphy will probably occupy as New Jersey's executive mansion during the legislative session of 1904 the handsome residence of John H. Scudder, at 205 West State street, Trenton. When Governor Murphy was elected and desired to make his executive residence in Trenton during the session he endeavored to persuade Mr. Scudder to lease his house. Mr. Scudder declined.

From the returns made by the boards of registry in the several wards in Elizabeth a falling off of 848 votes is found from the registry of last year. The total registration of the twelve wards in the city this time is 11,069. Last year it was 11,417. It is noted that in only the First and Eleventh wards is there an increase in the registration this year over last.

The Trenton True American says: "The Democratic campaign started with real work Monday and the county will be canvassed thoroughly by the nominees. That the popularity of John L. Anderson, the nominee for county clerk, is growing beyond the expectations of his many friends is a reality. Everywhere are heard good words spoken for him, and one very prominent man Monday offered to bet two to one that he would be elected. Some think Anderson will get a majority of at least 500, but conservative Democrats place it at 300. Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer will receive the support of every Democrat and a large number of Republicans in Somerset County. The Democratic candidates will receive very large majorities in Bernards, Bedminster and Bridgewater."

PERSONAL.

Justice R. P. F. vonMinden is spending the third week of his vacation at his home in New Market.

Mrs. Clarence Holman, of Pittsfield, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Yates, of East Seventh street.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—A rubber plant, ten feet high, is the latest addition to the furnishings of the reading room at fire headquarters.

—Rockdale butter is like the United States navy. It is invincible. It is superior to all others and it stands the test of critical inspection. Neuman Brothers have it.

—The repairs made to several local trolley cars are appreciated by the public in this city. The cars are a great improvement and, if the company will only continue the good work, there will be no cause for complaint.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATHR NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

BEGINNING RIGHT.

A Wife Who Trained Her Husband, and the Result.

"I was brought up in Germany," said Mrs. Harman. "In our part of the country workingmen usually gave all their wages to their wives so soon as they received them. The wife kept the family purse, bought food, clothing and paid the other expenses of the household, giving the husband such sums as he desired for his own personal use. The plan worked very well. I naturally expected if I ever married to do as my mother and grandmother before me had done—keep the family purse.

"I was married soon after coming to America. I realized beforehand that if my husband and I were to get ahead in the world I must look after the outlay in our family. I resolved to begin right at the start, when my husband was still soft and loving and would do anything for his bride.

"NO; YOU GIVE IT ALL TO ME."

"You can hardly believe it, but my husband was earning only $10 a week when we were married. We had two rooms rented and furnished, and we went into them and set up housekeeping at once. Our modest wedding festivities were quickly over, and my husband went back to business. The morning he did so he laid a one dollar bill upon the mantelpiece.

"'What is that for?' I asked him.

"'Why, it's for you to pay out for house expenses, of course.'

"'No, no, sweetheart,' I said. 'You give all your money to me, and I will take care of it. Here is this little cabinet that I have. There are two keys to it. I will keep one, you keep the other. You give me your wages every week, dear, and I will put them in the cabinet. When you need money unlock it and get what you want. I will do the same. That's the best way, isn't it, for us both to be suited?'

"A man who has only been married three days cannot deny his wife anything, and of course my lover-husband said yes, and there never was any trouble between us about money from that day on. I tell you a bride must start right with a man in the very beginning."

Mrs. Harman was too modest to continue and tell the result of her financial management, but here it is:

As time went on the young wife found she could save a little even on $10 a week. She saved it, and as the sum swelled she invested it, wisely keeping matters of this sort mostly to herself. Children came—dear, bright little sons and daughters; the husband's pay increased; still this model wise woman of King Solomon looked well to the ways of her household and went on laying by such small sums as she could. By and by with the money she had saved her husband was able to go into business for himself.

Then their day of prosperity began, the wife still having charge of the purse. That fact gave her a dignity and consideration from her husband and sons nothing else could have done. This is quite true. Money does talk.

Still better days came. This household economist at length purchased an apartment building and kept it in her own name for herself. A branch of the husband's business was established in Havana, and one of the sons was sent there to take charge of it. He married and lives in Havana, the Cuban venture meantime having grown to be a large commercial house. The husband has retired and has nothing to do except be happy and wax fat and wonder how he will put in his time.

Whether he ever speculates on what would have happened if his bride had allowed him to keep all the money and dole it out to her a dollar at a time one does not know. It is doubtful if he ever would have accumulated much. Like many men, he was in the habit of buying whatever hit his fancy, whether he needed it or not. His wife bought only what he, she and their children needed, saving the rest and investing it. Woman is the natural economist and conservator of the human race, only in our back foremost stage of evolution the natural order has become reversed. We shall get back to it again.

This is a true story. Along with all the financiering on her own account and being the household bursar for half a century, Mrs. Harman has remained from first to last the gentle, lovable, most loving of women, adored by her family, looked up to by her husband and sons.

BENNETT WILL CASE

William J. Bryan Testifies as to the $50,000 Bequest.

CARVED UP THE BENNETT ESTATE

Legacy Was Left, Accordiag to Mr. Bryan, to Provide For His Old Age or Failing Health.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 23.—In the Bennett will case W. J. Bryan began his testimony by saying that, as advised by his counsel, he would accept the $50,000 bequest in case the laws of Connecticut made it desirable for him to do so. In this statement he revoked the assertion he made previously. He said, further, that if he did accept the $50,000 he would not eventually use it for himself or his family, but would devote it to charitable institutions unless Mrs. Bennett gave her consent to its use by the Bryan family.

Judge Stoddard sharply cross questioned Mr. Bryan about the preparation in Lincoln of the papers which blocked out the will as it was originally drafted. He asked Mr. Bryan if he had the original letter. Mr. Bryan said "No," and the following dialogue ensued:

"Who was present at the conference at which these papers were drawn?"

"I am not sure that any one was except Mr. Bennett and myself, although Mrs. Bryan typewrote them. I may add that Mrs. Bryan's study of the law was not with any idea of practicing, but that we might have more things in common."

"Didn't Mrs. Bryan participate in the discussion and suggest that Mrs. Bennett might oppose the bequest?"

"Not at that time."

"It was your judgment that $25,000 of this bequest shouldn't go to charitable and educational institutions, but to your own family, then?"

"I did tell Mrs. Bennett about the provisions of the will after Mr. Bennett's death."

"Why didn't you, when you were carving up the Bennett estate, tell Mrs. Bennett what you were doing with it?"

"I don't think we made it clear."

"What you will was drawn I understand that Mr. Bennett paid you $300. What did he give you that for?"

"For drawing the will, I suppose, although he had given me money before."

"In the second clause of the will Mr. Bennett gives his wife three houses in Bridgeport. Did Mr. Bennett own these houses?"

"I don't know where the title vested."

"Assuming that Mr. Sloan's statement is correct that Mr. Bennett never owned these houses, would you be willing that this loss to the widow should be made good?"

"Yes, out of the partnership share."

"Out of your share?"

Mr. Bryan here went into a lengthy statement, declining to make good the loss. He said that the bequest to him was made to provide for his old age or for a possible breakdown in health. He also said that Mr. Bennett had never made an investment for Mrs. Bryan.

Lawyer Newton then asked his client, Mr. Bryan:

"Was it ever suggested by yourself or Mrs. Bryan that he give you the $50,000?"

"No, sir. We never suggested it. It came as a surprise to us when Mr. Bennett made the suggestion himself."

Mr. Bryan then made a statement which somewhat modified his answer that no money had been invested for Mrs. Bryan by Mr. Bennett. He said that when he received the royalties on his book "The First Battle" he gave Mrs. Bryan, who wrote the biographical sketch, a sum amounting to about $4,000.

Santos-Dumont at St. Louis.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—Santos-Dumont, the famous Brazilian aeronaut, said in regard to the St. Louis contest:

"If there are no modifications of the conditions stipulated I shall participate in the contest for the aeronautic prizes. The conditions named are perfect, for the numerous difficulties prescribed enable a splendid test of the dirigibility of balloons. There will be three points to encircle instead of one, as in the contest for the Deutsch prize, in which it sufficed to double the Eiffel tower. I believe my air ship will attain the speed fixed upon. It is really an arrow, is 154 feet long, has a diameter of 22 feet and is driven by a motor having 80 horse power."

Deweys Arrested.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 23.—A deputy United States marshal went to Riley county and placed Millionaire C. P. Dewey and his son, Chauncey Dewey, under arrest on a charge of fencing government land and intimidating the settlers in Cheyenne county. The indictment was returned by the grand jury at Leavenworth and included James McBride, William McBride and William Ratcliffe, employees of the Deweys on their western ranch. Among the principal witnesses for the government will be the Berry boys, whose relatives were murdered some months ago on a ranch near the Dewey home.

May Be E. L. Wentz.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 23.—The dead body of an unknown man was found by the roadside near Clinton, not far from this city. Nothing could be found to indicate his identity. He wore a "K. A. B. O." lodge pin and was handsomely dressed. The dead man may be E. L. Wentz, the young Philadelphia millionaire who has been missing from Big Stone Gap, Va., for the past week.

DEPOSITS, $700,000.00

It was but a month ago that we announced that our deposits had reached the $600,000.00 mark. Since then we have added another $100,000.00 to the total.

The number of depositors now represented on our books is over 1,400, which means that nearly one hundred accounts have been added during every month the Company has been in existence. Such a record demonstrates in an able manner that our broad and far-reaching facilities are meeting a definite need.

We continue to invite new business, subject to the following liberal terms:

On accounts of $200 or more, subject to check, 3 per cent interest is paid.

On accounts of $5.00 or more 3 per cent. interest is paid, provided the money is left on deposit for three months or longer.

JUDGE SCHENCK FIFTY YEARS OLD

Somerset County's Able Jurist Will Celebrate His Birthday Tomorrow.

SKETCH OF HIS CAREER

GRADUATED FROM RUTGERS COLLEGE TWENTY-NINE YEARS AGO.

Prominent Member of Knights of Pythias—Son of a Former State Senator—A Native of Somerset County.

But little is known in North Plainfield and in this city of the person before whom is tried the criminal cases on State warrants from the borough and throughout Somerset County, Judge Lewis H. Schenck, who, during the illness of Judge Woodbridge Strong, of Middlesex County, acted as judge of the Middlesex County courts, had the distinction of being law judge of two busy counties and at the same time of practicing law in a third. Besides looking after the trial of all cases in Middlesex County he sat at Somerville and passed upon matters judicial in Somerset County and at the same time conducted a large law business as a memer of a Newark firm of lawyers.

In the handling of criminal cases he has impressed the community and the law breakers that there must be a better respect of the laws of the State in Somerset County. His sentences are always firm but not severe. While he is ready to give a man a chance to straighten out, as it were, he believes that the ends of justice will be better met by imposing some sort of a punishment in all cases where the peace of the State has been seriously broken.

What has principally characterized his term in Somerset County has been his attitude towards the Sunday selling of liquor and he has made great efforts to break up this practice. In this he has been successful in Somerville and North Plainfield and his fines for Sunday selling have been a warning to violators of the Blue laws throughout the county. His heavy fines on the violators of the law in Middlesex County came in the form of an eye opener to saloon keepers there, who, during his term came to realize that "it is no time for mirth and laughter on the cold gray dawn of the morning after" selling liquor all day Sunday only to pay into the coffers of the State all the profits reaped from illegal traffic on the Sabbath.

Jugde Schenck is a native of Somerset County. He was born in Neshanic, where he now resides. He will celebrate his fiftieth birthday tomorrow, October 25. His father was John G. Schenck, who is now eighty years of age and who was very active in the affairs of the county during his earlier days. His father was a member of the Legislature for six years and of the Senate for three years.

Mr. Schenck was graduated from Rutgers College, New Brunswick, in the class of 1874. He read law with Magie and Cross, who is now a Senator from Union County. Mr. Magie is Chancellor. After being admitted to the bar he went to Newark where he has practiced since. For twenty years his office has been in the Globe building on Broad street. He is a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias and is chief of the Grand Tribunal of that order. He has taken an active interest in the affairs of Somerset County and has been president of the Township Board of Education for nine years. He was married to Miss Emma A. Babcock, daughter of the late John F. Babcock, in New Brunswick in 1885.

He is a resident of South avenue, this city.

REINHART WINS.

Plays Wonderful Golf in Semi-Final of Intercollegiate Tournament.

H. Chandler Egan, holder of the Intercollegiate Golf Association championship, was put out in the semi-final for that honor yesterday at the Garden City Golf Club by W. C. Chick, 2 up and 1 to play, and in the other half of the round, Frank O. Reinhart beat H. B. McFarland, for two years the runner up, by 3 up and 2 to play. Reinhart and Chick will play out the final today at thirty-six holes.

The best match of yesterday morning and of the tournament was marked by the defeat of Walter E. Egan, champion of the Western Golf Association, by Reinhart, who waged a great uphill fight. A 3 at the third, a stroke under par, made Reinhart 1 up and it was the only hole not halved until the sixth, when Egan had the match square. He had gone out in 38 and at the tenth the Western champion was 3 up. Then Reinhart began some wonderful golfing, making the remaining eight holes in 33 strokes, a pace too fast for Egan, who lost the match by 1 up.

In the second round, W. C. Chick beat J. Whitney Baker, by 1 up in nineteen holes.

SUIT AGAINST FAIR ESTATE

COLLATERAL HEIR CLAIMS $1,041.66 FROM ESTATE OF C. L. FAIR.

Written Agreement Basis of Action Which Has Been Commenced in SanFrancisco.

A dispatch from San Francisco says that James Fair, son of Andrew Fair and a nephew of James G. Fair, has filed suit against Herman Oelrichs, as administrator of the estate of Charles L. Fair, for $1,041.66, alleged to be due in settlement of his claim against the James G. Fair estate.

A written agreement was made by Charles L. Fair, Mrs. Oelrichs and Miss Virginia Fair, now Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., children of James G. Fair, to pay to the collateral heirs of their father $11,000 in settlement of their claim of interest in certain trust funds. James Fair declares that his share was $3,125, one-third of which was due from Mr. Fair at the time of his death. He now seeks this amount from the estate.

WHY BUCKLE WASN'T NAMED

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY MADE IN THE OFFICE OF AN ELIZABETH PAPER.

Elizabeth Journal Says Former Friends Turned Buckle Down for Renomination.

The Elizabeth Journal yesterday contained this "pipe dream:"

"Those outside the secret are still condering why the Republicans who bolted the recent county convention because their candidate, James F. Buckle, of Plainfield, was not named for Assembly, turned him down when his name was proposed in the city convention Monday night for renomination to the Plainfield Council. Mr. Buckle has been president of the Council for the past year, and was believed to be a candidate for renomination. He has been a councilman for six years past, and was a champion of the local administration party, which was led by City Clerk James T. MacMurray. When his supporters were so anxious to name him for Assembly, it was a foregone conclusion with the majority of the Plainfield Republicans that his supporters would at least stand pat for him for renomination to Council, because there was no doubt that he could be the nominee if his supporters would stand for him. He said he would be a candidate for Council if the nomination was made unanimous. There was no reason why he would not have fifteen of the nineteen votes in convention, and as it happened he got the four votes which he did not expect, and lost the fifteen which there was every reason to expect would be cast for him. It was very apparent that his former supporters wanted him out of the way, for a new man. They explained that the reason they did not want him nominated was because he would not get a unanimous vote. It was known that he only lacked four votes of having unanimous nomination anyway, if his former supporters would come out for him, and it happened that the only votes he thought he would not get were the only ones cast for him, so it was a flat turn down by his own people."

SUIT OVER TIMEPIECE.

JAS. T. MAC MURRAY MAKES AN ANSWER

Tells Why He Objects to the Recent Statement of the Local Kean Faction.

WRITES TO DAILY PRESS

"CAN THE REST OF THE COUNTY GET ALONG WITHOUT PLAINFIELD?"

Waxes Sarcastic About the "Fine Italian Hand of Elizabeth"—Pays Compliments to John Kean—As to the Voting Machines.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—

I have read with considerable care the statement issued yesterday by the Republican Club, wherein it sets forth at great length the many reasons why Plainfield should be grateful for any crumbs which may come to her from the political table.

That this statement should have been prepared by an organization that pretends to further the interests of Plainfield Republicans, seems beyond belief.

We of Plainfield have thought all along that we were a fairly valuable asset to the Republican party of Union County, but apparently we are in error. The Republican Club tells us that Plainfield could be wiped off the map, and yet Union County would be safely Republican. That our majorities have been growing steadily less each year; that we are a pitifully small minority at best, and the rest of the county can be safely relied upon to give us our medicine.

If this be so, where would our esteemed sheriff be today, if last year, after Elizabeth had snowed him under to the tune of 1772 votes, Plainfield had not piled up a majority for him of nearly 1300, enabling him to gain the coveted office by the paltry majority of 231 votes in the county.

Elizabeth is also said to have had no hand in overriding the wishes of the 15 delegates who made so bold as to insist that Plainfield knew what she wanted when she elected Buckle delegates by overwhelming majorities.

If all this be so; if the fine Italian hand of Elizabeth were not present, always and every where, how comes it that Hamilton Kean, chairman of the County committee, should have been able to say, with so much confidence, before the primaries were held, "One thing is certain, anyone who goes on the ticket must pledge himself for John, first, last and all the time."

Why should the candidate pledge himself for John at that particular time? Did the people elect delegates on that issue? Are the Assemblymen elected this fall to vote for a United States Senator? Certainly not. The Assemblyman nominated and elected a year from now will vote for Senator Kean's successor. The question as to who shall be Senator will then be an issue before the people at that time, and it will be time enough a year from now to ask them to pledge themselves. Why should any candidate for the high office of Senator of the United States desire to steal a march upon the voters of the county by forcing the candidates to don his collar so far in advance? Why should Elizabeth foreclose its mortgage on Plainfield's vote for United States Senator a year before it is due? Is Elizabeth afraid she cannot get pledges for her man when the times comes for voters to declare their choice?

If Elizabeth does not dictate to Plainfield, how is it that Hamilton

BADLY BURNED AT A FIRE

FRANK RUCKMAN'S CLOTHING IGNITED AS RESULT OF GASOLENE EXPLOSION.

He Rides Home Despite Injuries—Believed That Burns Will Not Prove Fatal.

While vulcanizing a large automobile tire in his shop on West Front street, adjoining the First M. E. Church, this morning, Frank Ruckman had a narrow escape from being burned to death. A small gasolene tank, becoming overcharged, exploded and set fire to Ruckman's clothing. Ruckman rushed from his shop into the piano store in front. He was crazed with fright and did not know what to do. Harry C. Hadley, and a friend named Hicks, who were nearby, threw Ruckman on the floor and then wrapped him up in several blankets. This extinguished the flames, but not until nearly all of the man's clothes were burned from his body.

With apparent superhuman strength, Ruckman rushed out of the building and jumping on his bicycle rode to his home in Craig place, where Dr. Fred Hughes was summoned. An examination disclosed the fact that from the waist down the body was frightfully burned, as were also the hands. The face was burned but little, and the upper part of the body was only slightly scorched. As yet Dr. Hughes is unable to tell how seriously the man is injured, but it is not believed the burns will prove fatal.

The damage to the repair shop was slight. An alarm sent in from box 42 brought the fire department quickly to the scene of the explosion and in a few minutes all fire was extinguished.

Those receiving were Mrs. A. T. Slauson, Miss Florence Marsh, president of the Circle, and Mrs. William C. Kinney, while other members assisted in various ways in making the affair very successful. The exact amount realized will not be known for a few days, but a satisfactory sum is assured for the purpose of carrying on the work of the Circle.

BOARDER WAS NO GENTLEMAN

KICKED OPEN THE FRONT DOOR WHEN HE CAME HOME DRUNK.

George Moncton Accused by His Landlady—Judge Runyon Gave Him Thirty Days.

George Moncton was arraigned this morning before City Judge William N. Runyon on complaint of his boarding house keeper who charged him with being drunk and disorderly about the house and not behaving as a gentleman should. Moncton had nothing to say. All that there was to say was said explicitly by the complaining proprietress of the boarding house.

Her story to the court was to the effect that the accused frequently came home in an intoxicated condition, and when he knocked for admittance, kicked the door in if it was not opened as soon as it should be. This, she declared was not the proper conduct for gentlemen boarders and she desired to have him put away. Said the Judge, "thirty days," and the prisoner straightway disappeared behind the newly erected partition, and was placed in a gilded cage.

Peter Ritter, of Dunellen, pleaded guilty to coming to town last evening and getting drunk on the money he brought to do some shopping with. He was penitent, but Judge Runyon fined him $5 or twenty days.

—State officials are indignant over the charges made against the character of New Jersey's corporation laws, owing to the investigation of the Shipbuilding Trust. There are in the State more than a dozen such concerns as the Corporation Trust Company, all of which are engaged extensively in encouraging business and other enterprises to incorporate under the laws of New Jersey. These concerns then supply the corporations with resident directors and act as the New Jersey agent both for the service of legal processes and the transfer of stock. All of these corporation promoting agencies stand high with the State officials, and the general adverse criticism of the "dummy directors" system is proving very annoying.

The Tuesday following is Election Day. We shall be compelled to close the collieries on both these days, but how many days we will actually shut down depends on conditions, among them being the weather.

All hope that the national officers of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen upon their arrival in New York would settle the "L" motormen's troubles has been shattered. Local Chief William J. Jencks declared that should the national officers decide to accept the physical examination demanded by the company the motormen will strike without their sanction. "The situation has narrowed down to one issue," said Chief Jencks, "and that is whether or not we will accept General Manager Hedley's order for the physical examination. We, the motormen employed on the 'L,' positively assert that we will not stand for this examination, and if, upon the arrival of Grand Chief Stone and Grand Master Hannahan, the company does not agree to cut out this examination, or at least modify it to suit our demands, we shall leave work."

The United Garment Workers of America and the Journeyman Tailors of America have reached an agreement for defining the jurisdiction of the two bodies and for the creation of a commitee looking to the amalgamation of these bodies, to comprise all clothing workers in the United States. This consolidation, which it expects to effect within a year, will bring in approximately 100,000 men, the membership of the United Garment Workers now embracing 60,000 and of the Journeyman Tailors' Union 40,000. The Journeyman Tailors' organization covers the custom tailoring branch and the United Garment Workers' the ready-made clothing branch. The garment workers agree not to grant a charter to the employes of any merchant tailor in any city where they have no union without first notifying the general office of the journeyman tailors for the latter's investigation as to where the proper jurisdiction really belongs. The label or union card of either union will not be granted to any firm making custom clothing under the factory system, where the firm does not furnish its own workshop. No local union of either organization will be permitted to place a boycott on clothing bearing the union label of the other organization. Whenever local unions cannot adjust disputes regarding jurisdiction over employes the question will be referred to the general secretary of the two unions, subject to appeal to the president of the American Federation of Labor as final umpire.

Which Would You Choose, Mothers? If a stern judge should order you to give up one of your two children, which do you think you could spare more easily—your little blue-eyed boy or his prattling sister? How would you decide such a question? No doubt you would have trouble doing it. But one mother, by the order of a court, finds herself confronted by just this problem today. "You must give up either your little girl or your little boy," says inexorable justice. Can you help her to choose? Perhaps you can do so after seeing her picture and those of her children, and reading all about their sad story in next Sunday's New York World.

Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses and heals the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and cures Catarrh easily and pleasantly. Cold in the head vanishes quickly. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail.

Catarrh caused difficulty in speaking and to a great extent loss of hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved.—J. W. Davidson, Att'y at Law, Monmouth, Ill.

SPORTING WORLD.

Lou Dillon's Trial Was Postponed. Flintlock Won at St. Louis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 24.—On account of the untoward weather conditions Lou Dillon, 2:00, did not attempt to lower her record. A large crowd was in attendance at the Driving park to see the Billings mare go against time, but after a consultation with Mr. Billings and Trainer Millard Sanders it was announced by the judges that the attempt would be postponed. The day was raw and cold, and a strong wind, amounting almost to a gale, blew directly down the back stretch.

Reinhart and Chick In Finals.

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Oct. 24.—At the match play in the Intercollegiate Golf association's annual tournament on the Garden City links only two of the thirty-three collegians who started in the contest for the individual championship were left in the race. These survivors are Frank O. Reinhart of Princeton and W. C. Chick of Harvard, and they will meet in the final round of thirty-six holes to decide who shall have the honor, which was won last year by H. Chandler Egan. The latter was prominent all through the present tournament, but was defeated by another Harvard player, W. C. Chick, in the semifinal round.

Law Stopped the Fight.

NORWICH, N. Y., Oct. 24.—A ten round boxing contest between Billy Ryan of Syracuse and Johnny Burns of New York, feather weights, was to have taken place here under the auspices of the Pastime Athletic club. Acting under instructions from County Judge Gladding, Sheriff Flanagan notified the principals that the contest would be stopped and all concerned arrested if it developed into a finish fight. After consultation the leaders called the contest off.

Rostrand In a Hard Drive.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Cold, winter-like weather prevailed at Brighton Beach, and rain began falling before the last race was run. Four favorites and two second choices divided the money. The Choice stakes went to the favorite, Rostrand, after a hard drive through the stretch. Wild Thyme finished second, but was disqualified for being three pounds short in weight. Redfern, her rider, was fined $200.

"Emergency" Kelly on Top.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 24.—A special from Marlboro says: "'Emergency' Kelly of Boston was awarded the decision over Johnny Burdick of New York before the Highland Athletic club, Patsy McKenna of Boston got the decision over Johnny Fisher of Worcester and Kid Powell of Woonsocket, R. I., and Fred McGuire of Lowell fought a six round draw."

Flintlock Won Easily.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—Flintlock, third choice in the betting, won the feature at the fair grounds. M. Beaucaire and Bessie McCarthy led to the stretch, where Flintlock came away and won easily from Aladdin, the outsider, which outgamed McCarthy and M. Beaucaire at the end.

FEARS FOR OUTING PARTY.

Explorers In Labrador Have Been a Long Time Away.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Oct. 24.—Considerable anxiety is felt for the safety of the Labrador exploring expedition, consisting of four persons, headed by Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., of New York, assistant editor of Outing, which left Rigolet, Labrador, for the interior in a canoe.

The party had ten days' provisions, but Hubbard gave away a considerable quantity of the stores to settlers, being unwilling to delay the advance of the expedition which the transporting of this food would have involved. Each man carried a rifle, and it was proposed to live on the game killed and on the fish caught in the streams.

Manager Fraser of the Hudson Bay company's post at Rigolet; Collector Whiteley, the Newfoundland customs officer at the same station, and other reliable and experienced persons are very apprehensive as to the fate of the party. Though Hubbard was confident he would succeed in reaching the interior, nothing has been heard of the party since it left Rigolet. The region the explorers were to visit is uninhabited.

Cashier of Suspended Bank Dead.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 24.—Edward R. Kramer, cashier of the First National bank of Allegheny, which suspended, is dead at his home in Sewickley, aged fifty-six years. Death was caused by apoplexy, followed by paralysis. He had been in good health. He was at the bank on Thursday and worked late. The severe nervous strain through which he had passed during the last few days is thought to have hastened the attack.

Tramps Stole a Locomotive.

JANESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 24.—The theft of a locomotive by six drunken tramps stopped all traffic for twenty miles south of Janesville. The men stole the locomotive from the gravel pits near Beloit and started south full speed. As soon as the Janesville officers of the railroad company were notified the train dispatchers stopped every train between Janesville and Caledonia, Ill. Emergency crews with officers pursued and captured the fugitives.

Schooner Lost on Kelly's Island.

SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 24.—News has reached here of the loss of the schooner John Marks on Kelly's island. The Marks sprang a leak and was beached. [illegible] was rescued by Marblehead life savers. The Marks was from Marblehead for Fairport. The loss is said to be about $5,000.

SCHWAB'S DEFENSE.

Outlined In the Shipbuilding Case Session.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS PUT TO NIXON

Guthrie Tries to Show That Company Would Not Have Kept Above Water if Money Under Sheldon Plan Had Been Available.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The nature of the defense which Charles M. Schwab will make to the charges that have been made against him in connection with the financial affairs of the wrecked United States Shipbuilding company was sharply outlined during the latter part of the hearing before Examiner Oliphant. Lewis Nixon was still on the stand, and under cross examination by W. D. Guthrie, counsel for Mr. Schwab, there was an effort to show that the corporation would not have succeeded if the $2,000,000 promised under the Sheldon plan of reorganization had been made available and that it could not have continued its existence even if it had received the much sought for $000,000, which, it is alleged, was wrongfully withheld by the Bethlehem company.

Mr. Guthrie showed by Mr. Nixon that the $900,000 would have been absorbed without relieving the company of all of the financial embarrassment which it suffered and then asked if it would have been honest to the other creditors if the interest charges on account of bonds had been paid on July 1, the date of the crisis in the affairs of the concern.

The examination of Mr. Nixon was not concluded and will be resumed at the next hearing, which is set for a week from Monday.

ALVERSTONE'S MOTIVES.

London Papers Concede That He Acted In All Good Faith.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—With a few exceptions the London papers in their comments on the decision of the Alaska boundary tribunal adopt fairly impartial views and decline to believe that Lord Chief Justice Alverstone was actuated by other than honorable and judicial motives or that he was guilty of the breach of faith charged against him. Some, however, declare that "one more betrayal of the same nature will strain the imperial connection to the breaking point" and congratulate Mr. Chamberlain upon being out of the government on such an occasion.

They all naturally sympathize with Canada, believing that after momentary expressions of annoyance the Canadians, being a sensible people, will realize that they are as much bound by the decision as they would have been had it been wholly favorable to them and that if Lord Alverstone's mind was unconsciously biased it was not certainly in the American direction. They seem heartily glad that such a difficult question has been settled, because it might imaginably have led to war between the United States and Great Britain.

Some in an extremely sensible mood point out that the decision is perfectly consistent with the Bering sea award and that Canada ought to remember the trumph of yesterday in the bitterness of today.

Fifty Millions For Improvements.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 24.—George J. Gould of New York has addressed a letter to Chairman Luce of the levee committee in which he praises the objects of the Mississippi valley levee convention, to be held here next week, and expresses the hope that through it the interest of congress will be aroused to the extent of providing liberal appropriations for levee protection. He adds that the railroad interests with which he is connected have underway and partially completed improvements which will call for the expenditure of between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000, the bulk of which is to be in the Mississippi valley. This has been undertaken in the belief that the investment will be protected from damage by floods and inundation.

Italy's Exhibit at St. Louis.

ROME, Oct. 24.—The royal commission appointed to provide for Italy's participation in the St. Louis exposition is meeting here daily. It has been decided that Signor Branchi, the Italian consul general at New York, who is now here as a member of the commission, shall sail on the North German Lloyd steamer Wilhelm II., which leaves Southampton and Cherbourg Nov. 4 for New York. On his arrival in the United States he will go direct to St. Louis and arrange the Italian section. In the meanwhile the Italian ambassador to the United States, Signor Mayor des Planches, who is also here, will visit the principal Italian towns and will explain to all the chambers of commerce the importance of the exhibition.

Farmer Drops Dead In Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 24.—An unidentified man, apparently a farmer and upward of sixty years old, dropped dead in the Union station. He had a ticket from Troy to Poughkeepsie and is supposed to be from Cambridge, Washington county, although there was nothing on his person by which to identify him. The body is in the custody of Coroner Schupp.

Died Rather Than Leave Old Home.

SOUTH BERWICK, Me., Oct. 24.—Rather than leave the old home where he had spent the thirty-five years of his life and where his father and grandfather before him had lived and died and which had been sold over his head, George W. Peal put a bullet in his brain and fell dead at the feet of the new owner, who had come to take possession.

FREE FOOD LEAGUE

Duke of Devonshire Will Oppose Chamberlain's Policy.

COMMENDS THE AMERICAN TARIFF

Wyndham Says the Protectionist Measure of 1896 Was the Greatest Ever Introduced in the History of the World.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—At a meeting held in Westminster of the parliamentary committee of the Unionist Free Food league the Duke of Devonshire was unanimously elected president of the league, and Lord Goschen, chancellor of the exchequer in the second administration of Lord Salisbury; Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, who occupied the same office from 1895 to 1902, and C. T. Ritchie, who resigned as chancellor of the exchequer this fall, were elected vice presidents. The Duke of Manchester was present.

A manifesto issued by the league expresses its willingness to consider in a friendly and loyal spirit any definite plan the premier may submit to parliament. It criticises adversely and at considerable length, however, Joseph Chamberlain's proposals and declares they would impose all the disadvantages of an imperial zollverin, with none of its gains, and tend to promote the disintegration rather than the union of the empire, while leading inevitably to a policy of protection.

Victor Cavendish, heir to the Duke of Devonshire, speaking at Derby, made some interesting revelations. He explained that he did not like the idea of retaliation, but now he believed it was necessary to "defend British trade."

Mr. Cavendish is credited with being a free trader, and his consenting to remain in the government created comment at the time of the crisis.

Chief Secretary Wyndham, whose declaration on the fiscal question has been awaited with considerable interest, which has not been diminished by his successful land bill fight, has spoken at Dover, announcing himself as thoroughly in accord with Premier Balfour and Joseph Chamberlain in fiscal matters.

He paid a tribute to the former colonial secretary as "the man who had seen the lack of wisdom of the nation entering the commercial lists without arms and without armor."

Mr. Wyndham said that the American tariff of 1896 was the greatest protectionist tariff ever introduced in the history of the world and that its results refuted the declaration that protection killed the industry and the energy of a country. This had also been proved, he continued, by recent history in France and Germany.

In conclusion Mr. Wyndham said he was not a protectionist, but a champion of free trade. He was willing to fight for it, but he declared that to discard the armor of retaliation was to enter the contest in a nightgown.

OLD VICTORY IN DANGER.

Nelson's Trafalgar Flagship Injured by Collision.

PORTSMOUTH, England, Oct. 24.—The battle ship Neptune broke adrift and ran into Nelson's flagship Victory.

The Neptune, which was built in 1878 and is practically obsolete, was being towed to the Thames to be broken up. The hawser between her and the towing vessel parted, and she struck a training brig. Then she hit the Victory on the port quarter, making a hole six feet long in the hull.

The crew of Nelson's old battle ship stood at quarters and made desperate efforts to check the influx of water. The water gained on them, however, and the vessel began to fill rapidly.

While the Neptune was adrift she also became entangled with the old battle ship Hero, which suffered some damage.

Six tugs were sent to the assistance of the Victory, and she was successfully docked.

Shaw In Iowa.

MUSCATINE, Ia., Oct. 24.—Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury of the United States, opened the Iowa campaign with a speech in this city, in which he talked for two hours upon the tariff, trusts, money and ship subsidy questions, making as the keynote of his talk an appeal to the people to demand the opening up of the markets of the south for United States products. He spoke for two hours to the largest political gathering ever assembled here.

The Franco-British Treaty.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—M. Muravieff, the Russian minister of justice and president of the Venezuelan arbitration tribunal at The Hague, is now in this city. He is quoted as saying: "The French-British arbitration treaty is the most important and pacific move since The Hague convention. I am certain that the example of the signatories will be followed by other nations."

A Bishop to the Rescue.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 24.—Bishop Galloway of the Methodist church of Mississippi has telegraphed to San Antonio offering his services to that city in case the yellow fever there shall develop to such a degree that outside aid is needed.

Trolley Goes 131½ Miles an Hour.

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—Another speed test on the experimental electric railroad from Marienfelde to Zossen was made at a rate of 131½ miles an hour. At the last test about 125¾ was reached.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report General Business Good.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Failure of many banking institutions reflects the fall of prices in securities and should be considered the logical aftermath of the protracted depression in speculative channels rather than any evidence of current weakness in the industrial or trade situation. Funds were quickly forwarded to the disturbed centers and confidence promptly restored, although it was impossible to prevent some contraction of business. Numerous labor controversies have appeared, and more furnaces and mills have closed, the tendency being to operate only the plants provided with the most modern equipment.

Latest returns of foreign commerce at this port show an increase of $1,172,605 in value of merchandise exported as compared with the corresponding week last year, while imports decreased $1,623,783.

Another general reduction in quotations of pig iron has occurred, notwithstanding the restriction of output, and a movement is on foot to further reduce production unless business improves.

A little encouragement was given to the textile industry by the placing of moderate orders for brown sheetings to be exported, but this Chinese business is of a special nature and not a revival of regular trade for the east.

Failures this week numbered 279 in the United States compared with 239 last year and in Canada 26 against 22 a year ago.

DESERTER GIVEN UP.

Rev. Robert Steele Surrenders Sailor Who Fabricated Wreck Story.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 24.—James L. Grant, alias Walter J. Harris, a deserter from the United States battle ship Maine, has been delivered to the police by Rev. Robert E. Steele, formerly a chaplain in the navy.

Grant is the sailor who related to Mr. Steele, superintendent of the Sailors' Rest here, a story about the wreck of a Gloucester fishing schooner, which, he said, was the J. T. Williams, off Cape Cod and the drowning of all on board save himself and Charles Keeler, who is also believed to be a deserter from the Maine. The tale told by the alleged survivor turns out to be a pure invention concocted by the men to enlist the sympathy of the Sailors' Rest officers.

WAR COMES CLOSER.

Japan Threatens to Occupy Chinese Territory if Russia Stays.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A cable from Yokohama reiterates the statement made some days ago that the Russians are fortifying Yongampho and declares that authentic information has been received that they have built a fort and are preparing to mount heavy guns there.

The Japanese government is conferring with representatives of all Japanese railroads with a view to effecting the most speedy mobilization of the army whenever this becomes necessary.

A Tientsin dispatch says that Japan has warned China that she will occupy some points in Chinese territory if Russia fails to evacuate Manchuria.

Smothered In Cotton.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 24.—Ernest, the eleven-year-old son of John D. H. Kinard of Newbern county was suffocated to death in a pile of cotton in his father's cotton house. The boy and his playmates dug a hole four feet deep in the cotton, into which Ernest fell.

ZION HOST'S RETREAT.

Dowie Followers Shake the New York Dust From Their Feet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Disheartened in their efforts to redeem New York's sinners and disgusted with their quarters at Madison Square Garden, their lonesome hearts filled with a longing for the hearthstones of Zion City instead of enthusiasm with which they came to gather converts and contributions here, the followers of John Alexander Dowie have made their farewells to New York. On two special trains there departed 650 of the returning pilgrims. The remainder of the host stands about the floor of the Garden, many of the women weeping, the men surly and discontented.

That Dowie realizes the critical nature of his situation was evident when he called a meeting of the elders and deacons in a small room in the Garden prior to the service. Ways and means were discussed whereby the restorationists could be persuaded to stay on and fight the fight of Elijah III. But all the deacons could report was that the Zionists were housed miserably, were sick at heart and body and were becoming tainted with the New York skepticism of the Dowie tenets.

"I am tired out," one Zion woman exclaimed. "I am discouraged. I want to go home to my babies, where I am loved and am happy."

The service was void of spectacular features, yet Dowie said things in an intelligible manner that showed his contempt for court decisions on divine healing.

He attacked the Pierson case, lately disposed of by the court of appeals, which decided that Pierson, who was of Dowie's faith, must pay a fine of $500 for neglect, in that he did not procure medical attendance for his daughter, who died of bronchial pneumonia in Valhalla, N. Y.

His text was, "What should a Christian do when sick?"

As usual he asked all those who did not want to stay until he was through speaking to go.

"Medicine is not a science," he said. "It is purely empirical. Doctors do not know what they are talking about. They build up new theories with each generation and laugh at the preceding one."

POST OFFICE ROBBERS.

Ishpeming Police Have Shooting Affray With Trio of Crooks.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Oct. 24.—After a desperate struggle with a trio of men suspected of robbing the Superior post office of $15,000 in stamps and money six Ishpeming policemen wounded and captured two of the men on a train as it arrived here.

Marshal Fandrem was advised that three men suspected of the post office robbery were on the train and that the conductor would identify them. The marshal and five officers went to West Ishpeming, where the train was boarded. The marshal and the two officers took the rear of the coach, and Officer Patrick Collins, in charge of a squad, guarded the front. The suspects were on the alert, and two of them began firing at the officers at the rear end of the train as soon as they entered. Meanwhile Collins and his assistants had entered the front of the car. All were driven back by two of the desperadoes, who threatened to shoot if they advanced another foot.

Collins and his men retreated. Finding the rear door of the car blocked, the robbers ran to the front end, where they again met Collins. One of them raised his revolver to shoot Collins, but the officer fired first, sending a bullet through the man's hand. The wounded man threw up his hands, begging the officers not to kill him. Meanwhile shots were being exchanged between Fandrem and a second suspect. Finally a bullet from the marshal's revolver lodged in the suspect's back, and he surrendered. The third suspect escaped to the woods. Officers are now after him. About $100 in small change was found in the pockets of the two men.

Tuttle's Body In Lake Pentucket.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 24.—The body of Frederick G. Tuttle, the treasurer of the Banner of Light Publishing company, publishers of the Spiritualist organ, with offices at 204 Dartmouth street, Boston, has been found in Lake Pentucket. In letters to his family at Needham and a brother, Frank D. Tuttle of Fitchburg, mailed at the office here, Mr. Tuttle communicated his intention of committing suicide and said that his body would be found in the lake. It is supposed he was mentally deranged.

Judge Saxton Dead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Charles T. Saxton of Clyde, ex-lieutenant governor of New York state and presiding judge of the court of claims, has died in the City hospital here from what the physicians describe as an incurable organic disease. In 1894 he was elected president pro tempore of the senate, and in November of that year he was elected lieutenant governor of the state.

THOUSANDS ARE OUT

Amalgamated Copper Shutdown Affects Vast Number.

MINERS, SMELTERS AND QUARRY MEN

Concerns Closed Are Some of the Largest In West—Heinze Throws Blame on New York's Wall Street Speculators.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 24.—The following properties are affected by the shutdown of the Amalgamated Copper company:

The actual number directly out of employment in Butte is 6,500. These include the men in the Boston and Montana, the Anaconda mines, the syndicate group, the Butte and Boston mines, the Parrott group, the Colorado mines, the Colorado Smelter, the Washoe group and the Butte and Boston smelters.

At Anaconda the Amalgamated employees at the lime kilns, at the silica quarries, at the brickyards and at the foundry are thrown out. The company operates extensive coal mines at Diamondville, Wyo. While these will not be entirely shut down, because they supply coal to the trade as well as to the company, the output will be limited materially.

In the vicinity of Great Falls more than 2,500 men will be affected. Of this number 1,500 are employed in the smelters of the Boston and Montana company, a constituent company; 500 are at Belt, where the coal mines of the Anaconda Copper Mining company are; between 200 and 300 are railroad men who handle the ore traffic between here and Butte and elsewhere, and about 200 others are employed in stone quarries, lumber camps and in miscellaneous capacities. The Boston and Montana smelter here is the largest industrial plant in this vicinity.

F. Augustus Heinze of the Montana Ore Purchasing company has published a statement giving his side of the shutdown. He said it was a move on the part of the Wall street speculators, among them H. H. Rogers, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, to control stock manipulation and was not directly caused by the injunction. He also said that Judge Clancy's decision was in line with the Northern Securities decision. President William Scallon of the Anaconda Copper company has made a statement in answer to Mr. Heinze. He says:

"To lawyers alike who happen to be acquainted with the Northern Securities case, to which Mr. Heinze refers, his assertion that the provisions of Judge Clancy's decision are 'very nearly identical' with the order issued by the circuit court of appeals in the merger case indicates either gross ignorance on Mr. Heinze's part or a desire to pervert the facts. In the Northern Securities case the order directed the retransfer of the stock to its original owners and recognized the property rights of the Northern Securities company. Judge Clancy's decision, on the contrary, so far as it goes, declares that the adverse party has no rights whatever, prohibits any transfers and simply proposes to wipe out the rights."

Continuing, Mr. Scallon said that there was no truth in the statement that Mr. Rogers, president of the Amalgamated company, ordered the shutdown to affect the stock market.

Mistook Dynamite For Maple Sirup.

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 24.—William Marks was instantly killed and Patrick Hardy fatally injured here by an explosion of nitroglycerin. The men were peddlers of small notions and had camped in the woods near here. They found an empty can which they supposed had contained maple sirup from the small bit of sticky substance adhering to the top. Marks sat down with the can between his knees and commenced to cut out the top so as to transform it into a water vessel. The small portion of the nitroglycerin at once exploded, and Marks' head, hands and feet were blown off and his body disemboweled. Hardy, who was standing close by, had his eyes blown out and the bones in his arms and legs shattered in a dozen places. He cannot recover.

Root Likes Loubet.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Speaking of his reception by the president of the republic, Secretary of War Root said he was very well satisfied at the way he was treated at the Elysee palace. He said M. Loubet's personality was most charming. As the head of the state he lost nothing in dignity and affability of manner when compared with the highest crowned heads of Europe.

Shot In Mayor's Presence.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 24.—Policeman Charles A. Collins was shot down in the mayor's office in the city hall by Henry G. Green, an art dealer, in the presence of Mayor Myers, the superintendent of police, the recorder, the chairman of the council, several aldermen and a number of citizens. Collins was shot through the breast and will probably die.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 24, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Cold weather is predicted—except in local political circles.

Nixon gained $3,000,000 by the shipbuilding deal and the stockholders gained experience.

Dowie's son is twenty-seven years old and has never been kissed. How he must envy Captain—what's his name. Oh, Hobson.

A Newark barber says that many cases of blindness are traceable to the use of bay rum in barber shops. The ordinary brand of rum produces just plain staggers.

William Jennings Bryan will come into an estate amounting to $50,000 under the will of Philo S. Benett, and whether it is payable in gold or silver will make no difference to the boy orator of the Platte.

Judging from the way he won his spurs while running for his present office, we were led to believe that a person would have to get up early in the morning to get ahead of Sheriff E. Frank Coriell. Uncle Sam found that 5 o'clock was early enough to do the trick.

Stop all this fighting now. The Newark Evening News prophecies that the normal off-year vote will be polled by both parties here. There has been many smiles over this long range forecast, but we can't get any well informed politician in the rival camps here to agree with it.

For the first time in the history of the popular game, a National League team will invade Union County tomorrow, a match having been arranged between Westfield and the New Yorks. As a paying investment, however, a match between St. Mary's and Manager Denman's nine would have been better, but there'll be a big crowd present at Recreation Park nevertheless.

Some bread is unfit for food, but bread-eating has been in vogue a long time, and has not yet gone out of fashion. Some advertisements are so bad that they are worthless or worse than worthless, but advertising has long been proved a profitable investment, and the amount done is constantly increasing. Good bread has not yet been supplanted by the new foods, and no substitute has been found for advertising. If unwholesome bread could have determined the food value of the staff of life it would have gone out of use ages ago. If bad advertisements could have destroyed the value of advertising there would be no advertising done today.—The Retailer.

We want to appeal to those whose purses are always open for the uplifting of humanity and the general betterment of the unfortunate. Much to its credit there are an unusual number of charitably inclined people among the wealthier class here who have done much for the poor and needy. But somehow or other one institution has not received the aid that we think is due it. This is the Children's Home—a real home for little children, who for some reason have not had anyone to care for them; to look after their material and spiritual welfare and to bring to them happiness in their tender years. Can there be any more noble work? Just at present there are twenty-five little ones being thus supported at this institution and of course there is a great expense attached to the task. Recently the managers have been pinched for the necessary funds to carry on the work. For this reason The Daily Press makes an appeal in their behalf. Won't some of our readers send contributions to the managers of the home or to this office for the purpose? We feel sure they will. Make it a personal matter. If you desire any information concerning the institution, it will be gladly furnished by Mrs. Horace Kimball, president of the Children's Home.

The teachers and officers of the Sunday-school of Maroonnier Chapel met Thursday evening at the home of A. C. Beckstein on Park avenue, and made plans for the winter. There was a discussion as to the successor to H. W. Marshall, as superintendent of the Sunday-school, and Stephen Stover finally agreed to take the position. He lives in the vicinity of the chapel, and is well fitted to perform the duties of his office, being assured of the hearty support of the teachers.

Regarding the Sunday evening services at the chapel, it was decided to return to lay preaching, that being the desire and wish of those attending the chapel. Rev. A. P. Tulp, of Rutgers Theological Seminary, who has been supplying the pulpit at the chapel during the past season, is obliged to return to his studies and will not continue preaching at the chapel. Various persons will have charge of the services and A. C. Beckstein will see that they are taken back and forth between Plainfield and the chapel.

After the business of the evening was transacted, there was a social time and refreshments were served by Mr. Beckstein.

Kean is forcing upon us two voting machines, instead of one? There will be but four in the County, and Plainfield's share is only one, and hardly that, if the Republican Club's estimate of her importance is correct. Now, by orders from Elizabeth, we must have two, and perhaps before election, we will be saddled with all four. It was understood that each member of Assembly could choose the location for one machine, and each did so long ago. The one allotted to Plainfield was finally, at Mr. Newcorn's request, located in the First district of the Third ward. Now orders have been received to place it in the First district of the Fourth ward, and also that another machine, which had been allotted to Elizabeth, shall be sent here, and placed in the First district of the Second ward. What right has Hamilton Kean to dictate the location of these machines? Is not Plainfield capable of determining herself which district is better qualified to experiment with these complicated engines? Is it not all part and parcel of the same scheme? First, to foist upon our voters a candidate from our own town whom they did not want. Then to oblige them to use machines with which they are unfamiliar, in the belief that they will be compelled to vote a straight ticket, or none at all.

And yet our so-called Republican Club says that we act like children because we resent such insults.

No, gentlemen of Plainfield, the Elizabeth agents and underlings who reside among us, may prove to their own satisfaction that our city does not amount to much, but there are those of us who think differently, who take pride in our record of unswerving loyalty to the Republican principles, and feel that so long as Plainfield had been determined upon to receive one of the nominations, that same record should have been sufficient warrant to allow her to name the man of her own choice, and not be forced to swallow anybody Elizabeth might, in her selfishness, choose.

They may bring all sorts of figures into play in a labored effort to serve the candidates of the man "higher up," but they cannot change the facts. The question for the voters of this city to answer this fall is whether, after having been repeatedly slighted in county matters, they propose to again submit to the most recent slap—that of having a faithful public servant, with a record for loyalty and integrity, second to none, turned down because he is too much of a man to promise in 1903 that if he is re-elected in 1904, he will vote for John Kean in 1905.

If Senator Kean is greater than the Republican party; if we are to deliver ourselves entirely into his keeping, we can best do so by marching up like little-men to vote his ticket. If, on the other hand, we believe that the Republican party is of far more importance than any man who attempts to use it for his own private ends, it then becomes our duty to vote according to the dictates of conscience.

In conclusion, let me quote the language of the Republican Club circular, the only portion in fact which is not in itself an attempt to juggle facts:

"We ask every Republican voter in the city of Plainfield to consider the situation well and understandingly; to investigate the matter thoroughly, and to learn the whole truth in regard to it."

Yours truly,
James T. MacMurray,

VIRGINIA HOSPITALITY.

It Is Manifested in a Singular Way Towards Non-Resident Sportsmen.

The proverbial Virginia hospitality is again in evidence. That state has a new game law this year, of which one feature is a non-resident license exaction. As at first adopted, all non-residents other than non-resident children of resident landowners, were required to take out a license, but the spirit of hospitality which is linked with the name of Virginia recoiled from this. From a time beyond which the mind of man runneth not to the contrary, it has been a fashion with Virginians to invite their friends from other states to visit them for shooting, and it was perceived that the new law would put an end to this pleasant custom. A modification was thereupon demanded and granted, says Forest and Stream. As it now stands, the non-resident law expressly exempts the visitor, the text reading that the non-resident guest of a resident landowner shall be allowed to hunt on the lands of his host, as though he were a resident of the state, when accompanied by the host or a member of his family, and provided that the host receives no compensation from the guest. This is excellent in so far as Virginia hospitality is concerned; but we fail to appreciate the logic which finds it reasonable to tax one sportsman who is obliged to pay board in Virginia, while exempting him who is so fortunate as to have friends there who may entertain him.

HEROIC SELF-SACRIFICE.

Conspicuous Instance That Came Under the Observation of a Navy Officer.

"Speaking of heroism," said a navy officer at his club a few evenings ago, reports the New York Tribune, "it is rare that such an example is seen as that of an old associate at the naval academy, Hynson, who was a passed midshipman at Vera Cruz, in 1846. It was really more than a bit of heroism; it was fortitude, passive courage, that confronted a peculiar danger, a self-sacrifice that was most conspicuous.

"Our fleet was off the harbor on blockade duty when one day a Spanish merchant vessel managed to slip in without being discovered. Hynson conceived the idea of capturing the vessel by a night attack, and he succeeded in doing so. But as he could not take the vessel out of the harbor, for the reason that she was under the close range of the enemy's guns and forts, Hyson set fire to the vessel. In doing so he burned both his arms so badly that he carried them in slings for several days. While in this disabled condition a terrific squall came up and played havoc with several of our little vessels, and the one on which Hynson was serving was capsized. Hynson and one of the other officers managed to get hold on a floating spar, but as it was not sufficient to keep them both afloat, Hynson let go his hold, and in a few moments sank to his death."

BREECH-LOADERS ARE OLD.

Bronze Cannon of That Make Were in Use in Spain Some Centuries Ago.

That there is very little new under the sun has once more been proved at Tobermory bay, Mull, says a London paper, where Capt. Burns, of Glasgow, has, with the permission of the duke of Argyll, been searching for the relics of the Admiral of Florence, one of the vessels of the Spanish Armada, known to have been blown up in 1588 in that far-away water. With the aid of an old chart the diver went down into 12 fathoms and came across a bronze breech-loading cannon four and one-half feet long, eight inches in diameter at the breech and bearing the date 1563. The divers also discovered a pistol heavily incrusted with lime, a sword blade and a kedge anchor.

Breech loading in artillery and small arms is popularly supposed to be an invention of the middle of last century, but such is by no means the case. In a Dublin gunsmith's shop at Cork Hill is a breech-loading rifle, which was offered to the British war office at the close of the eighteenth century and rejected, as it was considered to need too much ammunition.

Unfeeling French Reporter.

Immediately after the assassination of King Alexander of Servia—in fact, on the very next day—a French reporter went to the residence of the dead king's mother, Queen Natalie, and asked to interview her. An attendant was sure that she could not be seen, but out of courtesy took the insistent message to the bereaved woman. In a moment the answer was brought back: "The queen pities anyone who could try to force his presence upon her at a moment such as this."

The Pope's Titles.

The official designation of the head of the hierarchy of the Catholic church is as follows: His holiness, the pope, bishop of Rome and vicar of Jesus Christ, successor of St. Peter, prince of the apostles; supreme pontiff of the universal church, patriarch of the west, primate of Italy, archbishop and metropolitan of the Roman province, sovereign of the temporal dominions of the holy Roman church.

Heated Clothing.

Clothing heated by electricity will be worn by the duke of Abruzzi during his next polar excursion. The heat will pass through a network of asbestos-covered wire arranged in the lining of his apparel. His bedding wil be warmed in the same way.

Sensitive Instrument.

The electronometer is so acutely sensitive that it will detect in one minute an amount of matter which must accumulate for 2,000,000 years before there is enough of it to affect the most sensitive chemical balance.

JUSTICE QUEERLY DISPENSED.

English Magistrate Encourages the Belief That Malefactors Would Better Be Drunk.

Being under the influence of drink is usually considered no excuse for having committed a crime, but it would seem that one magistrate is inclined to be an exception to his brothers on the bench in this direction, says Cassell's Journal.

Recently a justice of the peace had two young men before him on a charge of theft. They pleaded guilty, and as this obviated the necessity for evidence being given, the magistrate was somewhat in the dark as to their culpability.

"Well, sir," he said, addressing one of the prisoners, "have you anything to say in extenuation of your offense?"

The prisoner hung his head, and replied meekly:

"Your worship, I was drunk when I did it."

"Drunk!" exclaimed the magistrate; "that makes the offense all the worse. You will go to prison for three months. And you, sir," he continued, addressing the other prisoner, "what have you to say for yourself?"

"Nothing, your honor?" was the reply.

"Were you drunk?" pursued the justice.

"No, your honor; I was never drunk in my life."

"Indeed!" exclaimed the magistrate, raising his eyebrows in affected astonishment. "Have you not even that excuse? Then you will go to prison for six months!"

MASQUERADING FRUITS.

Nuts and Seeds That Resemble in Form Certain Animals and Insects.

Of fruits that resemble animals, the buffalo-headed nut, trapa bicornis of China, is perhaps the most astonishing. Nothing is more curious than its resemblance to a buffalo—head, horns, eyes and nose.

It is an aquatic plant, with dissected submerged leaves and a tuft of aerial broad leaves. The nut contains a sweet edible kernel, and a species in Cashmere is a staple food. One species has been naturalized in our Concord river.

These nuts are also known as water caltrops, in allusion to the spiked balls, formerly used to impede cavalry. The imitative shape has no supposable use, except as the horns may hinder animals from swallowing it.

Some seeds resemble insects. Thus, the husk of biserrula pelecinus suggests a caterpillar or a centipede; the seed of the castor-oil plant a beetle, and, still more, a jatropha would easily be mistaken for a beetle, showing thorax and two elytra with their lines of ornamentation.

A low leguminous plant of the Mediterranean region, scorpiurus subvillosa, has a pod that resembles a worm or a serpent more than a scorpion's tail, which is the meaning of the generic name; but in scorpiurus vermiculata the likeness to a caterpillar is so striking that the pods are sometimes laid upon salads to test the nerves of guests; the latter is called the caterpillar plant.

POTATOES A GREAT CROP.

Value of the Tubers Exceeds That of Any Other Single Product of the Farm.

The opinion generally prevails that wheat or corn—in some regions one and in others the other—constitute the crop of greatest value to the world. Such is not the fact. The potato leads all other staples, being produced at the rate of 4,000,000,000 bushels a year, while the wheat yield is only 2,500,000,000. Europe produces seven-eighths of the world's potatoes, but it is little Ireland which eats most of them, averaging four pounds of potatoes a day per capita. The United States is on record as the greatest meat-eating country in the world, 11,000,000,000 pounds yearly being consumed here. There are physiologists who ascribe to this her power on land and sea. Johnny Bull has the sweetest tooth among the world's children, heading the list of sugar consumers at a yearly rate of 3,000,000,000 pounds of sugar. Of tobacco, however, the average in Belgium is 110 ounces per capita, in the United States only 43 ounces. But in the matter of beer the United States again takes the lead, showing a record of 30 gallons a year for each inhabitant, distancing even Germany herself.

MESSAGE ROUND THE WORLD.

Time Spent and Cost of Telegraphing Two Words Forty Thousand Miles.

A Paris correspondent of Nature writes: "July 3 the Temps resolved to send a message round the world by telegraphy, using the Anglo-French system of transoceanic cables. The message was sent from Paris at 11 a. m. and consisted of the two words 'Temps, Paris,' with the indication of the route, via Malta, Aden, Singapore, Brisbane, Vancouver and French Atlantic cable. As the indication of the route is not paid for, the cost of the experiment was only $3.28. No previous explanation or preliminary notice had been served to the several companies, but the organization of the Anglo-French system is so perfect that the message arrived at the Temps office at 5:30 p. m. The time spent had been six hours for traveling about 40,000 miles, a measure of the commercial speed of electricity on the occasion of the inauguration of the American, Sandwich, Philippine and Hong-Kong system."

Signs for Cows.

A certain justice of the peace in Maryland evidently imagines that cows can read big print. He recently gave a verdict against a railroad company for killing a cow near a road crossing for the reason that "the defendant had no sign up at the crossing."

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.
FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE SMART SKIRT.

Kilted Pattern Is Useful For a Walking Costume.

The kilted skirt is certainly having a vogue. It is carried out in both plain and figured goods. The lighter the weight of course the better. It is becoming to almost every figure, and it makes an ideal short skirt because the weight is evenly distributed.

For a walking suit navy blue cheviot is an ideal material, as it looks well at all seasons of the year. Brown mixed goods are, however, much used in Paris and are combined with touches of green or red. The woman with red or chestnut hair looks very smart in a walking suit of iron gray mixed goods, and if she is tall she will have a three-quarter length coat held in by a suede belt.

Some of the new skirts are made with three folds finishing the lower edge and the hips slightly eased in with tucks. This is a pretty style for these materials.

Coats to wear with the separate skirts are made of covert, with strapped or inverted seams, and lined with fine taffeta or satin in the exact shade of the outside. These are forty-two inches long and handsome and desirable from every point of view. Mountain coats are made with strap trimming stitched on, and, as this is too difficult to handle, kersey is used for the strappings.

The cut shows an autumn dress of fawn cloth, with a wide stitched cape yoke. It is trimmed with brown and green plaid and silk buttons.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SIMPLE STYLES.

The Full Waists and Skirts Are Easy to Make.

White is always pretty for house frocks when the material is soft. It is not so expensive as it may seem, for it cleans far better than colors. Some of the homespuns in particular come out as good as new and combine warmth with light effects.

Corduroy cloths and velvets are very smart and much used abroad, especially in champagne shades. They are used for dressy gowns, but are simply made, with fronts and lapels of gold embroidery softened with a jabot of old lace.

Some house gowns are made after the fashion of a housemaid's skirt, with a blouse bodice finished by a smart wide belt and a pelerine effect of lace or embroidery.

Although elaborate gowns and fashions are the rule, many a simple little gown can be made at home. The simple blouse waists and the full gauged skirts can be easily contrived from a pattern, and nothing looks prettier on a youthful figure.

There are some novel things for shirt waists in the new velutinas, some being embossed, some ribbed and many in rich Persian designs. Naturally these are only intended for waists, as they are not so heavy and solidly backed as that intended for full suits.

The illustration shows an old rose frieze gown trimmed with yellow guipure and bands of sable.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NOVELTY IN MILLINERY.

Turbans Are All the Mode—Hats of Rough Felt.

The fall tailor made hats are very smart. Cocks' feathers are very largely used in white, green and shaded red.

The shapes are much smaller, and turbans prevail. These are of two kinds. There is the square edged turban made of shirred velvet, with two tabs in the back and a pointed front, and the draped affair which turns up coquettishly in front. The latter is more universally becoming.

Hats of rough felt are used for everyday wear with walking suits, and one of these in white trimmed with foliage and a black velvet bow is pretty to go with the heavy white shirt waists which are worn even in midwinter.

Some of these small hat shapes turn up abruptly on the side in such a fashion that they show a good deal of the hair.

Fur hats this season will be in the shape of turbans trimmed with delicately shaded ostrich tips.

Picture hats show a very long drooping feather, the plume in itself being a thing of beauty and invariably placed on the hat in the manner that was beloved by the old masters.

The cut shows a tailor made hat of crimson felt trimmed with shaded ribbon and a quill.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

LONG AND SHORT COATS.

Three-quarter Length Preferred. Narrow Fur Trimmings.

Three-quarter coats will be more popular than long coats this winter, and they will be made very fancy.

In nearly every case the fancy coat, be it long or short, has its wide cape collar. This in the plainer garments is stitched heavily or edged with strappings and in the more ornate is appliqued with lace or embroidery.

Narrow bands of fur, principally of mink and sable, are again used in trimming coats, suits and even elaborate gowns.

A smart cloak model was of smooth cloth, with a double breasted effect, buttoning over a wide cape collar edged with stitched strapping. The sleeves were full and trimmed with two stitched bands close to the narrow cuff. The lower part of the coat was trimmed with three stitched bands at regular intervals.

CLOTH COSTUME.

Such a coat made by a good tailor is always smart and useful.

I saw some very fine new silks for waists and dresses, though there are fewer dresses made all in the same material than ever before for fine wear. There are pastel brocades, peau de cygne, crepe de chine, peau de crepe, illuminated china crape, louisine, Scotch plaid silks and pinhead checks in the prettiest colors and no end of velours chiffons. For dresses taffeta still holds its own, and there is a new quality which, while having all the luster of taffeta, is soft and flexible as India silk. This makes it all that the heart of woman could desire.

A feature in the world of fashion is the thick ribbon ruche in [illegible] silk, while fringes of every sort are [illegible] used.

The picture shows a costume of [illegible] green cloth. The [illegible] it is of shirred [illegible] shaded green feather[illegible]

His Idea of Prayer.

Harold, the five-year-old son of the Presbyterian minister of Dayton, Ky., was being prepared for bed. He had spent a very active day at coasting, and was weary and very sleepy.

"Now, Harold, kneel down by mamma and say your little prayer."

"But, mamma—" half asleep, with his head on her shoulder.

"Be mamma's good boy, now," coaxingly.

"Thank God for all His goodness to you."

But Harold was asleep.

His mamma gently aroused him. "Harold, don't be naughty. Be a good boy, now, and thank Jesus for the nice home you have, the warm clothing and fire to keep you warm, and a mamma and papa to love you. Think of the poor little boys who are hungry and cold to-night, no mamma to love them, no warm bed to go to, and—"

"But, mamma," interrupted the sleepy boy, roused to a protest, "I think them's th' fellers that ort to do the prayin'."—Will M. Hundley, in Lippincott's.

The Cut Direct.

The president of a downtown bank has lately issued a new order to the numerous employes. He has been disturbed by the great accumulation of bills representing stationery, pencils, etc., which have been called for by the clerks and others. The new order reads:

"Hereafter anyone in need of supplies will sign a written request for same and deposit it with the cashier."

The first morning after the notice was up somebody borrowed the cashier's scissors during his absence, and left two disjointed halves of another pair, upopn his desk. The cashier, who believes in "obeying orders if you break owners," immediately wrote out a requisition on the engineer for a rivet.

The president's order was taken down next day. He says the boys are too sharp.—Philadelphia Press.

Had an Assistant.

A naval officer tells of a conversation he once overheard between two marines who were arguing as to who had the least work to do on board a man-of-war.

"It's the chaplain," said one.

"How do you make that out?" asked the second.

"Because he ain't got any work to do and all day to do it in."

The second marine snorted his disgust.

"You're wrong, Jack," said he. "It's the cap'n of marines."

"How's that?"

"Well, me boy, as you say, the chaplain's nothing to do and all day to do it in; but the cap'n of marines has nothing to do and all day to do it, and a lieutenant of marines to help him do it.—N. Y. Times.

Letter Perfect.

"Now," said the professor, "suppose you had tried everything which your knowledge of medicine suggested, what would then be your course?"

"Supposing the patient continued to fail?"

"Certainly."

"After having presented and collected my bill I would advise the patient to take a trip to Europe."

"But suppose you did not succeed in collecting your bill upon its presentation?"

"Then I would stay right with him and depend upon the gratitude of his heirs."—Houston Post.

Marconi Wheat.

Macaroni wheat seed was first imported in 1901. The following facts are attested by South Dakota farmers: Its yield is 60 to 120 per cent. greater than that of blue stem and Fife wheats; in quality it is better than the Italian; the demand for it is greater than the supply; its bread is more nutritious, and, to many, more palatable than ordinary bread.

Knew Whereof He Spoke.

Guy—Yes, she's beautiful; she has the face of an angel—and the heart of a fiend.

Don—O, come now, you can't mean that. She hasn't a fiend's heart. Why do you say such a thing?

"Why, I know the chap. It's Dick Puffer, the worst motor fiend living."—Stray Stories.

How He Got Out.

"No," said Woodby, "I don't see Wiseman at all any more. He dropped out of our social set."

"He tells a different story," remarked Sinnickson.

"Indeed!"

"Yes; he claims he has climbed out."—Catholic Standard.

Facts and Figures.

Tom—I had my fortune told the other day and my fiancee broke off the engagement.

Jack—Why, is she a believer in such nonsense?

"Nonsense nothing! It was told her by a mercantile agency."—Chicago Daily News.

Phenomenon.

Askitt—Why do you consider Blankerton the most remarkable man of the age?

Knowitt—Because he originated a get-rich-quick scheme that actually made all the investors rich.—Chicago Daily News.

Candor.

"So you have devoted yourself to literature."

"No," answered the young man; "I write dialect stories. My line is illiterature."—Washington Star.

So Delightful.

Fountain Barkeep—What do you mean by an incandescent cocktail?

Frivolous Customer—A vanilla soda. It is soda-light-ful, you know!—Pittsburg Dispatch.

TITLED MOTOR CAR AGENTS.

English Women Who Are Doing a Thriving Business Introducing Automobiles.

The automobile craze has opened a new field for the impecunious woman in high society, and many are making much money acting as agents for the various makes of machines, says a London report. A certain woman of title is known to have sold, within six months, five high power cars and 14 smaller ones, and made in commissions about $15,000. There was no trouble in making the transactions, for all she had to do was to tell her wealthy friends that her car was the best on the market, and give her card to the intending purchaser, to be presented to the maker.

To help his titled agent, the manufacturer places a car, sometimes two, at her disposal, usually at her country house, sends down competent chauffeurs in smart uniforms, and keeps the cars in thorough going order, knowing well that a good run is more likely to influence a prospective purchaser than most things.

She manages to get some wealthy friends for a visit, and then talks motor from morning to night, and gives them rides until they are fit subjects for buying.

Some of the smart women make additional profits by selling the cars placed at their disposal on the spot for $500 more than the price, and then paying for the machines so sold, at their leisure, at the regular price, less the commission.

DEAF-MUTES NEVER GIDDY.

Vertigo Seems to Be One of the Ills to Which They Are Never Subject.

It is a singular fact, vouched for by those who have investigated the subject, that a deaf can whirl around interminably without seeming to suffer in any way from vertigo. "I have seen them do it repeatedly," said a physician long connected with a deaf and dumb institute, "and their performances bear out a theory of Dr. William James, the Harvard psychologist—the brother, you know, of Henry James, the novelist. There is a certain tube, connecting with the ear, that is the seat, according to William James, of our sense of dizziness and vertigo. In deaf-mutes this tube is deranged. Therefore, according to James' theory, deaf-mutes should be incapable of suffering vertigo.

"The psychologist experimented on this matter at Harvard; he had hundreds of deaf and normal persons spinning round like these children for him. And the result of the experiment bore him out. Out of a large number of mutes most were proof against vertigo, and the balance only suffered it slightly. Of 300 Harvard students submitted to the same test, but one showed vertigo in a very marked form. Thus James proved that the deaf are immune to dizziness. The boys at the Mount Airy institution prove the same thing."

THE MEANING OF MUSIC.

Tones Have Their Specific Expressions Just as Much as Spoken Words.

"Music is a science more exact than most people suppose," said a violinist, reports the Philadelphia Ledger. "You can't, for instance, say different things with the same tones in music any more than you can say different things with the same words in English or French. 'Black' means 'black' in English; never under any circumstances can it mean 'white.' In the same way, in music, a major third expresses an interrogation or an appeal, never anything else, and this appealing quality becomes exceedingly marked in the fourth descending, while the fourth ascending advances from interrogation to affirmation and finally to command. Major and minor fifths travel by regular gradations from prayer to desire, and from desire to menace. Sixths express passion—all love music is written in sixths. To a semi-tone higher, and this love, this passion, becomes a painful, an emmous, an ill-starred one. Sevenths express grief, tragedy. Perhaps you think I am exaggerating here, but I assure you I am not. What I claim you will find claimed in many treatises on music, and if you will study the works of the composers, you will find that they, too, bear me out."

Make the Tropics Contribute.

Development of the great natural resources of the tropical belt of the earth is, in the opinion of Hon. O. P. Austin, chief of the bureau of statistics, a necessity for the future progress of the world. Although this belt contains practically one-half of the land area of the globe, it now contributes but one-sixth of the exports which enter into international commerce. With the growing population of the world, and the increase of facilities for transportation, a change should be wrought in this respect. Science has shown how life and health can be protected in the tropics, and India, southern China, and other oriental countries contain populations capable of laboring, and willing to labor, in the tropics. Finally, Mr. Austin points out that in comparatively recent years practically all the tropics, except tropical America, have been brought under the control of temperate-zone countries.

Electricity in Dentistry.

It is proposed to use currents of electricity in place of anaesthetics for operations on the teeth. One pole is connected to an electrode molded to fit the tooth and lined with wet asbestos to counteract any heating effect on the tooth itself. Five minutes suffices to render insensible a tooth with a single jarg.

British Colonial Territory.

Three-sevenths of the total colonial territory of the world, Egypt and the Sudan included, belongs to Great Britain.

His Idea of Prayer.

Harold, the five-year-old son of the Presbyterian minister of Dayton, Ky., was being prepared for bed. He had spent a very active day at coasting, and was weary and very sleepy.

"Now, Harold, kneel down by mamma and say your little prayer."

"But, mamma—" half asleep, with his head on her shoulder.

"Be mamma's good boy, now," coaxingly.

"Thank God for all His goodness to you."

But Harold was asleep.

His mamma gently aroused him. "Harold, don't be naughty. Be a good boy, now, and thank Jesus for the nice home you have, the warm clothing and fire to keep you warm, and a mamma and papa to love you. Think of the poor little boys who are hungry and cold to-night, no mamma to love them, no warm bed to go to, and—"

"But, mamma," interrupted the sleepy boy, roused to a protest, "I think them's th' fellers that ort to do the prayin'."—Will M. Hundley, in Lippincott's.

The Cut Direct.

The president of a downtown bank has lately issued a new order to the numerous employes. He has been disturbed by the great accumulation of bills representing stationery, pencils, etc., which have been called for by the clerks and others. The new order reads:

"Hereafter anyone in need of supplies will sign a written request for same and deposit it with the cashier."

The first morning after the notice was up somebody borrowed the cashier's scissors during his absence, and left two disjointed halves of another pair, upopn his desk. The cashier, who believes in "obeying orders if you break owners," immediately wrote out a requisition on the engineer for a rivet.

The president's order was taken down next day. He says the boys are too sharp.—Philadelphia Press.

Had an Assistant.

A naval officer tells of a conversation he once overheard between two marines who were arguing as to who had the least work to do on board a man-of-war.

"It's the chaplain," said one.

"How do you make that out?" asked the second.

"Because he ain't got any work to do and all day to do it in."

The second marine snorted his disgust.

"You're wrong, Jack," said he. "It's the cap'n of marines."

"How's that?"

"Well, me boy, as you say, the chaplain's nothing to do and all day to do it in; but the cap'n of marines has nothing to do and all day to do it, and a lieutenant of marines to help him do it.—N. Y. Times.

Letter Perfect.

"Now," said the professor, "suppose you had tried everything which your knowledge of medicine suggested, what would then be your course?"

"Supposing the patient continued to fail?"

"Certainly."

"After having presented and collected my bill I would advise the patient to take a trip to Europe."

"But suppose you did not succeed in collecting your bill upon its presentation?"

"Then I would stay right with him and depend upon the gratitude of his heirs."—Houston Post.

Marconi Wheat.

Macaroni wheat seed was first imported in 1901. The following facts are attested by South Dakota farmers: Its yield is 60 to 120 per cent. greater than that of blue stem and Fife wheats; in quality it is better than the Italian; the demand for it is greater than the supply; its bread is more nutritious, and, to many, more palatable than ordinary bread.

Don—O, come now, you can't mean that. She hasn't a fiend's heart. Why do you say such a thing?

"Why, I know the chap. It's Dick Puffer, the worst motor fiend living."—Stray Stories.

How He Got Out.

"No," said Woodby, "I don't see Wiseman at all any more. He dropped out of our social set."

"He tells a different story," remarked Sinnickson.

"Indeed!"

"Yes; he claims he has climbed out."—Catholic Standard.

Knowitt—Because he originated a get-rich-quick scheme that actually made all the investors rich.—Chicago Daily News.

Candor.

"So you have devoted yourself to literature."

"No," answered the young man; "I write dialect stories. My line is illiterature."—Washington Star.

TITLED MOTOR CAR AGENTS.

English Women Who Are Doing a Thriving Business Introducing Automobiles.

The automobile craze has opened a new field for the impecunious woman in high society, and many are making much money acting as agents for the various makes of machines, says a London report. A certain woman of title is known to have sold, within six months, five high power cars and 14 smaller ones, and made in commissions about $15,000. There was no trouble in making the transactions, for all she had to do was to tell her wealthy friends that her car was the best on the market, and give her card to the intending purchaser, to be presented to the maker.

To help his titled agent, the manufacturer places a car, sometimes two, at her disposal, usually at her country house, sends down competent chauffeurs in smart uniforms, and keeps the cars in thorough going order, knowing well that a good run is more likely to influence a prospective purchaser than most things.

She manages to get some wealthy friends for a visit, and then talks motor from morning to night, and gives them rides until they are fit subjects for buying.

Some of the smart women make additional profits by selling the cars placed at their disposal on the spot for $500 more than the price, and then paying for the machines so sold, at their leisure, at the regular price, less the commission.

DEAF-MUTES NEVER GIDDY.

Vertigo Seems to Be One of the Ills to Which They Are Never Subject.

It is a singular fact, vouched for by those who have investigated the subject, that a deaf can whirl around interminably without seeming to suffer in any way from vertigo. "I have seen them do it repeatedly," said a physician long connected with a deaf and dumb institute, "and their performances bear out a theory of Dr. William James, the Harvard psychologist—the brother, you know, of Henry James, the novelist. There is a certain tube, connecting with the ear, that is the seat, according to William James, of our sense of dizziness and vertigo. In deaf-mutes this tube is deranged. Therefore, according to James' theory, deaf-mutes should be incapable of suffering vertigo.

"The psychologist experimented on this matter at Harvard; he had hundreds of deaf and normal persons spinning round like these children for him. And the result of the experiment bore him out. Out of a large number of mutes most were proof against vertigo, and the balance only suffered it slightly. Of 300 Harvard students submitted to the same test, but one showed vertigo in a very marked form. Thus James proved that the deaf are immune to dizziness. The boys at the Mount Airy institution prove the same thing."

THE MEANING OF MUSIC.

Tones Have Their Specific Expressions Just as Much as Spoken Words.

"Music is a science more exact than most people suppose," said a violinist, reports the Philadelphia Ledger. "You can't, for instance, say different things with the same tones in music any more than you can say different things with the same words in English or French. 'Black' means 'black' in English; never under any circumstances can it mean 'white.' In the same way, in music, a major third expresses an interrogation or an appeal, never anything else, and this appealing quality becomes exceedingly marked in the fourth descending, while the fourth ascending advances from interrogation to affirmation and finally to command. Major and minor fifths travel by regular gradations from prayer to desire, and from desire to menace. Sixths express passion—all love music is written in sixths. To a semi-tone higher, and this love, this passion, becomes a painful, an emmous, an ill-starred one. Sevenths express grief, tragedy. Perhaps you think I am exaggerating here, but I assure you I am not. What I claim you will find claimed in many treatises on music, and if you will study the works of the composers, you will find that they, too, bear me out."

Make the Tropics Contribute.

Development of the great natural resources of the tropical belt of the earth is, in the opinion of Hon. O. P. Austin, chief of the bureau of statistics, a necessity for the future progress of the world. Although this belt contains practically one-half of the land area of the globe, it now contributes but one-sixth of the exports which enter into international commerce. With the growing population of the world, and the increase of facilities for transportation, a change should be wrought in this respect. Science has shown how life and health can be protected in the tropics, and India, southern China, and other oriental countries contain populations capable of laboring, and willing to labor, in the tropics. Finally, Mr. Austin points out that in comparatively recent years practically all the tropics, except tropical America, have been brought under the control of temperate-zone countries.

Electricity in Dentistry.

It is proposed to use currents of electricity in place of anaesthetics for operations on the teeth. One pole is connected to an electrode molded to fit the tooth and lined with wet asbestos to counteract any heating effect on the tooth itself. Five minutes suffices to render insensible a tooth with a single fang.

DR. J. C. ANDERSON TALKS

ADDRESSES THE COLORED VOTERS IN WESTFIELD AND CRANFORD.

Explains Elizabeth Journal Articles Regarding Duties of Coroner.

Dr. Jefferson C. Anderson, of this city, spoke last evening in Westfield to a large number of people at a mass meeting of the Colored Auxiliary of this county. A meeting was also called at 11 o'clock in Cranford where many people were in attendance. Dr. Anderson explained in detail at both meetings an article appearing in the Elizabeth Journal.

The article referred to appeared last night and refuted statements made by some politicians that in case of the disability of the sheriff of Union County to perform his duties, the coroner would be called upon to fill the office as acting sheriff, and if that contingency were to arise Union County would, for the first time in its history have a colored sheriff. This the paper denied.

The editorial said:

"Neither the constitution of the State nor the statutes provide for the sheriff being succeeded by a coroner, and there are always three qualified coroners in the county of Union. In the event of the death of a sheriff the court of the county directs the County clerk to certify the fact to the Governor of the State, who appoints a sheriff to hold office until the next general election. This is provided for in section 12 of the act constituting the office of sheriff. Pending this appointment by the Governor, it is provided in section 30 of the act that the coroners or any coroner may serve papers and perform other duties belonging to the office of sheriff. That is to say, persons having papers they wish served, or other duties performed, for which they must seek the services of the sheriff, can select one of the three coroners to do that service at such times when the county may be without a sheriff. It is also provided by the constitution that if the sheriff is incapacitated, or if there is a matter in which he has personal interest, then it is lawful for any person to have papers issued and served by one of the coroners. The selection of the coroner is in such instances always made by the person who wants the special service done. This being the law, and the fact that there are three coroners, no one would have to submit to having his work performed by any coroner who was objectionable to him."

ANOTHER REVIVAL IN CHRISTENDOM

Reawakening in Religious World, Subject of Sermon by Rev. Mr. McMurray.

WHAT EFFECT WILL BE

"REPENT YE FOR THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN IS AT HAND."

The Failure of Secular Organization to Adjust the Social Relations of the People and Other Problems Cause for Revival.

At the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church yesterday morning, Rev. John McMurray preached a forcible sermon, the subject being "The Coming Revival" and the text being chosen from Isaiah 59:1.

Mr. McMurray believes that the signs of the times indicate most clearly a great awakening in all departments of religious life and Christian activity. After describing the chief characteristics of the reformation under Luther and Zwingle and the revival under Wesley and his coadjutors, Mr. McMurray proceeded to set forth his ideas as to the leading features of the coming revival and the signs of its coming.

"It will," he said, "be a revival of the Christianity of Christ; a revival of individual righteousness; a revival of corporate righteousness; of civic righteousness; of social righteousness.

"It will be a revival that shall emphasize child tyranny for the Kingdom of Heaven.

"It will be a revival of missionary zeal and activity such as the world has not seen since apostolic days."

Commenting on the signs of the great universal revival the preacher instanced the swing of the pendulum from skepticism to faith; the restlessness and dissatisfied condition of the great body of the people; the failure of secular organization to adjust the social relations of the people and to solve grave social problems; the deep attention being given to the ethical basis underlying the great sociological and political questions; the practical unity of the church and its awakening to the realization that its mission is to save society and the spirit of expectancy that is beginning to pervade the world.

"The coming revival must come through Christian people clearly perceiving the great need of an awakening, and their obligation to accept Christian standards.

"The life and work of the church must be transformed and lifted up through these agencies to the New Testament plane of discipleship.

"The Christian minister must clearly perceive his part in bringing about this great awakening. He must be possessed by the truth, inspired by an all conquering faith; unswervingly loyal to Scriptural standards. His preaching must not be a simple perfunctory action but must be the talking of brother to brother about matters of paramount importance. No barriers must exist between pulpit and pew. The minister must go as the messenger of God, preaching a John the Baptist message: 'Repent ye, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand.'

"His message must come direct from Christ and he must bring the people from worldly to Christian standards. His mission will only be complete when he has brought them into a living sympathy with a living Christ."

PLAINFIELDERS AS GUESTS.

The latter have expended $300 in placing the old relic in shape, but are ready to send it back whenever asked for.

No Pastor in Sight.

Preceding the sermon at the First Baptist Church, yesterday morning, Charles W. McCutchen, chairman of the committee appointed to secure a successor to Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, as pastor of the church, made an informal statement, giving the members a general idea of the work that the committee has been doing.

THE NEW CAPE MAY.

Capt. Barr Christens the Great Dredger "Pittsburgh."

Fully 5,000 people, representing Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York, were the guests of the New Cape May Company Saturday and the host showed its visitors a royal time in addition to supplying much information concerning a gigantic undertaking in seashore realty improvement. The guests were conveyed from Philadelphia to Cape May City in two special trains, one over the Pennsylvania and the other over the Reading. After the mammoth dredger, "Pittsburgh," had been christened by Captain Barr, who sailed the Reliance to victory, the guests were entertained at dinner in Congress Hall. Senator John Kean was conspicuous among the notable visitors. Representing newspapers in Union County were W. W. St. John, of the Elizabeth Evening Times; H. B. Altai, of the Elizabeth Free Press; John McGowan, of the Elizabeth Journal, and Ralph L. Morrow, of the Plainfield Daily Press.

FRANK O. REINHART WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Plainfielder Wearing Princeton's Colors Defeats W. C. Chick, of Harvard.

BY 4 UP AND 2 TO PLAY

REINHART'S EXCELLENT GOLF RECORD FOR THE SEASON.

Beaten by Travis for National Amateur Championship—Won Cup on Shinnecock Links—Defeated the Englishmen.

Frank O. Reinhart, a Princeton undergraduate, who lives on Belvidere avenue, won the intercollegiate golf championship at Garden City on Saturday, by defeating W. C. Chick, of Harvard, in the final round by 4 up and 2 to play. The contest was at thirty-six holes, eighteen in the forenoon and eighteen in the afternoon. Reinhart led by 4 up at the end of the morning half, and the result was never afterward in doubt.

This victory adds considerably to Reinhart's reputation as one of the leading match players of the season. He was a semi-finalist in the National amateur championship, being beaten by Travis, 5 up and 4 to play. Previous to that he had beaten Travis twice—once at Garden City in May, when he won the Garden City cup, and again at Morris County in June. In the all-collegiate team match against the Oxford-Cambridge team, Reinhart beat his man, J. A. T. Branston, 1 up. In the Shinnecock tournament in August he won the cup for the lowest score.

REV. DR. RICHARDS' VIEWS

DISTINGUISHED CLERGYMAN ARRAIGNS TAMMANY PARTY.

Steeped in Wickedness and Without Sense of Honor, He Says.

Speaking upon the political situation, in the Brick Presbyterian Church, yesterday morning, the Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, although he mentioned neither the names of politicians nor of the rival parties, emphatically declared that New York City government was in danger of falling into the hands of those so mercenary that they had even come to buy and sell the purity of woman.

"And at this election just one great question has been set before us," he said. "Try as men will, it has been impossible to obscure this question: Do we wish to put the government of this city in the hands of men whose one idea of politics is money—money for themselves and money for their friends? These men have no idea of what honor means, and they are so steeped in wickedness that they have even come to buy and sell the purity of women. I call no names, but every sane man knows that this is the one issue. Even the little children in the streets know it, and the whole world is watching to see if it is possible for a great American city to purify its municipal politics from the corruption of mercenariness. — Today's N. Y. Herald.

IN MISS COX'S HONOR.

These persons were present: Miss Wood, of Pittsburg; Miss Waterman, of Southport, Conn.; Miss Waring, Miss Helen Talmadge, Miss Helen Bushnell, Miss Mary Whiton, Miss Fanny Cox and Mrs. L. E. Waring.

COUNCILMEN INSPECT INDUSTRIAL HOME

Alms Committee Pleased Over Conditions at Municipal Institution for the Poor.

DESCRIPTION OF HOME

LUNCHEON FOR OFFICIALS AFTER EXAMINATION OF THE PLACE.

Some of the Improvements—City Purchased House Six Years Ago—Those in Charge of the Institution.

While this city has been growing rapidly the proper care of the poor has not been overlooked. An efficient overseer and a sympathetic alms committee in the Common Council has made of the Blatz house on West Front street and Rock avenue a model industrial home. What was once a half way house has been transformed into one of the most homelike and comfortable retreats for the aged to be found in this section of the State.

An inspection of the home was made Saturday afternoon by the alms committee which has taken personal pride in the home, and accompanied by some of the city officials, noted the wonderful transformations which have been wrought through the appropriations made by the Council recently. Changes have been made which make the place warm in winter and cool in summer. Modern conveniences have been added and the whole interior has been painted and thoroughly renovated. The home is a credit to every tax payer in the city.

The house was purchased of Joseph Blatz by the city six years ago for the purpose of making of it an alms house.

The house and grounds were purchased at the time the sewer beds were installed on Rock avenue. I. D. TenEyck, was appointed superintendent and Mrs. TenEyck, matron of the home. There were only a few inmates when the home was started but today there are sixteen, five of whom are women and nine are men. They are housed in two different parts of the building according to law. Separate dining rooms and bath rooms are provided for both sexes. The women's department, over which Mrs. TenEyck is in charge, is a model of order and cleanliness. The rooms are light and airy and are well kept while those of the men in charge of Mr. TenEyck, are large roomy and well ventilated. Cleanliness in all departments is insisted upon and as a consequence everything is bright and cheerful and the inmates seem content. The inmates are under the care of the city physician and a King's Daughter's nurse.

The improvements recently installed have done much to add to the cheerfulness of the place. The alms committee has added a steam heating plant, electric light system, telephone service, an enlarged laundry, a barn and shed and last but not least a miniature sewerage disposal plant where all the sewage from the house is treated on exactly the same principal as the larger beds a half mile away where all the city's sewage is treated. It is said that there is not another institution in the State which has such a complete system for the disposal of sewage. Like the city system the smaller one works perfectly.

In the party who inspected the home Saturday were Chairman of the committee, William L. Gloak, and his associates, W. A. Garrigues, and E. E. Pray, President of the Council James F. Buckle, Mayor Olin L. Jenkins, Chief of Police Patrick J. Kiely, Chief of the Fire Department Thaddeous O. Doane and Overseer of the Poor Alexander Ayres. They were driven to the home in the new police patrol which attracted much attention as it sped through West Front street crowded with Saturday afternoon shoppers.

The committee and visitors were especially interested in the workings of the little sewer disposal plant. The reason it was installed at the home was explained by the fact that the home is below the level of the city beds. Some method of taking care of the sewage had to be provided for and as a result the miniature plant was installed. It is complete with septic tanks, filters and filtration apartment and the waste liquids are led off into five different channels and are absorbed by the earth.

After the inspection a luncheon was served to the visitors by the superintendent and matron which proved to be a pleasing event as well as a surprise. The home is always open for inspection and its neatly kept yards and buildings makes it one of the show places of the city.

Football enthusiasts who attended the Alis-Westfield game on Crescent Oval Saturday were treated to one of the best games ever played in this city. The result was a 6 to 0 victory for Alis. All the scoring was done in the first half. The Plainfielders were more proficient in team work.

Cummings, Wilson and Phillips deserve special mention for the manner in which they advanced the ball for Alis, while Voorhees and Cremings were all over the gridiron for Westfield. Cummings, for Alis, and Carey, for Westfield, had to retire from the game in the second half because of badly sprained ankles.

Orange Field Club defeated the Norwood Club, at Orange Oval, on Saturday afternoon, 19 to 0, in the presence of a crowd of 200 people. Both were aided by out-of-town players.

Smith's runs were features of the game and he together with Sherwin and Day did the best work for the winning team. Blimm and Messersmith were the particular stars for Norwood, each frequently breaking through the opponents lines and throwing the runner in his tracks.

At the end of the first half the Orange team led 6 to 0. In the second half Norwood's defense was smashed by Orange almost at pleasure.

JOHN A. DOWIE A FALSE PROPHET

Rev. Dr. Schenck Takes the Zion Impostor as Subject for a Sermon.

DENOUNCES THE ZIONIST

ELIJAH III A PRESUMING AND ASSUMING MONEY GETTER.

Man Exposed by the Pulpit and Press Merely a Mountebank—His Career and Teachings—The True and False Prophets Compared.

John Alexander Dowie, "Elijah III," his teachings and beliefs were thoroughly exposed by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck at the morning service yesterday in Trinity Reformed Church. By passages in the Scriptures and by tracing the modern alleged "restorer's" career from his graduation in the Edinburgh University down to his last meeting in Madison Square Garden, New York, it was plainly seen that the man who has been exposed by the press of the Metropolis was nothing more than a charlatan, a mountebank and fakir.

Malachai, IV:5, was the passage from which the pastor took his text. He described Elijah, the real prophet, and John the Baptist, who was the second Elijah, and then compared them both to the false prophet and maligner. Elijah, he said, received his commission from God's hand and when his work was finished he returned the commission to the Lord while the present day Elijah, with his long flowing robes and almost profane language, received his commission from none other than his own hands.

Dr. Schenck declared that the first Elijah was a reformer and that the second Elijah came as the promised forerunner of Christ and that therefore the people need not look for an Elijah the third.

The minister said that when the present day Elijah came to New York he advised the ministers of the Gospel to take down their commentaries and make an investigation of the Scriptures. This he said the ministers had done and in their Bibles they found passages which would convince that no one need to look for another Elijah. "What then of this man's claim?" asked the minister. "There is nothing whatever to rest his assertions on, and it is a vain assumption and presumption for him to call himself Elijah III."

The pastor sketched the man's career, telling how he became to imagine himself to be a prophet. According to the story while he was in Australia a man stepped up to him and said to him that he was no doubt the great Elijah. Later when he had opened his city of Zion in the West this same man saw him and again declared that the preacher must be the great prophet. Dowie then began to expound this as doctrine. He found that people believed in him and he began to gain strength and wealth. Many people were ready to follow him, give one-tenth of their income to him and will over to him their property. He waxed rich.

Looking carefully into the characteristics of the man, Mr. Schenck pointed out that he is a moneymaker. To keep employed his converts he started a lace works in Zion city. Being protected by the high tariff on laces imported, it proved a paying investment from the start. According to his own utterances, said Mr. Schenck, Dowie is not by nature a preacher. He is credited with saying "By nature I am a business man but by instinct and inclination I am a great preacher."

Comparing the Elijah of almost three thousand years ago and the so-called Elijah of today Mr. Schenck said that the modern alleged prophet did not look like an Elijah; his actions were different and his makeup dissimilar.

COLORED POLITICIANS' UNION

REPRESENTATIVE MEN OF COLORED RACE IN NEW JERSEY TO ORGANIZE.

Union County to be Represented at Meeting to be Held in Newark Tuesday Night.

Representative men of the race resident in New Jersey, including C. R. S. Hawkins, of Elizabeth, and others from Union County, have signed a call for a convention of colored citizens of the State for the benefit of themselves and the Republican party, at Newark, October 27. The call says in part:

"We believe that through a State organization composed of the most thoughtful, active, conservative, far-sighted and influential men of our race, in the various counties, our interest and the interest of the Republican party will be more carefully guarded and our influence more effectively felt in all parts of this State.

"We further believe that those in authority and our party leaders can and will recognize our worth more readily through competent representatives of an organized body than through self-constituted leaders of a disorganized body.

"We further believe that better results can and will be had by live, reliable, representatives of a bona-fide State organization, and that we can and will receive a more lofty and substantial recognition through the efforts of unity than through dis-union and non-organization, which is our present condition."

The convention will be composed, it is stated, of delegates chosen at county conventions. The allotment of delegates gives Union 35; Somerset 10, and Middlesex, 25.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

The Crescent shipyards opened today at Elizabethport.

Edward Texier, of the Ferris Freres glove factory, was the guest of Elizabeth friends yesterday.

James Slorah, of McDowell street, who has been in Detroit, Mich., for the past two years, has returned to his home in this city where he will take a position in a machine shop.

Partly due to rolling stock being in good repair and a falling off in the iron traffic, a large number of men have been laid off in the railroad shops of the Erie, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Lake Shore and Southern Pacific.

Alexander Muir, assistant superintendent of the Randolph-Clawes Brass Rolling Mills, of Waterbury, Conn., is spending a few days with relatives in this city. Mr. Muir, who was formerly a gang boss in the Safe Works Company, expects to return to Waterbury tomorrow.

The new wheel shop of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Altoona is now in full operation. All machinery is driven by motors, each having a separate one, while the smaller tools are operated by the group system. This shop is considered one of the finest in the country.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company is now completing a new repair shop at Oak Island, near South Newark, and recently twenty men from the Packerton shops were sent there to go to work. Hereafter, when cars are damaged at this end of the line, they will be sent to Oak Island for repairs, and it will be the policy never to send them to Philadelphia or Buffalo, if the cars can be repaired at the new repair shops.

The second annual convention of Master Plumbers' Association of the State of New Jersey will be held in Camden tomorrow, October 27. The sessions will be held in Leathwhite's Hall, Broadway and Division street, and a banquet will be served in the evening, at 8 o'clock. Over a hundred delegates will attend the convention from all parts of New Jersey and the committee of the local Master Plumbers' Association is busy preparing for the entertainment of their guests. This committee consists of George Leathwhite, chairman; Harry Johannes, Alvin Heppard, Ernest Limroth, James F. Walton and Harry Farrell. The president of the State Association is George Aldeous, of Passaic. The convention last year was held in Passaic.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

J. E. Flannery and J. C. Blimm, exempt firemen, were participants in the exercises of the firemen at Somerville Thursday. Flannery is a former member of the Scotch Plains department, and Blimm was once associated with the Mt. Bethel firemen and the two indulged in a heated argument as to the wonders that their respective organizations could perform. Police interference was necessary to moderate the ardor of the debators who finally referred their difficulty to Charles McGinley for settlement. McGinley suspended sentence.

Not to recognize one's friends is sometimes pardonable, but when relatives living in the same town, fail to know each other, there does not appear to be any excuse. A case of this kind caused considerable amusement a few nights ago at a public gathering of men more or less prominent in city affairs. Two men were discussing general topics, when one spoke up in a questioning sort of a way and said: "I wonder who that old gentlemen is sitting over there," at the same time motioning with his eyes to the person referred to. The question somewhat startled the other man, who happened to know of the relationship by marriage, but making himself sure as to the person meant by the question, the inquirer was asked if it were possible that he did not know the man. Being assured that he did not, he was informed that it was Mr. So and So, one of the prominent officials of the city. For a few minutes the man who had put the question sat motionless and speechless, and then he broke out in a hearty laugh. In comparing notes it was learned that this fellow was related by marriage to the "old gentlemen," who if he knew of the conversation would probably resent the imputation that he was old. He had simply had his whiskers removed and that made all the difference in the world, especially to this particular man of an inquisitive turn of mind.

S. S. SWACKHAMER DEFENDED

A TRENTON PAPER SAYS HE FULFILLED HIS DUTY AT EXTRA SESSION.

Records Reproduced to Bear Out Its Contention in His Behalf—Conservative Action.

Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer, of Somerset County, takes exceptions to certain published reports, to the effect that he did his best to obstruct the consideration of the Colby school bill.

The records of the second special assembly, at which the school bill was passed, show that Mr. Swackhamer acted only as instructed to act by his constituents and as he believed in the best interests of the schools at large.

The records of the session show the following as his attitude: "Mr. Swackhamer wished to have stricken out that part of section 17 which provides that the aggregate number of days' attendance of all pupils shall be taken on the basis of the apportionment of school moneys, and to have inserted in its stead a section basing the apportionment on the number of children of school age in the school districts. The amendment was lost."

In addition to this Mr. Swackhamer felt that in the consideration of so important a subject too much time could not be given for its consideration, and with this end in view suggested that it be referred to the commission on codification of the laws and have that commission report to the house within a week as it volunteered to do and in the meantime the members of both houses could have an opportunity to study the proposed measure, a thing that was impossible under the circumstances. — Trenton Daily True American.

COLUMBIA'S TRIUMPH.

Great Surprise For the Warriors of Quaker City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—To the frantic playing of two brass bands and the hoarse cheering of 12,000 spectators the Columbia football team administered a smart defeat to her bitter rivals, the warriors from Philadelphia, at the Polo grounds by a score of 18 to 6.

The result was the first surprise of the football season, and the fact that the local team had acquired such strength of playing had been closely guarded in their camp at University Heights.

Columbia before the game was a forlorn hope, the under dog in the betting and looked upon as a defeated team. The players trotted on to the field with grim, set faces, and it didn't take long to turn the tide of favor, so far as the onlookers went, to their side.

Columbia's victory was no idle fluke. The game was played and won by superior football and that of a first class order.

Salvatella Won Billow Handicap.

BRIGHTON BEACH TRACK, Oct. 24.—Salvatella first, Eugenia Burch second, Hurstbourne third, with noses only dividing these first three. Such was the finish of the Billow handicap at Brighton Beach. And, though we are likely to hear little more of it in turf history, the grand struggle is in reality as worthy of commemoration as the memorable finish between Dry Monopole, Blue Wing and Hidalgo in the Brooklyn handicap, which has become celebrated. Mr. Vosburgh's handicap on this occasion produced a race which is well worthy of a niche in the temple of turf fame, and it formed a fitting conclusion to the last day of the Brighton Beach fall meeting.

Harvard Downs Brown.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26.—Harvard took a big brace and in a fast, clean, well played and interesting contest equaled Princeton's score against Brown and fell short by only one point of Pennsylvania's score by running up a total of 29 points against the Providence collegians. Not once during the entire game was Harvard's goal threatened, although Brown made her distance several times and showed up strongly on defensive play.

Champion Pacers to Race.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 26.—Mart Demarest, the driver of Prince Alert, James Hanley's big gelding, which has just broken the world's record for half mile pacing in 0:57½, has telegraphed to E. E. Smathers at Memphis that he would match Prince Alert against Dan Patch. Mr. Demarest stipulates that the match race shall take place at Memphis Nov. 10 for a purse of $20,000, with the best two out of three mile heats.

Dan Patch and Prince Alert.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 26.—Milton McHenry, driver of Dan Patch, 1:56¼, last night declined to discuss the match race proposed by the driver of Prince Alert when shown the dispatch from Providence. Horsemen are inclined to think that the challenge will be accepted and attribute Mr. McHenry's reticence to a desire that any announcement regarding the matter should come from the owner of the horse.

Woman In Auto Contest.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Riker have reached this city on their return to New York from Pittsburg after the recent automobile endurance contest. They are making the return trip by automobile. Mrs. Riker is the only woman who participated in the endurance run.

League Board Officers.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—The national board of arbitration of the National Association of Professional League Clubs completed its work and adjourned here after being in session since Wednesday. M. H. Sexton of Rock Island, Ill., was elected chairman and J. H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., secretary of the board.

Lou Dillon Lowers the Record.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 26.—Lou Dillon, the peerless piece of trotting machinery, under unfavorable conditions smashed the world's trotting record in the most remarkable mile ever witnessed, stepping the distance in 1:58½.

Cresceus Was Injured.

SAPULPA, I. T., Oct. 26.—A baggage car hauling Cresceus, the trotter, was derailed while switching in the yards here. The horse was thrown down and his legs injured, somewhat laming him.

Cresceus Will Go Again.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 26.—Cresceus, if recovered from injury, will attempt to lower the trotting record for a mile on a half mile track at the Kansas City Driving park track Saturday.

Overturned Lamp Caused Death.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 26. — A special from Danielson, Conn., says that Nelson Couture, a woolen weaver, was fatally burned by a Rochester lamp overturning. Coroner A. G. Bill said from appearances Couture sat in a chair in his room in a factory boarding house with the lamp between his feet and overturned it. The man's clothing was set on fire, and the body was horribly burned. The house was set on fire. Couture was dead when found.

No Water For Strike Breakers.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 26.—The Pacific Express company has closed its office at Longview. The people refused to give drinking water to the nonunion men installed there, and they had to be withdrawn. The company also turned down emphatically propositions of Texarkana and Little Rock boards of trade to submit the strike to arbitration.

ON VIRGINIA BEACH

Surfmen From Life Saving Stations Prevent Disaster.

SAVED THE GREAT SUMMER RESORT

Life Savers Collected Crews of Two Stations and by Heroic Work Fought Flaming Cottages to a Finish.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 26.—But for the heroic work of the crews from three life saving stations the entire summer resort of Virginia Beach, with its two large hotels and half a hundred or more costly homes, would probably be a mass of charred timbers and ashes. As it is, five handsome cottages are destroyed and many thousand dollars lost, with no insurance.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning E. C. Fosburgh of the E. C. Fosburgh Lumber company, who, with his family, was occupying the cottage of Hugh C. Davis, awoke to find his room in flames. About the same time a surfman from Seatack life saving station while patrolling the coast saw the fire and gave the alarm. In only scant attire the Fosburghs escaped from the burning building.

A northeast wind was sweeping on the shore, driving sleet before it and carrying flaming brands to the roofs of nearby cottages. The life savers notified the crews of Cape Henry and Dam Neck Mills stations of the fire by telephone, and both stations responded. In the meantime the flames had ignited several other houses and were rapidly eating their way to the Princess Anne hotel, and for awhile that immense structure seemed doomed. A sudden shift of the wind turned the flames back upon their trail and swept them northward.

This gave the fire fighters an opportunity to head them off by knocking out the south side of Rev. Tucker's home and, fighting from the inside of that building, soon subdued the flames.

Alleged Profits of Copper Trust.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Seventy-five million dollars was Wall street's estimate of the profits made by a certain group of capitalists as a result of the recent manipulation of Amalgamated Copper stock. These men, reported in Wall street to be the Rockefeller group of millionaires associated in the National City bank, have expended most of their profits, it is believed, in buying the capital stock of the Amalgamated company. Heavy buying of stock by insiders since the mines of the company in Montana were closed has caused Wall street to pay attention to charges made by F. Augustus Heinze. Mr. Heinze said the mines were closed to enable the directors to cover short contracts in the stock. It is known that there has been no outside trading in the stock, and the only possible buyers are insiders.

Stopped Guardsmen's Pay.

FORT RILEY, Kan., Oct. 26.—For a short time there was a possibility that the regiments of the national guard, which have commenced to break camp, would not receive their pay before departure. The paymasters were here with the money, but they demanded that the regular army officers detailed to muster the militia regiments should notify them as to the time the national guardsmen left home, the length of time on the road going and coming and the duration of camp duty. The mustering officers refused in every instance to comply with the majority of these requests on the ground of lack of personal knowledge. For a short time there was a deadlock, but Adjutant General Mayes stepped into the office, certified the facts in each case and supplied the certificates to the mustering officers, who turned them in with their muster rolls, and the national guardsmen were assured of their pay before leaving for home.

Chicago Woman In Santos' Air Ship.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Hobart Chatfield Taylor of Chicago and her friend, Mrs. Frank Jay Mackey, formerly of Chicago and now a noted member of the American set in London society, had the honor of being the first Americans to make the ascent in Santos-Dumont's gigantic new air ship. Discussing the trip, Mrs. Taylor said: "Santos-Dumont has certainly solved the problem of aerial navigation. His quiet, masterful management of the air ship and his unboastful manner inspired our full confidence."

Miners Wanted MacGinnis to Stay.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 26.—A report that John MacGinnis had left the city shortly after the miners' union offer to purchase his stock in the Boston and Montana mine caused considerable excitement among the miners, and thousands of them gathered about the railroad stations. It is said that MacGinnis left over the Short Line for Salt Lake City. Mayor Mullins has issued a proclamation ordering all the saloons and gambling houses of the city closed until the existing troubles are adjusted.

Henson Goes to Tremont Temple.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—"Believing it to be the will of God, I will come to you. Letter of acceptance forwarded." In these words Rev. Dr. Poindexter S. Henson of Brooklyn in a telegraphic message received notified the parishioners of Tremont temple that he had decided to accept the call extended him. The dispatch was read at the morning service and evoked many expressions of satisfaction.

Garrison House Burns.

YORK, Me., Oct. 26.—The Garrison House, a summer hotel at Long Beach, which had been closed for several weeks, has been burned to the ground, loss, $15,000.

ELIJAH III. RETURNS

Prophet Takes a Side Trip to Bay State Capital.

AN ORGAN FOR THE TABERNACLE

Attachment Against Dowie's Personal Property In Pierson Suit Threatens Seizure of the Chariots of Zion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—"Elijah III." Dowie has come back to New York from Boston. He had seen his wife and son sail for Australia from Boston. He was met by many of his overseers and was greeted warmly.

The "prophet" stopped in New Haven, Conn., for three hours on his way back to New York, and when he left there the Yale cheer was ringing in his ears. Accepting the students' cry as expressive of sincere good will, he blessed them and told them that he "hoped God would be infinitely good to Yale and bless the institution."

Dowie, with Deacon Peters and his secretary, Carl Stevens, traveled from Boston in the Pullman car Iolanthe. He was met at New Haven by representatives of the organ builders that placed the big memorial Newberry organ in the Bicentennial hall at Yale. Dowie intends to select an organ for his tabernacle and accepted the suggestion of the builders to stop over and hear its music.

At Woolsey hall he was flanked by the organ men. Henry Rowe Shelley of New York gave a recital on the organ and lectured on its tonal qualities. Dowie asked many questions and thanked the builders and the musician. There was no demonstration in the depot, but hundreds of people thronged about the car, some even going upon the platform. Dowie remained closely hidden from view.

An attachment for $1,000 against the personal property in this state of Dowie was served on the management of the Fifth Avenue hotel by Deputy Sheriff Altman. The attachment was obtained by Robert N. Farley of White Plains, who wants Dowie to pay him his fee as attorney for defending J. Luther Pierson, the Westchester county Zionite who was fined $500 for allowing his infant daughter to die without medical attendance.

As Dowie was in Boston the deputy could not ascertain how much baggage he had here or whether there was value enough to satisfy Mr. Farley's claim. The deputy looked around for Dowie's horses and carriages, but was unable to locate them, so he will attach them the next time Dowie drives to Madison Square Garden.

Pope Pius and the Venetians.

ROME, Oct. 26.—The pope appeared before 2,000 Venetians resident in Rome in the court of San Damaso and was enthusiastically received. He spoke to the Venetians most affably, saying he enjoyed hearing spoken around him the Venetian dialect, for it made him feel younger and reminded him of his entire life from childhood to the patriarchate in Venice. The ovation given to the pontiff was notable. After it the pope admitted the leading personages of the Venetian colony to the Hall of Inscriptions. The pope sent his apostolic benediction to a woman 104 years old who lives in a small village in the department of Venetia, who is supposed to be the only person in Italy who has seen three centuries. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Curtis of Washington have been received by the pope with marks of especial consideration.

The Great Powers' Scheme.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 26.—The scheme of the powers for the amelioration of affairs in Macedonia has been submitted to the porte. It has for its guiding principle control of and surveillance over all branches of the administration of the disturbed provinces by Austria and Russia for a period of two years. The proposals include the appointment of one Austrian and one Russian assessor to be attached to the staff of Hilmi Pasha, the inspector general, with a corps of assistants, secretaries and interpreters, whose duties will be to exercise control over all the acts of the provincial authorities. A European general in the Turkish service is to be appointed to command the gendarmery.

The New Navy.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The proposed battle ships, the Idaho and Mississippi, are to be in many respects the best fighters in the United States navy, constructed on lines long advocated—namely, well armed fighters with the best possible speed. Each is to make seventeen knots speed. The Maine on her run from Culebra to Currituck made 15.9 knots, and the department considers this an excellent record. The Oregon made on an average thirteen knots in her famous run to Santiago.

New Halls For Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The board of trustees of Cornell university has decided to begin work on the new Rockefeller Hall of Physics and the new Goldwin Smith Hall of Languages as soon as ground can be broken in the spring. Each building will cost $250,000.

Lowered World's Record.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 26.—Paced by Gus Lawson, Bobby Walthour lowered the world's record for five miles on an outdoor track here. He covered the distance in 7m. 35s. The previous record was 8m. 3s.

Ashland Has $150,000 Fire.

ASHLAND, Wis., Oct. 26.—The Shores block has been burned here, entailing a loss of $150,000. There were 150 roomers in the main building at the time of the fire.

MARKET LETTER ON APPLICATION.

TO SUCCEED HERBERT

Sir Henry Mortimer Durand Approved by King Edward.

WAS AMBASSADOR TO SPANISH COURT

New Envoy Has Expressed Great Liking For Americans and a Desire to Go to Washington as Representative.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—King Edward has approved the appointment of Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador at Madrid, as British ambassador to the United States to succeed the late Sir Michael Herbert.

The appointment of the British ambassador at Madrid as British ambassador to the United States to succeed the late Sir Michael Herbert is heartily approved here.

Sir Henry Durand has left London for Madrid, where at his own desire he will personally announce his promotion.

The selection of Sir Henry to succeed Sir Michael Herbert was a surprise, chiefly because he has never had any official connection with Washington.

It is learned that Sir Henry has frequently expressed a great liking for Americans and a desire to go to the United States.

His promotion comes more or less in the ordinary course of diplomatic changes, but one of the strongest recommendations which appealed to Foreign Secretary Lansdowne was Sir Henry's reputation of being an excellent lawyer. A similar qualification had much to do with the late Lord Pauncefote's selection.

The new ambassador will speedily bid farewell to the Spanish court and proceed to the United States. Lady Durand is not very strong, but it is hoped that the American climate will benefit her health and enable her to completely fulfill her duties as hostess of the British embassy.

He will be highly acceptable to the United States. The fact that he has not an American wife renders his appointment somewhat interesting, as many of the aspirants for the Washington post have married American women.

Lord Pauncefote was only a minister when he came to the United States and was elevated when the British legation was raised to an embassy. When M. Cambon, French ambassador here until the summer of 1902, was sent to Madrid it was called a "promotion." Madrid heretofore has been considered a post more desirable and important than Washington.

Now Sir Henry Durand is promoted by the crown from Madrid to Washington. The state department sees in this a distinct recognition of the importance of the Washington government. Sir Michael Herbert prior to his resignation as ambassador was only minister resident at Paris.

Mad Mollah Attacks Italians.

ROME, Oct. 26.—The government has received the following information concerning the engagement between the Italian cruiser Lombardia and forces of the Mad Mollah near Illig, in Italian Somaliland: "Owing to the close watch kept on the Somaliland coast by British and Italian ships the Mad Mollah was unable to get arms and ammunition by sea, as previously. He decided to make a desperate attempt to take possession of a point on the coast with 600 men, who attacked the Italian boats and killed several men. The following day the Lombardia bombarded the Mad Mollah's position and obliged his followers to retire."

Made Horses Playing Checkers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Thomas W. Ross, the star of "Checkers," the racing play now at the American theater, has purchased three thoroughbred yearlings from J. B. Haggin through John Mackey. Mr. Ross intends to make his debut in the racing game next season and has commissioned a well known trainer to purchase a couple of more horses. When "Checkers," in which Mr. Ross has a large interest, proved a success he determined to put some of the proceeds into the business it was woven around. His colors will be black and white checker board.

To Stop Irish Immigration.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Speaking at Killarney, John Redmond, the Irish leader, declared the time had arrived to start a campaign against emigration. One cause of emigration that ought to be removed, he said, was the exaggerated prospect held out to Irish boys and girls if they went to America. He criticised Andrew Carnegie's recent speech at Waterford and said the poorest laborer in Kerry was happier than the majority of Irish workingmen in the United States.

Heavy Gale on English Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A heavy gale is sweeping over the coasts of Great Britain, and vessels are running to port for shelter. Cornelius Vanderbilt's yacht North Star, Captain Timpson, from New York for Greenock, Scotland, has put into Queenstown short of coal. The Red Star line steamer Finland, Captain Albrecht, from Antwerp for New York, has arrived at Southampton in distress. She will proceed after making repairs to her steering gear.

Naval Commander Dead.

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 26.—Lieutenant Commander Martin Bevington of the United States navy, formerly chief engineer on the battle ship Kentucky of the Asiatic squadron, died of Bright's disease here. During the Spanish-American war he was inspector in the bureau of navigation at Washington.

The new voting contrivance won't be the only machine in full operation here on election day.

After many postponements, the Crescent shipyards are due to be in full swing on today.

The local municipal tickets reflect credit on the two parties. There's little choice between them.

Don't neglect to see the voting machine in operation at the City Clerk's office. May save you the loss of your vote on election day.

While Uncle Sam was not contented without taking away his ships, the Mexicans were satisfied with carrying off a bunch of brides.

"Vote for Low and keep the grafters out" is the effective campaign sign which greets you in all parts of New York. This is the era of graft and the hotbed is in politics throughout the land.

New Jersey's treasurer will distribute nearly a million dollars for the State's schools today but the school authorities won't have to stay awake nights to find out how to get rid of the coin.

You can't get ahead of Silas Dewey Drake, of real estate fame. No sooner had Dowie announced his intention of locating in this part of the country than the hustling founder of Lincoln offered to sell him a big tract of land. Maybe, nothing will come of it, but its good advertising for Drake just the same.

"Say what you have to say, and then stop," is a good rule in writing advertisements. But be sure before you stop that you have said all that requires to be said. Sometimes a desire for brevity leads to the omission of very important points. And sometimes the important points are left out when the advertisements contains much that might be omitted without injury.—Exchange.

Spoke at Gospel Temperance Meeting at W. C. T. U. Rooms.

The gospel temperance meeting at the W. C. T. U. rooms yesterday afternoon was one of special interest to all workers in the cause of temperance. Martin A. Korff conducted the meeting and made a strong address. There was also special music, Mr. Korff playing two violin solos, while Robert Barnes and Robert Spier, violin, and Wm. Spier, piano, rendered several selections and assisted in the singing of hymns.

PAPERCHASE ON HORSEBACK

MISS MARSHALL FIRST IN AT THE FINISH RECEIVES BLUE ROSETTE.

Masters Hallock and Valiant the Hares.—List of Those Taking Part.

On Saturday afternoon an enjoyable time was spent by a number of Plainfielders and their friends in a paperchase on horse back. The meet was held at the triangle in front of the Crescent Avenue Church.

The two "hares," Masters Hallock and J. Valiant, mounted on swift little horses and carrying bags of paper slung across their shoulders, were allowed a three minutes' start and then the hunt streamed after them in hot pursuit, closely followed by friends in carriages, and finally came up close on the hares at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The first young woman in at the finish was Miss Marshall, who was presented with a blue rosette, and following quickly after Miss Rae Hooley and Miss K. McCutcheon were close second and third.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—You cannot find a single flaw in the celebrated Rookdale print and creamery butter. Made scientifically of the best materials, it stands without an equal. Neuman Brothers have it.

—The Brooklyn Daily Eagle says: "Rosani gave an exhibition of balancing and juggling that has seldom, if ever been excelled in this city." He will appear with VanEps Brothers and MacClymont, banjo, mandolin and piano artists, in the entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. this evening.

—Affairs are beginning to look rather gloomy for the borough of Wharton, Hunterdon County. About 400 of the citizens are out of employment. The silk mills of the E. J. Ross Manufacturing Company are closed for an indefinite period. Wharton's old furnace is blown out and last week the Hurd mine was closed indefinitely.

William Packer, one of Plainfield's unique characters, was arrested Sunday morning by Constable Walpole for being helplessly drunk and insisting on sleeping off his jag on one of the store stoops on Park avenue. FAREWELL TO MR. MARSHALL

MARCONNIER SUNDAY-SCHOOL PRESENTS A TOKEN OF REGARD.

Pleasant Words of Rev. Dr. Schenck and A. C. Beckstein—A Baptism.

The faithful and efficient services of H. W. Marshall, as superintendent of Marconnier Chapel during the past three and half years, were pleasantly recognized at the chapel yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Marshall acted as superintendent for the last time. Totally as a surprise to him, A. C. Beckstein, in the name of the Sunday-school, presented a handsome silk umbrella, at the same time making a few remarks in which he spoke of the earnest efforts put forth by Mr. Marshall and his devotion to the service of the chapel.

In response Mr. Marshall expressed his grateful appreciation for the useful and handsome gift, and he thanked the members of the chapel and Sunday-school for the way in which they had assisted him in the work. The growth of the school was referred to with considerable satisfaction.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, of Trinity Reformed Church, who was present at the Sunday-school session, also made a few remarks relative to Mr. Marshall's retirement.

Another pleasant feature of the afternoon was the baptism of Anna Katherine, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. VanCourt, by Rev. Dr. Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed Church. This is the first baptism at the chapel and it was attended with more than ordinary interest.

The service at the chapel last night was in charge of Councilman Robert Clark, Jr., of North Plainfield. There was a good attendance and much interest manifested in the meeting.

Runaway on Park Avenue.

A barrel overturned by the wind fell beneath a horse's feet at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street this morning and caused an exciting runaway. The animal broke loose from its fastenings and dashed down Fourth street on the sidewalk to Franklin School where it became disengaged from the wagon. The horse was caught some distance away. S. F. Sabocker, who lives on the Henry Clay Randolph farm, owned the rig.

Found They Had Lost It.

"Something happened down at the bank, Maria."

"Is that so, Hiram?"

"Yes, they've discovered a defalcation."

"Indeed! And they didn't know they had it before?"

"No, they just found it this morning."

"They didn't know they'd lost anything until they found it, eh?"

"No."

"How did they come to find it, Hiram?"

"Why, the cashier went away and left it."

"Didn't the cashier know it was there?"

"Of course he did. That's why he left it."

"Oh, he thought the bank people needed it more than he did, perhaps."

"What on earth are you talking about, anyway?"

"Why, the thing they found at the bank."

"Don't you understand? They've lost a lot of money."

"Yes, but they found the defalcation, you say?"

"Oh, say! Just go and chase the scarecrow in to supper, will you?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Bit of Wall Street Life.

Life is not all stocks and bonds and margins down in Wall street. The other day a reporter opened the door of a prominent broker's office, and was startled to behold three brokers and two clerks on their knees on the floor around a small but self-possessed kitten. The kitten was sitting with her tail coiled around her front feet, paying not the slightest attention to any of them, while two of the brokers purred ingratiatingly, the clerks meowed, and the third broker fixed her with a steely glance. As the reporter paused in the doorway and gazed in amazement, the kitten rose languidly and made her way between two of the brokers over to the waste basket, where she began playing with a bundle of papers. Then explanations were forthcoming. "We found her outside," one of the brokers volunteered, "and got her some milk and brought her in here. We were betting on whom she would go to. The conditions were that we could make any noise we wanted to, but we were not allowed to move or to call her. The bets are off," he added, regretfully.—N. Y. Sun.

Lightning's Queer Prank.

In the state of Maine lightning has been playing pranks in a way to startle the inhabitants. Two miles above Norridgewock, in a clearing on the west bank of the river, stood a tall pine, from a limb of which some years ago a student of the Eaton school hanged himself. When the woodsmen came that way afterward they cut down all the other pines, but spared the suicide tree, as it has been known. One night a bolt of lightning stripped from the tree every branch except that from which the student hanged himself, and which is identified by a notch cut where the rope was fastened. A little way off the lightning cut a deep and narrow channel through the center of a great flat rock on the river bank, as neatly as stone cutters could have done it.

Hard to Forgive.

Cassidy—The Belvideres don't seem to be so fond of each other as they did!

Horton—No. They get along well enough, but there is no feeling of respect between them. She likes Fred, she says, but can't forgive him for taking such an ordinary person as herself and trying to make it out that she was a little better than the angels; and on the other hand, Fred can't forgive Mary for marrying such a fool as she did.—Boston Transcript.

Not the Real Thing.

She—Yes, you men have what you call friends, but your friendship is so superficial, so calculating, so watery—

He—Oh! But don't you remember David and Jonathan, Damon and Pythias, Goethe and Schiller—

"Yes; but you never brush each other's hair, nor show each other your new hats, nor discuss what is best for baby's throat, nor how to make up an old frock, nor anything."—London Tit-Bits.

Mistake in a Street Car.

Said a man on a street car who had already given up his seat as he nudged a familiar friend who still kept his:

"Why don't you get up and give the woman a seat?"

She, who was standing, glared at him.

"Sir!" she said, "I will have you know I am a lady!"

"Ah! Beg your pardon, madam," he replied politely, "I took you for a woman!"—Portland Oregonian.

An Even Break.

They were seated at the tea table when a small domestic storm gathered and broke loose.

"You seem to forget," snapped the angry freight-payer of the combine, "that I earn your bread."

"Well, what if you do?" rejoined the patient wife, "I urn your tea, don't I?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Matrimonial Dyspepsia.

Well, how do you like married life?' inquired the friend.

"Not at all," replied the man who had married money and was suffering for it. "I'm a case of matrimonial dyspepsia."

"Matrimonial dyspepsia?"

"Yes. She never agrees with me; she's too rich."—Stray Stories.

Baby's Grasping Nature.

"Has the baby had the measles yet, Mr. Popa?"

"Sh-sh! Don't speak so loud. Whenever he hears anything mentioned that he hasn't got he cries for it."—Stray Stories.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

AUTOMOBILE STYLES.

They Are Now More Becoming—Suits of Pony Skin.

Automobile costumes are being made in nine different styles, which is a good thing alike for the wearer and those who have to look at the wearer.

Entire suits made of pony skin are perhaps the smartest, and they are certainly expensive enough to keep them from becoming common.

For winter wear there are auto coats of shaggy inexpensive fur which shed the rain and dust. These are made double breasted, with inside pockets and high storm collars.

The auto caps made of leather to match the coat have chiffon veils gathered around the brim in such a fashion that they can be thrown back or down at a moment's notice.

Wine color is a prime favorite for auto veils and the silk waterproof coats which are used for short trips.

Jet and pailletted net are revived in all their glory. Sometimes the sequins are of various sizes, some large and some small. All forms of the sequined dress must be plain and tight fitting as far as the knees, but the flounces at the feet may be as voluminous as you please. A beautiful robe seen recently was a mass of jet and silver, cut en princesse, with the bodice and sleeves composed of a trelliswork mixture of black silk and chenille fringe. From the knees were numbers of pinked out silk flounces, edged with chenille bobs. The wearer of this very sumptuous frock eschewed all forms of jewelry and merely wore in her extremely pretty fair hair two large bows of velvet, one in front and the other at the back, the coiffure being very high on the top of the head. This individual woman showed her sense of fitness of things by wearing no jewels, for that glittering mass of jet and silver required no lightening effect, being in itself a most gorgeous garment.

The cut shows a Russian blouse auto costume made of light weight leather, with a cap to match.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION WITH COMFORT.

Present Day Dresses Are Light Weight and Fit Easily.

Never has the fashionable woman been so comfortable even in her gala attire. She wears corsets so lightly constructed that she has ample room to breathe, and though she wears a high collar it is not a stiff one. Her skirts even are of soft light weight materials, and there are no tight linings and ungainly stiffenings.

Coats of suede are among the smart novelties. These are made short length and are trimmed with handsome fancy buttons.

WHITE FELT HAT.

ed. Cream panne velvet and Irish crochet lace formed the trimming of a handsome white gown of this material

Cape effects, with stole ends and the long silk tassels, are still to be seen on many dresses.

A great deal of fringe is used on handsome cloth gowns.

An evening gown of fine white net over white silk is made with a very full skirt quaintly adorned with ronleaux of white soft silk ribbon, arranged, together with appliques of white lace, in a kind of scroll work design all over the lower part of the skirt. The bodice has a deep collar of white lace applique on net, and white cloth, with a hemstitched border.

The picture shows a toque of white felt trimmed with green velvet and a green and brown wing.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

AT MOUNT ST. ALBANS.

Roosevelt's Address on Service to God and the State.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—"Intelligent Service to God and to the State" was the subject of an address by President Roosevelt to the 7,000 people who attended the public open air missionary service at Mount St. Albans yesterday afternoon on the close of the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. The president was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Admiral Dewey and Brigadier General John M. Wilson.

After a procession led by the Marine band in cassocks and cottas of a choir of 500 voices, the clergy of the diocese of Washington and the bishops of the Anglican communions in America the opening prayers were read by Bishop Doane of Albany. The president was introduced by Bishop Satterlee.

At the close of the president's address the Most Rev. Enos Nuttall, archbishop of the West Indies, asked permission to say a word in behalf of the British people. Speaking, as he said, for them, he told of the "reverence and respect" which all Englishmen feel for the president of the United States and for Theodore Roosevelt, "the man and Christian." He declared that England welcomed the expansion of the United States into a world power and that if President Roosevelt should visit England he would receive the greatest welcome ever extended to a foreign visitor.

BLAIR COLLAPSED.

Charged With Alleged Frauds Involving $63,000.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—Overcome by the strain of his manifold troubles and the knowledge that a long story of alleged misdoings in his office has been laid before the grand jury, James Lawrence Blair, until recently counsel for the world's fair and for many years accounted one of the leading citizens of this city, collapsed while making a general denial of the charges against him.

Physicians in attendance say that his life is in danger. Mr. Blair had been talking for more than an hour to two reporters regarding the statements made by James T. Roberts to the effect that through irregularities in Blair's office Dick Bros. of Philadelphia had lost large sums of money and that the Blow estate trust funds had suffered to the amount of $63,000.

He made vigorous and general denials to all the charges. Then a question was asked regarding a brother who, it has been alleged by Mr. Blair, has much to do with his present troubles. Mr. Blair turned pale, gasped, then screamed and fell to the floor frothing at the mouth and unconscious.

Professor Thurston's Sudden Death.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Professor Robert H. Thurston, director of the Sibley College of Engineering, Cornell university, died suddenly last night at his home on the campus. He was sitting in his library shortly before 6 o'clock awaiting the arrival of former President Andrew D. White, Dean Huffcut of the College of Law, Professor Hewett and others, who were to be his guests at dinner, it being his sixty-fourth birthday. He seemed to fall asleep, but when his wife made efforts to rouse him she found him unconscious, and he was dead before a physician could be summoned. Heart disease was the cause of death. He had been in apparent good health and spirits and had just returned from a brisk walk. Dr. Thurston was one of the best known members of the university faculty and ranked very high in his profession.

Bulgarian Will Tour America.

VIENNA, Oct. 26.—Two Bulgarian missionaries named Furnajieff and Popoff are about to leave here for New York for the purpose of making a tour of the United States to raise funds for destitute Macedonians. They are both graduates of American colleges, Furnajieff having studied at Princeton and Popoff at Hamilton, N. Y. The condition of internal affairs in Bulgaria is alarming. All the revolutionary bands which were operating in eastern Macedonia have returned to Bulgaria. The streets of Sofia are thronged with insurgents who beg for food and shelter.

Rebel Army of Seventy Men.

PANAMA, Colombia, Oct. 26.—It is known here that a revolutionary force consisting of about seventy men landed at or near Catalina, the port at the mouth of the Galovebora, on the Atlantic coast of Colombia, and after having traveled a certain distance into the interior returned to the coast and marched toward Penonome. This expedition, according to information in the hands of Governor Obaldia, is under the leadership of Federico Barrera, Lugo and Juan Antonio Caicedo. Government forces under Major Tascon have been sent to chase the insurgents.

Yellow Fever Cases and Deaths.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 26.—Yellow fever conditions are much improved here, and it is believed that the disease will have been stamped out within a short time. The official bulletin issued is as follows: New cases, 12; deaths, 1; total cases to date, 534; total deaths, 44. No official bulletin has been lately issued regarding the situation at Nuevo Laredo. No additional cases have been reported from Minera.

JAPAN'S WAR COUNCIL.

Cabinet Ministers and Statesmen Discuss Crisis.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 26.—At the conference held between cabinet ministers and the elder statesmen of Japan, when the far eastern crisis was discussed, there were present among others Privy Councilor Yamagata, Marshal Omaya, Count Inouye, Privy Councilor Count Matsukata, Baron Komura, the foreign minister; General Terauchi, the war minister, and Baron Yamamoto, the minister of marine, in addition to Premier Katsura and Marquis Ito.

It is officially reported here that Haghiwara Shuichi, secretary of the Japanese legation at Seoul, Korea, and his party have been prevented by the Russians from landing at Yongampho, thereupon the party proceeded and landed at Wiju.

Japanese reports of a visit to the alleged signal station at Yongampho are to the effect that there is a fort there.

Russian Troops on the Move.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—United States Commercial Agent M. M. Langhorne is at present here on his way back to America from Port Dalny, the new port on the eastern shore of the Liaotung peninsula, about twenty miles from Port Arthur. He says that on the railroad trip from Port Dalny he counted seven trains bearing Russian soldiers going east. Port Dalny is not progressing, according to the commercial agent, the trade remaining at Newchwang and Port Arthur. The latter place is favored by Viceroy Alexieff.

A HELPFUL WOMAN.

Wife of Colonial Secretary Does His Political Work.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Lyttelton, wife of the Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, Mr. Chamberlain's athletic successor at the colonial office, is doing yeoman service for her husband. Mr. Lyttelton has, following the British system, to seek reelection to the house of commons on appointment to the cabinet. He has been prevented by illness from pushing his candidacy at Leamington, but Mrs. Lyttelton has stepped into the breach with a gallantry that is described as "an inspiration to English womanhood." An enthusiastic local correspondent thus writes of her campaign:

"With indomitable courage and enthusiasm Mrs. Lyttelton has succeeded in filling all the numerous engagements made by her husband before he took to his bed, and during the past week at all hours of the day she has devoted her time to addressing meetings of workingmen and workingwomen, speaking at several great public meetings and touring the scattered district of her husband's constituency to canvass in his behalf. Nor has she rested after her labors of the day, for at night by the bedside of Mr. Lyttelton she has worked with him at his papers and acted as his indefatigable aid-de-camp in the political arena.

"'I've done nothing that any good wife wouldn't do for her husband,' said Mrs. Lyttelton modestly.

"She has," continues the correspondent, "the advantages of a winning manner and a ready wit."

Enterprise Wrecks the Matin.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—An enterprise started by the Matin, which consisted of concealing in the city a treasure the whereabout of which was indicated in a serial story running in the paper, has caused trouble here. A crowd was seeking the treasure in the Buttes Chaumont park when a man drove up in a cab, alighted and immediately found it. The crowd declared that the finder was employed by the paper and had been told where to look. They tried to lynch him, and he was saved with difficulty. Subsequently 800 persons marched to the office of the Matin, where they made a bonfire of copies of the paper and threatened to wreck the premises. The police had a hard task in dispersing the mob.

Canfield Gambling Trial.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Richard A. Canfield and his attorneys, John Delahanty of New York and John B. Stanchfield of Elmira, came to Binghamton to attend supreme court, when Justice Sewell will announce his decision on the demurrer to the indictment in the famous Canfield gambling case, which was recently argued, and also on the motion made by Mr. Canfield's attorneys to have a date fixed for the trial at once or else to dismiss the complaint.

Provisional Government Resigns.

CAPE HAITIEN, Haiti, Oct. 26.—The insurgent movement in the Dominican republic is spreading throughout all the northern part of the country. La Vega, Monte Christe and Santiago have come out in favor of the movement. A provisional government was established at Puerto Plata, on the north coast, under the presidency of General Morales, the governor of the port.

A Kentucky Shooting.

LANCASTER, Ky., Oct. 26.—A. N. Bentley, master mechanic of the Lavingston division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, shot and killed B. N. Roller, master of trains. The shooting occurred in front of the courthouse.

Maxim Gun Exploded. One Killed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A [illegible]-pounder Maxim machine gun exploded at the Indian Head proving grounds, killing instantly Frank [illegible], a negro helper, and seriously injuring Nelson Jackson, a first class laborer, also colored.

GOVERNOR TO BE THERE

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF STATE AND GEN. GILMORE TO REVIEW REGIMENT.

Formation and Line of March—McCandless' Field to be the Scene of Manoeuvres—A Big Day for Elizabeth.

Active preparations are being made at Elizabeth to make the field day of the Second Regiment, to be held Wednesday, one of the greatest events in the history of the regiment, and Co. K, of this city, will take a conspicuous part in the affair.

It is expected that Governor Murphy and General Gillmore and staff will be present and review the regiment on McCandless' field about 2:30 or 3 o'clock.

The New York Tribune in its correspondence from Trenton reflects the political situation in this State as it is now viewed by those who are in touch with the conditions. Referring to a recent interview with Senator Kean, it says that what Mr. Kean said "has caused considerable comment among State politicians, and the popular impression appears to be that Mr. Kean has something more than mere political talk upon which to base his faith in his reelection. His confidence in his present standing as a candidate has increased that of his warmest supporters, and some Republicans who cannot be regarded as likely to be influential in their exertions for his reelection are disposed to admit that up to this time he is far in the lead of any of his possible competitors. A single remark which pretty well illustrates the situation was made by a Republican who is in close touch with political conditions in the State: 'Before John Kean is beaten it will be necessary to produce somebody to beat him with.' That part of Senator Kean's interview in which he said that the Republicans would carry Cape May has made the other State leaders feel that that county will have a sensational vote for United States senator, but nobody has ventured to say for whom that vote will be cast. It is plain that Senator Kean's optimistic view of the Republican situation in the State has had a cheering and encouraging effect."—Elizabeth Journal.

Train Porters.

A popular feature of the through trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad which leave New York daily for the West at 7:55 a. m., and 1:55 p. m., and leave Pittsburg daily for the East at 8 a. m., and 7:30 a. m., is the train porters stationed in the day coaches. Their duty consists of keeping the cars clean and rendering whatever service passengers may require. The Pullman porter has long since demonstrated his usefulness; the Pennsylvania Railroad train porter serves the ordinary coach passenger in the same capacity as the Pullman porter serves those who ride in parlor and sleeping cars. The day coaches on the above-mentioned trains, as well as those on trains leaving New York at 5:55 p. m. daily for the West and leaving Pittsburg at 7:10 p. m. daily for the East, are equipped with lavatories, in connection with which the services of train porters are especially convenient. 10-21-2w

C. S. SMINCK ASKS POINTED QUESTIONS

Attacks Senator Kean and His Brother the Republican County Chairman.

KIRK'S ALLEGED BOAST

SAYS THERE'S A KEAN-KIRK-KINK IN THE MAINSAIL OF PARTY SHIP.

"The Kean Club in Their Bergenesque Letter Spoke About Spies," Says He—Personal Politics in Union County.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

Why was Mr. Kirk selected as the Republican nominee for the Assembly as Plainfield's choice when he represented but a very small minority of the Republicans of the city? Was it because Senator John Kean recognized in him a kindred spirit in ability and statesmanship and sought to form a partnership in the art of county bridge building? Do the small drops of the trickling brooks over which the bridges are built illustrate the depth and breadth of their statesmanship? If the rest of the county conceded that Plainfield was entitled to the nomination why was not Mr. Buckle chosen, whom the Republicans of Plainfield wanted, having eighty per cent. of Plainfield's delegation at the convention?

Why did Mr. Kean's delegates ignore the rights of the majority and insult the principle of home rule? Do you call this wise Republican leadership and shall we permit it to continue? Will Mr. Kirk make an affidavit to the effect that he did not openly state that he would receive the nomination regardless of the result of the Plainfield primaries? Why have primaries at all? Why not let Mr. Kean choose the nominees thus saving time and labor? Will the very honorable Mr. Hamilton Kean make an affidavit to the effect that he did not say: "No one would be nominated unless personally loyal to his brilliant brother and statesman?" What kind of politics have we in Union County? Republican or personal politics!

If the test of Republicanism in Union County is allegiance to Senator John Kean then we have personal politics pure and simple and it should be vigorously resented and destroyed root and branch at the polls in the name of independent American citizenship and Republicanism. What is the duty of a Republican at this time? A Republican should always stand by his party. How can a Republican stand by his party and not vote for Mr. Kirk? A Republican in voting for Mr. Kirk is standing by the pary of the first part situated on Morris avenue, Elizabeth and not the Republican party. Smash the political partnership!

Is not Plainfield being worked pretty well financially through the water company? Do you as a voter wish to be politically worked in the same way? Is it not a fact that a house that pays the water company $30 could, if situated elsewhere get the same service for $10? Who gets the profit? How long are you going to stand it? Who owns the water company? Smash the political partnership!

Judge William N. Runyon was one of the so-called bolting delegates. Who will question the gentleman's Republicanism? It is safe to say that Mr. Runyon's work in the past has been and in the future, will be just as effective for the Republican party as the work of any member of the Plainfield Kean Club—mis-named Republican Club. The Kean Club in their Bergenesque letter spoke about spies. Is William N. Runyon a spy? Is the gentleman's first love the Democratic party? What is a spy? Usually a person who can walk down a marble corridor without being heard. How many members of the Kean Club are velvet footed? What persons who are now members of the Kean Club were interested in the mid-night seance and revel at East Front street and Farragut road last fall? Did they go there softly and in the dead of night? If so they are capable of walking down a marble corridor without being heard. Let those challenge the honor of the other fellow whose shields are untarnished.

There is a Kean-Kirk-Kink in the mainsail and it is hoped that the loyal, stalwart, patriotic Republicans of Plainfield will straighten it out after which the Republican ship-of-state will sail on to victory under Captain Roosevelt.

Charles S. Sminck.

DR S. S. WILLIS MOURNED BY MANY

Plainfielder's Son Made a Rapid Rise in Appleton, Wis., Where He Located.

SKETCH OF HIS CAREER

HE WAS CHIEF OF STAFF OF A LARGE HOSPITAL THERE.

Prominent as a Mason, Pythian and Elk—Only Thirty-Five Years of Age—Scenes at His Funeral—Newspapers Eulogized Him.

Recent issues of the daily newspapers published at Appleton, Wis., indicate the great loss which that city sustains in the death of Dr. Sidney S. Willis, son of J. V. N. Willis, of this city. All the publications in Appleton and the nearby towns give columns of space in describing him and his untimely death.

While Dr. Willis was a Jerseyman, the last nine years of his professional career were spent in the Western city where he died. His popularity extended practically to every walk of life in that community, and his death consequently cast a gloom which was everywhere apparent. The Appleton papers tell of the sorrowing crowds which viewed Dr. Willis' body as it laid in state, and say that it was one of the most remarkable scenes ever witnessed in that city.

His popularity and prestige as a physician, though of the highest order, were completely over-shadowed by the intense personal regard in which he was held. He was prominent in many fraternal orders, and being one of the most noted Masons in the State, his funeral was conducted by Waverly Lodge, A. and A. M. The Knights of Pythias and Elks lodges also attended in a body, and lodges of the various fraternities from all the nearby cities and towns were present. These lodges appointed guards to convey the body East to his burial place at Marlborough, Monmouth County, N. J., where it was met by Trinity Commandery, No. 17, Knights Templar, of this city.

Dr. Willis was but 35 years old. The large hospital at Appleton is one of the lasting monuments to his memory, for it was by his fostering care and industry that it was built. He did not labor in vain, for the people of Wisconsin will never forget him any more than his sorrowing family and friends in Plainfield will.

A SHORT HISTORY OF MASONRY IN PLAINFIELD.

First Warrant for Blue Lodge Received Eighty-Six Years Ago—Chapter Instituted in 1870 and Commandery in 1889.

When the Babcock building was destroyed in Plainfield's most destructive fire on Thursday morning, March 6, 1902, the Masons in this city lost their home, and not until this week did they re-enter their own place. It was a severe blow to the fraternity when its home was completely destroyed by fire and water, but since that time the work of rebuilding the "sky-scraper" has been going on, and at last the Masons are again housed in what is said to be the most elaborate, as well as the best appointed, Masonic headquarters in New Jersey.

The entire fifth floor and the better part of the fourth floor of the structure compose the Masonic home. On the fifth floor is a large room in which the communications of the blue lodges, the meetings of the chapter and the convocations of the commandery are held. Surrounding it are various ante-rooms, retiring rooms and locker-rooms, as well as halls, and in front of all, facing on West Front street, are the reception rooms. All are finished in fine taste. Fine grades of hard wood have been used throughout. The lodge room, however, is finished in white enamel so far as the woodwork is concerned. The dome in the ceiling is decorated, and in it is a multitude of small incandescent lights. On the fourth floor are the banquet hall, the drillroom, the kitchens and the retiring rooms. In all parts of the home every up-to-date improvement has been made.

As far as the furniture and paraphernalia are concerned no expense has been spared in the work of restoration. All the furniture is of solid oak, and the individual chairs are models of workmanship. The chairs of the officers and the other paraphernalia in wood are of a high order in design, as is also the brass work. The carpets on the fifth floor cost $1,000. As yet the lodge room is incomplete. A large pipe organ will be installed there before November 15.

Masonry made its entry in Plainfield almost eighty-six years ago. Jerusalem Lodge No. 40, Free and Accepted Masons, received its warrant, dated November 11, 1817, in December, 1817, and on December 17, of the same year, the first communication ever held in Plainfield, which was then a township of Essex County, took place. It was held in a building at the corner of Front and Somerset streets. The charter members were John Allen, Elias Runyon, William D. Sherwood, Jacob Lazalere, William Williamson, Simeon Guage and William Stuart. Mr. Allen was chosen worshipful master, and Mr. Runyon was made senior warden, while Mr. Sherwood was elected junior warden. Mr. Williamson was made treasurer and Mr. Norcott secretary. The first tyler was Mr. Lazalere. In 1853 the lodge number was changed to 26, the name remaining the same. At the present time there are 191 members.

On January 2, 1879, a number of members of Jerusalem Lodge No. 26 and other Masons obtained permission from the grand lodge of the State to form a new blue lodge. It became known as Anchor Lodge No. 149, and among its charter members were some of the most influential men in the city. Its history like that of the older organization has been one of continued success. At present the sister blue lodges meet alternately on Tuesday nights, and frequent visits are exchanged. Receptions are also given.

Until thirty-three years ago, there was no chapter here, but on September 14, 1870, a warrant was drawn for the institution of Jerusalem Chapter No. 24, Royal Arch Masons. This organization drew its membership not only from Plainfield and North Plainfield, but from the surrounding towns and country districts. Trinity Commandery No. 17, Knights Templar, was formed in the fall of 1889, with William H. Sebring as its first eminent commander. Since then Mr. Sebring has been a grand commander of the templars in New Jersey. He is

CONSOLIDATED HIGH SCHOOL SUGGESTED

North Plainfield Board of Education Addresses Plainfield's Authorities.

VIGOROUS OPPOSITION

RESOLUTION PASSED BY VOTE OF FIVE TO FOUR.

A. V. D. Honeyman and Dr. J. H. Cooley Object to Measure and Fought for Amendment—Action Monday Night.

Another phase of the school consolidation project developed at the meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education at its regular meeting last evening when the resolution, which was defeated at the last session, was passed by a vote of five to four. A. V. D. Honeyman made two attempts to amend the resolution but both were defeated. A heated discussion preceded its passage.

This is the resolution as presented last evening by John Valiant, who voted against the proposition at the last meeting: "Your preparations to enlarge the facilities for High School instruction in Plainfield prompt us to address you in a matter of common concern.

"The policy of duplicating accommodations, efforts and expense by maintaining a separate High School organization in North Plainfield has frequently been questioned, but up to the present time no other course has been open to us. We would now, however, respectfully invite you to make a proposition offering a practicable basis for a union of the two High Schools. Inasmuch as such an arrangement, if consumated, would relieve our pressing needs for a new primary building, we would value an early reply."

Mr. Honeyman suggested an amendments in which it provided that before submitting the proposition to the Plainfield Board a public meeting be held so that the taxpayers could have an opportunity of voicing their opinions as to whether or not the communication be sent. This was defeated by a vote of four to three, Mr. Joy and Mr. Overton not voting.

A second resolution which was defeated by a vote of five nays to four ayes was:

"In making a proposition to us concerning the foregoing, it should be borne in mind that any contract made to us should be binding for a term of years." The original resolution was finally passed.

The standing of the members of the Board upon this question was seen in the argument which was advanced throughout the discussion. Mr. Townsend, who is in favor of the plan, held that before the Board went ahead with the matter of giving out a contract for a new school building more light should be thrown on the idea of what could be done by the Board to relieve the present school needs so that instead of erecting a school building now, which would meet the demands for the next two years, the temporary needs could be supplied by consolidating the two High Schools, temporarily, at least.

Mr. Honeyman, who has opposed the project from the first, declared that he did not come to the meeting for the purpose of turning down the resolution and he did not offer his amendments for that purpose, because he was opposed to it and would vote against it any way. Mr. Burtis asked if, by making such a proposition to the Plainfield Board, it would delay making preparations for the new borough school building which was answered by President Joy who said that it seemed to him that it would be necessary to have more school accommodations whatever the reply. He said he had gone over the reports for the past fifteen years and was confident that by such an arrangement with Plainfield the conditions could be relieved for two years and by the end of that time arrangements could be made to erect a six room school building where it is now planned to erect one of four rooms. By erecting one of six rooms the needs of the borough would be supplied for at least six years.

Dr. Cooley, who has stood solidly for home schools throughout the discussions at both meetings, said it was impossible and impracticable to make such a proposition. Mr. Joy replied that it was a question with the Board whether to erect a four room school

AS TO SKIN DISEASES AMONG THE PUPILS

Borough Board Discusses Plans to Cope With the Present Trouble.

MR. TOWNSEND'S IDEAS

WISHES TO HAVE PARENTS INSTRUCTED IN PROPER TREATMENT.

As to the Vaccination Blanks—The Drawing Instruments—Warrants Drawn—The Business at the Session.

Whether or not to appoint a trained nurse or some competent person to visit the homes of children sent restricted from attending the North Plainfield schools on account of contagious skin diseases, and to instruct parents in the proper administering of medicines for the cure of these ailments, was one of the questions brought up before the members of the North Plainfield Board of Education at the meeting held last evening.

Chairman Samuel Townsend, of the truancy committee, in the course of his investigations has found that some pupils have been sent home because they are afflicted with a contagious skin disease. Because of neglect in applying the proper remedies, they return to school in some cases, before they are thoroughly cured and the disease in liable to spread among other children. He said that in some cases, where pupils have been in the habit of playing truant, they would encourage such diseases in order to escape the truant officer. Mr. Townsend suggested that a nurse, or competent person be employed by the Board of Education to visit the homes of children who are sent from school for this reason and instruct the parents in the proper administering of the medicines. The Board thought it was the work of the borough physician and it was left with Mr. Townsend to see who was the person or persons who should attend to that matter, believing that it might be part of the Board of Health's work.

It was also reported by Mr. Townsend that parents did not thoroughly understand the wording of the vaccination blanks sent out by the school physician and that upon receiving them they took their children from school rather than have them vaccinated again. It was explained that the vaccination blanks were sent to those parents whose children had not been successfully vaccinated, and they should therefore be vaccinated again. The matter was referred to the president of the Board with power.

Dr. Cooley reported that some supplies were needed which were ordered secured. Mr. Townsend reported for his committee that the habitual truants in the borough had been reduced to two or three and these were well in hand.

Mr. Burtis reported that in the mechanical drawing department many boys whose parents could not afford to purchase drawing instruments for them were unable to take the course because it was made compulsory for each child to provide his own tools. It was shown that that course is a most valuable one and that it was necessary for each pupil who desired to take it up should have the same privilege, whether rich or poor. It was referred to a committee to purchase drawing sets as they are needed.

Warrants were ordered to be drawn for $3,157.95; $2,919.18 being for general school purposes and $238.77 for the manual training department. Mr. Valiant suggested that the bills be paid from the cash on hand but it was shown that there was still some funds in the hands of the Common Council, from back taxes which had not been paid over yet and it was decided that the warrants be drawn as usual.

Suit Against Physician.

The case of Browning, King & Company, clothiers, against Dr. R. D. Tomlinson was brought up in Justice Nash's court yesterday and adjourned one week to Monday, November 2. N. Douglass Drake, Esq., is attorney for the plaintiff and W. S. Angleman represents Dr. Tomlinson.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS MEET

Eighth Annual Institute of Primary and Junior Sunday-School Teachers' Union.

AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

SESSIONS HELD IN THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST CHURCH PARLORS.

Miss Beeching Presided—Address by Miss Baldwin, of Newark—Vocal Music and Talks—The Programme.

The eighth anniversary of the Plainfield Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union was observed yesterday, together with the annual Institute, the meeting being held in the parlors of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church. There was a large attendance of members and visiting friends, the affair being one of the most pleasant in the history of the Union. Miss Nettie J. Beeching, as president of the Union, had charge of the Institute and the general programme. There were two sessions, one in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and the other in the evening at 7:45, besides two conferences were held between the hour of supper and the evening session.

The afternoon session was opened with devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. Baker, of the local Union, and following a Primary song, Mrs. Alonso Pettit, of Elizabeth, president of the State Primary Council, gave a talk on beginners' work and teachers' training work and also taught the Sunday-school lesson for November 1. This talk proved very helpful to the many teachers present.

Mrs. J. A. Powlison, who was to have taught the Primary song, was unavoidably detained and this was omitted, and the next part on the programme was the teaching of the Primary lesson, "David and Absalom," by Mrs. Skillman, president of the New Brunswick Union. In the teaching of this lesson Mrs. Skillman used the blackboard and illustrated her teaching in an interesting manner.

Following a piano solo by Miss Voorhees, the afternoon programme closed with an illustrated talk by Miss J. L. Baldwin, of Newark, on "Duties of Assistant Junior Teachers." She told of the very many helpful rules to be adopted by the junior teacher in her work with the children in her department and following her talk she answered many questions asked by the different teachers.

At 6 o'clock supper was served in the church parlors to the members and their friends and the social features, as well as the excellent things provided, were greatly enjoyed by all. These young women had charge of serving the supper: Miss Edith Cairns, Miss Ada Fountain, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Miss Florence Serrell, Miss Deborah Winn.

After the supper there were two conferences, one led by Mrs. Alonso Pettit, of Elizabeth, for Primary workers and the discussion of the Lord's Prayer, and the other for Junior workers, led by Miss J. L. Baldwin. At the latter conference the Shepherd's Psalm was the topic for discussion.

The attendance was much larger at the evening session, there being present many pastors, Sunday-school superintendents, as well as other workers in this field of the church work. George F. Brown, first assistant superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday-school, opened the session with a praise service, after which Mrs. Alonso Pettit taught the doxology. Miss Baldwin, of Newark, who taught the Primary lesson in the afternoon, taught the Junior lesson from the same topic, "David and Absalom," using the blackboard effectively in her talk.

Preceding a piano solo by Miss Edith Cairns, Mrs. H. W. Barnes, secretary and treasurer of the Union, gave a brief history of the organization during the past year and there was a roll call of members. The Union was organized on September 15, 1895, with thirteen members, at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. building. Since that time there has been a steady increase until now the membership of the Union is fifty. Meetings have been held weekly and everyone has been attended with much interest. The finances are in excellent condition, all bills being paid and there being a surplus in the treasury.

After the reading of the reports the address of the evening was delivered

Plainfield people tell you how they act.

Mr. F. O. Smith, of 686 West Front street, contractor for painting, etc., says: "There was a distressing pain across the small of my back which clung to me all the time. When I got seated at times if I moved a sharp pain struck me in the back and loins and almost made me exclaim. Any change in the weather or if I caught the least cold always aggravated the trouble and caused me to suffer severely. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by one of my employes who had been cured of a long standing case of kidney complaint by their use. I commenced the treatment, derived benefit from it immediately and before I had finished the first box I was cured."

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

A smoker is to be held under the auspices of Plainfield Lodge, No. 167, International Association of Machinists, at the lodge rooms, West Front street, Monday evening, November 9, at which time it is probable that several prominent speakers connected with the International Association will be present and make addresses. The smoker promises to be one of the most elaborate affairs yet arranged by the local lodge. The committee appointed to arrange for the entertainment is composed of William L. Nichols, chairman; Ira Tester and Harry F. Kingsley. At the meeting last evening two candidates were initiated and several applications were received. The smoker will be for the members and their families.

Fascinating Xmas Story by Plainfield Author to Appear in the Metropolitan.

The Metropolitan Magazine's Christmas number will be especially interesting to Plainfielders since it has been announced that George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place, an artist and author of international note, contributes a short story. His is a typical Christmas tale of the laughing, humorous kind, dealing with Holland and filled with outdoor freshness and healthy gayety of the Dutch at the time when "Saint Nic'laas" holds sway. Color drawings by the author, himself, illustrating the story will be a special feature of the number. A case of medals received at expositions and exhibitions in this country and abroad give some idea of Mr. Edwards' real ability with the brush and it is quite unnecessary to add that the color drawings for his Christmas story are particularly striking.

AMUSEMENTS.

William Collier in A Fool and His Money is to be seen at the Bijou. Personal scored a great hit, but the great star is more adapted to the present play which affords unbounded humor. Matinee on Saturdays.

Henry Irving and his company in Dante is the attraction at the Broadway Theatre, Broadway and 41st street. The great English actor excels himself in this effort and the production is the best seen in years. 'Phone the box office for your seats in advance.

Dressing in Good Taste.

That we are not to judge a man by the coat he wears, is obsolete—"a dead one." We certainly do judge him a little off, if, in these days of good-dressing-made-easy, if through the exercise of a little common sense and the expenditure of a little money, he fails to present a good appearance. Such a man figures heavily against himself. He does not go to the right place. For light, real good, reliable light on the subject of good dressing, he can do no better than go direct to Geo. Watson & Co.'s of Broad street, Newark. Fall suits, correctly fashioned from all-wool cloth which has been fully shrunken before cutting, are very much on the attract just now. And they are of the variety that does not lose their shape the first time rain overtakes the wearer. Would you have individuality in the matter of your attire, good men who prize that sort of thing? Lots of individuality in the Watson garment.

Rev. John Reid, Jr., of Great Falls, Mont., recommended Ely's Cream Balm to me. I can emphasize his statement, "It is a positive cure for catarrh if used as directed."—Rev. Francis W. Poole, Pastor Central Pres. Church, Helena, Mont.

With good advertising comes good value to back it up.

Aqueduct Handicap Was Won by Wild Thyme.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The fall meeting of the Queens Jockey club opened at Aqueduct under favorable conditions, and a big crowd was in attendance. The track has been enlarged and is now one of the largest in the country, being one mile and a quarter in circumference. Athlana, at 100 to 1, won the first race in a driving finish by half a length from Illyria. F. M. Kelly, the owner of Athlana, had $25 each way on his horse. In the fifth race long priced horses ran one, two, three. Scotch Plume, at 40 to 1, was the winner, with Belle of Meade, 100 to 1, second and Oriskany, 300 to 1, third. The Aqueduct handicap went to Wild Thyme, while Juvenal Maxim easily captured the Creedmoor stakes.

Bummer Was Given the Race.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Leading from start to finish, Bummer, the odds on favorite, won the high weight handicap at Worth. Gregor K. was second, half a length in front of The Don. Bummer was practically given the race at the start, he and Scorpio having four lengths the best of the balance of the field. Bummer was never headed thereafter and won unextended by three lengths.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 27.—George C. Ketcham, owner of the champion stallion Cresceus, said that the horse had suffered only trivial injury at Sapulpa, I. T., and was not hurt about the legs. Mr. Ketcham said Cresceus' effort to lower the mile record over a half mile track here Saturday would be absolutely his last trial against time.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 27.—Major Delmar, the two-minute gelding, was expected to try for his own record, but owing to the prevalence of a strong wind the event was postponed. It is announced that Dan Patch will go against 57½ seconds, the half mile record for pacers.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—Arguments in the Philo S. Bennett will case, the testimony in which, including the unsealing of a letter in which a bequest had been made to William J. Bryan, were heard by Judge Cleaveland in the probate court. Judge Henry Stoddard of this city, counsel for Mrs. Bennett, the widow; Mr. Bryan in his own behalf and Henry G. Newton, his counsel, addressed the court. All the gentlemen spoke with remarkable eloquence and force. In the course of his argument Judge Stoddard arraigned Mr. Bryan in severe terms. Mr. Bryan in reply said that if Mr. Bennett could stand being maligned for his political beliefs he could endure criticism for following his friend's wishes.

STEAMER WRECKED.

Captain Held His Post Until All Had Been Taken Off.

BLOWN INTO THE LAKE AND KILLED

Crew Took to the Yawls and Were All Saved With the Exception of the Commander and Oiler Robinson.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 27.—The steamer W. F. Sauber has been wrecked off White Fish point, thirty miles from here. Captain W. E. Morris and Oiler Frank Robinson were drowned. The rest of the crew of nineteen men were taken off the Sauber by the crew of the steamer Yale.

The Yale's crew worked all night rescuing the crew of the Sauber. Robinson was pinched between a yawlboat and the Yale and went down before help could reach him. Captain Morris was on the deck of the Sauber after all the others had been taken off, when the steamer's boiler burst, and he was blown into the lake.

The storm is the worst in twenty-eight years.

First Mate Alexander McRae told the following story of the loss of the steamer:

"We left Ashland at 3 o'clock Oct. 24, carrying a load of iron ore, for Lake Erie. The weather was fine, but at 9 o'clock Sunday morning we sprang a leak when abreast of Manitou island. Soon after the vessel was headed into the wind, but the water, which had begun coming into the hold, continued to gain on the pumps. After nightfall we sighted two steamers and displayed signals of distress. One of them, the Yale, came alongside and remained with us until the Sauber foundered.

"When it was seen that the steamer was doomed the crew, with the exception of Captain Morse, took to the yawls and were all picked up by the Yale except Oiler Robinson. Captain Morse remained aboard the Sauber until all the other members of the crew had left, when she settled down, letting the water into the boilers, which blew up. The Sauber instantly disappeared, but Captain Morse was afterward heard crying for help among the wreckage. His men got a line to him, but he was so utterly exhausted by exposure to the bitter cold weather that he could not help himself and perished in sight of help. The lost oiler was in the yawl, and it is supposed that he grabbed hold of the line thrown from the Yale, but lost his hold. He was not seen again."

The Sauber was owned by W. D. Becker of Cleveland and was worth about $80,000.

Trolley Struck by Train.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 27.—A dozen or fifteen passengers on a downtown Euclid avenue street car were hurt in a collision which occurred at the Euclid avenue crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad between the car and a locomotive attached to a caboose. The cause of the collision seems to have been a misunderstanding. The engineer and the motorman both claim to have received "come ahead" signals, with the result that the car was caught in the middle of the track and turned halfway around by the force of the impact.

Insurgents' Troops Triumph After Severe Fighting.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT FORMED

Revolt Was Caused by Frauds and Prevarications on Part of Ministers of War and Finance In Former Cabinet.

CAPE HAITIEN, Haiti, Oct. 27.—The town of Santiago, in the Dominican republic, has been surrounded by insurgent troops under the command of General Epifanio Rodriguez. After severe fighting, which lasted for several hours and during which a number of men were wounded, the revolutionists triumphed, and Santiago fell into their hands.

The revolution which has broken out in the northern part of the republic of Santo Domingo and which has already resulted in the establishment of a provisional government at Puerto Plata under the presidency of General Morales was caused, according to advices received here, by the numerous custom house frauds and the prevarications of the ministers of war and finance.

The signal for the outbreak of the revolt was given on Saturday afternoon by three cannon shots. That same evening all the partisans of President Wos y Gil at Puerto Plata were arrested. The inhabitants of Monte Christi, La Ligne and Moca united and attacked Santiago. Telegraphic communication between Santiago and La Vega has been severed.

The revolutionary outbreak is extending, and the general opinion is that the government of President Wos y Gil is lost.

Vice President Deschamps has arrived here in a small sailing boat from Monte Cristi. He has abandoned the government.

Bunkoed Out of $5,000.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 27.—Two strangers who are alleged to have swindled G. S. Burnham of this city out of $5,000 through a three card game are being sought for by the police. They offered to show Burnham how to play the three card monte game, with the result that Burnham was induced to draw $5,000 from the bank and put it in a tin trunk, together with a roll alleged to contain $10,000. Burnham was given the key for the trunk, and the men drove to West Hartford, stopping at a secluded place in the woods, where the game began. Burnham won and, receiving the trunk, started home alone. It was not until he opened the box and found it empty that he discovered he had been duped.

Murder Revealed After Many Years.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Oct. 27.—Isaac Stover has been arrested on a complaint filed by his sister charging him with murdering her husband, Edward Butner, at Lewisburg, near here, on March 9, 1878. She says she was an eyewitness to the murder, with two other persons. Stover, she says, killed her husband with a poker during a quarrel. It was agreed to keep the murder a secret if Stover would leave the country. He did so, but returned recently and has been living with their father, to whom, she says, Stover has been cruel, which caused her to reveal the crime of over twenty-five years ago.

VAN COTT'S CHARGE

New York's Postal Affairs Will Be Overhauled.

TO OCCUPY AT LEAST A MONTH

Much Interest In Investigation Is Taken by the President, Who Has Gone Into the Subject With Postmaster General Payne.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—A special investigation of the New York city post office will begin in a few days by inspectors working under the direction of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow. This will be a thorough overhauling of all the affairs of that office, every department of which will be thoroughly investigated. The inquiry is supplemental to the general postal inquiry recently concluded and is likely to occupy at least a month and probably longer.

It is stated that no charges are on file regarding the New York office, but the facts established by the inspectors when the lines of the general investigation led to that office long ago persuaded the investigating authorities it was desirable there should be a general and detailed probing of the affairs of Postmaster Van Cott's office.

There have been many reports of laxity of administration and extravagance, and all these will be looked into, but the work of the inspectors will not be limited in any way to allegations already made, orders being in substance to investigate everything in connection with the office. There will be at least three and probably more inspectors detailed for this duty at New York. Mr. Bristow personally will select a number of the best men on the staff of inspectors for the work. The president has taken an interest in the New York post office situation and, it is understood, has talked over the matter with Postmaster General Payne. The subject may be brought up at the cabinet meeting today.

Postmaster General Payne said that the investigation of the New York office has been contemplated for a long time, and the only reason it has not taken place before now was the inability to spare inspectors. He suggested that other large offices likewise will be investigated. Mr. Bristow declined to discuss the matter in any way.

Upon withdrawal of the plea the case was remanded. The prisoner will again be allowed to plead one week hence. Nine thousand two hundred dollars found in the possession of the couple when arrested is in the custody of the police.

So the Colby school act is unconstitutional. Well now, as some one has remarked "what's the Constitution among friends?"

Plainfield was visited by a flurry of snow yesterday. The political flurry, which is not a chilly variety, made its appearance much earlier.

The knives in the North Plainfield Republican camps are fast becoming rusty, but it is beginning to look as if the supply will not meet the demand in this city on election day.

The Grafters, a one act play, with Sam Parks, John A. Dowie, W. S. Devery, Charles Murphy and Charles Schwab as a cast, ought to score a hit before the like-to-be-fooled public.

Rev. Dr. Richards' arraignment of Tammany should have weight with his congregation at least. The pastor of the Brick Church is above all things temperant in his utterances.

Won't some one endow an institution for the instruction of New Jersey assemblymen. These unconstitutional laws are getting to be too frequent an occurrence to be a laughing matter.

COMMITTEE MEETS DR. COOLEY

CONFERENCE THIS MORNING ENDS IN SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENTS.

Doctor Promises to Straighten the Channel of Stream and to Build a Wall—Freeholders Present.

The members of the street committee of the North Plainfield Common Council and a representation of the Board of Freeholders of Somerset County met with Dr. Justus H. Cooley yesterday afternoon at the end of Somerset street and in the biting north wind calmly discussed the best means of preventing the waters of Stony brook from overflowing the banks and washing the top dressing off of Somerset street every time there is an exceptionally hard rain. Dr. Cooley finally agreed to straighten the course of the brook through his grounds and erect a stone wall on the Somerset street side.

Some time ago the members of the street committee called a special meeting at which Dr. Cooley was present. Property owners declared that the dam maintained by Dr. Cooley caused their property to be overflowed with water at every heavy rain storm. They demanded that Dr. Cooley remove the dam.

It was shown that the dam was used by Dr. Cooley to fill an ice pond on his property and that it was also an adornment to the grounds. Dr. Cooley declared his willingness to do away with the nuisance and as the dam was of some use to him he expressed his willingness to remedy the evil without doing away with the dam. The matter was referred to the street committee with power.

It was first planned to have the Board of Freeholders widen and dredge the channel but that body was of the opinion that it is to care for the bridges only and therefore refused to do anything in the matter. Dr. Cooley then volunteered to straighten the channel and widen the brook through his property and erect a wall five feet high on the Somerset street side from the dam to the embankment beneath the bridge.

Those who represented the street committee were James K. Arnold, chairman; Robert Clark, Jr., and Maurice VanArsdale, while the Board of Freeholders was represented by Andrew Lutkins, William Logan and William Demler.

Y. M. C. A. Lads Entertained by a Variety Performance in Association Hall.

Fred and William Van Eps pleased everybody by their fine work on banjo, mandolin and piano. J. Rosani, of Boston, performed some wonderful balancing feats with lighted lamps and spinning plates balanced upon an ordinary whip. His manipulating of plates, knives, flags and other awkward instruments was most graceful and scientific.

The next entertainment in the course will be a stereoptiocn lecture on "The Yellowstone Trail" by James R. Joy, a well-known traveler and most interesting talker.

This Was a Grateful Snake

Big Blacksnake Helped Farmer Howell Out of a Scrape in Return for Not Running Over Him—Killed Fifty Rattlers and Then Went Along to Protect Him from More—An Affectionate Farewell.

BUT THAT ain't nothin'," said Manny Howell, of Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, to a Chicago Inter-Ocean man, who had been telling snake stories, "to a black snake I met onct. I was drivin' down the mountainside, with a load of tanbark, when all at once dead ahead I saw a good-sized log laying across the road. These here mountain roads, as you fellers know, ain't much for drivin' and I didn't want to give my gizzard any extra shaking up by running over a saw log, so I pulled up the team and got out to lift the log away.

"Well, sir, I swan, when I got up to that log and bent down to lift it, I nearly fell dead from wonder to find it wasn't a log at all, but a whoppin' blacksnake stretched straight and still across the road from one side to the other. And that there reptile, when he saw my wonder, just looked over his shoulder and winked his near eye at me.

"He didn't make a move to get out of the way—not a bit—and after that wink he just left himself stretched as cool as you please across the road. I hate like tarnation to kill a blacksnake, knowing how they kill rattlers and coppers, so when I saw he wasn't goin' to get out of the way and let me pass, I took him by the tail and carried him to one side and got on the wagon and drove on.

"About a week later I was up on the same road agin. This time I was lookin' around tryin' to locate huckleberry patches so as to be in the first pickin' when they got ripe, when fust think I knowed I landed in the center of the biggest den of rattlers I ever see. Yes, sir, there might a been a hundred or more o' them snakes, and certainly not less than 75. Anyway, they was thick, and I knowed I was up against it when they all began buzzin' and collin' at once.

"Well, about this time the snakes, bein' a sagacious lot, say to themselves, 'We'll surround him, so as he can't run, and then we'll have him.' Rattlers is among the smartest snakes alive. I heerd of one onct that was a pet of a telegrapher and who could take his master's place at the key when he wanted to take a nap. All he'd do was to rattle his tail on the key and the electricity did the rest.

"Well, as I was sayin', I was soon the center spot of a circle of collin', rattlin' reptiles, and I was just startin' to give up the ghost when a big blacksnake came boundin' up to my side. There he stood on his tail, and when his face came to mine—I'm over six feet in my socks—he give me a broad wink.

" 'By gum,' I says, 'you're the same feller I picked up by the tail the other day and lifted out o' the road.'

"The snake nodded.

" 'By gum,' I says, 'I believe you've come to help me out o' this scrape in return for not runnin' over you,' I says.

"The snake nodded.

" 'Then,' says I, 'you can't begin none too soon.'

"With that the reptile got off his tail quicker'n lighting and was at about a dozen rattlers at once. I don't know exactly how it happened, but sure as I am alive and settin' here this minue, before I had been able to lay about and kill more'n half a dozen rattlers, that blacksnake was at my side and standing on his tail and looking into my face and winkin' ag'in.

"At that I looked around and counted 50 or more dead reptiles and nary a live rattler.

" 'By gum,' I says, 'I do believe you've killed 'em all.'

"The snake nodded.

" 'You've saved my life,' I says, 'and I'm grateful.'

"The snake winked and nodded.

" 'Now,' I says, 'I'm goin' home an' when I get there I'm goin' to tell the people what I know about you, and tell 'em if they run across you not to harm you, because you're a friend of mine.'

"At that the snake flopped off his tail, stood on his head, held his tail in the air, and shook hands with me.

" 'Well, so long, old friend. Hope I'll see you soon again,' I says, and starts off.

"But bless my suspender buttons if that snake don't crawl longside of me All the time he keeps lookin' from right to left, and finally I got to thinkin' and at last says:

" 'By gum, I believe you're goin' along to protect me from any rattlers that might happen along.'

"The snake nods and winks.

"Well, sir, that snake wiggled alongside of me for ten miles, until I struck the edge of the town. Then he stops, puts his tail in my hand and winks.

" 'Well,' I says, shakin' it, 'you're a brick, you are, and I hate to part with you. But good-bye, and I'll remember you when we meet ag'in.'

"He winks solemn like and crawls off the way we come."

GIRL DIRECTS SURGEON.

"Don't Take Off My Foot, Only Fix It," She Said, and Then Bore Pain Stoically.

Marion Tweedale, of New York, six years old, proved herself a heroine when an ice wagon ran over her right foot and crushed it. She was seated in a toy chair outside the curb opposite her home, at No. 154 West Eighteenth street, when this happened. She refused to let Ambulance Surgeon Thorne take her to the New York hospital, fearing, she said, that the doctors would cut off the foot.

"JUST FIX IT!"

When the shoe was cut off the surgeon tried to conceal the injury from the child while he bandaged it.

"Now you let me see my foot and I won't cry any more," she pleaded. "You must not cut it off," she continued emphatically.

The doctor complied, and the child leaned back after an inspection. "Now go ahead, doctor," she remarked, "but don't cut it off. Just fix it."

The child bore the pain of ten stitches without a murmur. When she was carried into the house after the foot had been bandaged, she said:

"Thank you, doctor; you have been very good to me."

PREACHER STOPS SHAVE.

New York Clergyman Leaves Toilet Unfinished to Join Eloping Couple in Matrimony.

The details of the wedding on a train of W. Dell Balch, treasurer of a leading printing firm of Utica, N. Y., and Miss Rose Lynch, his bookkeeper, have just become known. Mr. Balch and Miss Lynch recently decided to get married, but the parents of the young woman objected.

Miss Lynch left Utica on the Adirondack express train at 20 minutes of two o'clock Thursday afternoon, and Mr. Balch took another train half an hour earlier. At Remsen he got off and looked for a minister. A young man told Mr. Balch where a preacher could be found. The fiance hurried to a house two blocks from the railroad station, where a Baptist minister was found. The parson was shaving himself. Mr. Bach's entreaties induced the minister to stop the operation.

With one cheek shaved and the other unshorn, the clergyman, Mr. Balch and a picked-up witness rushed back to the railroad station just as the express rolled in. A stateroom was engaged, and between Remsen and Forestport the ceremony was performed. The minister got off at a flag station, and the newly-wedded couple went on to Raquette lake to spend their honeymoon. A dispatch was sent to Miss Lynch's parents informing them of the marriage.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

Serge Shirt Waist Dresses—Double and Triple Skirts.

The serge shirt waist suit is newer and smarter than the flannel shirt waist and separate skirt. These little dresses are very simple. The blouse is often made with a long shoulder yoke. From this start three graduated plaits, which come down from either side into a point at the fullness of the waist line. Sometimes pipings of plaid are introduced to give a touch of color.

The double and triple tier skirts, while very smart, are somewhat trying to the ordinary wearer.

The faultless taste of the great Parisian dressmakers only adopts that mode of skirt most becoming to the wearer. To revert to a past epoch is evidently the pronounced idea shown in the principal and best known temples of sartorial art. There are many old world gowns likely to be repeated combined with modern and practical notions.

Some well known tailors are using many small taffeta buttons and small frills of silk. These adorn impartially heavy and light weight tailor mades.

The cut shows a costume of checked wool goods, having a double skirt.

SMART EFFECTS.

All White Relieved With Black—The Victorian Capes.

Some very pretty French hats are made of chenille combined with colored feathers. For instance, those of white chenille will be almost covered with black feathers. These are most chic worn with ermine or black and white frocks.

White cloth gowns are nearly always trimmed with the dead white Irish lace, and when anything is used to relieve this it takes the form of black panne appliqued in odd figures.

Fine plaited costumes are very fashionable for young girls, especially for evening wear. They are finished with a bertha of lace and a figured ribbon sash.

SABLE STOLE AND MUFF.

Victorian capes of chiffon, velvet and furs to harmonize are very smart with cloth street dresses.

Handsome buckles, buttons and embroideries are now used more than ever.

Some early autumn mantles are in black velvet trimmed with medallions of black applique and frills and ruches of black taffeta. The majority of these are cut after the shawl pattern and very low on the shoulder. Then there are some smart little cloth capes reaching to the waist, finished with collars of oriental embroidery.

We are wearing a good deal of black, while some are wearing white trimmed with black. White cloth, stitched with black and trimmed with white embroidery, is extremely smart, and so are white beaver hats trimmed with black plumes or birds.

All the short skirts seem plaited or kilted and all the "tailor made" millinery is trimmed with birds or wings. It is a curious thing that despite so much strong feeling against the wearing of birds this fashion should have taken such a persistent hold.

The cut shows a stole of sable and one of the latest muffs. The hat is of brown felt with a shaded brown feather.

CONGRESSMEN'S TOUR.

Four Territories Must Be Admitted as States.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The work of the congressional party which investigated the territories of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory to decide as to their fitness for admission as states of the Union has convinced its members as nothing else could that to longer delay the admission of these territories would be an act of injustice.

The investigation of the territories is ended after a trip of nearly 6,000 miles, but the effect of this investigation, as the members of the party said, has only begun. They were a unit in declaring that the final result would be the admission of the territories as states for the very good reason that the right of the people of all of them has been fully proved in this tour that they cannot longer be kept out of the Union.

They have earned the right to admission, as the members of the congressional party admitted.

ZION CHARIOTS SEIZED.

"Elijah III." Has to Ride In a Common Hansom.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—John Alexander Dowie was walking from the Fifth Avenue hotel to his coach to drive to Madison Square Garden, where he was to hold services, when a deputy sheriff leaped into the chariot of the "restorer" and served the coachman with an attachment in the suit of Lawyer Robert N. Farley against "Elijah III."

Dowie was indignant at the audacity of the deputy sheriff, but the coachman was bewildered. Before the man could make any protest the deputy handed him to the street and mounted the seat. He drove off quickly, and Dowie had to hire a simple hansom cab to reach the Garden.

Less than fifty persons were in the hall during Dowie's first services. His talk was chiefly on the "injustice done me by the New York newspapers."

Fierce Battle Expected.

PANAMA, Colombia, Oct. 27.—The authorities here have received a telegram saying that the government forces which are advancing upon the revolutionary band of seventy men which landed at Catalina, on the Atlantic side of the isthmus, had located the enemy and expected to engage them shortly.

GOT A BIG ROLL.

Sam Parks on Trial For Blackmail and Extortion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Sam Parks, the walking delegate, is accused of blackmailing contractors out of $200,000 by calling strikes and then ending them for a consideration. The charge upon which he is now being tried is the extortion of $500 from Louis Schmidt, contractor for the erection of the Tiffany studio building.

As Parks walked into court and took his seat alongside of his counsel there was nothing of the bulldozer about him. He looked like a whipped man.

Parks has to stop in the Tombs because Devery's friends, who were on his bonds, refused to renew the obligation.

That all the friends of Parks have not deserted him was proved when John W. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the International Union of Housesmiths, walked up to him with a big roll of bills. The passing of such an amount of money in the court room caused considerable of a sensation and made Parks look happier than at any other time of the day.

A POLITICAL ISSUE.

Western Union Messenger Boys' Strike Stirs Boston Council.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—The strike of the Western Union Telegraph company's messenger boys has been taken up by the political leaders and threatens to become an issue in the coming municipal election. At a meeting of the board of aldermen, on the motion of Alderman Martin M. Lomasney (Dem.), an order was passed providing that the Western Union Telegraph company be compelled to remove all its poles in the city limits within the next sixty days, and in the event of the order not being complied with the poles are to be removed by the superintendent of streets at the expense of the telegraph company. The vote on the passage of the order was 6 to 5.

The order now goes to Mayor Collins, and he must place himself on record as being either for or against it.

Miss Roosevelt at Chicago Show.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The finest lot of horses ever brought to Chicago are on exhibition at the fourth annual horse show, which has just opened at the Coliseum. From Denver and Colorado Springs on the west to Boston on the east and from Dallas, Tex., on the south to Toronto on the north the stables of horse lovers and horse owners are represented, more than 500 different animals being entered for the many valuable prizes offered. The presence of Miss Alice Roosevelt was an attraction to the show, and society, which was out in full force, extended the president's daughter a warm reception when she appeared as the guest of Mrs. Preston Gibson. Miss Roosevelt will remain in Chicago throughout the week.

Chicago Woman Exiled For Life.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Exile for life in Germany was the sentence negatively imposed on Mrs. Mary Stein, convicted of shoplifting. The woman's husband pleaded that the sentence of one year in the house of correction would result in the death of the prisoner. Mr. Stein exhibited a steamer ticket for Germany and declared that if the court would permit Mrs. Stein would depart immediately for Germany and never return. Judge Clifford agreed.

Russians Concentrating on Yalu.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The crisis apparently has been delayed, telegraphs a Chefu correspondent. Russia in the meanwhile is strongly augmenting her fleet in these waters and concentrating troops in the vicinity of the Yalu river. She holds all the available river frontage at Yongampho and dominates the Shaho passage. The emperor of Korea, the correspondent concludes, is in favor of Russia.

Yellow Fever In Texas.

CUERO, Tex., Oct. 27.—Robert Bennett, a prominent young ranchman who returned from Mexico two weeks ago, has died at his home near here. Robbers Poisoned Farmer and Wife.

PERRYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 27.—Robbers ransacked the home of Robert Robinson, a wealthy farmer near here, and administered poison to Robinson and his wife. Guns Must Be Behind Argument.

OTTAWA, Oct. 27.—Lord Dundonald, major general commanding the militia, spoke on military affairs at the first luncheon of the Canada club. He said that in international councils there must be a knowledge that behind all argument and conciliation there are the rifles of an armed and organized and a patriotic people.

Central Must Pay $50,000.

Lawrence Doyle held the lucky number for the couch, while Bernard Brady was presented with the Knights of Columbus pillow. The barrel of flour was presented to Mrs. Kiely and Joseph W. Graham received the large portrait of Father Egan. The ton of coal was given to Mrs. Cogan and a very handsome centre piece was presented to Miss Margaret McGrath. Mrs. John Traynor won the silver set and M. J. Cashin a rocking chair.

Challengers for Election Day Appointed—Election Tickets to be Distributed.

The Republican County Committee met in Elizabeth last night in the rooms of the McKinley Club. A report was received from County Chairman Hamilton F. Kean as to the standing of the party throughout the county. The opinion of members of the committee as expressed in general discussion seemed to be that the political situation is unchanged, and the expectancy is for a decisive victory for all the candidates on the Republican ticket.

Challengers for election day were appointed at last night's meeting which adjourned to Monday afternoon next, the day before election. It was announced that election tickets will be distributed in the townships next Saturday.

CITY COMMISSIONERS OF APPEAL HEAR SIXTY COMPLAINTS.

Mostly Against Taxes on Dogs—Another Meeting Tomorrow Evening.

The City Commissioners of Appeal settled about sixty complaints of taxpayers yesterday afternoon at their meeting in the City Council chambers. Forty to fifty other complaints still remain to be acted upon. Dogs furnished the most frequent source of fault-finding, many of the supposed proprietors of canines disclaiming their ownership. Other complaints of those assessed varied from differences of figuring to the time-worn complaint of "bill never so high before; couldn't be right now." All three commissioners were present, J. B. Coward, A. H. Atterbury and W. W. Coriell. An adjournment was taken to tomorrow evening, when further complaints will be considered.

The Tuesday Evening Whist Club met at the home of the Misses Saunderson, on Fairview avenue, last evening. The winners of the games were Miss Ella Saunderson and James Martin, of Bound Brook. XRAISE XPOSITION A GREAT SUCCESS

Large Crowds Attend Unique Affair Given Under Auspices of Local W. C. T. U.

EVERYTHING EXCELLENT

THOSE IN CHARGE OF THE VARIOUS BOOTHS IN THE GRAND XPOSITION.

To Close Tonight After Two Days Run—Fan Cakes a Feature—The Fair being Held in Vacant Store at Babcock Building.

An "Xraise Xposition," is the unique title of a fair which was opened yesterday afternoon in the vacant store in the Babcock building under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Plainfield. For some time past the members have been planning the event and its successful culmination will be a source of great satisfaction. It was continued last night and will be held this afternoon and tonight.

The chief idea has been to give prominence to the letter "X" and this has been done through novel names given to each booth in which this letter plays an important part. On either side of the large store there are arranged attractive booths, where everything from handkerchiefs and useful articles to candy and old-fashioned pancakes are sold, and at reasonable prices. There was a good attendance yesterday afternoon and last night and liberal patronage was accorded.

The handkerchief booth under the name "exquisite," was in charge of Mrs. George H. Babcock, chairman; Mrs. John Titsworth, Mrs. I. N. West, Mrs. W. B. Maxson and Miss Myra Clark. "Examine" was the name given to the bag table and those in charge were Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parse, chairman; Mrs. H. B. Paul, Mrs. A. B. Darby and Mrs. Charles A. Lee. "Exceptional" is applied to the apron booth, and Mrs. Stephen Cahoone, as chairman, is assisted by Mrs. L. L. Manning, Mrs. R. M. Stevens, Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Miss Elizabeth Cahoone, Miss Florence Cahoone and Miss Nora Rockwell.

At the lemonade booth there was an "inexhaustible" W. C. T. U. well. Mrs. Irving C. Cubberly is the chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Manley, Mrs. Gilbert VanNest, Mrs. Wm. Rule, Mrs. E. B. Smith and Miss Hess. One corner is made attractive by a grab bag, which is termed "excavate," and by delving into this Klondyke one is liable to get a valuable article. Mrs. G. T. Rhoads and Mrs. E. M. Laing are in charge.

A considerable space is devoted to the sale of ice cream which is termed "exhiliarating." Mrs. Newton Honeyman is in charge of the feature. In another corner there is a New England kitchen, where old-fashioned pancakes are served hot off the griddle accompanied by maple syrup. The name given to this booth is "extra-fine." Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, is the chairman, and she is assisted by Mrs. Charles B. Stephens, Mrs. David C. Smalley, Mrs. Andrew Cox and Mrs. William C. Smith.

"Expend" is the appropriate name used for the peanut booth. Those in charge are Miss Helen Adams, Miss Mildred Berry, Miss Edna Swain and Miss Marguerite Lee. Adjoining the above booth is one devoetd to the sale of cakes under the name of "excellent." Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux is the chairman, and her assistants are Mrs. A. A. Taft, Miss Susie Jackson and Miss A. Claypool. "Extensive" is the name applied to the miscellaneous booth, where a variety of useful articles are sold. Miss Mary French, as chairman, is assisted by Mrs. Walter Manning, Mrs. P. B. Oregar and Miss Mary Fritts.

Unlike the other booths, "inexpensive" is the name given to the grocery booth, where everything to be found in a grocery store is on sale. Mrs. P. H. Bennett is the chairman and her assistants are Mrs. Frank Rowley, Mrs. S. R. Struthers, Mrs. W. Kempton Browning, Miss VanFleet, Miss Mary E. Howlett and Miss Voorhees. "Excelsior," appropriately describes the candy booth, where Miss Jessie Praden as chairman, is assisted by Miss Bessie DeForest, Miss Alice Conant, Miss Beatrice Miner, Mrs. Charlotte M. Ross, Miss Elizabeth Stackhouse, Mrs. N. W. Currie and Miss Bessy Fits Randolph.

An Indian teepee under the name of "expert" is the name given to the palmistry booth and Miss Edith Cairns, assisted by Mrs. P. B. Oregar and Miss Eva Dubois Benton are very successful in telling one's fortune.

One of the most attractive booths is one devoted to the display of the Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post. This is located in the centre of the store and is termed "exhibit." Mrs. Charles Smith is the chairman, and her assistants are Miss Stella Swain, Miss Alice Teeple and Miss Elfieda Dunham.

The general committee having the affair in charge consists of Mrs. John H. French, chairman; Mrs. Stephen Cahoone and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parse, while Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson is the bureau of general information. Those who did the decorating were Mrs. Clinton Randolph and John H. French. One very important part not to be overlooked is the cashier at the door, where under the name of "extortion" Mrs. Clarence Holman, formerly of this city, but now of Pittsfield, Mass., gathered in the shekels, yesterday. The proceeds from the affair will be used to carry on the temperance work of the W. C. T. U. and liberal patronage is asked from all friends.

Last night the Ladies' Orchestra, of Dunellen, discoursed an attractive programme of music. This music will be a feature tonight, and there will be phonographic selections by Mr. Weaver.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH TO REOPEN SUNDAY

Officers of the Church Arrange to Meet Cost of Improvements at the Service.

ADDRESS TO MEMBERS

INTERIOR DECORATION AND REPAIRS COST $3,200.

Twenty Years Since Last Improvements Were Made—What Has Been Done to Beautify Edifice—Members Asked to be Liberal.

In connection with the re-opening of the First M. E. Church, following general improvements, the officers of the church, Samuel Bingaman, Nelson A. Miller, John Cory, George H. Burgess, Arthur E. Crone and James R. Joy, have issued a circular letter in which this statement is made:

"The work of repair and renovation in our church is now so far completed that the auditorium will be opened for public worship next Sunday. We sincerely hope that you will be present to take part in all the exercises on that happy occasion.

"For the first time in twenty years the church has been put in a state of thorough repair. The building has been painted inside and out; the interior has been redecorated under the supervision of Oscar S. Teale. The pews have been upholstered—back and seat—in green velour; new mattings have been laid in the vestibule, and new shades hung at the windows. These improvements, together with the new carpet, and the changes shortly to be made in the choir-loft, make our auditorium one of the most attractive in the city.

"The cost of these improvements will be $3,200, of which the Ladies' Aid Society will pay about one-third from funds in their treasury. About $2,200 remains to be raised by subscription, which will be taken at the close of public service next Sunday. The burden will be easily lifted if we all take hold of it together. If everyone gives according to his means success is sure.

"If for any reason you are liable to be absent from the services, will you kindly notify the amount of your subscription to any of the committee in charge, before next Sunday."

Borough Voting Machine.

All voters of the First district, in North Plainfield, should inspect the new voting machine in Robert Trewin's barber shop, 88 Somerset street, for the purpose of familiarizing themselves with the manner in which it is worked. Failure to understand its workings will deprive a citizen of his vote and it is therefore necessary to understand how to cast one's ballot on a twentieth century plan.

Capt. Stuart Home Again.

Captain P. E. Stuart and his son, Kenneth Stuart, of Westervelt avenue, returned yesterday from a trip of several months' duration, their itinerary including the Canary Islands.

FOUND HIM DEAD IN A BATH ROOM

Heart Disease Caused Sudden Death of Francis W. Rogers.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN

S. C. MUNDY FORCED OPEN DOOR AND DISCOVERED HIM DEAD.

Aged Sixty Years—Son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rogers—Was a Member of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church.

Francis W. Rogers, sixty years of age, one of the best known residents of this city, was found dead in the bathroom of Mrs. Roberts' boarding place, on Park avenue, last night. Death was due to heart faliure.

When supper was served Mrs. Roberts called him and receiving no answer became alarmed. The door and window of the bath room, on examination, proved to be locked. S. C. Mundy forced an entrance to the room. Mr. Rogers was in a sitting position near the bath tub and had been dead an hour before he was discovered.

A dispatch has been sent to C. B. Rogers, a brother of the dead man, who lives in Florida. T. A. Rogers, of this city, is the dead man's brother.

The dead man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rogers, who resided in this city before their death. He was employed at the Potter Press Works. He was a member of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church. Mr. Rogers was unmarried.

Funeral services will be held at the Seventh-Day Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HALLOWE'EN NEAR.

The Eve of All Hallows to be Observed Saturday Night in the Same Old Fashion.

Hallowe'en, or the eve of All Hallows, will be celebrated Saturday night with the usual tooting of horns and street display of grotesque costumes. From year to year the observance of this unique carnival, if it may be so called, has been gaining a stronger hold on the popular favor, and it is likely the event this year will be a record breaker in point of noise and display.

Hallowe'en is the occasion of all occasions when supernatural influences are supposed to prevail, when goblin, bobgoblin, spook, flibbertigibbet, ghost, banshee, sprite, elf, fay, fairy, gnome and what not are at liberty to roam where they please and follow their own sweet will, and it is likely they will all be in evidence on the streets of Plainfield, impersonated by the little small boy, the big small boy, the Smart Aleck and others.

PARK ELECTS TWENTY.

Board of Governors Admits New Members to Club—Another Committee.

Hope Chapel Girls Meet.

The Girls' Club, of Hope Chapel, met in the chapel last night. The members were asked by Rev. L. R. Howard, of the chapel, if they did not wish to form a musical organization or glee club under the instruction of William T. Schneider, of New York. The general sentiment of those present who were few in number, was in favor of the project. Definite decision in the matter was, however, reserved until another and more largely attended meeting of the club could be called.

MRS E. A. CAMPBELL DEAD

Prominent Member of First M. E. Church—Funeral Services Friday.

Mrs. Eleanor Amanda Campbell, widow of the late John O. Campbell, died today at her home at 409 West Front street. Death resulted from pneumonia and bronchitis after a week's illness.

Mrs. Campbell was sixty-five years old and a resident of Plainfield for about thirty-five years. She was a daughter of Alexander Brown, a prominent citizen of Woodbridge. In this city, Mrs. Campbell was prominently connected with the work of the First M. E. Church. She is survived by two sons, Oscar and Ralph, and one daughter, Flora.

The funeral services will be held from the late residence Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, of the First M. E. Church, and Dr. B. H. Burch, of Kingsbridge, N. Y., a relative of the family, will officiate. The interment will be in Hillside Cemetery.

RUNYON'S FRIENDS RALLY

CITY JUDGE ENTERTAINS FELLOW-REPUBLICANS AT HIS HOME.

Distinguished Republicans Present at Meeting—Second Ward in Rebellion.

Judge William N. Runyon entertained a large number of Republicans of the Second ward last night at his residence, 136 East Ninth street. The meeting was for the purpose of explaining to the voters the truth of the situation in the Assembly fight in this city. The work of presenting Plainfield's side of the campaign was mapped out and a thorough canvass of the ward will be made in the interests of the faction.

The sentiment of those at the meeting was unanimous against the part that Elizabeth has played in the present campaign in presuming to dictate to Plainfield. Loyalty to the principles of true Republicanism was affirmed.

Prominent among those present were Henry E. Bowen, W. D. W. Miller and George P. Mellick. Letters were received from several prominent citizens of the ward who were unable to be present.

MILLER SCHOOL LAW VETOED

GOVERNOR MURPHY REFUSES TO SIGN BILL COVERING SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

He Says it is An Unconstitutional Measure—Court Has Already Acted on Similar Law.

The Miller bill passed by the recent special session of the Legislature, which validates school districts composed of different municipalities under the McKee school law, which was declared unconstitutional by the Court of Errors and Appeals, was vetoed yesterday by Gov. Murphy. He indorsed it:

"Approval withheld. This act is directly within the condemnation of the Court of Errors and Appeals in their recent decision setting aside the school law of 1903 as unconstitutional."

The Governor's decision was reached after a careful consideration of the Miller bill by the Attorney General, and was based upon the opinion of the latter that it would not stand fire in the courts. It was also feared that it might endanger the Colby bill, of which it is a supplement.

Greenwood to Speak.

L. B. Greenwood, who was associated with Rev. B. Fay Mills in an evangelistic campaign in this city some years ago, will speak and sing at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Other music and testimony will be given by the Bowery Male Quartette. The circular of the quartette contains strong testimonials from F. H. Jacobs, Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and others.

REPUBLICAN CLUB ANSWERS MACMURRAY

No Argument in Tirade of Abuse Against the County Leaders.

HIS SELFISH MOTIVES

SOME FACTS ABOUT THOSE VOTING MACHINES.

Smiuck's Letter Considered a Joke—The Club Says It is Not Worthy of Answer—MacMurray's Letter Taken in Piece Meal.

Editor, The Daily Press:—,

The letter in your issue of Saturday from James T. MacMurray, of 21 Sandford avenue, presents the peculiar spectacle of a Republican office holder practically advising Republican voters to vote against the Republican Assembly ticket, because he, as the leader of fifteen bolting delegates to the recent County convention, could not induce the 111 delegates to the convention to nominate his candidate for the Assembly. There is not a single statement in the entire letter to justify such a position nor to justify in any way the bolters in voting against a Republican platform and bolting a Republican convention. Abuse of the Hon. John Kean, the senior United States Senator from New Jersey, or of Mr. Hamilton Kean, the chairman of the Union County Republican Executive Committee, is not argument, nor does it meet the situation as set forth in this club's recent open letter to Plainfield Republicans. Mr. MacMurray dislikes Senator Kean and Mr. Hamilton Kean because he dislikes every one who will not do as he wishes, who will not acknowledge his supremacy, and who will not accept him at his own estimate.

The issue as far as Republican voters are concerned can not be dodged. Mr. MacMurray has himself made the issue. The issue simply is, do the Republican voters of the City of Plainfield endorse the Republican platform, or do they not? Do the Republican voters of the City of Plainfield believe that a large majority of the delegates to a convention should control that convention in making its party nominations, or do they believe that a small minority of the delegates should control it? Do the Republican voters of the City of Plainfield wish to vote for Republican nominees because they believe in Republican principles, or do they wish to vote against the Republican Assembly nominees simply to gratify another man's personal spite and smooth his wounded vanity?

Mr. MacMurray, as City Clerk of Plainfield, has been for many years the holder of a lucrative office by the grace of the Republican party, and perhaps thinks more of party spoils than of party principles. He, therefore, speaks feelingly of "crumbs from the political table." But will the Republican voters of Plainfield sacrifice the principles of the party for which they have worked and voted for years merely to uphold an ingrate? The issue is plain, and can not be dodged.

Why should Mr. MacMurray become dumbfounded at an organization of Plainfield Republicans nailing the false statements made by him on the floor of the recent convention, and telling the plain truth about matters which he has misrepresented? We believe that Plainfield Republicans wish to fight under the banner of truth and not under the banner of falsehood. We believe that Plainfield Republicans want to give full credit to the smallest, as well as to the largest, district in the county for whatever vote may be cast for Republican candidates. This is the County of Union, and not the County of Plainfield, or the county of any other place. In a county election every part of the county is dependent upon every other part, and Plainfield Republicans, we believe, are glad to do their share in keeping the county in the Republican column.

The Plainfield vote for Mr. Coriell for Sheriff in the last campaign is referred to. Mr. MacMurray, however, fails to say that he was not only opposed to Mr. Coriell's nomination, but that he also actually refused to make Mr. Coriell's nomination unanimous. Rumor says that he went even further than that on election day. Elizabeth gave Mr. Coriell 4284 votes; the boroughs and townships (including 2813 Union and Westfield) gave 26, and votes; Plainfield gave him once as Rahway gave him 943. Elizabeth these figures shows [illegible] double the gave Mr. Coriell [illegible]

Buchanan, president of the International Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' Union, is at Ashland House trying to establish peace and harmony between the old and new Housesmiths' and Bridgemen's Unions. His efforts up to the present, however, have been far from successful. Scenes occured at the hotel which were more like the aftermath of one of the roughest of the meetings of the Housesmiths and Bridgemen's Union in the palmy days of Parks than a peace conference of the heads of the local and international committees.

The report of W. C. Garrison, chief of the New Jersey bureau of statistics, nearing completion, gives some data regarding the production of machinery in this State. There are reported ninety-five machinery manufacturing establishments, thirty of them private firms and sixty-five corporations, having in all, $19,670,319 capital. The greatest number of persons employed at any time during the fiscal year 1893 was 16,642, an average of a little over 175 to each establishment. The smallest number was 14,329, an average of almost 151 employes. The total sum paid in wages, not including salaried persons, was $9,365,484, and the average yearly earnings of wageworkers in the industry was $597.52, an increase of $23.16 over those of the previous year. The total value of stock or material used in the industry was $10,374,335 and the total selling value of the products was $24,824,842. The wage classifications between $12 and $20 per week and over includes sixty-five per cent. of the total force in the industry.

AMUSEMENTS.

President Roosevelt and ex-President Cleveland are united at last on one platform—the Henry W. Savage productions. There are not so many subjects upon which they agree, but for once there is absolutely no difference of opinion between them. Clean, American plays receive their hearty endorsement. When President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt and the Roosevelt children saw Mr. Savage's production of "The Sultan of Sulu" in Washington recently the President said: "I am delighted with 'The Sultan of Sulu'—it is clean, amusing and decidedly bright."

Train Porters.

A popular feature of the through trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad which leave New York daily for the West at 7:55 a. m., and 1:55 p. m., and leave Pittsburg daily for the East at 3 a. m., and 7:30 a. m., is the train porters stationed in the day coaches. Their duty consists of keeping the cars clean and rendering whatever service passengers may require. The Pullman porter has long since demonstrated his usefulness; the Pennsylvania Railroad train porter serves the ordinary coach passenger in the same capacity as the Pullman porter serves those who ride in parlor and sleeping cars. The day coaches on the above-mentioned trains, as well as those on trains leaving New York at 5:55 p. m daily for the West and leaving Pittsburg at 7:10 p. m. daily for the East, are equipped with lavatories, in connection with which the services of train porters are especially convenient. 10-21-2w

Fall Showing of Silks and Dress Goods.

THE styles in dress materials this season run to extremes, with a very happy medium for those who seek it. On the one hand is the light sheer, almost as fine as a cobweb, and on the other hand the heavy Scotch mixture. Velvets, too, are strongly in evidence. Black Crepe de Chine and loosely woven fabrics of every kind are more fashionable than ever for smart wear. Our collection of gown stuffs is very extensive, being at least three times bigger than any similar showing in Newark and fully meeting the big displays in New York. All the delights of shopping will be found here, viz:—fine light, pure air, great variety, polite attention, reasonable prices.

RUN ON THREE BANKS

St. Louis Saving Institutions Suffer From Panic.

STARTED BY RUMOR FROM CHICAGO

False Report That Certain Directors Tried to Get Loan of $2,000,000 and Had Been Refused Caused All the Trouble.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—From shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday until the closing hour, 3 o'clock, runs were made on the savings departments of three banks of St. Louis, and at the same time more than the ordinary amount of withdrawals by savings depositors were noticeable in the other banking institutions.

The run, so far as it can be traced, was started by a disquieting rumor from the outside that seemed to strike St. Louis shortly after noon to the effect that the savings institutions here were unsound. With a rush the corridors of the Lincoln Trust company, the Mercantile Trust company and the Mississippi Valley Trust company were filled with men and women, all eager to withdraw their money.

The scene in any one bank was duplicated in the other two. A line of people with bankbooks in their hands and faces eagerly scanning the little barred windows of the bank tellers stretched out into the street, and intermingled were policemen and bank officials counseling calmness and giving assurances of solvency.

It is stated that the rumor that started the run came from Chicago and was to the effect that two directors of the Mississippi Valley Trust company had recently endeavored to negotiate a loan of $2,000,000 in that city and had been refused.

This rumor was pronounced an absolute canard by the directors concerned.

At the Missouri Trust company a number of depositors had collected to demand payment, but the crowd soon thinned out, and before 3 o'clock the incipient run had ceased. Presidents of the different national banks assembled during the afternoon and issued a statement in which they announced that the banks of St. Louis are all perfectly solvent and amply able to liquidate all demands.

All the banks closed at the usual closing hour, and they opened this morning at the usual hour, 10 o'clock, and will meet all demands made.

Red Cross Will Aid Macedonia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Macedonia's plea for aid in her distress was placed before Miss Clara Barton, the head of the American Association of the Red Cross here. Constantine Stephanove, the special Macedonian delegate, told Miss Barton of the urgency of the situation and begged her to take immediate action to insure the forwarding of Red Cross relief to Macedonia. Miss Barton asked for detailed information as to the character and scope of the aid needed and said, "The Red Cross feels that it would be a humane and noble thing for the American people to undertake to relieve the suffering in Macedonia."

Wentz Had Been Shot.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28.—Word has been received here that the body of the missing young millionaire, E. L. Wentz, for whom 1,000 men have been searching in the coal fields of Wise county, W. Va., for nine days in the hope of getting a $25,000 reward, has been found. Wentz's body was found within a mile of the spot at which his horse was found. He had been shot.

Butte Miners Are Leaving.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 28.—Butte is now quiet, the miners awaiting the outcome of the meeting of the executive committee and the regular meeting of the union. Meanwhile many miners are leaving the city. Four hundred went to the camps in Idaho, Utah and Wyoming, where the majority of them may find work. Mayor Mullins has closed all saloons.

Mob Killed Assassin.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 28.—A quarrel between two white men named Little and McAlpine in Smith county has resulted in the former being mortally wounded. McAlpine was afterward shot to death by a mob. The tragedy was the alleged result of an old family feud.

Blair May Recover.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—The physicians attending James L. Blair, who has been in a precarious condition since his fall down a flight of stone steps at his home last Saturday evening as the result of a physical collapse, say that Mr. Blair has now an even chance for recovery.

Hope For Elkins Abandoned.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—The condition of William L. Elkins, the financier, is now considered critical. Hope for his recovery has about been abandoned by the family. No amputation has taken place. Mr. Elkins' illness is due to the hardening of the arteries.

Chase City Swept Away.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28.—A disastrous fire occurred at Chase City. What remained from a former fire of the older part of the town was practically swept away. The loss is $24,000.

Veteran Colonel Dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Lieutenant Colonel William E. Waters, retired, is dead here. He served as assistant surgeon in the regular army during the civil war.

Weather Probabilities.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 28, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

First it was Depew, then Platt and then Stewart. Kean is still keeping the people guessing.

Dowie could have made a fortune much more easily as a press representative for a theatrical house.

Dowie says he doesn't know who his father is and it is hoped that for his father's sake he'll never find out.

Some one has called Mr. Bryan a liar. That's mild when compared to some of the compliments being exchanged among Republicans in this city.

The Newark News says: "Perhaps Ann will be kind enough to save the country from lunacy and come right out and say how old she is."

She's almost as old as the conundrum.

It seems to be in the air that William S. Myers will be elected Mayor—and by a big majority.—New Brunswick Home News.

What's the temperature of the air, brother?

Camillo Baucio is engaged in a piano player's endurance test in New York. He says he will bang the instrument for fifty hours without stopping. The real endurance test is with the neighbors.

The New York Tribune is running a series of articles on the political situation in Union County, apparently intended to be taken seriously. The stories have a Trenton date line and are made all the more amusing by numerous quotations from "prominent" politicians whose names never appear.

A man in Plainfield is reported to have gone insane on account of having received a bill for poll tax. What would have happened if he were an owner of property in Perth Amboy?—Perth Amboy Chronicle.

Possibly a committee would have been appointed to inquire into his sanity when he bought the land.

The Bergen County Republicans have endorsed William M. Johnson as a candidate for Governor. He is the third good man in his party to be mentioned for the honor, the other two aspirants being Gardner and Stokes. As yet the Democrats have not boomed any one for the place, but there are a good many who believe that a renomination for James M. Seymour would be the proper thing.

A leading tailoring company in St. Louis runs, the year round, a single-column attractive advertisement in the best newspapers. "In a dull season," said the manager, "we increase our advertising, using more than twice the usual space at least three times a week. The result is that our dull season is only a name. Often the increased business compares favorably with that of the 'rush' period."—Philadelphia Record.

"Plainfield is getting to be a perfectly awful place. They bet there on ball games—real money—and have four gambling houses running full blast! How perfectly horrible! This state of affairs is being denounced from the pulpits, and by the newspapers. People hold up their hands in horror, while right here in Morristown chocolate drops, filled with whiskey, are being sold to our children every day and nobody says a word. We wonder why!"—Morristown Chronicle.

There are worse places than Plainfield, and one of them is not a mile away from where the Chronicle is published.

By the removal of Charles J. Fisk to New York, Plainfield suffers a great loss. We had hopes some months ago when his life was spared that he would spend the remainder of his days in this city, where he is held in the highest esteem as a citizen and as a man. It is not too much to say that no man in the present day has been as much to Plainfield as has Mr. Fisk. As mayor of the city, and subsequently as president of the Board of Health, which position he now holds, Mr. Fisk will be remembered by an appreciating public. Not only can he be commended for his civic virtue, but for his tireless efforts in behalf of Muhlenberg Hospital, in which institution he has taken a great personal interest. His charitable acts have been many, and although his generosity has not been heralded about the city, many an unfortunate being has been benefitted by his open purse. Mr. Fisk is a model citizen and we regret exceedingly to learn that he intends to reside in New York in the future.

Miss Velma Oakley was chosen her successor. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss will lead the Wednesday evening prayer meetings. The chairman of the committee on securing a superintendent was N. Douglass Drake. The new fire bell was tested in earnest yesterday afternoon when a fire was reported in the house of Charles Dixon, of South avenue. The men about town gathered quickly at the town hall and in a few minutes were on the scene of the fire with the apparatus. The fire proved to be a fire-board in the kitchen which had ignited but which was very soon put out.

vote that Plainfield gave, and that the boroughs and townships (including Summit and Westfield) gave him a larger vote than Plainfield. Due credit also should be given to the many Democratic friends of Mr. Coriell who voted for him. While Mr. Coriell's name was cut by some not in sympathy with his nomination, both here and elsewhere in the county, the votes he gained from Democratic friends more than made up for the cut here, and as a result Mr. Coriell received more votes in Plainfield than any other name on the ticket.

Mr. MacMurray charges that "Hamilton Kean is forcing upon us two voting machines instead of one." This statement is on a par with the various statements made by Mr. MacMurray in his typewritten talk to the County Convention, which were shown to be false in this Club's open letter to Plainfield Republicans. How true this last statement is any one can clearly see by reading the law passed by the present Legislature authorizing the use of the voting machines. The law is known as Chapter 171 of the laws of 1903 and is to be found on pages 339, 340 and 341 of the Session Laws of 1903. Section four regulates the delivery, care and use of the voting machines and says: "Such machine shall be used as a substitute for the ballot box in such election districts as the Secretary of State shall select." The Secretary of State is the Hon. S. D. Dickinson, a gentleman well able to perform the duties imposed by the act. Out of compliment to the members of the Legislature he requested the members to suggest districts where the voting machines should be placed. Assemblyman Newcorn immediately named his district, the First district of the Fourth ward, for one, and it was so announced at that time in the public prints. After the bolt, a change was made. Mr. MacMurray undoubtedly knows at whose suggestion. But it now seems that the original location is to prevail, much to Mr. MacMurray's apparent disgust. If the First district of the Fourth ward was the place for the voting machine before the bolt, why is it not the place for it after the bolt? Is Mr. MacMurray afraid that he can not trace the vote of the employes of the Pond Tool Company and afterward discharge those who do not do his bidding.

The letter written by Mr. Sminck, who was defeated as a candidate from the Second district of the First ward to the recent County Convention, and who makes a fanatical attack on this Club in your issue of yesterday, should have been accompanied by a diagram to enable your readers to follow his mandlin wanderings. The article is too silly to call for a reply.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS;

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

Dainty Buttons — Shaded Feathers and Loose Fur Coats.

A new button is made of two colored polished wood, those of dark wood being inlaid with satinwood. These are especially smart for tailor mades.

The three-quarter coat, tight fitting in the back, is especially smart when trimmed with strappings.

Three-quarter length coats of fur are made with loose hanging bell sleeves and a wide collar. These are useful for driving, walking or motoring.

Delicate gray feathers, shading from iron tint to the faintest pearl, are very smart on hats of gray shirred velvet.

A black silk or moire evening coat is always useful and is really pretty when trimmed with white lace and black and white chiffon frillings.

Many skirts are trimmed with ruches and some with pipings of a different color. A very smart white serge skirt seen recently had every seam outlined with a piping of black panne. The blouse bodice was drawn down into a waistband of black panne, fastened at the back with fancy buttons and worn with a beautiful collar of white embroidery edged with black and a dainty little cravat of white cambric finished with a black velvet bow. This was accompanied by a white felt hat trimmed up with black velvet and a big white ostrich plume drooping right on to the shoulder. A wrap also made to be worn with this costume was composed of white cloth with a huge double cape collar and stoles of black and white embroidery outlined with gold thread.

The illustration shows a tea coat with a novel handkerchief arrangement of crepe de chine. The underblouse is of lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COLD WEATHER STYLES.

Useful and Inexpensive Long Coats. Feather Hats.

A long cloth coat faced with fur is a very useful and smart garment for cold weather. Made in deep red cloth and trimmed with skunk or marten, this need not be expensive to be pretty. The collar should be of the storm shape, with the lapels wide and gracefully rounded. A French sailor of red felt trimmed with an edging of the fur and a bunch of shaded roses would be smart worn with such a coat.

Feather hats are among the novelties of the winter. They are prettiest in green, gray or shaded red, and there are even stoles and muffs made to match them. The hats are untrimmed save for a rich buckle, and the majority are of the exaggerated turban shape raised at one side.

Shirred waists of white china silk are particularly desirable for young girls whenever a dressy garment is required. They are made collarless, with shirred neck pieces and sleeve tops.

A beautiful wine colored chiffon velours model was made after the style of an old picture frock, being cut away to show an underdress of accordion plaited chiffon with a deep bertha and long stoles of point de venise. The sleeves, reaching to the elbow, were turned back with a full cuff of this wonderful old lace. To a woman with fair hair wine color is peculiarly becoming, particularly at night and in velvet or some such sumptuous fabric.

The cut shows a walking costume of stitched blue cloth.

KILLING OF SAGOUNI

President of Armenian Revolutionary Society Shot Dead.

CAUSED A STIR IN BRITISH CAPITAL

Assassin Supposed to Be a Fellow Armenian From the United States. His Felt Hat and Automatic Pistol of American Make.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Sagatel Sagouni, president of the Armenian Revolutionary society, was murdered at the doorstep of his lodgings in Nunhead, an unpretentious little suburb of London, yesterday evening. The murder presumably was committed by a fellow Armenian recently from the United States.

The assassination had a political motive and was characterized by a boldness to which London has seldom been treated. It created an unusual sensation in this law abiding British capital since it appears to have been only an incident in a long and bitter vendetta between factions of Armenian revolutionists.

The attempted murder in Boston, the recent killing in Switzerland and the assassination of the most prominent Armenian in London are so far achievements credited to the Armenian radicals here. It is said that two members of the Opposition party have already been killed in Russia, though the London Armenian revolutionary committee denies both knowledge of and responsibility for the crimes.

It is generally expected that Sagouni's death is only the prelude to other chapters in the story of a bitter blood feud. The murderer, who has not yet been apprehended, left in the hands of the police two clews—a soft felt hat bearing the name of an American clothing firm (the Bell Clothing company of Lowell, Mass.) and an automatic pistol of a recent American make.

Members of the Armenian committee here express themselves as certain that the murder is the work of an Alfarist member of the radical minority. The police are following up all clews suggested by Sagouni's associates. What may be a possible coincidence is suggested by the fact that the Alfarist headquarters in London were recently closed, the members scattering to Egypt, Smyrna and the United States. The Macedonian committee attempted to co-operate with the Armenian committee in an anti-Turkish revolution in 1895, but subsequently withdrew because of the internecine strife of the Armenians.

Tracing the Assassin's Hat.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 28.—On the meager clew furnished by the impression on the inside of the hat dropped by the assassin of Sagatel Sagouni the proprietors of the Bell Clothing company, who have a large number of Armenian customers, could say nothing more positive than that the hat might have been sold by them. They say that it must have been purchased some time ago if the inscription is partly defaced, as it would take at least two years' wear to destroy the impression. The Bell company has been in business here for about four years.

Judge Estee Dead at Honolulu.

HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—Judge Estee is dead here. Masonic funeral services will be held today over the remains. All the courts in the city will be closed, and their officers will attend the funeral. The national guard will act as an escort. After the exercises the body will be conveyed to the steamer Alameda, which will sail at noon for San Francisco.

Little Turk Seriously Hurt.

SAYVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The ten-year-old son of Chekib Bey, the Turkish minister, has been seriously hurt while out shooting at his father's country residence here. The lad was loading a muzzle loading shotgun when it was discharged, the ramrod passing through one hand and partly through the other.

Stern Held In Postal Frauds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The preliminary hearing in the case of Leopold J. Stern of Baltimore, indicted for complicity in postal frauds, was concluded in the police court here, and Stern was held in $5,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

To Reclaim Two Million Acres.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 28.—United States engineers are investigating a project to irrigate 2,000,000 acres of land in central Washington. Over three-fourths of the vast territory will get its water supply from the Spokane river.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Heinze's offer to settle the fight with the Amalgamated Copper company at Butte, Mont., has been rejected.

William J. Bryan has postponed his trip to Europe until the Bennett will case at New Havan, Conn., is decided.

Allison V. Armour of Chicago has gone from Rome to Genoa to meet Prince Adalbert, who is en route to China.

The Turkish council of ministers has appointed a commission to consider the Austro-Russian demands for reform in Macedonia.

The jury in the case of Mayor Hays of Pittsburg, on trial for discharging a civil war veteran without just cause, has disagreed.

The German foreign office has denied the report that Ambassador von Sternburg will not return to his post at Washington.

The gunboat Machias is coaling at Naples, Italy, preparatory to taking Consul Skinner on the first stage of his journey to Abyssinia.

CHAMBERLAIN'S IDEA

Former Colonial Secretary Addresses Workingmen.

ENGLAND NOT TO BE A DUMP GROUND

Says His Fiscal Policy Would Not Add to the Price of Food, and That Its Adoption Would Stimulate Colonial Trade.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 28.—Joseph Chamberlain addressed another monster meeting in the Hippodrome here under the auspices of the Workingmen's Conservative association, and the 5,000 persons present gave the former colonial secretary a tremendous reception.

It was organized as an offset to the recent action of representatives of labor unions in various places in denouncing Mr. Chamberlain's tariff and preferential proposals.

Mr. Chamberlain devoted the first portion of his speech to the "dumping" of the manufactures of the United States and Germany in this country, which he said must result in depression after the present prosperity. With regard to the cry of "dearer food" he pledged himself that his proposals would not add anything to the cost of living. On the contrary, they would decrease the cost of living to the poorest families in the country.

The speaker devoted the greater part of his speech, which lasted for an hour and a half, to a powerful argument addressed to the working classes of the United Kingdom, to whom he appealed against their leaders. He pointed out the fact hitherto overlooked by his opponents that when the movement for free trade was carried the working classes were neither represented nor consulted, but it was a movement of the manufacturers and the middle class people. Now that the working classes were represented in parliament their support was absolutely essential to the carrying out of his proposals, which, he said, meant more employment.

Emphasizing the statement that it was impossible to reconcile free trade with trades unionism, Mr. Chamberlain pointed out the inconsistency of supporting a policy which admitted the product of the cheapest kind of labor without taxation. He said he believed the working classes of the United Kingdom were more advanced than many of their leaders and said if this were true he was confident his proposals would win.

Mr. Chamberlain dwelt especially upon the shipping industry. He pointed out the greater growth of foreign shipbuilding as compared to that of Great Britain and referred to the disabilities the latter suffered because of foreign bounties and because the regulations imposed by British shipping legislation were not enforced upon foreign shipping in British waters. He referred pointedly to Great Britain's loss of trade with Cuba, where, he said, British conditions of trade had not been respected. "Perhaps the Americans did not understand them in the same sense as we did," he continued. "In any event all our representations have been fruitless, and America proposes preferential arrangements, treating Cuba exactly as I want you to treat Canada. This will result in no more British goods going to Cuba, and all the traffic between the United States and Cuba will be done in American bottoms. Not only that, but the large rice trade between Rangoon and Cuba, now being carried by British ships, will henceforth go to New York and thence to Cuba in American vessels."

Mr. Chamberlain contended that all this emphasized the necessity to Great Britain of some means of bargaining with the foreigner. He said the adoption of his policy would encourage and stimulate the colonial shipping trade and enable shipowners to get return freights in such cases as Canada and Australia, and at the same time it would not prevent the development of foreign trade. He said he wanted to see less foreign manufactured articles imported, but more raw materials, in return for British finished goods.

In conclusion Mr. Chamberlain declared that Holland had tried and failed to keep command of the sea and her position as carrier and merchant of the world without productive capacity and that Great Britain would be no more successful than Holland if she neglected to bind her colonies to her.

The meeting adopted a resolution eulogizing Mr. Chamberlain's services, indorsing the government's fiscal policy and declaring the advisability of binding the empire more closely together.

Mas and Moranne Told the Truth.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The investigation of the charges of perjury in connection with the Fair automobile accident was continued. The latest testimony appears to prove that Lucien Mas and A. J. THEATRE AS A COURT ROOM

WORKMEN BEAUTIFYING THE LYCEUM FOR DISTRICT COURT.

Some of the Improvements That Are Being Made—Its Use Only Temporary.

Painters and paperhangers are at work decorating and beautifying the rooms in the Lyceum Theatre, which are shortly to be used for district court purposes. The carpenter work has been completed.

The court room proper will be the large front room, heretofore occupied as the reading room of the Elizabeth Public Library Association. A neat and somewhat artistic railing has been erected in this room for the purpose of separating the court and members of the bar from the spectators who always congregate on court days.

The railing, forming three sides of a square, extends from either side of the anteway, opening into a large room immediately adjoining, to a point midway of the court room proper, and is entered through two swinging gates. The jury box will be located to the right of the railing on the westerly side of the room, and to the left of the judge's bench, which will be on a slightly raised platform in the archway separating the two rooms.

It is also understood that tables for the accommodation of the press will be placed within the enclosure, separating court and counsel from the spectators, an innovation which will be thoroughly appreciated by reporters.

The room back of the court room proper will be made use of for clerical and other purposes pertaining to court business. This room is especially adapted to such purposes, as it is fitted up with bookcases, etc.

Another large room, located to the right of the main entrance, is to be used as a jurors' room. There is a smaller room which is to be used as a hat and coat room for the accommodation of lawyers. It is being specially fitted up for that purpose.

The walls on the entire floor and the hallway leading to the lower floor are to be repapered and painted.

The work is being pushed as rapidly as possible, so that the quarters may be ready for occupancy within the coming week.

John Somers, Democratic candidate for coroner of Somerset county, was a visitor in Plainfield, yesterday.

The Republican State committee has adopted the eagle as an emblem for use in the new voting machine to enable the voter to recognize at sight the ticket which he wishes to favor. The Democrats have adopted a blue star as their emblem.

It is said that the Reed and Thompson faction of the Somerset Republican have gotten together this fall and neither will do any knifing. If such is the case Assemblyman Swackhamer's Trenton career is likely to be suddenly terminated.—New Brunswick Home News.

The Bound Brook Chronicle says: "Mr. Dolliver, the Republican nominee for Assemblyman, was in town on Tuesday and met a number of voters. He is making a thorough canvass of the county and is in the fight to win. He will receive the earnest and hearty support of Republicans everywhere, and there is no good reason why he should not succeed."

William T. Kirk, of Plainfield, is deservedly popular among the citizens everywhere in the county. He has occupied high positions in the public life of the county, and he has given to every duty conscientious and distinguished service. He has been loyal to the party, and it would be the basest ingratitude if he did not receive the full Republican vote.—Elizabeth Journal.

The Summit Herald has these complimentary words: "William T. Kirk, of Plainfield, is a man of great personal popularity, and possesses the qualifications to make him a safe and capable legislator. He served with credit in the high office of sheriff, and his experience and knowledge of public affairs fit him for the new honor and responsibilities for which he is named."

James T. MacMurray, the leader of the Plainfield Republican bolters, is out with a card of explanation. He attempts to answer the Plainfield Republican Club, which showed the bolt in the recent county convention to have been wholly inexcusable, but the only thing he is really successful in showing is his animosity toward Senator Kean and the chairman of the County Republican Committee.—Elizabeth Journal.

In this morning's New York World State Senator Joseph Cross, of Union County says: "The question of whether or not the general corporation laws of New Jersey may be changed without interfering with honest business enterprises and driving legitimate corporations away is a serious one. I do not know now in what manner the present law may be made better, but if anybody can show me what in my judgment is a better measure, I, as a member of the State Legislature, will vote for it."

Alexander G. Anderson, the Republican candidate for County Clerk in Somerset County, was born in Liberty Corner and is 57 years of age. His youth was spent in the county, but at the close of the Civil War he went West and engaged in the lumber business in Kansas and Michigan. Since his return twenty-five years ago he has been in the lumber and coal business in Bound Brook, the firm being A. G. Anderson & Co. until recently, when Mr. Anderson retired from active business management. Mr. Anderson has always been an outspoken Republican, but has never pushed himself forward for the political prizes. Mr. Anderson has served as warden in St. John's Episcopal Church, and has for many years been an active member there.

The Republicans throughout the State are becoming a bit anxious over the situation in Union, and some of the newspapers are insisting that Congressman Fowler call off his friends, who are declaring they will knife the ticket. "It is said," declares the West Jersey Press, "that Mr. Fowler is ambitious to succeed John Kean, Jr., in the United States Senate. If this be true, it would be the part of wisdom for Mr. Fowler to placate the discontent among his followers in Plainfield and elsewhere. Opposition to the Republican ticket on the part of men who are known to be friendly to himself would have a damaging effect upon his boom." This is the kind of talk, so familiar from use in previous campaigns that it is possible it will not be heeded by the Congressman So far he has not suffered from the cry of "Wolf!" either in off or on years.—Newark Evening News.

Twenty names were added Tuesday by the registry boards of the First and second districts in North Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Warnock, of Craig place, have been visiting friends in Englewood.

Miss Carrie Crosson, of Staten Island, is spending a few days with friends in North Plainfield.

Miss Nellie Keely, who has been employed at I. H. Boehm's dry goods store as a saleswoman for the past six years, has resigned that position and accepted one with Hill & Shupp.

Minstrels and Dramatics.

For the benefit of the Women's Exchange, a most worthy institution, an amateur dramatic and minstrel entertainment will be given at the Casino, on Thursday and Friday evenings, November 5 and 6. An entertainment of exceptional merit is promised. Reserved seats can be purchased at I. W. Randolph's and T. S. Armstrong's pharmacies.

Royal Arcanum's Entertainment.

The sixth annual entertainment under the auspices of Greenbrook Council, No. 1725, Royal Arcanum, will be held at Y. M. C. A. Hall Tuesday evening, November 3, when high-class vaudeville will be presented. In addition to the entertainment arrangements have been made for receiving the election returns and they will be announced from the stage.

Vets at Reunion.

William Hand, Henry L. Molleson, of East Second street and John Goodwin, of North Plainfield, were the only local representatives of their regiment who attended the reunion of the Eleventh New Jersey Regiment at Rockaway yesterday.

Miss Jeanette Somers, of Orchard place, spent Sunday with Somerville friends.

Arthur Caleen, of Orchard place, has returned from a visit with friends in Newark.

CO. K IN 2D. REGT. FIELD DAY EVENTS

Soldier Boys Have a Big Time at Elizabeth, Where the Annual Outing Took Place.

GOVERNOR AT REVIEW

FIRST BATTALION, CO. K BEING A PART, IN CHARGE OF MAJOR DUNGAN.

Brig.-Gen. Q. O'M. Gillmore and Other State Officials Present—Ball Given at Armory in the Evening—The Programme.

Governor Franklin Murphy and staff reviewed the Second Regiment, N. J. N. G., at the field day manoeuvres in Elizabeth yesterday and the companies in line, including Company K, of this city, with Captain William B. Martin at its head, acquitted themselves thoroughly in their quickness in executing difficult and intricate evolutions on the field and in the excellence of their line formation. The members of Company K left this city early yesterday morning and, after parading all day before the Governor and other State and municipal officials attended the ball given in honor of the visiting companies by Companies C and I in the Elizabeth armory last evening.

It was soliders' day in Elizabeth. Morris avenue and Julian place resembled a typical army encampment. Tents were erected and meals or in army vernacular, rations, were served as in war time, pickets marched back and forth, and everything was done according to the rules laid down for regular army service. Hundreds of citizens watched the soldiers drill the greater part of the afternoon. The music for the drilling was provided by the Second Regiment band, from Trenton. All along the lines of march flags and buntings waved over the soldiers as they marched to the scene of the day's events.

Arriving at McCandless' field the three battalions had a separate drill. The first battalion is composed of Companies C and I, of Elizabeth, and K, of Plainfield; the second battalion is made up of Companies A, B, D and E, all of Trenton. The third battalion consists of Comanpies F, Freehold; G, Lambertville; H, New Brunswick; L, Princeton.

The first battalion was in command of Major Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville; the second under Major George L. Forman, of Trenton, and the third under Major Horace Reading, of Lambertville. The drill occupied more than an hour.

Brigadier-General Q. O'M. Gillmore was present at the drill, accompanied by Assistant Adjutant-General of the Brigade, Fred. Gilkyson, Major, Richard B. Rogers, brigade sergeant, Captain, William H. Skirm; aid-de-camp, and Sergeant Rawley. In the Governor's party were:

Adjutant-General Brientnall, Colonel Franklin Murphy, Jr., Lieutenant-Colonel C. W. Parker, Lieutenant-Colonel L. T. Bryant, Captain A. H. Lackie, Lieutenant W. E. Edge and Lieutenant E. Colby. They were also met by Captain Oliphant and driven to the Elizabeth Club, on East Grand street.

To Inspect the Jail.

Warden Dodd, of the Union county jail, wants the Grand Jury to inspect the institution on Friday. This is usually done after the Grand Jury has completed its labors, but it is now believed that the work will not be concluded before the first of next week.

—There is nothing so appetizing for dinner or supper than a can of Neuman Brothers' White Label lima beans. People of fastidious tastes prefer the White Label brand because they know they are pure.

"PLAINFIELD" MAY BE FINISHED

RECEIVER SMITH ASKS CENTRAL TO ADVANCE MONEY FOR PURPOSE.

Model Ferryboat in the Crescent Shipyards—Appeal to Mr. Besler.

The effort to have the Central Railroad Company advance the money to finish the building of the ferryboat Plainfield, although not yet resulting in any denfiite arrangements with the railroad people, gives promise of being successful. Councilman Edward Nugent's letter to Receiver Smith, regarding the plan, met with his hearty approval and he at once wrote a letter to General Manager Besler, asking that the company advance the money for the completion of the boat, the same as the Mexican government has done.

Mr. Smith states in his letter to the railroad manager that he is without funds and desired to relieve the railroad company of further delay.

He also assured Mr. Besler that the work would be prosecuted with diligence and satisfaction.

Receiver Smith replied to Mr. Nugent's letter stating that he had written Manager Besler and inclosing a copy of the letter. He assured Mr. Nugent that if the railroad company accepts the proposition work on the ferryboat will be resumed immediately.

BARN BURNED TO GROUND

CHARLES MILLIGAN SUFFERED A LOSS OF SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS.

Dunellen Department as Well as Local Department on the Scene—Structure Used as Shop.

The destruction by fire of a large barn in the West End last night caused a big blaze and much excitement for some time. Both the Dunellen and Plainfield departments responded to the alarm, the Dunellen firemen being first on the field. When the apparatus arrived, the building was already in a heap and beyond saving.

The barn was the property of Chas. Milligan and situated to the rear of his house at 1810 West Front street. James Craig from his factory adjacent to the property was the first to discover smoke and sent his boy to the nearest box, 89, to pull in the alarm. Even when Mr. Craig first saw the flames, the building was almost beyond hope of saving.

The barn was a total wreck. To replace it would cost about $600; it was insured. One of Mr. Milligan's sons used it for a paint shop and it is thought that oily rags may have started the blaze. No. 2 hose, No. 3 hose, the truck and steamer responded to the alarm from this city and the entire volunteer department from Dunellen, the latter doing good service in spite of the fact that the fire was in Plainfield. Practically all that the firemen could do was to prevent the flames from reaching the house.

The flames lit up the sky for a considerable distance around and attracted a large crowd of the curious. After it was all over, Mrs. Milligan refreshed the firemen with cups of steaming hot coffee.

WINNERS AT PARK GOLF.

Morgan T. Townsend and Charles A. Reed Likely to Capture the Trophies This Year.

Within a week the weekly competitions for the President's and Park Golf Club cups will be finished at the Park Golf Club, all of the scheduled events being concluded on Election Day. It is now reasonably safe to predict that Morgan T. Townsend will win the Park Golf Club trophy. He has twenty-one points and his nearest competitor is T. U. Morris, Jr. who has fifteen and one half.

As for the President's cup, Charles A. Reed is now in the lead with fourteen points. However, Samuel Townsend is a close second with twelve points and it is possible that the latter give Mr. Reed a lively chase at the finish. Both competitions have been filled with more than ordinary interest during the season, the number of contestants being large and the scores generally good.

Borough Democratic Headquarters.

The Democrats of North Plainfield have opened a headquarters at 79 Somerset street where all voters are being made welcome. The club rooms will be opened until after election day. It is urged that all voters in North Plainfield familiarise themselves with the working of the voting machine in Robert Trewin's barber shop.

ASSEMBLY CANDIDATES IN "ENEMY'S COUNTRY"

Coyne, Tillman and Kirk Meet Republican Voters at Mayor's Office.

NO SPEECHES MADE

MAC MURRAY, RUNYON, M'CARDELL AND OTHERS ABSENT.

Candidate for Coroner Not Present—Nominees Make No Concise Prediction—Party Accompanying Them—Those Present.

The Republican candidates for the Assembly from Union County, Peter Tillman, of Rahway; Edward S. Coyne, of Elizabeth, and William T. Kirk, of this city, met at the Mayor's office in the Smalley building, last night, and saw the Republican voters who cared to present themselves. It was generally expected that the attendance would be small, but it turned out to be larger than the Elizabeth delegation looked for. While many friends of the candidates were upstairs shaking hands with them, there were others down stairs in the City Clerk's office who did not accept the opportunity to climb one flight of stairs.

Of course the local leaders, including J. T. MacMurray, Andrew McCardell, Wm. N. Runyon and others were not present, the extent of their feelings in the present campaign being unmistakably shown by their absence. Notwithstanding this, however, those who did call on the candidates gave and received a cordial greeting. The callers were not all Kean men by any means for it was noticeable that several from the other side of the Republican ranks were present and no outward hostile feeling was in evidence.

When questioned as to the prospects for the straight ticket, the candidates were reticent. Mr. Kirk said that he would not give an estimate until he had made a complete trip through the county. Peter Tillman, spoke in a hopeful vein, especially for his part of the county and said he believed that Rahway would give at least 150 Republican majority.

Edward S. Coyne, the jolly candidate from Elizabeth, spoke most assuringly of the result, especially in Elizabeth, where he said that the Republicans stand unitedly for the ticket. He believed that the vote would be equal to the one at the last election and that the Republican majority would be just as large.

So far as the candidates could tell from personal observation in their trip about the county, they said that they could see no reason why the straight ticket should not have a good majority. Yesterday they were travelling in the vicinity of Springfield, Westfield and Cranford and they found conditions excellent, they said.

Accompanying the candidates last night were S. Merchant Meeker, member of the county committee, of Elizabeth; Freeholder E. K. Adams, of Cranford; Freeholder John Robinson, of Scotch Plains; Joseph Louden, of the Elizabeth Journal; Dr. F. W. Westcott, of Fanwood.

It was explained that Dr. Jefferson C. Anderson, the candidate for coroner, could not be present as he was attending a mass meeting at Rahway.

Among those who dropped in to see the candidates and wish them well were these:

Mayor O. L. Jenkins, W. R. Codington, Sheriff B. Frank Coriell, John W. Murray, Jr., Roger F. Murray, John Keely, James Morrison, Chief P. S. Kiely, Amos Andrews, Winfield S. Angleman, Horace G. Adams, Postmaster E. H. Bird, Charles H. Lyman, John Morely, John Rowland, George J. Tobin, J. Stephen Higham, Henry C. Corss, Richard Norwood, George Whitlock and Charles H. Hand.

The candidates left Plainfield about 9:30 to go to Elizabethport, where they were received at a large gathering of Germans who were giving an annual concert.

ANOTHER PAPER CHASE.

Event Arranged to Take Place on Election Day Afternoon.

A paper chase on horseback with an interesting run across the fields, has been arranged for Tuesday next, Election Day. The riders will meet in front of the Crescent Avenue church at 2:30. So enjoyable was the hunt of last week, in which thirty-three persons participated, that an afternoon of great sport may be looked for. The run will end at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse.

Lewis, formerly pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church, officiated. The wedding was a quiet one. The bride and groom were unattended and only the members of the two families were witnesses to the ceremony. After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Ellis took a train for New York and today they left for a wedding trip through the upper part of the Empire State where Mr. Ellis's home is. Upon their return they will reside in this city, where the groom is employed in the Potter Press works.

XRAISE XPOSITION CLOSES

ADDITIONAL FEATURES AT THE FAIR YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AND NIGHT.

Ladies' Orchestra, of Dunellen, Discourses Fine Music—An Art Gallery—The Receipts.

The "Xraise Xposition," under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, was continued with much success yesterday afternoon and evening in the vacant store at the Babcock building. Liberal patronage was accorded every booth and everything offered for sale was disposed of at good prices, thereby replenishing the treasury.

An additional feature yesterday was the art gallery under the direction of Miss Mary French and her committee. During the afternoon there were phonographic selections and in the evening the Ladies' Orchestra from Dunellen rendered a programme of popular music. As yet the committee in charge cnanot tell exactly the amount of profit from the affair, but a meeting will be held within a few days at work this will be determined.

The waitresses at the affair were Miss Helen Munroe, Miss Bessie Ulrich, Miss Fanny Cahoone, Miss Ethel Boice, Miss Sarah Hopewell, Miss Anna Bodine and Miss Kitty Bodine. Mrs. Newton Honeyman was the chairman of this committee.

ALIS CLUB'S BASEBALL PLANS

JOHN G. M'LAUGHLIN RETIRES AS MANAGER OF THE TEAM.

W. A. Boone and B. A. Mumford to Control Nine Next Season—A Committee Appointed.

The Alis Club held a large and enthusiastic meeting last night at the clubhouse in Arlington avenue, when baseball matters for next season were discussed. It was the unanimous opinion that the club should put a first-class team on the diamond next season; one that would be a representative city team. John G. McLaughlin, who served as manager this year, was urged to accept the position for next year, but this he declined to do, explaining that his duties would be such that he could not give his time to the management.

This baseball committee for next season was then chosen: John Slevin, W. A. Boone and B. A. Mumford and by a unanimous vote Mr. Boone and Mr. Mumford were elected as managers for next season, it being the unanimous opinion that two managers could best handle the interest of the team. A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring committee.

The new committee will go to work at once and secure a team of first-class players and within a short time a captain will be chosen. The idea in having two managers is that in case one man has to be away there will be another one to take his place.

ESTATES SOLD AT AUCTION

SHARP BIDDING FOR DESIRABLE PROPERTIES IN NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Hezekiah Hand Knocked Them Down for $6,920—The Purchasers.

The estates in North Plainfield of Frances J., and Rhoda Doremus were sold by Hezekiah Hand yesterday at public auction, and brought good values. The sale was authorized by the executors of the estate, Jefferson Doremus and Willard W. Cutler, the latter of Morristown, and was made necessary by a disagreement of the heirs, Jefferson Doremus and Miss Doremus, his sister, as to the disposal of the property.

The property at 45 Prospect place, 42x160 feet, consisting of a house of eight rooms and a barn, was sold to James C. Pope, treasurer of the Dime Savings Bank, for $3,470. William A. Woodruff purchased the property at 43 Prospect place, 45x160, the house of nine rooms, for $2,500. He also bought the estate at 5 Rockview avenue, a seven room house, for $1,950. The bidding was sharp for all three properties.

The buyers were acting for one or the other of the heirs who wished sole possession of the estates.

Injured in Face.

Alfred Jameson, whose parents reside on West Fourth street, fell down while playing on the sidewalk in front of his home and ran a small stick in his face, inflicting a severe gash. He was taken to his home where a physician dressed the wound.

WETUMPKAH INDIANS IN THE VAUDEVILLE

Local Tribe Scores Success Before a Large Audience in the Casino.

"HECTOR" LAUGHABLE

SEVERAL MEMBERS DEPICT THE SAVING OF CAPTAIN SMITH.

Past Great Sachem Peterson Explains the Aims and Principles of the Order—One of Keith's Men on the Programme.

The third anniversary of Wetumpkah Tribe, No. 229, Improved Order of Red Men, was celebrated in right royal fashion last night at the Casino by a vaudeville entertainment of the first order. The hall was packed to the doors with the guests of the tribe and even standing room was hard of obtaining.

The one-act farcical absurdity "Hector" was the laughing hit of the evening. It was enacted by a competent cast. A. E. Willard did most commendable work in the part of Frederick Long, the excitable and distracted merchant, keeping the audience happy every minute he was on the stage. Mrs. Ida Willard, as Mrs. Long, was thoroughly at home in the part. The antics of F. M. Slater and M. D. Sweeney pleased and R. V. Stott was a natural pawnbroker. The others in the playlet were W. Emmons, Miss Ethel Reynolds and Master Harold Willard.

Dreier's orchestra opened the evening's programme with an acceptable selection. An Irish song and jig by Master Harold Willard showed that that precocious youngster inherits a considerable aptitude for performing in the glare of the footlights. Mrs. Ida Willard's serpentine fire dance was one of the prettiest and most graceful acts of the entire entertainment.

Joseph Loughead was given the "glad hand" for his clever performance on the banjo and was ably assisted by Fred Finnigan. Robert Vernon Stott made one of the biggest successes in his singing and enacting of "There Is No Room For Me" and the "Butterfly Dude." He was given a hearty encore. Miss Florence Bennett's clear soprano voice was charming as usual and William Jeffery's well known vocal talent found a happy medium of expression in an illustrated song. A clever children's dance by the Misses Rothberg and Rauchstein merited the applause it received. Several members of Wetumpkah tribe gave a vivid picture of the saving of Captain Smith by Pocohontas including an inspired war dance.

D. V. Peterson, Past Great Sachem of the order and a member of the Great Council of the United States, made a ten minute speech in which he explained something of the aims and standing of the Improved Order of Red Men. Herr Astro, ventriloquist, and his two funny men, of New York, and C. D. and Geneven E. Mead, violin and piano performers, of New York, performed capably, and Miss C. J. Mears sang a selection and encore sweetly. One of Keith's performers, "Professor" Eldridge, did some remarkable work in making pictures of colored sands, his rapidity and accuracy being exceptional. Firstbrook and Sweeney kept the audience in a good humor by their clever jokes.

The programme in its entirety excited much surprised comment by its excellence. The performers were for the most part from this city. It is doubtful if an audience ever sat through a performance at Keith's Theatre with any keener enjoyment than was afforded the guests of the Red Men last night.

The committee from Wetumpkah Tribe in charge of the celebration consisted of R. E. Humphrey, chairman; M. Leichtentritt, Fred Firstbrook, J. Clark, R. Scott, W. A. Westphal and A. E. Willard. A. E. Willard was dramatic coach and to his professional knowledge in large part can be ascribed the high character of the show. Justice Fred Huff was master of properties, R. E. Humphrey, stage carpenter, William Jeffery, electrician and Harry Dreier, chief usher. A dance followed the entertainment and continued until the early hours of the morning.

When I got seated at times if I moved a sharp pain struck me in the back and loins and almost made me exclaim. Any change in the weather or if I caught the least cold always aggravated the trouble and caused me to suffer severely. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by one of my employes who had been cured of a long standing case of kidney complaint by their use. I commenced the treatment, derived benefit from it immediately and before I had finished the first box I was cured."

Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

These books have all been in constant demand. Every book on the list is worth reading. When you find that the book you want is out, leave a reserve card and you will be notified when it comes in.

The past month has been an exceptional one in the matter of gifts. Next Tuesday's issue will contain an account of these gifts with the names of the donors.

LITERARY.

The November Leslie's Monthly is an enlarged and improved magazine, with more pages, more pictures and more stories than ever before. The leading article—and it is one that must attract a great deal of attention—takes up the way in which big corporations influence legislation at Washington, tells how the lobby is managed, and points out what Senators and Representatives are in the service of the trusts and just what trusts they serve. It is a most striking story and one that is only too true. There is also a clear-cut sketch of Charles F. Murphy, the present leader of Tammany Hall, with a full-page portrait. There are seven short stories in this number, including the delightful beginning of a new series of Scotch sketches, by J. J. Bell, the author of Wee Macgreegor; another of Marion Hill's stories of children and some more of Judge Shute's "A Few Real Boys." There is a series of six full-page football drawings, by Howard Giles, appropriately called, "Our College Education."

Andrew Stiglitz, Jr., of East Front street, is ill at his home with typhoid fever.

ST. LOUIS RECOVERS

Semipanic Has Subsided and Confidence Is Restored.

BANK OFFICIALS NOW REST EASY

The Situation Is Now Thoroughly in Hand, and Voluntary Offers of Help Come From Banks In Six Large Cities.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—The statement of President Julius S. Walsh of the Mississippi Valley Trust company, whose sentiments are echoed by other trust company officials of St. Louis, that "the situation is thoroughly in hand, the excitement has subsided, and from this on we expect business will be conducted in the usual orderly manner," expresses the opinion that seems general after the unwonted financial conditions that prevailed here. Officers of all the trust companies state that voluntary offers of help were received from financial institutions in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans, Kansas City, Boston and many of the smaller towns of Missouri and Illinois, but all were declined for the reason that they had sufficient cash with which to handle their business. Expressions of confidence and offers of aid on the part of the national banks, financial and other institutions of St. Louis have helped to strengthen the situation and restore confidence.

"The flurry is over," said A. A. B. Woerheide, president of the Lincoln Trust company. "Long before our regular closing hour arrived all those who desired their money had received it and departed. There is no reason for further concern."

President Julius S. Walsh of the Mississippi Valley Trust company said: "There is absolutely nothing in the past or present condition of our company to justify the slightest apprehension. All demands of every kind have been met."

Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust company, said: "The Mercantile Trust company received voluntary offers from financial institutions of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans, Kansas City, St. Joseph and San Francisco sufficient to pay off every dollar of its deposits at once. All offers, while highly appreciated, were respectfully declined, as we closed the day with over $1,000,000 more cash than we had when the silly run began."

John W. Harrison, first vice president of the Missouri Trust company, said: "Other financial institutions have placed at our disposal any amount of cash funds that we might ask for in this contingency. We are pleased to say, however, that we have not been obliged to ask any financial aid whatever, and now we have over $400,000 cash in our vaults and ample funds at our command to meet all our liabilities of every description."

G. A. Buder, counsel for the American Central Trust company, said: "Our company is practically unaffected by the present flurry. I believe the situation is clear and that the worst is over."

Lawrence B. Pierce, first vice president of the Commonwealth Trust company, stated that their deposits had been many times the amount of the withdrawals.

Had Diamonds Valued at $100,000.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Acting upon information received from Montreal, the United States customs authorities at Malone have detained E. Triefus of 4 Holborn circus, London, under the belief that he had in his possession diamonds which were subject to duty, but on which no declaration had been made. Triefus had previously, however, declared a quantity of uncut diamonds of which he wished to make free entry. Triefus asserts that he left London for Canada with diamonds valued at $100,000, of which he sold $30,000 worth in Canadian cities, returning the remainder, with the exception of those seized, to London.

Laborers at World's Fair Strike.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—Eight hundred laborers, members of the Laborers' Protective union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, have quit work at the world's fair in response to an order from union leaders. The walkout occurred, the men claim, because the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company has not complied with an agreement made Sept. 5, when the question of employing non-union laborers was settled. The laborers' union claims to have the indorsement and support of the Central Trades union.

Dynamite to Blow Up Depot.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29. — Four sticks of dynamite, with fuses attached, all ready for lighting, have been found underneath the Tacoma-Seattle Interurban railway station. The find caused great excitement, owing to recent explosions at night at near by points, which have so far done no damage. The police think the station was to have been blown up.

Would Not Have Physician.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Florence L. Marlatt, wife of C. L. Marlatt, assistant entomologist of the department of agriculture, died here after a long illness. Coroner Nevill gave a certificate of death from inflammation of the stomach. According to the coroner, Mrs. Marlatt was a Christian Scientist and refused to have a physician called.

Kaiser's Sailor Son En Route.

GENOA, Oct. 29.—Prince Adalbert, third son of Emperor William, gave an elaborate dinner to the Genoese authorities and some of his American friends. The prince has been ordered to join the cruiser Hertha.

CHAMBERLAIN'S POLICY.

Americans Must Pay the Duty, Not the British Consumer.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 29.—Joseph Chamberlain, former colonial secretary, continues his fiscal campaign here. Mr. Chamberlain was the guest of the lord mayor of Liverpool at luncheon and was afterward presented with an address inclosed in a casket by the Workingmen's Conservative association.

In the course of his speech at the luncheon Mr. Chamberlain said:

"Throughout the length and breadth of the United States of America we find an expression of feeling not so much against my fiscal policy, but rather a desire in each case that they should be prepared to meet this policy, if possible, by concessions which would remove the difficulties with which we have to contend. If they fail to meet us we will be forced to retaliate by placing duties upon their goods. Then the American and not the British consumer will pay the duty."

Colonies to Be Linked With Britain.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Chief Secretary for Ireland Wyndham, speaking at Dover, said that unless England was prepared to lose her prestige she could not afford to see Canada dominated by American capital. With fiscal reform as proposed by Mr. Chamberlain, said Mr. Wyndham, Canada could become the granary of Great Britain. He strongly urged the linking of Canada directly with the mother country. This, he said, must be done, whether it be accomplished by Mr. Chamberlain's method or by some other.

SWEPT KRONPRINZ.

Giant Wave Came Aboard the Big Liner—Four Hurt.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A giant comber that dropped aboard the steamer Kronprinz Welhelm with the noise of an earthquake while she was logging an even twenty knots in midocean crushed in deck fixtures and left several of the crew unconscious.

Four men were hurt, the most serious being the carpenter, who had his skull fractured, and a sailor, who had an arm and leg broken. A statement that three men were washed overboard was widely circulated upon the arrival of the ship. Gustav H. Schwab of the North German Lloyd shid that a muster of the ship's company every morning since the mishap failed to show anybody missing.

Captain Richter, who commands the Kronprinz, says it was the most exciting trip in his experience. There were 1,433 passengers on the ship when she left Cherbourg last Wednesday. Her time from the French breakwater to the Hook was 6 days, 11 hours and 35 minutes.

When the wave which disabled the men toppled on board the forward deck looked a wreck. Rails were swept away, stanchions bent and three ventilating cowls torn loose.

Roosevelt Gets the College Yell.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt received about sixty members of the Wisconsin Press association and their accompanying ladies in the cabinet room of the executive offices. The president expressed the pleasure the call gave him and congratulated the members on the work they were doing. The president was cheered heartily, a party of former students of the University of Wisconsin giving the college yell.

WARMING UP.

There's more than one way to do it—sweet recollections of boyhood days—shall we ever forget the "hot times" we used to have?

If you would warm up, and keep warm these chilly days, better "stick to the rule" and come here for your Fall apparel.

Don't resurrect the suit, vintage of 1902—age is good in wines, but bad in clothes.

Styles change and we must change with them—don't let your teeth chatter because you are still wearing that relic of old decency—the summer suit.

Fall Suits $10 to $22.

We'll outfit your feet with shoes that will outfoot all others in style, fit and finish. $3 to $7.

Mrs. Ann Betts.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARIES.

Celebration in Honor of Mrs. Bett's Birthday to be Followed by That of Her Nephew.

Passaic, Oct. 28—Mrs. Ann Betts, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is the guest of her nephew, Alfred Speer, of this city, whose extensive vineyards are in the suburbs of Passaic, celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of her birth, on Oct. 6. Mrs. Betts was the twin sister of Mr. Speer's mother, who died twelve years ago at the age of eighty-eight. Mrs. Betts is in good health, and made the journey from Brooklyn without showing any sign of fatigue.

"Many younger persons would have been grunting and complaining of feeling tired if they had made the journey I did the other day," said Mrs. Bets, "but I didn't mind it at all. I'm not a bit tired."

Mr. Speer is almost eighty years old. He owns and manages personally a vineyard over fifty acres on the outskirts of Passaic and is actively interested in many other enterprises.

Mrs. Betts was sick some thirty-five years ago and under the care of a physician in New York, who recommended that she take daily a little of Speers Burgundy or port wine. She has been supplied regularly since that time with the produce of Mr. Speer's vineyard, and declares that the wine is responsible for her great age and remarkable health.

Mrs. Betts will hold a reception at Speer's chateau during the afternoon and evening of November 2, the birthday of her nephew, Alfred Speer, the veteran wine grower of Passaic, whose vineyards and wine cellars are here. He will be eighty years old on that day, forty years of which has been devoted to the grape vineyards and wine making. Aunt Ann is a descendant of the Van Emburgh, the Kingsland and the Yeresance families, many of whom live in Paterson, Newark, Plainfield, Orange and Arlington. Papers in those places will please copy. All old relatives, friends and acquaintances are expected without any other notice.

George Jaggers Arrested at His Home In Layton.

PRISONER'S GUARD FEAR LYNCHERS

Suspicion Was First Directed to Man Held by the Action of Bloodhounds Put Upon the Trail of the Murderer.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Oct. 29.—George Jaggers has been arrested at his home in Laytons, N. J., charged with the murder of Mrs. Victor Bevans and the attempted assassination of her husband. The crime was committed while the Bevanses were at the dinner table on Oct. 16. Jaggers was taken to Newton and placed in jail. When he saw the officers approaching Jaggers went out to meet them and gave himself up. He protested that he was innocent and said he was as anxious as any one to discover the person who committed the deed.

Suspicion had been directed against Jaggers because of the fact that dogs have repeatedly followed a supposed trail which led to his house, but Sheriff Andress said that he had other evidence which pointed toward Jaggers as the guilty person. The arrest of Jaggers was accomplished without any hostile demonstration on the part of his neighbors.

The funeral of Mrs. Bevans was attended by over 500 persons. Jaggers was not present, giving as a reason for remaining away that his wife was ill.

Twenty deputy sheriffs, heavily armed, are guarding the jail, as the feeling in town is very much averse to the prisoner, and advices from the scene of the crime say that it would not take much to start a lynching party for this place. The arrest was planned as early as Monday, after the dogs had followed a trail to Jaggers' home. There was talk of lynch law from the first, and the only thing that prevented action was the fact that the residents of the valley are undecided whether to lynch Jaggers or another man who was suspected.

As soon as the funeral cortege was out of sight Sheriff Thompson of Branchville drove down into the valley and up to Jaggers' house, where he found Jaggers at the bedside of his wife, who is dying of consumption. Almost before Jaggers realized what the presence of the stranger meant he was handcuffed and hustled out into the wagon, which was met and escorted to Newton by a wagon containing twenty armed deputies.

Croatians Held Are the Murderers.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—Additional affidavits were filed with Governor Pennypacker to prove that the two Croatians taken from the steamship at Southampton, England, for the murder of Contractor Ferguson in Washington county, Pa., recently are really the men wanted. The state department at Washington did not think the first affidavits were strong enough to justify Secretary Hay in asking the English authorities to extradite the men. The additional affidavits help to prove the theory of the detectives that the men under arrest committed the crime, and they will be sent by the governor to Washington.

The Boer War at St. Louis Fair.

JOHANNESBURG, Oct. 29. — The Boers of South Africa and their late enemies, the English residents, have formed a syndicate to exploit a spectacular military display at the St. Louis exposition. The plan as outlined is to show many of the picturesque features of the late war. One-third of the necessary capital has already been subscribed here, and the balance will be floated in the United States. General Viljoen and Mr. Lewis, his secretary, will immediately leave for the United States in connection with the undertaking.

Yellow Fever Deaths.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 29.—A heavy rain has complicated the yellow fever situation here. The official bulletin shows the following results: New cases, 15; deaths, 5; total cases to date, 580; total deaths, 51. D. T. Roy, superintendent of the Minera mines, was stricken. Conditions are bad at Monterey. There were five deaths and six cases there last Sunday and ten deaths and six cases on Monday.

Italian Radicals Will Govern.

ROME, Oct. 29.—Signor Giliitti has formally accepted the task given him by King Victor Emmanuel of forming a new cabinet. The indications are that this cabinet will for the first time in the history of the new kingdom of Italy bring the Radicals into power in the person of Signor Saochmi, their leader, and some of his followers.

Chefu War Rumors Affect Trade.

CHEFU, Oct. 29.—The uncertainty of the situation in the far east is seriously affecting commerce. Trade between here and Manchuria is suspended. Japan will not gain an inch of territory in Korea through raising the Yongampho question, as the Russians are firmly settled there.

Boy Did Not Kill His Stepmother.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 29.—Thirteen-year-old John H. Day was acquitted of the charge of killing his stepmother, Mrs. Olin Simpson Day, by giving her strychnine mixed with salts. The court ruled out the alleged confession of the boy on the ground that it was secured by coercion.

Won't somebody wake up the Union County Democrats.

Should a municipal office be used as a reception room for political candidates?

If Swackhamer gets a vote in return for every speech he is making there's little hope for Dolliver.

Every night is a hallowe'en for the two factions in the Republican party in this city just at present.

Mayor Jones is seriously ill at his home in Toledo and if he dies he will still have to "pay the freight"—to the grave.

Dear Mr. Devery:—It's never too late to learn. Come over here and watch two factions sling mud in proper fashion. Yours, B. Wildered Public, Plainfield, N. J.

Seems strange not to see Mayor Smalley going around with a knife up his sleeve. Must have been pretty strong stuff in that pipe of peace that he and Thompson smoked.

First round—Republican Club hits MacMurray under the juggler; second—MacMurray lands on said club with both fists; third—club delivers a hard body blow. Cheers from the Kean gallery. Fowler gallery shouting to MacMurray to give the knockout.

Edward C. Stokes has the right idea when he advocates National incorporation and supervision of trusts and his remark that such a plan is in line with the evolution of events shows that the Cumberland man is keeping pace with the progressive spirit of the country.

Some old-fashioned three-line advertiser says that he will "re-invest his profits and grow." All right. If a long drawn out existence is to your liking, if you have patience like unto Job, if you are young and have plenty of time, go ahead with your little campaign. The fellow whose blood is red and warm, who has an ambition to do things now, will sow good seed liberally and accomplish results in a few weeks that little ads could never produce.—Printers' Ink.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

The Elizabeth members of the International Association of Machinists expect to hear at any time that the strike of the shipyard machinists which has been in existence since last May has been settled. Arrangements were made Tuesday for a conference between officers of the Grand Lodge of the International Association to end the strike of the machinists. That conference was held yesterday afternoon and the result was placed before a meeting of the executive board last night. The Elizabeth machinists are pretty scattered since the shipyards closed down. Most of them have secured work elsewhere, and of the few that remained without employment, three have gone to work on the Mexican gunboats, disregarding the instructions of the union, and the advice of the walking delegate. If work is begun on the ferryboat Plainfield there will be employment for a considerably larger number of the machinists.—Elizabeth Journal.

Stage loads from all parts of the county, including Bernardsville, the home of Mr. Lindabury, will go to Somerville to hear the distinguished lawyer speak.

Robert Morris Kemp, of St. Paul's Chapel, Trinity parish, New York, will preach a short sermon.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The local fire department distinguished itself last night by responding so promptly to the fire on the Milligen residence near Rock avenue. The engine preceded that of the Plainfield department and had a hose playing on the fire when the other department arrived. The paint shop in the rear on the lot was totally destroyed, however, as the fire had progressed too far when the local department arrived.

Mrs. Eunice C. Laurence, wife of S. G. Laurence, died yesterday at her home, "The Evergeen." Mrs. Laurence was until recently and for a long time a resident of New York City and was the mother of Mrs. E. T. Schoonmaker, of that city. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11:30 and the burial will be in Hillside.

It is believed that both Fanwood and Scotch Plains will give the normal majority for the straight Republican ticket next Tuesday. There does not appear to be any dissatisfaction with any of the Republican candidates, although it is known that there will be some cutting against W. T. Kirk, of Plainfield.

State Senator Gebhart, of Hunterdon County, will speak at the Democratic mass meeting at the party's headquarters in this city tomorrow night.

The colored Republicans of Plainfield will hold a mass meeting in Reform Hall Saturday night. Jesse Lawson, of Washington, will be one of the principal speakers.

Last night Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer spoke at Mt Bethel and tonight he will address a mass meeting at Peapack. Tomorrow night he will visit Harlingen, the home of Nelson Y. Dungan, and make an address.

A Democratic mass meeting was held last night at Mt. Bethel at which time the candidates on that ticket were present and made speeches. The speakers were Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer and John L. Anderson.

The openly shown determination of Mayor Smalley, leading advocate for the secession of North Plainfield from Somerset County, to have C. M. Dolliver made the Republican candidate for Assembly, causes citizens of that party to view the situation with alarm and decide to vote for S. S. Swackhamer, the tried and true friend of the county and all its people.—Bound Brook State-Centre.

The quiet but strong influence of Senator Samuel S. Childs and the more aggressive course of Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer (Somerset's 2 Sams 2) have already won for our county a reputation in which all good citizens may justly take pride. That Mr. Swackhamer, now before the people for re-election, will be strongly supported at the ballot box seems only reasonable to expect of honest voters ever ready to reward faithful representatives whose services they wish to retain. Vox populi, vox Dei.—Bound Brook State-Centre.

Dr. Jefferson C. Anderson, candidate for coroner on the Republican ticket, is popular in Plainfield, where he is esteemed by all citizens. His elementary education was obtained in Weyland University, Washington. He was graduated from Lincoln University, Pa., and completed his medical studies in Flower Hospital, Brooklyn, being graduated with honors in 1899. He has a lucrative practice in Plainfield. In receiving the nomination for coroner he has secured the highest honor ever given to a colored man on a political ticket in Union County.—Elizabeth Journal.

All voters will be made welcome at the Plainfield Republican Club's rooms in the Babcock building tomorrow night. Factionalism will be eschewed

Mayor Newton B. Smalley and former City Judge W. R. Codington crossed swords politically last night in the Smalley building, the strenuous mayor endeavoring to prove his own assertion that Judge Codington, who is actively identified with the Kean faction in this city, has been working against the senator's interests in Somerset County. Before a crowd of politicians, Codington admitted that he had spoken in favor of Assemblyman Swackhamer, the Democratic nominee, to people in Somerset County, but denied that he had written any letters in his behalf. Smalley offered to bet $100 that Codington is working against the Republican party in Somerset County.

SWACKHAMER AT MT. BETHEL

MAKES A RINGING SPEECH AT A BIG MASS-MEETING.

Says That An Assemblyman Should Serve All the People and Not a Political Party.

Mt. Bethel was filled with enthusiasm, politicians and farmers last evening when a Democratic mass meeting was held in the village school house. The place was crowded. People came for miles to catch a glimpse of Assemblyman Samuel Swackhamer, of whom they have heard a great deal.

Mr. Swackhamer spoke along party lines and said: "I want to thank my Republican as well as my Democratic friends for the considerations they have shown me and if you think my services have been worth another year in the Legislature and you give me suppport at the polls, I will remember them in the next Legislature as I have done in the past, for I have deeply felt the honor of being permitted to represent Somerset County and have guarded against any partial or partisan action, remembering that I was the servant of all the people and bound to serve their interests to the best of my ability."

Continuing, Mr. Swackhamer said some things of an uncomplimentary nature about the Republican legislators during the last session and then said: "The school law which I opposed last year in the Assembly, as being unconstitutional, has been vetoed by Governor Murphy. It would probably have gone through if a strong opposition had not been made to it by the Democratic Assemblymen."

Other speakers present were Rev. Mr. Updyke, John L. Anderson, candidate for the county clerkship and Horace Codington.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

What is the trouble with our city that such a wholesale slaughter of valuable pet dogs is allowed? Even when led by a string or chain no attempt is made to prevent their being poisoned. Where are the officials? I fear they are too much interested in other things to prevent this outrage and sneaking act. I know of some that hold office who are dog haters, but there is no reason why they should make the public suffer for they never forget to tax us. Sufferer.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 1—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Great men of the Bible. What David teaches us.—1 Sam. xvi, 11-13; Ps. xix; John vii, 42.

David was the youngest of the eight sons of Jesse of the tribe of Judah. His name means beloved. He was born about 1085 B. C. in Bethlehem of Judea, which was also the birthplace of our Saviour, who was the "Son of David," according to the flesh, and through whom the kingdom of David has become an everlasting kingdom.

David in appearance was a prepossessing youth. "He was ruddy and withal of a beautiful countenance and goodly to look at." His early life was spent in loyal, loving service at home, where he faithfully tended his father's sheep. In this period of his life he teaches us an important lesson on youthful faith in God, for undoubtedly it was at this time that he composed the immortal poem called the Nineteenth Psalm, in which he sets forth the glory of God as testified by the heavens and expresses his need of God and his desire that his meditations and words might be acceptable unto God. In this period also God had him anointed to become the future king of Israel, illustrating that God calls to higher positions in life those who faithfully serve him in the more humble ones.

In the period of his life between his anointment as king and his ascendency of the throne David had a most exciting and varied career. Saul called him to court that he might relieve his troubled mind with music. Released for a time, he returns to his father's flock and next appears in connection with the war with the Philistines, when God gave him the great victory over the great champion, Goliath. Crowned with honor, he returned to court, received a command and was successful and beloved. Then followed the vicissitudes which resulted from the jealousy of Saul, brightened only by the mutual love of David and Jonathan. His magnanimity toward Saul during this trying period should impress us. Though he often had the king in his power, he would not raise his hand against him, and at last God rewarded him by opening up the way to the throne through the deaths of both Saul and Jonathan.

David at once entered upon his kingly career. For seven years he reigned over Judah alone at Hebron, and then for thirty-three years over Judah and Israel united, making his reign forty years in all. David was a great and progressive king, loyal to God and to his kingdom. He conveyed the ark of God to the Holy City. The ordinances of worship were remodeled and faithfully observed. He extended the boundaries of the kingdom and provided abundant materials for the magnificent temple which Solomon afterward built. David, being human, did not live without blemish. His temptations were many and strong, but he stood out in marked contrast to his contemporaries and in sackcloth and ashes repented of his most grievous sin and received God's pardon for it. David's kingdom is spiritually continued in Christ, "King David's greater Son," and we should all become members of that spritual kingdom by faith in Christ.

BIBLE READINGS.

I Sam. xvi, 14-23; xvii, 36-51; xviii, 1-4; xx, 11-23; xxi, 1-6; II Sam. i, 17-27; v, 1-7; vi, 1-15; Ps. xxiii; Ps. li; Ps. lxxii.

Flexibility and Adaptability.

The flexibility and adaptability of Christian Endeavor are not as generally appreciated as they should be. They work in country church or city, on the avenue or in the slums, in America or Africa. You can have three committees or thirty. You can take the model pledge or write a better one. You can call it a pledge, a covenant, a declaration or anything else that suits you. It is the idea, the ideal, not the mere words, that is of value. You can do anything with it that a reasonable church and pastor want to have done.

It is not a perpetual motor. It will not run itself. It is a method, not a machine. The quality of its work depends upon the quality of its membership. For its largest success it needs the leadership of its pastor, the sympathy of the church and the co-operation of the home.—William Shaw.

A Blow For the Pessimist.

If anybody has been pessimistically crying the decline of Christian Endeavor the unexpectedly large results from the "10 per cent increase campaign" should forever silence them. A look at New Mexico, with its 34 per cent gain, or Louisiana, with its 19 per cent gain, or Colorado, with its 15 per cent gain, or even New York, with its 5¾ per cent gain, is enough to bear out the statement that Christian Endeavor's best day is still labeled "tomorrow."—John R. Clements in "Empire State Notes."

Christian Endeavor's Growth.

From one society in 1881 to 64,020 in 1903, from one denomination to more than eighty, from one city to every country and from fifty members to 3,822,300 and 1,500,000 more in societies bearing strictly sectarian names, but patterned after Christian Endeavor and gaining their inspiration from it, a net gain in number of societies in one year of over 2,000.—William Shaw in General Secretary's Report at Denver Convention.

Needed.

The Christian world cannot do without Christian Endeavor. It is one of the forces that accomplish something for God and man.—Religious Telescope.

A Big Programme.

The Denver convention programme made definite provision for 186 different meetings.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 1, "The Study of Missions."

And Sir Launfal said: "I behold in thee
An image of Him who died on the tree.
Behold, through Him I give to thee."

The history of the Christian church is the story of missions.

The result definitely aimed at from the very first has been the conquest of the whole world—not politically or commercially, not doctrinal uniformity or organic unity in government, but spiritual fellowship and universal brotherhood are aimed at.

No other religion the world has ever known has had such a purpose. The religion of Jesus Christ alone is adapted to meet the needs of man universally and is essential to his highest attainments. It alone furnishes motives sufficiently powerful for the accomplishment of the task. The hope of gain, the love of adventure and many other considerations will lead men to endure hardships and make strenuous exertions, but to evangelize the world needs a stronger impulse and higher motive than these.

"The love of Christ constraineth me." This is the force which moves the world. In the study of missions the consideration of this motive power should hold first place.

Increased attention is being given by the church at large to the duty of world evangelization. The subject is being considered from many points of view. Knowledge of conditions and needs of the un-Christianized peoples of the earth, the resources available and wisest methods of work are engaging attention and discussion as never before. Workers and funds are more abundant, and efforts are becoming more systematized and effective. Yet it remains true that the larger part of the membership of the Christian church has never realized anything of personal responsibility in this service or come to an intelligent conception of the work itself. Great as is the task and pressing as is the duty of presenting the gospel commands and hope to all men, not less urgent is the necessity of arousing the rank and file of the church to its part in this evangelizing of the nations.

The League is taking its place in this forward movement. So far as possible every chapter should plan to present in a series of meetings the most important phases of missionary work. No chapter lacks talent, and literature is abundant. In every village of the land books can be found by a little search which will furnish material for papers and talks of deep interest. Consecrated determination is the prime need.

Where possible attention should be directed to (1) the motives for missionary work; (2) the methods of missionary work, such as preaching, the press, schools, hospitals, industrial work, etc.; (3) the fields of our own church, their extent, peculiarities, history, forces at work, present needs and prospects; (4) the work of other churches and review of various missions of the world; (5) the missions of the early church and conversion of the northern nations of Europe are of fascinating interest; (6) the Roman Catholic missions since the reformation should be studied carefully; (7) the Cleveland convention, the Philadelphia convention and the annual meeting of the missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church should all be reviewed and their results summed up.

A request sent to the mission rooms, 150 Fifth avenue, New York, to Mr. S. Earl Taylor will bring lists of books and other literature available.

Homemade maps or the large missionary map from the mission rooms will be a great aid.

If possible an evening with views of the various lands by stereopticon should be arranged.

We need to be better informed that we may become more aroused and give more freely money, prayer and personal effort in this work of bringing the world to God through Jesus Christ.

The World of Sunshine.

The tiny ray of sunlight which stole in through the crack of the shutter yesterday wrote with its golden pen these words upon the darkness within: "There is a great big world of sunshine just like me outside." Don't keep sunshine barred out from your soul. Open wide the shutters. Do not interpret the meaning of life from the darkness, but from the sunshine which falls upon it. The joy of yesterday which crept into your crowded life points you to a world that abounds with it. The satisfaction you felt today upon doing that good turn for another was as a drop to the ocean of satisfaction you will find if you make every other day just like this.—Ram's Horn.

Wants In Our Hearts.

You have stood by the seashore and have noticed in some parts the deep holes in the sand and rocks? But when the tide has come up it has filled up all these crevices and holes. There are wants in our hearts, unsatisfied longings. Look to Christ; in Him there is a tide of grace to fill up every hollow and crevice in our nature.—Good Words.

The Kingdom of God.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever plants a seed beneath the sod
And waits to see it push away the clod
He trusts in God.

Whoever says when clouds are in the sky,
"Be patient, heart; light breaketh by and by,"
Trusts the Most High.

Whoever sees, 'neath winter's field of snow,
The silent harvest of the future grow
God's power must keep.

Whoever lies down on his couch to sleep,
Content to lock each sense in slumber deep,
Knows God will keep.
—Edward Bulwer-Lytton.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

WHAT IS WORN.

The Loose Hanging Bell Sleeve. Smart Turbans.

The loose hanging bell sleeve is a feature of many coats. Frequently it is so cut as to give a double or triple effect, and this same double or triple effect is to be seen in the skirt and in the short bolero.

Turbans are very fashionable head gear, and they are made narrower than formerly. The smartest are shaded with different tones of velvet. Feather hats are novelties, as also are hats trimmed with a single bird with outstretched wings.

Mink is much used on deep green panne. A dress made of such a combination is prettier tempered by embroidery touches of black and white.

Both suede leather and panne velvet are used to relieve mink, moleskin and caracal coats.

Veils of chiffon with heavy hems will still be seen on winter tailor made hats.

A skirt made entirely of superposed folds almost imperceptibly graduated from seven inches at the hem to four at the waist is among the immediate novelties. A slight upward slant at the back gives an additional air of chic.

The illustration shows a hat of sable trimmed with a white feather pompon.

EVENING AND DAY DRESSES.

Odd Half Sleeves on Evening Gowns. Spotted Panne Vests.

The sleeve of an evening gown frequently begins halfway down the arm, the upper part being composed of a latticework of ribbon or chiffon cords, or indeed in many cases of the bare arm.

Three-quarter coats of white cloth are excessively smart, especially when trimmed with dainty touches of black or of Persian trimming.

Bias folds to simulate ruffles sloping upward in the back are used in cloth skirts at equal distances.

Spotted panne vests are pretty on cloth tailor mades.

Some new tailor made suits show plaited flounces on the skirts and plaited fullnesses on the lower halves of the sleeves.

The new petticoat is habit backed and gored very tightly around the hips. The ruffles are laid on a gored flounce which starts at the knees.

A new feature in wide belts worn with full gathered skirts is seen in the very pretty Swiss shaped satin belts narrowing at the side and forming a deep point in front and at the back, from beneath which the fullness appears to spring forth. The dwarf sash is dainty and manipulated in knotted ends or fringe is again introduced on many of the soft velvet gowns. The high draped directoire ceinture, having short flat hip pockets and rounded at the back of the waist, promises to be a style essentially useful for the long plaited basque Louis XVI. coats. Such a detail as a ceinture is more important than may generally be supposed, for the waist line must always be well and neatly defined. It is not at all necessary to have a small waist to be smart. Becomingness to the wearer is the essential question.

The cut shows a gown of black dotted net trimmed with black renaissance lace over white chiffon.

TWO RECORDS SMASHED.

Lou Dillon and The Monk and Equity Astonish Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 29.—The eight day meeting of the Memphis Trotting association was brought to a fitting close with the breaking of two additional world's trotting records, Lou Dillon, Mr. Billings' champion trotter, driven by her owner, went a mile to wagon in two minutes flat, cutting a second and three-quarters from the previous record, made by herself, and The Monk and Equity, driven by Mr. Billings, their owner, lowered the world's trotting record of 2:09¼ for a mile to pole to 2:08.

The performance of Lou Dillon in the mile trial to wagon was even more spectacular than the trial against time, when she negotiated a mile in 1:58½. The Monk and Equity, driven by Mr. Billings, went a mile in easy fashion to pole in 2:08 with a single runner, driven by Doc Tanner, to set the pace. At the quarter the time was caught in 0:32¼, the half was made in 1:04, three-quarters in 1:36 and the mile in 2:08. Neither of the trotters gave a hint of breaking during the trial, but after they had passed the mile The Monk found the strain too severe and broke into a gallop without influencing his team mate.

A Complicated Race.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The most complicated affair in the history of an eastern race track occurred after the running of the last race at the Aqueduct track here. Stonewall, Oarsman and Payne finished heads apart, but Redfern, riding Oarsman, claimed foul, alleging that he had been bumped. He was followed by Higgins on Payne, who also made a claim of interference. After deliberation the judges and stewards disqualified Stonewall and placed Oarsman first, Payne second and Bob Hilliard, who ran last the entire distance and was beaten twelve lengths, third. Akela, who, it is claimed, caused the trouble, finished fourth. The track records were broken. Emergency, who won the Bellerose stakes, clipped a fifth of a second off the old mark for five furlongs, while Lord Badge reduced the mile to 1:40 2-5.

Dean Academy Team Withdrew.

ANDOVER, Mass., Oct. 29.—A dispute over alleged unfair decisions by Umpire O'Connell resulted in the withdrawal of Dean academy from a football contest with Phillips-Andover just before the end of the first half, the score standing 5 to 0 in Andover's favor. Captain Place in making the demand said that Dean considered unfair and unjust penalties inflicted for offside play by Umpire O'Connell. Captain Humbird of Andover refused to consent to a change. Dean then left the field.

Feather Weights Arrested.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 29.—The police of Canton, Baltimore county, have arrested Kid Sullivan of Washington and Kid Lackey of Baltimore, together with their seconds and referee, for illegally entering the prize ring. The boys (feather weights) had sparred two rounds when the police interfered, the Washingtonian apparently having the better of the argument. The bout was scheduled to go twenty rounds.

Quaker City Ladies Won.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Oct. 29.—Two teams of women golfers, representing the Philadelphia and New York Women's Golf associations, met here for the honor of challenging the Boston team for the Griscom trophy, which the last named association won last year. The Quaker City players were successful by a score of 24 to 17.

Made a Show of the Field.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Tancred made a show of his field in the mile and a quarter handicap at Worth, winning by six lengths, eased up. The fight for second place was a desperate one, El Ghor barely lasting long enough to get the verdict by a neck from Brief. The latter beat Hayward Hunter a head for third money.

Navy Was Beaten.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 29.—Georgetown defeated the navy at football here by a score of 12 to 5. Although the midshipmen played well, the visitors were stronger and faster. Several of the midshipmen were slightly injured during the contest, but none seriously, it is thought.

Jaques Mieses, Chess Expert.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Jaques Mieses, the German chess expert, will entertain the members and friends of the Brooklyn Chess club with exhibition and match games today and Saturday.

Favorite Won the Feature.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—Mendon, the favorite, won the feature of the fair grounds. Old Stone led to the stretch, where his heavy impost told, and he gave way to Mendon.

Miners to Parade.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 29.—Twenty-five thousand miners from this city and the Wyoming valley are preparing to invade Scranton today as the local hosts of Mitchell day parade. All the collieries in this section will be idle, and excursion trains will be run on the railroads. This city will be practically deserted by the working element. John Mitchell, who has arrived in Scranton from Indianapolis, stated that he intended to remain in Scranton until tomorrow night or Saturday morning.

Cruiser Sails to Protect Americans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling has sent orders to the Norfolk navy yard for the cruiser Baltimore to proceed forthwith to Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, to look after American interests at the blockaded port. The Baltimore will leave today, and she should arrive at her destination on Tuesday.

some dealers have about our stock being just the same. We know it isn't.

CANADA IS STIRRED

Must Have Independence Within the Empire.

MARITIME PAPER FORETELLS FUTURE

Outspoken Words on the Recent Alaskan Boundary Award—Claims Unanimous Dissatisfaction Throughout Dominion.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 29.—The declaration that the existing relations between Canada and Great Britain cannot exist much longer was made by the Halifax Chronicle, the leading newspaper supporter in the maritime provinces of the Liberal party. In the course of an unusually outspoken editorial on the recent Alaska boundary award the Chronicle expresses what it claims to be unanimous dissatisfaction of Canadians at the action of the British government in the matter. The paper says:

"This Alaska episode has made it clear that our existing relations to the empire cannot be continued much longer. We are even now at the parting of the ways. Our subordinate position has been so clearly and so humiliatingly revealed that it must speedily become utterly unendurable."

The Chronicle adds that there are now only two courses open for Canada—complete independence within the empire, acknowledging the sovereignty of the king of England alone, or the status of an independent nation. The paper says there is much to commend the latter step in particular, because it would free Canada from the danger of being ever embroiled with the United States.

SHOT BY COSSACKS.

Prince Galitzin's Assailants Received Swift Punishment.

TIFLIS, Russian Transcaucasia, Oct. 29.—Prince Galitzin, governor general of the Caucasus, had a narrow escape from assassination on the outskirts of the town. Three natives stabbed the governor general thrice. They tried to flee, but were shot down by Cossacks.

Prince Galitzin was driving with his wife when the would be assassins rushed upon the carriage, daggers in hand. Two seized the governor general and attempted to drag him from the vehicle, while the third man inflicted two ugly wounds on the prince's head and a third cut on the head.

A Cossack who was in attendance upon the prince threw himself upon the assailants. While a hand to hand fight was in progress the carriage was driven off at a gallop. Ultimately the assailants fled, followed by a mounted guard of Cossacks who had hurried to the scene. The Cossacks chased the fugitives through the brush, firing constantly with their rifles. They killed one man outright. The other two were shot down and died soon afterward.

There is little doubt that the thickness of the cap worn by the prince saved his life.

The attempt upon the life of Prince Galitzin was in revenge for his having advised the government to take control of Armenian church property.

Allegheny Is Up In Arms.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 29.—The residents of Allegheny are up in arms against the reported intention of Dr. W. R. Batt, quarantine officer at large of the state board of health, to place Allegheny under a general quarantine to prevent the spread of smallpox. There has been friction for some time between the Allegheny board of health and Dr. Batt as to the methods pursued in stamping out contagious diseases, and it was announced from Philadelphia that Dr. Batt was en route to Allegheny to establish a general quarantine unless his ideas were put into force by the Allegheny board of health. Dr. Batt has not arrived, and no steps have been taken to institute a general quarantine.

Bilbao Under Martial Law.

MADRID, Oct. 29.—General Velasco, the military commandant at Bilbao, which is now under martial law, reports that the garrison here occupied all strategic positions with the view of protecting the banks, public buildings, factories and markets and especially the Jesuit and other religious houses, which the rioters seem determined to attack. General Velasco reports that the cavalry repeatedly charged the rioters and killed many of them.

Cronin Charged With Theft of $2,500

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 29.—Joseph B. Cronin of this city, who was arrested in Hartford charged with embezzlement from the National Cash Register company, was taken to Waterbury for a hearing. Attorney James E. O'Connor, counsel for the company, said that Cronin's alleged embezzlement amounts to nearly $2,500.

Frisco Ship a Total Loss.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—The schooner Wempe Brothers of San Francisco went on the rocks off Vancouver island in a dense fog and is reported to be a complete loss. The schooner was bound in for Ballard from San Pedro.

Sperry Will Succeed Chadwick.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Captain Sperry will succeed Rear Admiral Chadwick as president of the War college board. The latter later will be given command of a squadron.

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the surest drawing cards in vaudeville for several seasons past has been the very prominent headline team, the Elinore Sisters, an extremely artistic pair of character comediennes. It will be a genuine pleasure to all who have enjoyed their performances in vaudeville to know that James Hyde is presenting them as stars this season at the head of a big company of fun makers to be seen in a three act musical farcical comedy, entitled "Mrs. Delaney of Newport." Considering the well known popularity of the Elinore Sisters, the elaborate manner in which the piece has been equipped with scenery and costumes, and the great opportunity for creating mirth, this attraction should prove one of the strongest of the season. It will be seen at the Grand Opera House week of Nov. 2.

Klaw & Erlanger opened their New Amsterdam Theatre, situated on 42d street, just west of Broadway, New York City, last Monday night, presenting N. C. Goodwin in their superb spectacular production of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." This theatre has been in process of construction for two years and when its doors were thrown open last Monday night, notwithstanding all that had been said of its magnificence, it proved a complete surprise to everyone. It represents the most complete and advanced theatrical architecture in the world and a distinct departure in the novelty of its decorations, which are founded on the Art Nouveau idea, which was given its first expression at the Paris Exposition of 1900. The decorations of the New Amsterdam Theatre represent the most extensive interpretation of this style of decorative art, either in this country or Europe. Those familiar with the court theatres of Europe say that there is no amusement edifice abroad that can be compared with the New Amsterdam Theatre in point of comfort, safety or elegance of appointments. It will seat 1800 people.

SMITH WANTS RE-ELECTION

PRESENT TAX COLLECTOR POINTS TO HIS RECORD AS AN OFFICIAL.

A Self-Made Man, Who is Popular With All Classes—In Many Fraternal Orders.

Tax Collector Frank H. Smith, who was unanimously renominated for his present position by the Republican city convention, says that his past record as an official in this municipality is his platform in asking the voters to favor him on election day. He is popular among all classes and it seems reasonable to suppose that he will receive a large vote, without considering the fact that Plainfield is strongly Republican.

Mr. Smith was born in Westerly, R. I., May 26, 1869 and when eleven years of age he entered the Plainfield schools, leaving them in 1885 to take a position as office boy in the Potter Press Company's works. He rose rapidly in the concern's employ and when he resigned in 1889 he held the position of paymaster. Then he entered the insurance business having offices in New York, but before six months had elapsed he started a printing concern in this city.

In 1889 he was a member of the Common Council and one year later became the president of that body. Upon the resignation of James Martin from the office of tax collector, Mr. Smith was chosen to fill the unexpired term. In 1891 he was elected to the office by a large majority.

Mr. Smith is a member of many fraternal orders and several business concerns, among the latter being the Home Real Estate Company. He is a member of Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., Wetumpkah Tribe, No. 229, I. O. R. M., Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F., and will be a charter member of Plainfield B. P. O. E.

Teams of six boys from each class will have a tug of war to end with these points: First, 5 points; second, 3 points; third, 1 point. The members of the High School have taken much interest in the contest and it is probable that some good work will be done by the classes who will participate. The track has been especially prepared for these events and it is probable that with fine weather there will be a large attendance.

JAMES F. BUCKLE DEFENDS MAC MURRAY

President of Common Council Eulogizes the Aggressive Leader of the Republicans.

ISSUE SQUARELY PUT

FIRES EFFECTIVE BROADSIDE AT PLAINFIELD REPUBLICAN CLUB.

Conscientious and Able Councilman Buckle, Leading Business Man, Waves the Flag of Home Rule in the Face of Oppressive Foes.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

In the name of all that is decent in politics, why does not the gentleman who signs himself "Plainfield Republican Club," and those who are responsible with him, for the publication of last night's scurrilous personal attack on City Clerk MacMurray, fight fair? The descent to Billingsgate, to innuendo, to thinly veiled charges of political chicanery and dishonesty, are alike beneath the dignity of a gentleman or the serious consideration of any intelligent voter. Were this writer wholly unacquainted with what transpired, both before and at the recent convention at Elizabeth, last evening's Republican Club letter would of itself compel him instantly to come out openly in protest against the unmanly treatment of a man honored by all who know him and against the platform outlined therein.

Is there a man in Plainfield who has given more time, more thought, more energy to city affairs in the interests of clean, progressive municipal government in recent years than James T. MacMurray? Is there a man who has studied the local situation more thoroughly or who is more fully in touch with its every condition? And is there a man in this or any other city who has kept his skirts more free from the dirt of politics? If there is such a man in Plainfield, by all means let him stand up and be counted. Yes, and let our friend, the scribe of the Republican Club have the honor of discovering him.

In every movement, religious, social, political or commercial, a leader is essential, and in local politics Mr. MacMurray has shown by his high mindedness, his keen insight and his ability to grasp all situations as they arise, that he is the right man in the right place. He has made some enemies, and he is honored in the making. To attempt to belittle him, to accuse him of falsehood, is to befoul the fair name of the city in which we live and of whose clean record all decent citizens are justly proud.

Let the Republican Club scribe remember that he and not Mr. MacMurray forced this issue, that he and not the City Clerk made first use of the columns of the local dailies to exploit, (at wearisome and needless length) his side of the contention. This writer is perfectly willing to admit that the Republican Club scribe is wholly sincere and honest in his conviction as to fact, and would be both pained and surprised to learn that even one cent of the Kean money which is said to be so plentiful just now in Plainfield, ever found its way to his pockets.

So far as Mr. MacMurray's opposition to B. Frank Coriell's election is concerned, (as referred to in the letter published last night) the City Clerk was confined to his bed with sickness for over a week before election, and on election day, by the advice of his physician, no one was allowed to visit him.

Cannot Mr. MacMurray and those who view the situation as he does be given credit for a perfectly honest difference of opinion? The City Clerk and the gentlemen who left the Republican convention with him, are all men of unquestioned standing in the community, and this writer ventures the assertion that every one of these gentlemen had, and has today, a clearer knowledge and a more thorough insight into the situation, and what it means to the future of Union County and of Plainfield in particular, than has the gentleman who hides behind the Republican Club signature.

Voters of Plainfield, the letter published last night did not answer Mr. MacMurray's letter, for the statements made by the City Clerk are facts—incontrovertible facts. The question before us on next Tuesday is so simple that a child could not fail to comprehend it. It is this, and this only: Is Republican Plainfield to be owned politically by Democratic Elizabeth? Is this fair city—clean, well-ordered, upright as it is and always has been, to

CROWD AT Y. M. C. A. CONCERT

ASSOCIATION'S ORCHESTRA SCORED A DECIDED HIT.

Miss Florence A. Ackor, As Soloist, Enthusiastically Applauded—The Programme.

A crowded house last night listened to the concert of the Young Men's Christian Association orchestra, the ninth since its organization and the first of the present year. The orchestra maintained its reputation for skillful interpretation of difficult selections and the programme was well suited to popular tastes. Martin A. Korff was conductor.

Miss Florence A. Ackor, the soloist, received much applause for her delightful rendering of "The Bird and the Rose" and the "Flight of Ages." She was accompanied by Miss Charlotte Conger. Every selection on the prorgamme was received with evidences of high pleasure on the part of the audience. One of the most difficult on the list was the tone picture of bird life in captivity which, in spite of its range of expression, was most effectively presented by the orchestra. The programme:

Part I—March, "Dixie Girl," Lampe; overture, "Light Cavalry," Von Suppe; solo by Miss Ackor, "The Bird and the Rose," Horrocks; tone poem, "Sunbeams and Shadows," Keiser; characteristic, "Dance of the Butterflies," Sintenis; concert valse, "Franceska," Blanke.

Part II—Fantasia on modern classics, "Mosaic," opus 421, Tobani; intermezzo, "Anona," Grey; solo by Miss Ackor, "Flight of Ages," Bevan; tone picture, "In a Bird Store," Orth; march, "Alagazam," Holzman.

DESPERATE HOLD-UP OF PLAINFIELDERS

Footpads Bold Attempt at Robbery in the Heart of New York City.

A SUCCESSFUL ESCAPE

MIDNIGHT MARAUDERS OBTAIN NOTHING FROM THE PARTY.

Unpleasant Experience in City Hall Park—Story As Told by Plainfielders—A Daring Attempt at Robbery.

Twice held up by desperate men in the heart of New York City and halted at the point of the revolver, was the experience of a party of Plainfielders at an early hour yesterday morning. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. William M. Walsh, Miss Walsh and W. M. Walsh, Jr., the last named an employe of Dudley S. Miller, a Park avenue druggist. All of the party live on East Second street. They were accompanied by five other relatives from New York and Rutherford.

Coming from the Brooklyn bridge, at about 3:30 o'clock in the morning, one of the party, Mrs. Houston, fell and sustained injuries sufficient to require treatment in a nearby drug store. They then continued their way across City Hall Park.

When they arrived at a point near the statute of Nathan Hale, they were suddenly stopped by two men, one of whom brandished a revolver, pointing it at Mr. Walsh, Jr. The rascal started to parley with Walsh, trying to convince him that he needed escort across the city and offering himself for the service. Walsh fingered his watchain nervously and prepared to sell his life dearly when the other members of the party advanced threateningly and frightened the would-be guides away.

At Chambers street, one of the same two men again appeared and boldly accosted the entire party of nine. He had just started to make demands for money when someone yelled for a policeman. An officer was at hand and searched the fellow, who asserted that he had no evil intentions. As the revolver was not discovered on him he was allowed to go.

SCRAP OVER GIRL AT DANCE

TRIO IN FIGHT AT THE COLORED BALL HALED TO POLICE COURT.

Eugene Brittin Struck a Woman and Trouble Followed—Judge Fined Him $5.

The colored Republicans' ball in the T. A. B. Hall last night was very nearly broken up by a "scrap" over a girl by three of the dancers. The three, James Carter, Eugene Brittin and Jackson Hedgeman, were brought before City Judge Runyon this morning charged with fighting. Brittin, the testimoney showed, had struck a girl and the other two had attacked him in consequence. Brittin was fined $5, Carter was released on suspended sentence and the case against Hedgeman was dismissed.

For stealing coal from the yards at Cottage place, Gideon Polion, Mary Conger and Susan Mitchell were fined $3 each. William Wilson, drunk and John and George Janitorro, charged with peddling without a license, were given suspended sentence.

Infant Dead.

PARISHIONERS OF HOLY CROSS GATHER

Rev. and Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey Tender Reception at Their Home.

PRETTY DECORATIONS

VESTRYMEN'S WIVES ASSIST IN RECEIVING GUESTS.

Reception An Annual Affair—The Vestrymen As Ushers—Rector for Five Years—Some of the Guests Present.

Rev. and Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey tendered a reception at their home on Washington avenue last evening, to the members of the Church of the Holy Cross, of which Rev. Mr. Downey is rector. There were a large number of people present and the evening proved to be a most enjoyable one. The reception was held in honor of the reopening of the church edifice, which has been closed on account of repairs and interior improvements for almost two months.

The reception was held between the hours of 8 and 10. It was an informal affair. Rev. and Mrs. Downey were assisted in receiving by the wives of the vestrymen: Mrs. Frank Bowen, Mrs. H. R. Phillips, Mrs. A. E. Faber, Mrs. Murray and Miss Ida Davis. The ushers were the members of the vestry: A. E. Faber, Charles Nichols, H. R. Phillips and Mr. Watson, and Wardens, George Dupee and Dr. J. H. Carman.

Decorations of chrysanthemums and autumn leaves gave to the parlors a cheerful effect. Handsome bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums assisted in carrying out the general color effect of yellow. A luncheon was served in the dining room and there the same general color scheme was carried out. The decorations were most artistic.

The reception was planned by the women of the guild and it was a great success. The women of the church have given an annual reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Downey for the past three years. Although the reception last night was in no way a celebration of the event, Mr. Downey has been the rector of the Church of the Holy Cross for five years. Since Rev. Mr. Downey has been rector it has enjoyed a steady growth.

Among the guests present were Rev. E. M. Bodman, rector emeritus of Grace Church; Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace Church, and Rev. W. Bryce Morrow.

RETURNS AS FROM THE GRAVE

JNO. MORRIS REAPPEARS AFTER ELEVEN YEARS ABSENCE.

Dropped Out of Sight One Day and Not Heard From Since—His Explanation.

Eleven years ago, John Morris, at that time employed in a livery stable on North avenue, disappeared from Plainfield as though the earth had swallowed him. His wife and friends in this city made every effort to discover his whereabouts, but to no purpose. Theories of suicide and foul play were aired but with nothing definite upon which to base them. The case remained a mystery to this day.

Yesterday the "mystery" was proved no mystery by Morris himself who made a casual trip to Plainfield for the purpose, as he said, of meeting old friends. His story was that he had simply wearied of life in Plainfield and left. He spent several years in Kansas and went from there to Philadelphia where he obtained employment in a large oyster house. He came to this city yesterday to spend the day, returning to Philadelphia in the evening. It is said that he is permanently separated from his wife.

FIRE IN A GROCERY STORE

MATCHES PROBABLY RESPONSIBLE FOR BLAZE COSTING $150.

Property Belongs to Frank Neal—Occupied by Smith—Out in Half Hour.

What promised to be a lively and expensive blaze in Smith's grocery store on the corner of West Front street and Central avenue last night was averted by the prompt arrival of the firemen. The blaze had a good start and had good stuff to feed on. It originated among the back shelves which were filled with match boxes. The cause is unknown.

The store was closed for the night a few minutes before 6 o'clock and the flames were noticed about ten minutes later. The alarm was rung in from box 42, at 6:12, and the fire was "all out" half an hour later. The damage was principally to the stock and would amount possibly to $150 or $200. Smoke caused most of the damage, there being little woodwork burned and small damage from water. The building is owned by Frank Neal, of West Front street.

I. C. T. CLUB MAKES MERRY AT DANCE

Lads and Lassies Arrayed as Hayseeds Have a Jolly Time as Club's Guests.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT

ROOMS DECORATED WITH WHEAT, HAY, RYE, CORN AND PUMPKINS.

Some Funny Costumes—The Committee Worked Hard—Good Music—Some of Those in Attendance at the Unique Affair.

The Pinebgut Agricultural Society, an organization of farmers held a genuine husking bee in the rooms of the I. C. T. Club, Park avenue, last night. There were large number of farmers in town and they all appeared at the dance in the costumes which they wore to town. The farmers were the guests of the members of the I. C. T. Club and the reception and dance which followed was one of the most successful ever held by that organization.

Decorations of wheat, hay and rye in different parts of the room and large oriental lanterns strung about the ceiling and rafters gave to the room the appearance of a typical hay loft. Charles Suhr and an orchestra of five pieces provided the music for the dancing and each member of the orchestra was attired in jeans with red bandana handkerchiefs conspicuously displayed. Variations of rooster crowing, donkey brays, dog barking and ducks quacking lent a country affect to the music.

All the members of the committee in charge of the arrangements were attired in typical farmer costumes. One of the costumes most representative of a rural citizen was that of V. W. Nash, Jr., who with false beard, and leather boots took his part excellently. Others who took their part well in their unique costumes were Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., George E. Firstbrook, Leonce Texier, Edward Texier, Archibald Haoquer, Harry Blimm, Allen E. Beals, Harry De Mesa, George Apgar, Clarence Bilyeu, William Walters, Matthew D. Sweeney, Bert Banks, Helaire Blake, Raymond McVoy, Harry Kesselring, Miss Ida Furman, Miss May Squiers, Miss Jeanette Somers, Miss Mamie Brady, Misses Anna and Florence Morrison, Miss Mabel Firstbrook, Miss Ada VanHorne, Miss Alberta Toms, Miss Minnie Meyers, Misses Mary and Anna Jahn, Miss Helen Apgar, Miss Mamie Ribraud, Miss Anna Feiring, the Misses Kolohan, of Roselle and Miss Egel, of Elizabeth.

To the committee, composed of Leonce Texier, chairman; Edward Texier, C. H. Bilyeu, Ray McVoy and Bertram Banks, special credit is due for the original ideas in decorating and general arrangements.

CHURCH PEOPLE EAT.

Annual Supper of Woman's Guild of Church of Heavenly Rest.

The annual harvest home supper of the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Heavenly Rest was held last night from 6:30 to 8 o'clock in the parish house of the church and largely attended. The affair was in every way successful, and for it the parish house was lavishly decorated with fall flowers. There was an informal musical programme in addition to the feast. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. E. E. Brown, chairman; Mrs. Juan Babcock, Mrs. Charles Graves, Mrs. William Van Norden, Mrs. Joseph Phillips. They were assisted by Miss Marguerite Phillips, Miss Elizabeth Foster, Miss Jennie Wensel and Miss Mabel Hardcastle, who acted as waitresses.

Change in Mail Collections.

Commencing Sunday afternoon the mail collections from the city and borough mail boxes will be made at an earlier hour than formerly. The work of collecting the mail will begin at 3:45 o'clock instead of 4:30. This change is made on account of the heavy mail, making it impossible for the collector to get through in time by starting at 4:30.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, was held this morning in the parish of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church. The visitors for the coming month will be Mrs. E. T. Barrows, Mrs. F. H. Andrews and Mrs. A. [illegible] Hooley. Mrs. Barrows will the [illegible] purchaser. It was also decided to hold the annual Harvest Home in the new hospital on December 3, provided this is possible.

Vice Chancellor Stevenson has been named under this act as one of them. Three men are mentioned as possible recipients of the honor. They are John R. Hardin, of Newark; James J. Bergen, of Elizabeth, and ex-Governor Voorhees.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Babes in Toyland," in which William Norris and his company appear at the Broadway, is in popular favor and is a fitting successor to the "Wizard of Oz." As a musical extravaganza it surpasses anything that has been on the Metropolitan boards lately. An extra matinee is scheduled for election day.

At the Madison Square, "just around the corner" from Broadway on 24th street, Jessie Millward will appear in "A Clean Slate" on election day and for some days thereafter. The sale of seats is now in progress and all you have to do is to call up the box office from your home 'phone here. Matinees Thursdays and Saturdays.

A Good Story Teller

will hold the attention of a big crowd—he will put the whole bunch in good humor.

Watson Clothes are good story tellers—they tell the tale of style, fit, material and good workmanship.

But there's no idle jest about our statements—it's the good value the wearer gets that pleases him—not the tale we tell day by day.

What we say about our Clothes never falls flat—the pleased expression comes because they're statements of fact, not fiction.

Fall Suits $10 to $22.

Shoe talk won't make shoe walk—Watson Shoes will outwalk the ordinary kinds—$3 to $7.

English Lad Won Ridge.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Carrying top weight of 125 pounds, English Lad won the Chicago Ridge handicap at Worth, covering the mile in 1:40 1-5, which, under such a heavy impost, is beyond question the best race run by a two-year-old in the west this year. Shawana was second, half a length back and two lengths in front of Badger Girl. The latter finished a neck in front of Flo Bob for third place. Dick Bernard, the heavily backed favorite, was hopelessly cut off at the eighth pole and had no chance thereafter. English Lad ran a wonderful race, being last of the field of ten down the back stretch.

Hermis Was Never Headed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Hermis won the Edgemere stakes, one mile and a furlong, the feature of the card at Aqueduct. He also broke the track record for the distance, covering it in 1:53, which is one second faster than the old mark. Hermis got away in front and was never headed, finishing four lengths in front of Stolen Moments, who was fifteen lengths ahead of Warranted.

Harvard Annual Games.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 30.—The annual handicap games of the Harvard Track association were held on Soldiers' field under good weather conditions. W. A. Caldwell won the half mile from scratch in 1:58 3-5, and F. H. Schoenbuss came within four inches of the university record in the shotput, making 43 feet 3½ inches.

Boston Holds Ladies' Golf Trophy.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Oct. 30.—The Clement A. Griscom intercity golf trophy for women will remain in Boston for another year, as a team from that association, which captured it from New York last year, fairly overwhelmed a team from the Philadelphia association at the Country club by a score of 46 to 5.

Glennevis Was a Surprise.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—The result of the feature of the fair grounds card was surprising. Glennevis, at 15 to 1, won it by a length and a half, with Bridge and Bruiare, 10 to 1 and 20 to 1 respectively, second and third.

Dick Welles Clipped the Record.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—Dick Welles, carrying 107 pounds, ridden by Tommy Knight, made the circuit of the Latonia track in 1:38, clipping one and three-quarter seconds off the record for this course.

Will Stop Trains at Frontier.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The New York Central railroad officials at Malone have received notification from the Canadian customs officials at Ottawa that it is their intention in the near future to stop all passenger trains entering Canada at the frontier for examination by customs officials.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 30, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Devery is hangin' on and ascertainin' too.

Tuesday being election day, The Daily Press will not be published.

The greatest liar in a political campaign is the man who makes forecast tables.

My, how some men begin to take an interest in the weather when local politics is broached.

Some people right here in Plainfield are going to need their overcoats on election night, even though they're boiling hot just now.

Gates is reported to have sold some of his oil stock holdings for $25,000,000. He expects to get through the winter somehow or other on this amount.

Good copy is good advertising seed, says Printers' Ink, but the time has passed when the advertiser can expect to reap a big crop with a stingy amount of seed—space. Sure, he may make a small space pay for itself and often yield a profit, but if he is going after big game—profit—he must load the advertising gun with shells worthy in size. A coward never made a good advertiser.

Commuters as well as the rest of the public in Plainfield are pleased over the announcement that the Central has been granted permission to have a ferry landing at Twenty-second street. There is no grass growing under the feet of Messrs. Besler and Burt, our fellow townsmen, who are making the line an up-to-date system. What a change there has been for the better since the days of Warren—the haughty one who said, "what has the Board of Trade of Plainfield got to do with the Central's business" be turned over body and soul, to the domination of self-seekers? If you believe that this thing is right, by all means vote for the three nominees on the county ticket, each one of whom must have pledged himself absolutely to Kean as a pre-requisite to the nomination before the County Convention. If on the other hand, you believe with this writer that neither Union County or its fairest city, Plainfield, is ready to sell out to those who wish no good to any save themselves, vote and fight for integrity and home rule.

Yours truly,

The Democrats of Union County have decided on a "quiet" campaign. The Republicans down there are noisy enough to suit all the purposes of their opponents.—Newark Evening News

It seems to be up to Congressman Fowler to stop, or at least attempt to stop, the revolt of certain Republican leaders in Union County. The Plainfield contingent has announced its purpose to cut the Assembly ticket because its Plainfield candidate was not made one of the nominees at the convention. The Plainfield rebels declare the ticket in the field is in the interest of Senator John Kean, and they are opposed to the latter's aspiration for re-election.—Newark Daily Advertiser.

The Republican organs are calling upon Fowler to put an end to the strife in Union County. Those who are so doing either do not understand the circumstances or, understanding them, are pretending no to. Before writing on this subject, editors should travel over to Plainfield, that they may be enlightened. Fowler is not deserving of the support he is getting in that city, but that does not lessen the rigevousness of Senator Kean's offense in disregarding the wishes of the Plainfield delegates.—Elizabeth Evening Times.

Mr. Swackhamer voted to maintain the unity of the county in the Legislature last winter, when an effort was made by North Plainfield to secede. He deserves commendation for this, but he was only following out the pledges he made when he accepted a nomination on his party platform. He has no ground to ask for Republican votes this year, because he did his party duty last year when both parties were on the same footing on that issue. If certain Republicans saw fit to desert their ticket last year, thus aiding Mr. Swackhamer's election, and they now see fit to support the Republican ticket, we do not see now Mr. Swackhamer can complain. He has no claim upon Republican voters, because he allied himself firmly to the Democratic caucaus at Trenton and voted against Republican measures. It happened that on the one question he did what Republicans wanted him to do, because his own party wanted him to do that also. He can not consistently ask for Republican support for that act.—Somerville Unionist-Gazette.

Tax Collector Frank H. Smith was kept busy introducing politicians to one another at the Assembly candidates' reception, here, Wednesday evening.

There will be a meeting of the Republican Club, tonight, in the club rooms in the Babcock building. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested.

The Railroad Employe, in its last issue, publishes excellent photographs of W. T. Kirk, Edward S. Coyne and Peter Tillman, the Republican candidates for the Assembly from Union county. Interesting sketches accompany each picture. A short sketch of Dr. Jefferson C. Anderson, candidate for coroner, also appears, as does also a picture of Charles M. Dolliver, the Republican nominee for the Assembly from Somerset county. They are boomed as the "workingman's friends."

One of the new Standard voting machines is on exhibition daily in the polling place of the First district of the Second ward. A man is there continually every day until 10 o'clock at night to instruct voters as to its use.

AMUSEMENTS.

Plainfielders should not miss the last opportunity to see Marie Cahill who finishes her engagement at the Grand Opera House tomorrow night. She is a starring in "Nancy Brown" and "standing room only" has been a frequent sign during the present week. Next week's attraction will be the Elinore Sisters.

ANATOMICALLY TRUE.

When you want accuracy in a picture there is only one sure way to secure it:—by a photograph! A drawing made on careful measurements may or may not be accurate; a photograph must be.

In the same way when you want an accurate fit in a shoe there is only one sure way to secure it.

Don't trust to luck on a last made by ordinary measurements, but use a last constructed on an "X-ray" photograph.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe fits the foot as no other shoe ever can, because in shaping it I have been guided entirely by "X-ray" photographs of the foot.

This explains the marvelous fit of a "Dorothy Dodd."

Sincerely yours,
Dorothy Dodd

Reform Club Still at Work Trying to Persuade People to Leave Liquor Alone.

Another large number of interested auditors gathered in Reform Hall last night to listen to temperance talks under the auspices of the Reform Club. John Edward Brown, the retired Brooklyn "cop," and vice president of the 146th Street Mission, of New York, was in charge of the meeting and told more of his varied experiences with "the demon rum." Remarks were made by Henry Doty, of the Doyer Street Mission, of New York and John Oakley, superintendent of the Elizabeth Mission. Vocal solos were rendered by Mr. Doty and W. O. Smith, Jr. Mr. Doty sang "That Old, Old Story" and "Can a Boy Forget His Mother's Prayers?"

Services by the club will be suspended until Sunday owing to the leasing of the hall for political purposes. On Sunday, A. J. Marchant, of Newark, will lead and will tell of his practical experiences with the liquor problem. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown will conduct the latter provided her condition of health permits. The members of the Reform Club have endeavored to obtain permission to hold meetings in the public streets, but have run against a snag in the shape of city ordinances that forbid.

MAKERS AS BURGLARS.

Manganese Company Gets Money Out of Safe for the Owners.

The safe containing $16,000 which arrived recently at the plant of the Manganese Steel Safe Company's works, has been returned to the owners in Illinois. The money was locked in the safe by an absent-minded official of the Illinois firm who forgot the combination. All attepmts to open the safe were futile. The safe was then shipped under guard to the makers in this city and it took two days to grind a hole in it.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

There are still many complaints being received of numerous canines being killed by the dog poisoner. An interesting case where heroic measures were taken to save the life of a pet canine who fell a victim to arsenic poisoning, has just come to light.

The animal was the property of Fred W. Dunn, of Sandford avenue. One day last week the animal was seen to act strangely and believing the animal had been poisoned Mr. Dunn, who was home at the time, pried its mouth open held it in that position with a corn cob while he poured some hot mustard water down its throat with a funnel. The dog went into convulsions and finally stretched out as though it was dead. Preparations were made for burial when the dog suddenly came too and after some physic was administered recovered thoroughly from the poison and is alive and well today.

It is a fact not generally known that Plainfield, Netherwood, Westfield, Cranford and other towns are supplied with water of remarkable purity. A subterranean river runs underneath the city of Plainfield that is as mysterious as it is wonderful and beneficial. It imparts a moisture through the gravelly soil that furnishes a never-failing supply to those using the artesian well system. It is from this silent river that the sparkling Netherwood water is drawn, and it has never failed, even through the most severe droughts. A large pumping station is established at Netherwood, and close by is a high reservoir. The water is pumped from the ground into the reservoir, from which it flows into the main, the force being secured by pressure from the volume of water as it flows from so great a height. As fast as the water flows from the bottom of the reservoir it is pumped in at the top, thereby keeping up a fresh supply.—The Suburbanite.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

DISAGREEABLE GIRLS

Several Kinds of Them

"WELL, there are enough disagreeable girls," grunted the old bachelor.

"Oh, I don't know. In any case, they may be matched by the number of disagreeable men," retorted the wise woman.

"Yes, but we're talking about the women," he interposed.

"Not so much women as girls," she answered. "You must remember that as women get older they sometimes improve with adversity and marriage and such happenings, while, as for men, the older the crankier."

"Oh, well, now, that's not fair. Back to the question. Tell us of the different varieties of disagreeable girls you have met in your wide experience."

"Well, first and foremost I must place the girl who carries tales. There ought to be a reformatory for her, for she causes nearly all the trouble in this world. Her conversation is one tissue of 'he says' and 'she says,' and, my goodness, if she only repeated things as they were originally said! But she doesn't! If Mary Brown says of Mary Smith that she doesn't always buy a becoming hat, it becomes in her mouth, 'Mary Brown says that Mary Smith looks like a perfect fright in her hats!' Result: Mary Smith, with rage in her eye, goes to Mary Brown and says, 'What did you say about me?' with the accent on the 'what.' And, of course, Mary Smith denies, and some one is thought a story teller, with a nice, lovely Christian feeling all around.

"Next in order comes the girl who borrows things, and that habit sticks to her through life. She goes about it gracefully. She glides in with a sweet smile. She talks about the weather—anything. But you know it is coming. Sure enough, with a 'By the way, I just thought I'd ask you if you didn't mind,' and the evil deed is done. The worst type of this kind of girl never makes a visit without some ulterior object in mind, and people get so they dread her coming.

"Then there is the peevish, discontented girl. You see her always dissatisfied, with a perpetual sour, disgruntled look on her face that deepens into typical lines. Hateful girl!

"A PERPETUAL SOUR LOOK."

"And not far from her is the girl who sulks when things don't go her way until people put themselves out to make things go her way in sheer dread of her sulking.

"And don't forget the jealous girl, who, when you remark that another girl is looking well, immediately chirps in with, 'How do I look?' And the deceitful girl who loves you to your face and behind your back sees to it that you don't get too popular. Then, too, the other variety—of the jackal tribe, she who doesn't dare to fight you openly, but is in at the death—the nice, 'catty' little thing, who deals out insinuations like pills in sugar coatings.

"A shade less annoying is the girl who is all the time bored and makes a specialty of never being able to sit through anything, and she who has a bad temper and says: 'But I never bear malice. I have it right out in one big explosion, and I get right over it!' But the trouble is that other people don't.

"Let me also put in a word about the selfish girl. 'Me and myself first, and what is left let it be divided up among the rest of the people.' A minor offender of this tribe is the girl who throws her things around for other people to pick up and as a result never can find anything until she has secured the services of every one she can lay hands on to help her.

"And while we are about it let us remember the sweet little thing, be she young or old, who always does things just right and tells us so with conscious pride. It is a great tribute to the restraining powers of civilization that this species is not wiped off the earth. And the girl who always brags"—

"Oh," groaned the bachelor, stopping up his ears. "That will do! Even I did not dream there were so many kinds of disagreeable girls."

"Out of consideration for you I shall stop," retorted the wise woman, "though I do not wish you to imagine that the list is by any means exhausted. It is a long one, and I could go on almost indefinitely."

"I've heard enough. Mercy," pleaded the bachelor.

KILLED IN THE WRECK

Mrs. Ballington Booth Collision Victim.

COLONEL HOLLAND FATALLY HURT

Train Ran Into Open Switch, When Pullman Containing Salvationists Struck a Tank and Both Were Knocked Unconscious.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 30.—Mrs. Emma Booth-Tucker, consul in America of the Salvation Army, wife of Commander Booth-Tucker and second daughter of William Booth, founder of the Army, was killed in the wreck of the east bound California train No. 2 near Dean Lake, Mo., eighty-five miles east of this city. Colonel Thomas C. Holland, in charge of the Salvation Army at Amity, Colo., was fatally injured.

The wrecked train ran into an open switch just outside of Dean Lake. Only the three last cars, two Pullmans and a diner, were wrecked. The Pullmans were completely demolished, while the diner was badly damaged.

In the forward Pullman Mrs. Booth-Tucker and Colonel Holland, who were the sole occupants of that car, had just gone to the forward end for a consultation.

Two of the Pullmans struck a steel water tank with such force as to move it five feet from its foundation, and when the crew reached the scene both Mrs. Booth-Tucker and Colonel Holland were found unconscious. They, with the other injured, were after much delay taken to the depot platform, a few blocks distant, where everything possible was done for them. Neither regained consciousness, and within halt an hour the noted Salvation Army leader succumbed to her injuries. For a time it was believed that the unconscious man at her side was Commander Booth-Tucker.

General William Booth, commander in chief of the Salvation Army, from London has sent the following message to Salvationists throughout the world concerning the tragic death of his daughter, Mrs. Booth-Tucker:

"I am suddenly prostrated with grief in the presence of what appears at the moment to be an indescribable calamity and an unfathomable mystery. I can only look up and say to my Heavenly Father, 'Thy will be done.'

"My daughter was, after her mother, first among the many noble and consecrated women I have been permitted to know during the fifty years of my public life. Her loss is irreparable, but so much more need is there for me, for you and for us all to go on with our work for God and the blessing of our fellow men. This, however my heart may bleed, is my purpose so long as he may be pleased to prolong my life.

"The blow will fall with intense severity upon Commander Booth-Tucker and on my officers and soldiers in America, for whom my daughter has fought and toiled so long. In the midst of my own sorrow my heart goes up to God on their behalf. Pray for them. Meanwhile I am trusting for strength to go on with my own duties and praying that our great agency of alleviating the sorrows of the suffering world may not be hindered by this visitation."

The Salvation Army citadel has received a telegram from Fort Madison, Ia., saying Colonel Holland cannot live.

INSIDE VIEW GIVEN.

Alfred Henry Lewis Tells of New York Civic Affairs.

HOW THE BOSS CAME TO RULE CITY

Alleged Deals in Millions Where the Citizen Suffered to Enrich the Workers of the Machine.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Alfred Henry Lewis, who was on friendly terms with Richard Croker several years ago and who wrote a biography of Mr. Croker, is the writer of "The Boss and How He Came to Rule New York," published today.

The book is supposed to be an exposition, based on an "inside" view, of certain alleged methods practiced in municipal government under the rule of Tammany Hall. Perhaps the most startling allegations in Mr. Lewis' book, put in narrative form, are to be found in his last chapter, which deals with what he calls "the knee deep clover of the tax department." Every year, according to Mr. Lewis, there was made a whole valuation of personal property of $9,000,000,000 in round numbers Within three months of the making of this valuation it would be reduced to less than $1,000,000,000 "on the word of individuals who made the law required oaths." The "machine" instructed its tax officers to act without question on the oaths so furnished, and it is intimated that if the property owner hesitated at perjury "why, then the town abounded in folk of a daring easy veracity" and that those whose tax bills were thus reduced contributed in proportion to the "welfare of the machine."

As showing "what opportunities of riches swung open to the machine" it is pointed out that the whole annual expense of the community was roughly $125,000,000, of which $20,000,000 went for official salaries, $45,000,000 for supplies called for by public needs, the balance of $30,000,000 representing contracts for paving, building and the like. Against the $20,000,000 for salaries the "machine" assessed an annual "private" 5 per cent. and two-thirds of the $1,000,000 accruing therefrom "found its direct way to district leaders, the other one-third into the general coffer." Then the county officers, judges, court clerks, sheriffs and deputies were compelled to contribute not less than 5 per cent of their yearly salaries.

Of the $40,000,000 devoted to supplies, says Mr. Lewis, one-fifth, under the guise of commissions, went to the "machine," while of the $65,000,000, representing the yearly payments on contracts, the "machine" received, "at the leanest of estimates," full 10 per cent.

Next in this startling chapter Mr. Lewis tells of the organization of a guarantee company which bonded the officials, contractors and those who furnished supplies. The annual charge was 2 per cent on the sum guaranteed, and as the aggregate carried approximated $1,000,000 the intake was annually about $2,000,000, "being for the most part profit in the fingers of the 'machine.'" Other "rills to flow a revenue" the writer considers too small to mention, though "the round returns from them might make a poor man stare."

Strike Ordered All Over the Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The threat of a national strike by the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers to force recognition of local union No. 2 by the Iron League and Employers' association culminated at a meeting of the international and local committee of the association held in this city in a resolution being passed ordering a strike all over the country, to go into effect Saturday in all cities where members of the Iron League of the Building Trades Employers' association have contracts.

Chunchus Murdered Crew.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 30.—The robber Chunchus tribesmen, who recently intrenched themselves at Bodone, a town on the Sunhacha river, Manchuria, had previously attacked a Russian cargo steamer at a station on the Manchurian railway near Bodone. They massacred the entire crew and then attacked the Russian railway guards, killing forty-five.

Cornell Man Dies in Colorado.

BOULDER, Colo., Oct. 30.—H. Chester Crouch, professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Colorado, is dead here of typhoid fever at the age of thirty-two years. He came to Colorado last year from Cornell university, where he had distinguished himself in his specialty. His body has been sent to Oswego, N. Y., for burial.

Hays Warned All Young Men.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 30.—With the coolness that has characterised him throughout and without a tremor, William Hays, the colored murderer of Edward Perkins, colored, at Masontown, paid the penalty for his crime. Hays left a message warning all young men against drinking and gambling.

Roustabouts Want Big Pay.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 30.—Because of a lack of negro labor five steamboats, including two United States mail carriers, are tied up at this port. Negro roustabouts are demanding $125 per month, with one day off. Old river men say these conditions are unprecedented.

Increased Pay For Durand.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—In an editorial article the Morning Post urges the government to increase the salary of the British ambassador at Washington and put it upon the same scale as those paid at other first class embassies.

LITERARY.

Wayside Tales for November has another pretty landscape for a cover. This one is particularly appropriate to the title of the magazine which is increased in size and improved in contents. Frank H. Spearman has another clever railroad sketch. S. E. Kiser contributes an humorous article on the Sultan of Turkey and a former editor of the Youth's Companion has a South American "Wayside Tale" his month. The magazine is replete with clever jokes, light verse and entertaining little sketches, judiciously distributed through the periodical.

McClure's Magazines making a name for itself—doubtless it is doing it unconsciously. But those who have watched it since its inception—now eleven years ago—have seen it grow from a good, readable magazine into a vital, important one, with a ethical significance. Some one has said that as it stands now it is the first attempt at National Journalism. Three great questions of the day—the Corruption in the Trust, Labor and Political Worlds—are being handled in a masterly way, the first by Miss Tarbell in her fearless "History of the Standard Oil Company;" the second, by Ray Stannard Baker; and the third, by Lincoln Steffens, in his series of flaming pictures of cities.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

W. D. Murray, Esq., will make a missionary address in Warren Chapel, tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church will meet Sunday evening prior to the church service, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Baptist Church, held its first meeting for the season, yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. There was a large attendance of members and evidence of renewed interest in the work to be taken up during the winter.

Rev. Dr. Edwin S. Lines, bishop-elect, of the Episcopal diocese of Newark, will be consecrated in the Grace Church, Newark, on either November 18 or 19. Bishop Daniel Tuttle, of Missouri, the presiding bishop, will, it is declared, officiate, and it is further asserted that Bishop O. B. Brewster, of Connecticut, will deliver the sermon.

Joseph E. Brown, a policeman, who has been addressing the meetings in Reform Hall for the past few nights, spoke again last evening and as a result fourteen signers to the pledge were secured. Since the meetings have been held the total number of people who have signed the pledge is eighty-four. No meeting will be held this evening.

The Bowery Mission Male Quartette, a noted band of singers, will take a leading part in the services at the Park Avenue Baptist Church Sunday evening. One of the four is Victor Benke, an educated Austrian, and skilled organist, reclaimed from intemperance, and who gives semi-yearly musicales to society women of New York, at the Bowery Mission.

Rutgers Students in Trouble.

Forty-eight students of Rutgers College, New Brunswick, are accused of having registered illegally in order to vote at the coming election for mayor. They must appear before the Election Board on Saturday to answer the charge.

—Arthur Pryor and his band will give his opening concert in the Majestic Theatre, New York, Sunday evening, Nov. 15. Many local people are interested in Mr. Pryor as he is well known here.

—John Sullivan, of West Front street, has been engaged by T. S. Wheeler as a driver and guide in the hunting trip which Mr. Wheeler expects to make in his "house on wheels" through the the Southern states.

B. A. Hegeman, Sr., of Sycamore avenue, who has been very ill for some time, was reported as having a turn for the worse, yesterday. Today, his condition is said to be slightly improved.

DRAKE AND DOWIE HOLD COMMUNION

Silas Dewey Drake Dickering With Elijah Dowie for Sale of Land.

A ZION CITY IN JERSEY

MAYOR OF LINCOLN AWAKE TO THE OPPORTUNITY PRESENTED.

Gets Into Communication With the Restorer, Who Wants Details—Drake as a Community Builder Unsurpassed.

And Silas came unto Elijah from out of the wilderness and offered to sell him one thousand acres of land whereon to pitch the tents of his Zion host for a new Zion. And it came to pass that Elijah at that time had never heard of Silas Dewey the Great and did not know what a New Jersey real estate boomer was. He believed that he was up against the stiffest proposition known in all the land.

And Silas, the fifty-second cousin of Dewey, the founder of the rich and flourishing city of Lincoln, talked loud and long and the "Restorer" could not get a word in edgewise. He was told of the wonders of Fair Lincoln on the plains and he came to believe that Silas knew what he was talking about. Silas said unto him:

"Go thou to my city and behold the wonders thereof. It is like unto the promised land, teeming with milk and honey. We have an electric light station, trolley cars runneth past the doors of the populace and a fire department, of which I, Silas Dewey Drake, am the head, which putteth to shame all others. Verily, I say unto thee, if thou wilt take thy followers to Lincoln and establish there a new Zion, thou wilt wax rich, and thy people will prosper and become a mighty nation."

And Elijah caused to be printed in one of the large newspapers of the city which he visiteth, a scare head article declaring his intention of establishing a new Zion near New York, and at the same time he wrote to Silas for particulars regarding the promised land.

In great exultation Silas rushed into the office of The Daily Press yesterday and flourishing the newspaper and the letter from Elijah, said: "Verily, the reward of the hustler is great. Elijah and his host will come into Jersey, and the word of the Prophet has been fulfilled. Where, oh where, is the equal of Silas Dewey Drake, mayor of Lincoln."

LOVING CUPS AS FAVORS

MRS. G. W. EDWARDS GIVES LUNCHEON IN HONOR OF MISS COX.

Mrs. Rowland Cox Hostess at Dinner to Bridal Party—The Guests at the Affair.

The first of the Cox-Weightman wedding festivities was a luncheon given yesterday for the bride, Miss Fanny Cummins Cox, by her aunt, Mrs. George Wharton Edwards, at her home in Franklin place. Covers were laid for nine, there being included among the guests members of the bridal party. The decorations were particularly attractive, red oak being used extensively throughout. Especially in the dining room were the decorations elaborate, where table carnations and red oak were used.

The favors were silver loving cups. Those present were Mrs. Lewis E. Waring, Miss Margretta Wood, of Pittsburg; Miss Ethel d'I. Weightman and Miss Sydney H. Rogers, of Philadelphia; Miss Abby White, of New York; Miss Esther Waterman, of Southport, Conn.; Miss Helen Judson, of Brooklyn; Miss Fanny Cummins Cox and Mrs. George Wharton Edwards.

Last night Mrs. Rowland Cox, mother of the bride, gave a dinner to the entire bridal party. Here, too, the decorations were very elaborate, as was also the menu as prepared by Sherry. In addition to the above-named persons there were present Henry H. Belknap, M. Stevenson Easby, Howard Wood, Jr., F. VonA. Cabeen, Jr., Galloway C. Morris, Jr., T. Duncan Whelan, of Philadelphia; Archibald Cox and Robert H. Cox.

Reception at Grace.

The rector, wardens and vestrymen have issued invitations to the members of Grace Church for a reception to be given in the Parish House Wednesday evening.

DEMOCRATS HOLD ROUSING RALLY

James E. Martine Flays the Republican Party at the Mass-Meeting.

KEAN AS HIS TARGET

ASSEMBLY CANDIDATES SHAKE HANDS WITH THE VOTERS.

State Senator Dulin, of Camden, Among the Speakers—Candidates Talk—Mr. Martine's Advice.

John Kean and his millions, the trusts and the tariff, the new voting machines, and the extravagance of the local school board were among the things Republican attacked by James E. Martine last night at the Democratic mass meeting in Reform Hall. Mr. Martine made the speech of the evening discussing the questions of the campaign with his customary enthusiasm and optimism.

After stating his faith in the Democratic platform and the Democratic candidates, Mr. Martine delivered himself on the tariff question. The shut down of the shipyards in Elizabeth was instanced as the evil result of Republicanism fostering the shipbuilding trust.

Mr. Martine advised his hearers to oppose both factions of the Republican party in Plainfield. "When rogues fall out, honest men will get their due," he said hopefully, in this connection. Of John Kean's millions, the speaker said that, besides bringing their owner into the United States Senate, they had succeeded in preventing Plainfield from obtaining municipal control of the water supply, implying that in this respect the Senator owns the City Council.

Other speakers at the meeting were State Senator S. A. Dulin, of Camden; the assembly candidates, Charles L. Moffett, of this city; Joseph G. Gunn, of Springfield, and Joseph Hague, of Elizabeth; J. V. F. Dilts, candidate for tax collector; and F. L. Montgomery, candidate for the Common Council from the Second ward. The speeches of the assembly candidates were remarkable for their brevity, the three of them together occupying less than three minutes' time. Mr. Moffett was warmly greeted.

Vincent Frazee presided over the meeting. The reception committee consisted of F. J. Shattle, P. J. Casey, A. J. Nolan and J. D. V. Dilts. After the speech-making many of those present adjourned to the Hotel Kensington for an informal dinner and an opportunity to greet the candidates. The attendance at the mass-meeting numbered not more than two hundred.

ALLEN B. LAING INJURED

COVER OF AUTOMOBILE FALLS ON HIS HEAD.

Not Seriously Hurt—The Accident Happened Near His Home.

Allen B. Laing, son of Eugene M. Laing, of Grove street, met with a peculiar accident at his home Thursday, which came near resulting seriously. As it was, Mr. Laing received a severe gash over the eye and had his scalp cut to such an extent that it was necessary for Dr. Zeglio to take several stitches in the wound. He was rendered temporarily unconscious.

Mr. Laing drove his automobile to his home at noon and while waiting for meal time started to look at the machinery in his auto. He loosened the top to the vehicle and thought that it had dropped down but instead it caught half way. He walked around to the rear of the auto and lifted up a cover to expose the machinery. As he did so the top fell with a crash and caught Mr. Laing's head between the cover and the lid to the machinery box.

With great effort Mr. Laing freed himself and went into the house where he lapsed into unconsciousness. A call was sent to Dr. Zeglio's office and it required almost an hour's work to dress the young man's wounds.

W. C. T. U.'s Profits.

It is believed that the net profits from the "Xraise Xposition," held in the Babcock building under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. will be over $900. A committee meeting will be held in a few days, when the exact amount will be determined.

SPECIAL CELEBRATIONS IN ST. MARY'S CHURCH

All Saints' Day and Jubilee of Newark Diocese to be Observed.

THE WEEK'S PROGRAM

FATHER EGAN TO RESPOND TO TOAST AT DINNER TO BE GIVEN IN NEWARK.

Distinguished Prelates and Laymen to Participate in Magnificent Celebrations—Services at Cathedral.

Elaborate preparations are afoot for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Roman Catholic See of Newark and St. Mary's Church, in this city, will hold special services commemorating the event.

Special services are to be held in St. Mary's R. C. Church tomorrow morning in honor of the Jubilee celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Provincial Suffragist Bishopric of the Arch diocese of Newark, which will be observed in Newark Tuesday. This promises to be an important event in the history of the Catholic churches in this part of the State, as priests from all the towns and cities in this diocese will be present. Rev. Father Egan and Father Delabanty, of St. Mary's R. C. Church, will be present at the celebration which takes place Tuesday.

The services tomorrow will have several special features at the 10:30 mass. At that time Rev. Father Egan will preach a sermon on the events of the approaching week.

An unusual service will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Mary's Cemetery. According to the church calendar tomorrow will be All Saints' day and for the first time in the history of Plainfield it will be celebrated with solemn and impressive services in the cemetery. Special prayers will be offered up by Rev. Father Egan for the souls of the people whose remains are interred there. Such services have been held in different parts of the country on All Saints' day but they have never before been held in this city. Rev. Father Egan intends making it a permanent custom in this city and each succeeding All Saints' day will be observed in the local cemetery. Although St. Joseph's Church in North Plainfield is in the Trenton diocese, it is probable that Rev. Father Miller and a representation of the people of his church will be present at the services in the cemetery.

The Jubilee celebration in Newark will be held Tuesday, November 3. It will commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the first Catholic Bishop in Newark, which occurred October 30, 1853.

Rev. Father Egan will be one of the speakers at the celebration in Newark. He will respond to the toast: "The Immigrant of today." Other speakers will be present. The celebrations will be held at the Cathedral, in Newark and will be in charge of Rt. Rev. Father Farley, Bishop of the Newark diocese.

The diocese was founded on November 1, 1848, Right Rev. James Roosevelt Bayley being the first Bishop. In every Catholic church throughout the Newark diocese Sunday, Nov. 1, a jubilee sermon on the "History of Catholicity" was be preached. The celebration will be continued the following day, and Tuesday, Nov. 3, a magnificent jubilee service will take place in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark, when a solemn Pontifical mass will be celebrated by Bishop O'Connor. Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester will preach the sermon.

Archbishop Falconi, Papal Delegate to the United States, also Archbishop Farley, of New York; Bishop McFall, of Trenton; Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn, with their Vicars-General, will be present, along with priests from all parts of the Newark Diocese, and about forty clergymen from the Diocese of Trenton.

At the close of the mass Bishop O'Connor will entertain His Excellency Archbishop Falconi, Papal Delegate, and the visiting prelates and clergy at a banquet in the Kruger Auditorium. Addresses will be given by several prelates and of special interest will be the address of Archbishop Falconi, Papal Delegate. His subject will be "Pius X."

"Our Ruler, the President of the United States," responded to by Archbishop Farley, of New York.

"The Pioneers, Both Lay and Clergy," by Rt. Rev. Bishop Wigger, of Newark.

PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Augustus Feiring Thrown From Vehicle and Suffers Serious Injuries.

ACCIDENT IN DUNELLEN

HORSE FRIGHTENED BY NOISE OF PASSING TRAIN.

Feiring Struck His Head on the Curb and Lay Unconscious—Hemorrhages Last Night—Condition Critical Today.

August Feiring, Sr., of Harrison street, North Plainfield, was probably fatally injured yesterday in a runaway accident in Dunellen and was brought to this city in an unconscious condition.

Mr. Feiring was driving a spirited horse, attached to a light wagon, through Dunellen. The animal became frightened at a passing train of cars and dashed down a side street. The horse ran for half a mile and then dashed the front wheel against a curbstone. Mr. Feiring still held fast to the reins until the bit ring broke and he was thrown out of the vehicle.

Mr. Feiring struck upon his head and lay unconscious for some time until a man driving along the road found him lying by the roadside. Mr. Feiring was taken to his home and was attended by physicians. The full extent of his injuries are not known. Last evening he had hemorrhages from the mouth and ears. His condition was the same at noon today.

The injured man is the father of Lewis, William, George, Edward and Augustus Feiring.

SMINCK RIDICULES REPUBLICAN CLUB

Stigmatizes Organization As the Mushroom Club With Membership of Two.

KEANS, WHOLE SHOW

A HUMOROUS SKETCH OF SENATOR KEAN'S HUNT FOR OFFICE.

Sminck Believes That There Are Independent Republicans in Elizabeth and Rahway Who Will be Heard From on Election Day.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—What a patient party the Press Editor must be to give four whole columns of his valuable space to the defense attempted by the Mushroom Club of the political policy of the Kean faction of the Republican party. I say "Kean Faction" advisedly. The party in fact, strange as some may think it, was not created to give office to John Kean. It had higher purposes. But John was born with an insatiable appetite and a gold spoon in his mouth. He ran for Congress again and again, but with only partial success. He ran for Governor and gave up a lot of wealth in the canvass, but missed the goal. Then, by a singular fluke, he captured the Senatorship and smiled. So did everybody. John Kean as a Senator has been an interesting figure. And now he wants to be Senator some more; and to accomplish this, he and his faction are straining every nerve. Well, it is a good deal of a strain.

The Mushroom Club is mainly composed of two persons—one of whom, at least (possibly both) craves office, and the hope is to get it under Kean patronage and favor. This club is brand-new; has just been organized, and its four columns of published drivel might well be the death of it. Let us dissect and epitomize this drivel. This has been effectually done, in part, by Mr. MacMurray in his proposition that "Plainfield should be grateful for any crumbs which may come to her from the political table." But the club maintains that Elizabeth alone did not kill Cock Robin, meaning Plainfield. The contention seems to be that Elizabeth is only a part of John Kean who, with his pocket book, of course, and his brother constitutes the "whole show." The inference seems to be that Rahway also claims to be a part of John Kean. Possibly so. Our own notion is that, as a general proposition—however the roster of a County Convention looks—such an inference does injustice both to Elizabeth and Rahway, and that election day may show more independent Republicanism in those long-suffering towns than the "Club" is willing to believe.

The Club manifesto tries to impose one more fallacy on us Republicans in its four columns of Kean defense. It is, in effect, the absurd notion that, under the law, the man who votes at the Republican primary is bound to swallow any dose which any faction, holding a majority in convention, may choose to cram down his throat. Party regularity is good and desirable. American freedom is greater and better. Thank Heaven and our patriot forefathers for a free ballot! And now let us use it freely!

It was truly amusing to read the "Club" argument for loyalty to the Convention resolutions, including praise for Republican Governors who (knowing Kean fairly well, as they do) must have smiled in their sleeves at the Kean outburst of admiration for them. And then, forsooth, loyalty to our new high-priced Elizabeth Court House that reaches the twenty-seventh story of the sky-scrapers of absurdity.

Permit me to end this communication as Mr. MacMurray does his, calling attention to the only lines in the Club manifesto which contains any valuable suggestion. "In conclusion let me quote the language of the Republican Club circular, the only portion in fact which is not in itself an attempt to juggle facts: 'We ask every Republican voter in the City of Plainfield to consider the situation well and understandingly; to investigate the matter thoroughly, and to learn the whole truth in regard to it.'"

IMPROVING TROLLEY SERVICE

INSPECTORS HERE WATCHING FOR VIOLATION OF COMPANY RULES.

P. S. C. Determined That Employes Shall Live Up to the Language of the Orders.

The inspectors employed by the Public Service Corporation have been kept unusually busy of late in watching the motormen and conductors on the various lines. The men are required to live up to the rules strictly and if they fail they get an order to lay off anywhere from one day to a week or more. A few days ago two conductors were seen entering a saloon while off duty and they were given there days off without pay. Another conductor was seen down in his car while on duty and he was laid off two days without pay. The company is determined to enforce all rules to the letter for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the service.

ACCUSED OF PICKING POCKET.

Fred Winter Said to Have Threatened to Hit T. S. Merle.

After charging him with the larceny of $300, Fred Winter, a horse dealer of North Plainfield, went to the home of T. S. Merle, of New Market, Thursday night, and it is said, told Merle's wife that he was going to knock her husband over the head with an axe. His actions were so threatening that he alarmed the entire neighborhood and caused a large sized sensation in the village for several hours.

Winter's claim was that Merle had picked his pocket Thursday afternoon to the extent of $300. He said that he had been unwise enough to flourish his roll in Merle's presence in the course of a social chat and that, directly after he had returned it to his pocket, he had missed it.

Yesterday morning both men appeared before Justice Von Minden, of New Market. Merle produced the $300 saying that he had found it after the dispute. Strong testimony was made against him, particularly by Miss Edith Norwey, who said she had seen Merle take it from Winter. The Justice thought her testimony inspired by animus and discharged the prisoner principally for the sake of his wife and children.

FLAW DISCOVERED IN SCHOOL LAW?

Provision for Elective or Appointee Boards of Education the Puzzle.

THE SECTIONS INVOLVED

THE ALLEGED DEFECT IS SAID TO BE A SERIOUS ONE.

Prophecy Made in Legislature That Law Would Go Into the Courts Before Any School District Could Give It a Trial May Come True.

Although the ink with which the Governor signed the new Colby school law is scarcely dry, some persons are already at work tearing the act to pieces. When the bill was pending in the special session it was freely predicted that it would find its way into the courts before any district could have an opportunity to give it a fair trial. There are indications that that prediction may be verified.

What is claimed to be a mystification has been discovered in the plan prescribed for the determination by the people of the various districts whether they will have an elective or an appointive Board of Education.

Section 38 of the law provides that in each city the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such city shall, during the month of December next after the acceptance of the provisions of the act as thereinafter provided, appoint nine persons to be members of the Board of Education of such city school district. It then provides for the qualifications for the members, the term of their service and the manner of filling any vacancies which may arise in the board.

Section 39 provides that in each city there shall be elected, at the first municipal election held in such city next after the acceptance of the provisions of the section, thereinafter provided, nine persons to be members of the Board of Education of such city. Then, like the preceding section, it provides similar qualifications for the members so elected, the term of their service and the manner of filling vacancies.

The next section (40) reads:

"The acceptance of the provisions of sections 38 or 39 shall be submitted to the qualified voters of any city at a general or municipal election to be held therein; provided that such submission shall be had and such vote taken whenever the Common Council, Board of Aldermen or other legislative body, or the Board of Education of any school district situate in such city shall have, by resolution, determined that such a question shall be submitted, or whenever at least five percentum of the legal voters of such city shall by their petition duly signed have requested that such question shall be so submitted; provided, further, that after the question of accepting the provision of sections 38 or 39 shall have been submitted to the legal voters of any city, the question shall not be submitted again until at a lest five years shall have elapsed."

The same section then goes on to provide that in any school district until the organization of a Board of Education under the provisions of either section, the administration of the schools and the management of the school property shall remain in and shall be exercised by the Board of Education or other body theretofore having control of the public schools therein.

The question raised in regard to these sections is what body would control school affairs in a district where the people had voted, for example, on the proposition to have an elective board, and it had been defeated; would the old board in existence at the time the proposition was submitted continue to administer the school affairs of the district for the next five years or would the district have an appointive board?

Those who have raised this question profess to believe that it will prove an embarrassing defect in the law to its friends.

KAISER'S CUP.

Watson Is Designing a Schooner Yacht—May Be For King Edward.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—George L. Watson, the yacht designer, is inviting estimates for building a new racing schooner. Haste is stipulated, the intention being to have her in readiness for the transatlantic race for the cup offered by Emperor William. It is rumored that the boat is to be built for King Edward. The secret of her ownership is carefully guarded.

The specifications and plans show she will be an exceptionally large and powerful boat, with ninety-five feet water line and canvased to full racing trim. Her main boom will be over a hundred feet long.

Ralph Young Won on a Foul.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Witful, the prohibitive favorite, won the mile handicap at Worth, beating Toah by a head after a fierce drive through the stretch. Coruscate was third. The winner carried 111 pounds and covered the mile in 1:39 1-5. General Steward, favorite, won the fifth race by a head and was then promptly disqualified because Jockey J. Booker whipped Ralph Young over the nose all through the stretch, causing the latter to stop. This gave the race to Ralph Young, with Avenger second and Byrondale third. The track was at its best; weather clear and cool.

British Lady Golfer a Wonder.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Oct. 31.—The closing of the fall golf events at the Country club was made noteworthy by the breaking of the course record for women by Miss Rhona Adair, the British champion, who in a four ball tournament, playing with Miss Harriet Curtis of Boston, negotiated the eighteen holes in 86 strokes, three less than the previous record and nine under bogey. The pair won the tournament.

Oarsman Made Track Record.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The feature of the racing at Aqueduct was the brilliant performance of Oarsman in the mile race for all ages. The son of Hastings picked up 115 pounds and won easily by five lengths in the fast time of 1:39 1-5, the fastest mile ever run over the Aqueduct track. Dick Turpin won the Oakdale handicap by a length and a half from the favorite, Race King.

Pettijohn Won the Handicap.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—Pettijohn won the fourth race, a handicap at a mile and an eighth, the feature of the fair grounds racing card. Judge Brady is investigating Sheehan's ride on Miss Crawford, the odds on favorite in the first race.

Cuban Wonder Won.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31. — Clarence Bouldin, the "Cuban Wonder," of Cleveland, O., won two falls out of three from Joe Grant of Washington last night, catch as catch can, in Germania Maennerchor hall.

Philadelphia Has $200,000 Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—One person dead and possibly two, a dozen persons injured and a property loss of more than $200,000 is the result of a fire which occurred in the block bounded by the Schuylkill river, Race, Vine and Twenty-third streets. The buildings destroyed were the flour mill of W. S. Woodward & Sons, 218 North Twenty-third street, and the Baltimore and Ohio grain elevator, which adjoined the Woodward structure. The wagon works of H. Haiser & Co., at the corner of Twenty-third and Race streets, were damaged by a wall falling on the roof.

Booker T. Washington at Raleigh.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 31.—Booker T. Washington, the colored educator of Tuskegee, Ala., spoke here for the first time in North Carolina at the colored state fair to nearly 3,000 people, of whom about 100 were white. A splendid procession of negroes on horseback and carriages, with school children walking, was reviewed. Mr. Washington urged upon the colored race the importance of industrial education and particularly emphasized the need for them to become skilled farmers.

Bergstrom Guilty of Murder.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Oscar Bergstrom, a Swede, also known as Jacob Tobeck, has been found guilty before Judge Gaynor and a jury for the murder of his wife on April 13 last and sentenced to be executed at Sing Sing in the second week in December. He also tried to kill his sixteen-year-old stepdaughter, but she fled to the house of a neighbor. Bergstrom then tried to commit suicide, and it was at first believed he would die. It is said to be the quickest trial and conviction that ever happened in the state.

FIFTY-SEVEN CITIES

Industrial Association Delegates Gather From All Parts.

HOLD CONVENTION AT CHICAGO.

Organization Is National In Scope, Includes All Classes and Seeks to Deal With the Labor Problem In All Its Phases.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—With the election of D. M. Parry of Illinois as president the formation of the Citizens' Industrial Association of America has been completed. The organization is national in scope and includes representative manufacturers, tradesmen, other employers of labor, local general organizations and the Citizens' alliance, having among other things as its object the dealing with the labor problem in all its phases.

Delegates from fifty-seven cities from San Francisco to New York, including several in Canada, were present at the convention, and at the concluding session all details of the plan of carrying on and extending the work of the organization were completed. Other officers were elected as follows: J. C. Craig of Denver, head of the Colorado State and Denver Citizens' alliance, first vice president; E. W. McLeary of the National Electrical Contractors' association, Detroit, second vice president; J. T. Holle of the Manufacturers' association of New York, third vice president; A. C. Rosencrantz of the Citizens' alliance, Evansville, Ind., treasurer.

The secretary and an executive committee of fifteen members, of which the president, the three vice presidents and the treasurer shall be members, are to be named later.

The manner of assessing and affiliating the many associations in the organization took up most of the time of the delegates.

Resolutions were then adopted. They refer to strained relations between employer and employees and their bad effect on business conditions, demand ample protection for all seeking to earn a livelihood and continue in part:

"In carrying on a firm and uncompromising contest with the abuses of unions as now constituted and conducted, at the same time acknowledging the free rights of workmen to combine and willing that the combination when rightly constituted and conducted may prove highly useful, we earnestly desire to act and believe we are acting in the true interests of the workingmen themselves."

Mr. Parry, who is president of the National Manufacturers' association, was then elected head of the organization, there being no opposition to him nor to the other officers. He made a brief speech of acceptance, referring to his devotion to the movement and the desire to secure ways and means for the observance of the law.

Miners Are Indignant.

TAMAQUA, Pa., Oct. 31.—As a result of the refusal of about 4,000 of the mine workers employed by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company to obey the company's order and work on Mitchell day they have been suspended for two days. On Wednesday the company issued orders that its collieries would work as usual on Thursday, Mitchell day. Less than 2,000 men and boys reported for duty, and it was found necessary to shut down all of the thirteen collieries except the No. 5 and the Nesqueponing. When the men who had celebrated Mitchell day reported they were told that there would be no work for them until Monday. This order has caused much indignation among the union men, and there is talk of a strike.

Steamer Broke Telephone Circuit.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31.—The steamer Hestia, from Sydney, C. B., loaded with steel billets, stuck in the mud in the west passage through the Tomlinson drawbridge in the Quinnipiac river, and three tugboats were unable to float her. As a result of the incident the draw remained wide open all day, cutting off that route to East Haven, and a cable of twenty-five pairs of telephone wires which communicate with East Haven and Morris Cove was severed by the steamer's bow.

Dynamite Brought Up Two.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 31.—While dynamiting the river for the body of Miss Lilly Cole, who committed suicide, the police not only brought up the body of the girl, but that of an unknown man. The remains were so badly decomposed that recognition was impossible. The skull was crushed, and the police believe the body may be that of a wealthy stockman named Jones, who disappeared and who was thought to have been murdered for his money.

VAHTAN KRIKORIAN

Arrest of the Armenian Poet, Journalist and Orator.

PRISONER PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

Alleged Head of London Central Committee of Armenian Revolutionists Spends His First Night In America In Jail at Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Standing before a United States commissioner, Vahtan Krikorian, the Armenian poet, journalist and orator who was arrested upon his arrival from London, where during his voyage to this country Sagatel Sagouni had been murdered, demanded to know on what charge he was being held.

Upon being told that the authorities of the country from whence he came charged him with being a fugitive from justice in having committed political murder Krikorian demanded proof. This the commissioner was unable to give at this time and asked Krikorian to plead, which he did, saying that he was not guilty. Pending the arrival of direct charges Krikorian was sent back to the jail, where he spent his first night in this country.

During the proceedings several Armenians were present, including Editor Kureghian of Young Armenia, and Peter Kazeroas. The latter declared that they were in readiness to give testimony, but were informed that they would not be needed until later.

To the local police Editor Kureghian stated that Krikorian is the head of the London central committee, and it was he who ordered his (Kureghian's) murder and attempted personally to assassinate him several months ago when he was editing a paper in London.

Krikorian, while somewhat nervous, shows no great excitement over his detention, although several times he denied that he knew anything of the murder and stated positively that he never was president or any officer of the Armenian committee or of any other secret or revolutionary society. He said he had once been a member of the committee, but had severed his connection with it some time ago.

C. A. P. Talbot, the British consul at Boston, stated that he had telegraphed to the British embassy at Washington for instructions in the case.

Rev. James L. Barton, secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, was asked if the records of the board showed that Krikorian was, as he claimed, a graduate of the American college at Constantinople. Dr. Barton said that the board had no such record, though, Dr. Barton said, it was probable that the Armenian under arrest might be a graduate from Roberts college at Constantinople.

Death May Reunite Factions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Although General Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, will attend, with Mrs. Booth, the imposing funeral services of his sister, Mrs. Booth-Tucker, now planned for Carnegie hall on Sunday afternoon, it is declared unlikely that any formal reconciliation will follow with the Booths of the Salvation Army. Dispatches received from Pittsburg, where the Volunteers have been holding a convention, say that in their common grief at the death of Mrs. Booth-Tucker in a Missouri train wreck the heads of the rival organizations may be brought together, with the ultimate possible reunion of the two armies.

Spirit of Dead Wife Saved Him.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31.—Michaele Terribile, the Italian who was convicted of manslaughter, is said to attribute his escape from a murder penalty to a vision which appeared to him while sleeping in his cell a few nights before his trial began. By advice of his counsel he had decided to plead guilty of murder in the second degree, but in his dream the spirit of his dead wife, he says, urged him not to plead guilty and told that it would be better to stand trial and take his chances of a verdict of first degree murder than to accept the plea offered him.

Will Claim $40,000 From Spain.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 31.—Secretary of State Hay has informed Governor Hunt that he has requested the United States minister at Madrid, Arthur S. Hardy, to present to the Spanish government a claim of $40,000 for Porto Rican school pensions seized by Spain in the San Juan bank after the American occupation of Porto Rico and during the armistice which preceded Spain's final withdrawal from the island.

Escaped With Ladder Made of Tools.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 31.—An escape was made from Auburn prison by William Buck, who was serving an indeterminate sentence for burglary. Buck secured garden rakes and other tools and spliced them together, making a scaling ladder, by means of which he climbed to the roof of the barn and gained access to the wall, from which he climbed to the street.

Durand Should Get $50,000.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Spectator contends that, as Washington has become the most important station in the British diplomatic service, the salary of the ambassador ought to be raised to $50,000. The salary of the late ambassador, Sir Michael Herbert, was $32,500.

B. F. Archer Dead at Camden.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 31.—B. F. Archer, president of the Camden National bank and well known throughout the state of New Jersey, is dead here, aged sixty-five. Mr. Archer was widely known in financial circles.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report the Money Market Unsettled.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Industrial activity has increased somewhat, many plants resuming and others preparing to reopen on Monday. Several pending labor controversies have reached amicable adjustment, adding to the aggregate of wage earners employed. On the other hand, strikes are ordered, and some mills will be closed by lack of new business, while the struggle for control of the copper properties has thrown thousands out of work. While there is evidence of a setback in the steel industry and some hesitation in textiles at the east the general tenor of these reports is encouraging for a continuance of prosperity, particularly in the sections where agriculture is the chief occupation.

Collections are causing some uneasiness, and financial conditions are unsettled. The monetary storm center shifted to St. Louis, and it was found necessary to transfer large sums from this city.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for October aggregated $13,469,256, of which $8,181,032 were in manufacturing, $4,662,266 in trading and $625,958 in other commercial lines. Failures this week were 253 in the United States against 233 last year and 15 in Canada compared with 22 a year ago.

A STRONG FORCE.

Deserter Taken Off Cedric by a Small Army.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Two officers of the harbor police boat, each six feet tall; seven marines, a lieutenant of marines, three bluejackets, a line officer of the navy and seventeen members of the crew of the navy yard tug Narkeeta intercepted the royal mail steamer Cedric on her way in from sea and arrested a diminutive deserter from the gunboat Raleigh.

The Cedric, being an English ship, was not boarded by the naval force. The line officer tied the Narkeeta to the port side of the liner while en route, and the two bluecoats were sent aboard with a telegram and an urgent call for "Mr. Crist Hansen, an oiler," as one of the officers expressed it.

Hansen was not an oiler, but a steerage passenger. He was away up forward showing the foreigners the statue of Liberty when he was placed under arrest. While he was being transferred to the Narkeeta the deserter laughingly said to a deck steward:

"It's a swell thing to have your own yacht come down to meet you. Comes high; but, pshaw, pa is rich."

To Aid Antarctic Explorers.

HOBART, Tasmania, Oct. 31.—The Terra Nova, an auxiliary relief ship formerly a Newfoundland whaler, has arrived here after a splendid passage. The Morning, the Royal Geographical society's relief ship, is expected daily. Both vessels will start for the relief of the Discovery, the British exploring vessel which has been frozen in for thirteen months at the foot of Mount Erebus. The Morning transferred provisions to her by sledges over the ice some months ago. The Terra Nova has been fitted out by the British government, acting independently of the scientific societies which sent out the Discovery expedition. She is carrying gun cotton with which to blast out a channel, but if the Discovery cannot be extricated it is understood that her officers and men will be transferred to the Terra Nova and the Discovery abandoned.

THE BECHTEL INQUEST.

Members of the Family All Refused to Testify.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 31.—When the coroner's inquest in the Bechtel case was resumed the coroner called Fire Chief Cohn and Policeman E. C. Jacoby and William Hickey, who testified to finding the blood spots on carpets and wall. These were the first officers to enter the house after the body was found. They saw Mrs. Bechtel, her daughter Myrtha and one of her married daughters. They described the location of the hall and rooms and stated that the family did not hesitate, but willingly showed the way.

Police Chief Eastman was called next. He testified to the finding of the body of Miss Bechtel and to the procuring of the different blood stained articles in the Bechtel house. Thomas Bechtel accompanied Chief Eastman on his first tour of the premises when he looked for footprints in the yard and tracks of the supposed team in the alley. Chief Eastman showed five boards taken from the steps leading from the kitchen to the basement. On these steps the chief said there were blood spots. The chief told of the arrest of Thomas Bechtel and Eckstein. He said that he said to Thomas:

"I'll have to arrest Eckstein." Thomas flushed and hurriedly exclaimed:

"Don't do that. He is innocent."

Mrs. Bechtel, Miss Bechtel, Mrs. Brobst, a married daughter, John and Charles Bechtel and Eckstein were separately called before the jury. Each refused to answer any questions whatsoever, stating that they might say something that would tend to incriminate themselves. It was while Mrs. Bechtel was in the court room that she learned that Thomas was dead. Her attorney, Mr. Schaadt, asked Chief Eastman:

"Where is Thomas now?"

The chief hesitated and said:

"I guess at the morgue. He committed suicide in his cell."

With this Mrs. Bechtel broke down completely, weeping violently. Dr. Eshback was quickly at her side, and she was led from the room in a state of collapse.

Dr. John Lear, biologist of Muhlenberg college, testified that stains on hatchet, wall paper, bed sheet and overalls were blood.

With the examination of a few other witnesses the inquest was concluded, and the jury returned a verdict that "Mabel Bechtel's death was due to a fractured skull from a blow inflicted at her home by some person unknown to the jury. We believe that the inmates of the house—Mrs. Catherine Bechtel, Myrtha Bechtel, John Bechtel, Charles Bechtel and Aloise Eckstein—are accessories after the fact of the crime."

Engle's Death a Mystery.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 31.—In his own home William J. Engle, secretary of the Vincennes Distilling company, was shot Thursday night and has died from the wounds. Engle had risen to take a train for St. Louis. He went downstairs to the kitchen and was met by a volley of shots. Two bullets entered his head. The death of Mr. Engle started an investigation, and rumors of suicide were heard. The story of enemies having attacked Mr. Engle in the kitchen of his residence and shot him to death is doubted by some. It is reported that V. P. Millet of Louisville, president of the company, and Edward Fitzgerald, Millet's secretary, had superintended the auditing of the books last week and that a shortage of from $25,000 to $30,000 was found. When asked if this were true Mr. Millet said, "I have heard of these reports, but all I will say is that he is dead."

Mad Mollah's Prospects Bad.

ROME, Oct. 31.—News from Somaliland gives assurance that the present prospects of victory for the Mad Mollah are bad. Great Britain has taken steps looking to decisive action for the annihilation of the Mad Mollah's power. Italy, co-operating with Great Britain, has ordered the gunboat Volturno and the cruiser Cristobolo Colombo to re-enforce its Red sea squadron. At the same time Emperor Menelek of Abyssinia has been urged to expedite the attack of his troops on the Mad Mollah's forces, thus catching him between two fires.

Roosevelt's Aid Against Air Ships.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. — Edward Tanner, thirty-three years old, a native of Switzerland and a crank, tried to see the president, but he did not get far beyond the doors of the executive offices before his condition was discovered. He was taken to police headquarters and later to St. Elizabeth's Insane asylum. His delusion was that he was being continually pursued by air ships. He thought the president would make them stop bothering him.

Chicago Will Be the Flagship.

BANKERS IN WRECK

Santa Fe Colorado-Chicago Flier Breaks Steel Bridge.

ESCAPE FROM DEATH A MIRACLE

Thirty Trainmen and Passengers Were Injured, None Very Seriously Except Engineer, Who May Die.

BUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 31.—By an act of train wreckers the east bound Santa Fe passenger train, known as the Colorado-Chicago "Flier," in which was one car filled with eastern bankers homeward bound from California, was derailed at Apishapa creek, thirty-five miles east of this city, and, breaking down the steel bridge, the engine and four cars following plunged to the bed of the creek, where they were piled in a mass of wreckage. Thirty or more trainmen and passengers were injured, and that none was killed outright is regarded as almost miraculous. The injured:

Engineer John E. Walker of La Junta was badly scalded and bruised and may die.

None of the others sustained serious injuries.

J. F. McGill of Washington and C. Bennett of Buffalo were bruised.

The wrecked train was made up at Denver, and at Pueblo the car Del Rosa, in charge of A. S. Kimberly and carrying eighteen eastern bankers, was attached to it. The train was running at a speed of fifty miles an hour as it approached Apishapa creek, between Manganola and Fowler.

At the west end of the bridge the rails spread, derailing the engine, and when it struck the bridge one span 100 feet long went down. The engine, two baggage cars, a chair car and a coach rolled over on their sides to the creek bed. Fortunately little water was running in the creek at the time. One Pullman stopped with the forward end projecting over the embankment. The bankers' car was the only one in the train that was not derailed.

When the engine rolled over Engineer Walker was pinned under his cab, and he was immediately enveloped in a dense cloud of steam. Some time elapsed before he was rescued by other members of the train crew with the assistance of some passengers. Engineer Walker said that the first intimation he had of anything wrong was when the drivers suddenly began bumping the ties. He hastily closed the throttle and reversed the lever. The engine and cars plowed over the ties at least fifteen feet, and the extraordinary strain put on the bridge caused the structure to collapse.

After the wounds of the injured had been dressed by physicians sent out from here they were piloted across the dry bed of the creek and, with the passengers who were uninjured, were taken to La Junta in a special train.

An investigation showed plainly that the spikes had been pulled from three rails. The motive of the wreckers is a mystery, as no robbery was attempted.

General Chase Not a Perjurer.

DENVER, Oct. 31.—Brigadier General John Chase, commander of the national guard of Colorado, now on trial before a court martial, will be exonerated from the charge of perjury. When the court met it was announced that no further evidence on this charge would be required, and a recess was taken at the request of General Chase's attorneys to give the defendant further time to arrange his defense to the charges of disobedience and insubordination. A member of the court on being asked for his opinion of the significance of the abrupt closing of the hearing on the perjury charge replied that it amounted practically to an acquittal.

Charged With False Action.

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 31.—Charles E. Burley of Sound Beach has been placed under arrest on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses and will be given a hearing in Greenwich. At a public auction sale Oct. 15 Burley purchased the livery stable property formerly conducted by Charles E. Quintard and gave a check for $4,000 to the auctioneer, Dr. A. C. Hexamer. The check was on a New York bank and is said to have been returned because of lack of funds.

Railroad Owns a Big Fleet.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31.—A list of the floating property of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad has been made public. It shows a total of forty-three steam vessels and forty-two car floats. There are also a passenger steamer, a freight steamer, three tugboats and eight steel car floats in process of construction.

Salvation Leader Lies In State.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The last honors were paid by Salvation Army members and others to Mrs. Booth-Tucker, who was killed in a railway wreck at Dean Lake, Mo. The body lay in state at the Princess rink from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m. In the evening the remains were sent to New York, whence they may be taken to England for interment.

Mount Airy Bankers Fail.

MOUNT AIRY, Md., Oct. 31.—Albert Jones & Co., bankers of this town, have made an assignment to Joseph D. Baker, president of the Citizens' bank of Frederick City, Md. Mr. Jones estimates his liabilities at $135,000.

Died of His Injuries.

FITCHBURG, Mass., Oct. 31.—Antonio Atmore received injuries while attempting to board a moving switch engine from which he died four hours later.

Buckle's defense of MacMurray is manly.

The middle S in Swackhamer's name never did stand for silence.

When you find a man who is always kicking, you'll see one that hasn't got time to work.

When the ballots are counted, you'll be convinced that Dowie is not the only false prophet in the land.

The voter should remember that in addition to the ward heeler there is another machine he should thoroughly understand before casting his ballot. In two districts in this city the automatic voting machine will be used for the first time, and although it appears to be a simple matter to operate one correctly, a person unacquainted with the machine may easily make a mistake. There's no turning back while operating the machine, so it will pay you to familiarize yourself in the new method of voting.

There are many so-called men in this super-civilized age who would make excellent dummies for clothing stores, but they are of little value in any other capacity. There are some perverts who travel around in trousers, loaf in stores and who think the highest compliment they can pay another man is to tell him about the worst story they can call to mind (and you will readily understand that men of such stamp can remember tales that a decent mind would not harbor.)—Clinton Democrat.

Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, Bishop O'Connor will have as his guests at the Kruger Auditorium a large number of the laity. After a reception during which the guests will be presented to the Bishop, a banquet will be served.

The Duchess and the Duke.

Since the marriage of Consuelo Vanderbilt to the Duke of Marlborough, no "international wedding" has occasioned such interest as the coming alliance of the Goelet fortunes and the Roxburghe titles. Miss May Goelet is the richest girl in the world, a beauty, and every one admits that the Duke of Roxburghe has won a prize. What manner of man is he? From hitherto unpublished family portraits and interesting facts about the famous English family, readers of next Sunday's New York World will glean an excellent idea of the young duke and his standing. Besides these, the Sunday World will present many intreesting portraits of Miss Goelet.

Mrs. Joseph Martin, of this city, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, of Raritan.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS' ATHLETIC CONTESTS

The Daily Press Banner Won by Class of 1905 at the Driving Park.

H. THOMPSON A STAR

AWARDED TWENTY-THREE POINTS AND CAPTURED PRIZE MEDAL.

440-Yard Run Popular—Briggs' Work—Summaries in the Various Events Scheduled—Tug-of-War a Feature.

Harry Thompson, '05, was the bright star of the annual fall meet of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association at the Driving Park yesterday afternoon. He won twenty-three points including three firsts and captured the prize medal offered for the best all-round athlete in the school. His nearest competitor was F. K. Anderson, '04, with fourteen points. Richard Fenno, '04, was third with eleven; and Howard Craig fourth with eight.

In the battle for The Daily Press class banner, 1905 with forty-one points was victorious by a narrow margin over 1908 with thirty-seven. 1906 made one point and 1907 eleven.

In the track events, the 440-yard run was fought hard to the finish, Briggs in his street clothes finishing first by about two feet. The 50-yard dash was won by Sidney Rockwell by a few inches. Paul Collier did good work in the shot put. The summaries:

60-yard dash for competitors under sixteen—Won by Rockwell; time, 7 4-5 sec.; second, Fenno; third, Whitney. 100-yard dash—Won by Anderson; time, 11 4-5 sec.; second, Fenno; third, Rockwell. 220-yard dash—Won by Thompson; time, 26 3-5 sec.; second, Anderson; third, Fenno. 440-yard dash—Won by Briggs; time, 68 sec.; second, Tweedy; third, Thompson; other competitors, Kline and Fenno. 880-yard run—Won by Thompson; time, 2 min. 32 3-5 sec.; Tweedy, second; third, Briggs; other competitors, Anderson, Kline and Fenno.

Running broad jump—Won by Thompson; distance, 15 ft. 8½ in.; Anderson, second; third, Fenno. Running high jump—Won by Anderson; height, 4 ft. 5 in.; second, Thompson; third, Fenno. Pole vault—Won by Craig, height, 5 ft. 10 in.; second, Fenno; third, Thompson; M. Long also competed.

The tug-of-war, the most exciting event on the programme and provocative of the greatest enthusiasm, was won in the final tug by 1906 pulling 1907. In previous bouts, 1907 defeated 1904, and 1906 defeated 1905. The class captains were Robert for '06, Phillip Smith for '07, Koons for '04, and Thompson for '05. The officials were C. E. A. Heywood, referee; timers, I. W. Travell and Carroll Runyon; starter, Kenneth Robbie; judges, Lindsay Best and A. Hacquer.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

Touching on the recent poisoning of dogs in Plainfield, I want to say that it seems to me the audacious practice is one that should be stopped at once by the authorities, in view of the fact that dog licenses are paid to the city for the protection of dogs. If the honest intent of the tax imposed is to be fulfilled by the city, it would seem that the time has come when the culprit who seems to work in the dark, should be apprehended and pay the penalty of his crime, for crime it is against inoffensive and defenseless dumb animals. BOWLING LEAGUE'S ELECTION

MEETING OF ORGANIZATION CONTESTING FOR THE DAILY PRESS CUP.

Changes Made in Arrangement of Schedule—Old Rules to Govern.

An enthusiastic meeting of The Daily Press Bowling League was held in this office last night, when plans for the coming tournament were discussed and other business transacted. D. W. Mulford, C. H. Westerberg, W. P. Howe and S. C. Greves represented Roselle Casino; H. R. Forster and A. B. Smith, Westfield Club; F. O. Ball and Charles B. Morse, Park Club. The Cranford Casino was represented by H. R. Forster.

The first business was the election of officers for the coming year: S. C. Greves was chosen president, and Walter C. Dobbins, of The Daily Press, secretary.

There was an informal discussion as to making a two-round schedule, instead of one as heretofore, and it was decided to make the change. This will allow for more games, and as the tournament will not be started before December 1, the extra games will bring the contest well into spring, and not conclude it as early as in previous years. A committee consisting of H. R. Forster, of Westfield, and D. W. Mulford, of Roselle, was appointed to arrange the new schedule. It was decided that the same rules and regulations governing former tournaments should prevail, and as to postponed games, no doubt arrangements will be made to play them off within a certain time.

The Daily Press was thanked for its kindness and interest in the past, and a vote of thanks was given to Charles B. Morse, the retiring secretary, for his work.

Various tricks were played and Miss Clayton delighted all with her fortune telling.

After the entertainment refreshments were served. These persons were in charge: Miss Lizzie Stafford, E. A. Edgar, Mrs. F. W. French, Miss Gillette, Miss Alice Martin, Miss Ida Angleman, J. R. Joy, Miss Edna French, Miss Mary Smith. D. S. Dunavan had charge of the decorations.

The funeral of Francis A. Rogers, whose death occurred at his home at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street Wednesday evening, was held yesterday afternoon from the Seventh-Day Baptist Church. Rev. George B. Shaw was the officiating clergyman, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis. The remains were interred in Hillside Cemetery. The bearers were A. C. Rogers, William H. Rogers, T. A. Rogers and F. A. Dunham. "Asleep in Jesus" was rendered by a quartette composed of Mrs. David Titsworth, Miss Nan Randolph, Andrew J. Gavett and E. E. Runyon, accompanied by Miss Jessie Utter.

The services were held at Mrs. Campbell's late residence, 409 West Front street. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, of the First M. E. Church, was in charge and he was assisted by Rev. Dr. B. H. Burch, of Kingsbridge, N. Y., and Rev. George H. Whitney, of this city. Rev. James R. Bryan offered prayer, and Miss Florence Bennett sang two hymns. The body was taken to Hillside Cemetery for burial. The bearers were John Cory, George R. Vanderhoef, James R. Joy, Nelson A. Miller, Fred Cutter and George M. Rittenhouse.

SKETCH OF POPULAR ENGINEER OF CENTRAL WHO DIED THIS MONTH.

Nearly Seventy-Three Years Old—Resident of Flemington—His Wife Survives.

"There were sad hearts among the employes of the New Jersey Central on October 12, when it was announced that Engineer Joseph Brower Case, of Flemington, was no more," says The Railroad Employee. "Engineer Case was known to everybody connected with the company, and everybody liked him. His nature was of that winning, genial stamp, and about him was that manliness which commanded admiration. In the social group he was its life, for his reportoire of anecdote and amusing stories seemed inexhaustible. As a story teller he had few superiors. And withal, his hand was charitable, and his heart could throb in sympathy. The distressed found in him a comforting friend.

"Had Mr. Case lived until October 20 next he would have been 73 years of age. Several years ago he had a severe attack of grip which left him with a weak heart, and although he resumed his duties on the railroad he never fully recovered. Diabetes finally set in, followed by dropsy, and he was obliged to give up work.

"Engineer Case was born in Flemington. His father, Joseph Case, was a tanner, and did business in the old stone structure whose ruins still stand in that town. This was more than fifty years ago and he has followed railroading all his life. He was connected with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and afterwards with the Pennsylvania and finally came with the Central, being the second engineer to run the South Branch train to New York. He was a most faithful man to duty and missed very few trips on his engine for more than thirty-five years.

"On April 15, 1857, he married Miss Sarah Coates, of Quakertown, who survives him, and excepting about eight years spent in Trenton the couple lived in Flemington all their married lives. They had one son who died three months after birth. The deceased was an ardent lover of piscatorial sports and spent his annual vacation in the haunts of the trout, bass and sea fish, and had many an interesting story to tell of his varied experience with rod and reel.

"The funeral, conducted by his brother Masons, took place at 11 o'clock Thursday, October 15, at his late home in Flemington; interment was in Prospect Hill Cemetery."

Bride Naps on Fire Escape

Young Boston Woman Disappears from Nuptial Chamber and Is Found the Next Morning, Sound Asleep, on Dizzy Iron Ladder—Somnambulism Explains This Novel Honeymoon Experience.

MRS. MONTGOMERY SEARS BUTLER, a Boston bride, spent the first night of her honeymoon on a fire escape at the Victoria hotel, in Chicago.

Montgomery Sears Butler, the husband of the Boston bride, spent the night roaming the streets, striding up and down the hotel corridor, wandering through the hotel halls—in fact, everywhere save in the bridal chamber.

Incidentally, when the bride was found perched on the lowest round of the fire escape, men were ungallant enough to make remarks about a woman who chose to spend the night clinging to the side of a building.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Sears Butler are prominent in Boston. At least that is what their friends say. The bridegroom showed that he was willing to give his wife the best when they arrived at the Victoria hotel.

"HAVE YOU SEEN HER?"

"The finest suite in the house," he said to Clerk McHenry.

"Sure," said the clerk, and gave them the keys to room 313.

According to the Chicago Chronicle, it was about 11 o'clock when the bridegroom and bride left the lobby. An hour later the bridegroom returned to the clerk.

"Have you seen her?" he queried, and he was excited, too.

"Who?" naturally asked the clerk.

"Why, my wife."

Then the clerk looked at the bridegroom. He wore a bathrobe. What else the clerk could not tell.

"No," he answered, finally.

"Well, she has deserted me."

"So soon?" from the clerk.

"Well, she's gone."

The clerk didn't know just what to do.

"Well, do you want to find her?" he asked at last.

"Do I want to find her? Why, man, she must be found. Maybe she's been kidnaped."

All the bell boys were called. Instructions were issued, and they were about to begin the hunt when the bridegroom shouted:

"And there's ten dollars to the boy that brings a trace of her, and $20 to the man that finds her."

The boys needed no other incentive. They went along the halls shouting her name. Guests were awakened and asked if they had seen her. Sympathizing women joined in the hunt. For an hour the hotel was crowded by amateur detectives. But no trace of the bride was found.

"The lake," finally shouted the husband.

"Have to wait until morning," said Clerk McHenry. And he spent the remainder of the night trying to calm the bridegroom. Day was breaking when a brewery wagon stopped at the hotel.

"Well, what do you think of that?" and the driver pointed to the fire escape.

"Say, they must be doing an awful business," came from a pedestrian.

"Well, it's a cinch that she'll escape if there's a fire," from another. Clerk McHenry began another investigation, this time to see what the second trouble was. He saw a woman asleep on the last round of the fire escape.

"Say, how was your wife dressed?" he demanded of the bridegroom.

"In her nightgown," answered the husband. "Have you any tidings of her?"

The clerk led him to Van Buren street.

"That's she," shouted the man from Boston, and he would have shouted at the woman, had not the clerk restrained him.

"Don't. The shock might awaken her and then she would fall. We must be mighty careful. She's found, but not yet saved."

Then he ran for a blanket. Four men caught the four corners and the blanket was held beneath the sleeping figure.

"Now call her softly," advised the clerk.

"Oh, Harriet," called the man from Boston. The woman yawned.

"Oh, I am so hungry," she said. Then she became fully awake. Her husband shouted instructions to her. But they were unnecessary. When she saw the crowd below and then saw her nightgown, she got away quickly enough.

She explained to her husband afterward that she walked in her sleep, and that she probably left their room and stepped down on the fire escape, and when she came to the last round and could go no farther, sat down and continued her nap.

ATE TOBACCOED SOUP.

Had Flavored It for Hated Rival, But It Was Forced Down His Unwilling Throat.

Prompted by jealousy because the girl he most admired was going to supper with his rival, a young man emptied the contents of his tobacco pouch in the oyster stew which was being made at a social held in the Bellinger schoolhouse, near Emericksville, Pa.

One of the young women tasted the stew and nearly fainted. She thought she had been poisoned. A young man tasted the soup, and announced that it was flavored with nothing more dangerous than tobacco. An investigation followed. The jealous young man was accused, and finally confessed. Some of the young men proposed holding him under the schoolhouse pump, but one of the girls suggested that he be compelled to eat the soup and to pay for it at the rate of 25 cents a plate. Rather than stand under the pump, he consented to eat all he could, and to pay for the rest.

STEW MADE HER SICK.

The girl he most admired leaned on his rival's arm and applauded as plate after plate was set before the victim.

Of Interest to Dentists.

Twenty years ago a young lady of Miller's Falls, Mass., had two teeth extracted. Now, at the age of 40, she is cutting teeth in the places once occupied by those extracted.

Sparrow Thrives in America.

In the United States the sparrow has six broods a year; in England seldom over three.

SAWED WITH HIS MOUTH.

How a Tramp Got a Good Meal Without Doing a Lick of Work for It.

Harry Sanderson, manager for Tony Pastor, who lives at Cranford, N. J., not feeling particularly well, took a day off recently and remained at home. From the window of his library he observed a tramp entering his gate and he walked down to the rear door to meet him. It was the old story—a request for a meal. Having a load of unsawed wood in the shed, he told the fellow that if he got to work and performed on the sawbuck for a brief period he would have something prepared for him.

The tramp went to the shed and immediately the sound of vigorous sawing was heard, stick after stick parting under his energetic efforts. Calling the tramp into the kitchen, Sanderson complimented him upon his energy, and the tramp replied with a modest air that whenever he had anything to do he generally paid attention to it. The meal was eaten and the tramp expressed his thanks and departed.

EXPRESSED HIS THANKS.

Shortly after Sanderson went out to the shed and was surprised to find every stick of wood intact. Upon inquiry in the village he ascertained that he had been entertaining a stranded ventriloquist, who was working his way back to New York from Easton, Pa. The mean chap had simply gone into the shed and given his imitation of sawing wood.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

THE BEDSIDE.

A Few Things It Is Well to Have Conveniently at Hand.

In this age of comfort it is strange to find the bedroom, and particularly the guest bedroom, often so inconvenient. For instance, to take the first thing into consideration, why is the bell never placed near the bed, but always on the other side of the room? And why omit the bell in so many cases? It may be a portable bell if a stationary one is out of the question, and surely nothing is more inconvenient than to be forced to stick one's head out of the door and wait for a chance passerby.

Then the night table. Don't forget the candle and the matches; also it is a good idea to have a box of crackers and an interesting book or two in case your visitor suffers from insomnia. It is certainly not amusing to lie staring awake in the dark.

Any number of people have an electric drop light over the bed, but why not fix it so that it does not ruin the eyesight? A movable bracket can easily be contrived, and the light should be hung as low as possible and, of course, should be carefully shaded.

For breakfast in bed a long, narrow tray is what is needed, so that it will hold everything necessary within reach and may be easily held across the knees. R. DE LA' BAUME.

FAMILY DISCIPLINE.

How It Is Weakened by Well Meaning Relatives.

I am sorry for the unfortunate child who has too many masters or mistresses, which is even worse. One is bad enough, but it is sufficient to drive even a grownup insane when two or more people give directions at the same time.

Yet that is what happens in many households, and I suppose the older folks wonder why the children are peevish and irritable and don't obey any one person in particular.

Grandmothers are the chief offenders, and they sin out of love for the children. They interfere with what they term the severity of the parents. They question the wisdom of the mother before the child, which is a very bad policy indeed, and you hear conversations like the following:

"But, mother, the coat is very heavy, and the doctor said it was weakening to dress the child so warmly."

"Don't tell me! When you were little I wouldn't have dreamed of such a thing! Now you just see if he doesn't catch cold!"

And if the child is drowsy or imagines he has a little pain in his throat even a week after that, what "I told you so's!" What lengthy arguments!

Maiden aunts are pretty bad, too, in this respect. They have theories which are sometimes worse than actual experience. Anyway, they want to put them into practice, and the poor child is between two fires—mother and auntie.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

What is to be done about it? Why, the mother has the supreme right, of course, and if family discipline is to be preserved there must be only one head. If grandmother wishes to give advice, let her do so in private, but never, never before the child, for these wranglings and arguments only breed distrust and perhaps contempt in the youthful mind.

And as for the maiden aunts, let them marry and practice their high falutin notions on their own families.

HELEN CLIFTON.

THE NEW WOMAN

What She Thinks and Does

IT is now just about certain that except in the country and on farms the food of the average American family will ere long be prepared outside of the home. The housekeeping of the future will be nothing like so vexatious as that of the present is. A number of people in Brooklyn are solving the kitchen girl problem by the establishment of an eating club. A building has been rented as a clubhouse. A competent chef and manager takes charge of it at a good salary. He employs waiters and assistant cooks and kitchen help. He also prepares the daily menu, sends it to each household represented in the club and gets that family's order for the day. When the family come to dinner or luncheon or whatever the meal may be it is ready for them. Each family get the best the market affords without the slightest worry, and all cooking is removed out of the home. The waiters are paid better than ordinary ones are, and tipping is absolutely forbidden, as it should be everywhere. Thus each household is able to dispense with at least one servant and get satisfactory meals at reduced cost. There is every reason why the same system should be adopted even in villages. The individual family kitchen and cook are doomed. If housekeeping had kept up with other things in the march of improvements we should long since have had the eating clubhouse, maintained by the cooperation of individual housekeepers. Intelligent women determined to keep good tempered can manage it successfully in the smallest hamlet in this land. The enterprise has been tried sufficiently to insure its success. The only trouble has been that the old woman, undisciplined to steady action, has grown weary of clockwork regularity and has wanted to go somewhere else when her turn to manage came. The new woman is drilled to sustained effort and knows nothing can be achieved without it.

* *

Have you among your acquaintances any of those estimable ladies who make up their minds finally what they are going to do in a given matter, then go all around among friends asking their advice about it? Do you ever do this yourself?

There is no reason why women who enter domestic service should lodge in the homes of their employers. They can and no doubt in time will have their own homes and rooms where they can go in the evening when their work is done, returning next morning for their regular task. This arrangement will give the hired girl that liberty as a human being which is now denied her and will enable the householder to dispense with one sleeping room. Civilization is certainly coming to this—that all domestic help will be housed in quarters of their own outside their employers' homes.

* *

I am not absolutely certain in my own mind that the female who is nothing but a bundle of irrational emotions, which she allows to govern her, has any immortal soul. One school of philosophers declares that man has no immortality till he grows and nurtures it from the seed.

* *

The object that makes me more weary than almost anything else is the woman who is an emotional fool. Here side by side in a newspaper today I read two items. In one the emotional fool testified in court that the "mystic hypnotic influence" of a man thief had led her to steal and commit various disreputable follies. But she boohooed and blubbered in the court and said, "I can't help loving him, though he has led me into sorrow and disgrace." Hypnotic bosh! No human being can hypnotize a woman unless she lets down the bars of her will. In the second case the girl, the daughter of a sheriff, fell in "love" with a jailbird, let him out of prison and ran away with him, although he would have preferred to go alone. Girls like that ought to be put at hard, regular labor on a diet of bread, beef and beans, allowed to read no novels and made to study mathematics in their spare hours.

It is not necessary for a woman to be fat.

In Kansas the school authorities promulgated the decree that no woman teacher should have a "steady" during school term and that any lady teacher who married during the school year thereby forfeited a part of her salary. This made the schoolmistresses indignant and enlisted with them the sympathies of the women citizens of Kansas. These took vigorous action. They instituted a still hunt political canvass. They quietly put candidates of their own selection in the field for school officers. For these candidates the ladies, keeping their mouths shut as to their plans, worked enthusiastically. There was no great opposition, for the school office incumbents did not know what the women were at. The ladies elected their candidates generally, in some cases turning out of office their own husbands, and the obnoxious regulations against women teachers will be abrogated. Women vote in Kansas.

A lady who belongs to the butter stratum of society remarked lately that she feared coeducation would [illegible] ultimate fashionable proclivities. I [illegible] hope so.

POLITICS IN GOTHAM

Oddities That Are Characteristic of an Odd Campaign.

BUCKING THE TAMMANY TIGER

The Press Is for the Fusion Ticket as a Rule—Peculiar Organization of Newspaper Men—Other Gossip.

New York.—A man from Georgia, a democrat who bears the historic name of Johnston and who works upon the only paper of any consequence that supports the so-called democratic ticket of Tammany, is the head of the most picturesque organization formed to beat that guild of greed.

The "Acorns'" Window

The order of the "Acorns" was built two years ago to beat Van Wyck. It was composed at first and is still actively run by reporters. Three-fourths of them are democrats; all of them felt it an outrage that the good name of democracy was made to stand for red lights, "graft" and corruption.

Everyone supposed that the society would fall to pieces as soon as the campaign was over. Its founders looked ahead. They foresaw the greater struggle this year, and kept the skeleton of an organization alive. This year they have added 90,000 names to their list. They have no creed, no politics, no purpose in life except this one, to beat the Tiger. No men better know what four years of Van Wyckism meant than do the newspaper reporters. And it is not true that much seeing of wickedness and suffering hardens their hearts; it does not.

The best campaign ideas come from the Acorns. It was their booths set out in the street that gathered signatures by the hundred thousands for anti-graft bills before the legislature last winter. They have just hired a tiger, a 500-pound Bengal beauty, and exposed it in a cage in the window of their Broadway headquarters. "Do you want to turn him loose?" is the legend they have put over the cage.

The "Oddest Ever" Campaign.

No stranger campaign was ever waged than this for the control of New York city.

The Tiger as a Kidnapper

Party lines are forgotten. Hugh McLaughlin, the veteran Brooklyn boss, is shirking his party ticket for the first time in 40 years. McLaughlin has always been close to David B. Hill, to Judge Parker and other leaders of the state democracy. Nominally, Senator Hill supports Tammany in its fight. At heart it is not supposed he would greatly mourn if his old friend McLaughlin should disrupt Tammany this year. After a long schism the Cleveland democrats and the Hill democrats are now in union and harmony. They resent the control of the party machinery in New York city by men like Croker and Tim Sullivan. Croker named McClellan for mayor; Sullivan named the candidate for borough president in Manhattan, where vast and costly public works would put immense patronage into Tim's hands if his man wins. I think Sullivan got the best of it. Manhattan is the tiger's lair. He may elect his man.

It begins to be apparent that Sub-Boss Murphy made a mistake when he played "smart politics" by kidnaping Candidates Grout and Fornes from the fusion ticket. They have been repudiated by the fusionists, have come out squarely as Tammany candidates and are bitterly denounced by many Tammany adherents, who will with reluctance vote for them or not vote for them at all.

And their nomination gave McLaughlin his excuse for bolting, though he once ran Mr. Grout as a candidate for mayor of Brooklyn.

Not often do hard political knocks harm personal friendships in this town. To-day Mr. Grout is in such dis-esteem that old acquaintances are "cutting him dead" upon the street and in his clubs.

The Sad Fate of Nixon.

There was talk at one time of running Lewis Nixon as a third party candidate, to pull the real democrats into line for next year. "what's the use of a third ticket?" asked Hugh McLaughlin. The attempt was given up McLaughlin ought to know.

McLaughlin Is Calm

Then came the shipyards trust exposures and Nixon was impossible. It is a pity.

Before the financial bee buzzed in his ear Nixon was the man to lead democracy out of the Tammany mud, and rally the better element to a movement like the county democracy of Hewitt, Cooper, Grace and others years ago. He is a Virginian, born to his political faith. He was a navy designer and drew plans for the Oregon. He went into business for himself, bought an interest in a sleepy little shipyard in New Jersey, transformed it by his energy into an important bidder for torpedo boat work. He is a hustler.

In politics Nixon was the one man who ever persuaded Croker to give decency a show. Under Nixon's influence Croker appointed a committee of five to investigate vice conditions under Van Wyck and suggest remedies. Every man of the five is now out of favor in Tammany. They took their work seriously and found vice when the braves held they should have used the whitewash brush. For a time Nixon was nominally "boss" of Tammany. He resigned as soon as he knew that he was only nominally the boss and that he would have no chance to clean the Augean stable.

Then Nixon, who is a great administrator and builder, not a financier, was roped into the shipyards trust. I repeat: It was a pity. He is too valuable a man to be ruined in the public esteem because for a little while he yielded to the dream that men could lift themselves by their bootstraps and turn waste paper into valuable securities by capitalizing competition and organizing monopoly.

It was a bad dream. The trust was going badly at the best when "Charley" Schwab met Nixon and Dresser, his assistant in the trust making, one day and suggested that they buy the Bethlehem steel works. It's a long story how he and J. P. Morgan & Co. unloaded the works on the trust, taking in pay their cash value and in addition $20,000,000 worth of stock which was to be unloaded on the public in turn before the other stock of the concern was marketed.

"Confidence" and the Market.

The transaction did more than ruin Nixon politically. It killed for the time the public confidence in the stock market. The street took the disclosures with its usual cynicism. Not until it "heard from the country" did it appreciate the damage that had been done.

It Was a Bad Dream

"You couldn't sell gold dollars for 95 cents in this market," said one of Mr. Morgan's partners recently.

That is not quite true. The standard railroad stocks of the old, conservatively managed lines, which may be taken to be the "gold dollars" in the parable, have not declined to any alarming extent in three months. Meanwhile the industrials have in some instances lost half their price. And no one who knows the market now denies that the standard dividend-paying railroads will recover long before industrials, and will go further and faster on the upward course than industrials and the great new mergers can hope to do until they are equally time-tested.

One of the queerest stories of the street I have heard is this: A man sold Brooklyn Rapid Transit short at 30, when it was first organized. It began going up in the fever of the boom. His broker advised him to cover. "No, I guess I'll margin instead," he said. He did margin, and he kept on margining until the stock had reached 130 and he was tremendously "in the hole." Then came the reaction; B. R. T. began going down; and at each successive "low" the man's broker advised him to close while he could, but the speculator held on.

The other day the stock dropped to 26. "Now I'll cover," the cool hand said. And cover he did below his original price, though of course the items of interest and stock borrowing had in the meantime more than eaten up the profit.

A Social Explorer.

One of the most singular exploring parties ever sent out of New York has just returned bearing rich spoils. It consisted of a man, his wife, their son and a photographer. Their mission was to photograph and observe in every country things of interest to the Institute of Social Service. Miss Helen Gould paid the bills, and the chief explorer was Dr. W. H. Tolman, the head of the institute.

Helen Gould

Consider this list of what Dr. Tolman saw and compare it with the average traveler's studies abroad:

Dunfermline and the problems of its $2,500,000 gift from Andrew Carnegie.

Security designs for the prevention of machinery accidents, in Amsterdam and Paris.

The proposed model city, near London; the British Institute of Social Service.

Cooperation in Italy; technical education and cooperation in Ireland.

Home life of the poor in all of the big cities.

The result of the trip will be a Social Service Institute in New York, founded chiefly by Miss Gould. It will have permanent quarters in Fourth avenue and will be, with its models, photographs, plans, maps and samples of safety machinery and home improvements, one of the most interesting places in the city; useful, too.

It is well that some people know how to spend money—a much more difficult art than making it.

WORKINGMEN BITTER OVER ACCUSATION

Employes of Pond Machine Tool Works incensed at Republican Club's Criticism.

AN UNANIMOUS ACTION

COMMITTEE REPRESENTING 600 WORKINGMEN MAKE AN ANSWER.

Declare That Statement That MacMurray Controls Their Votes is an Insult to Them—No Intimidation.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

A communication from the organization styling itself "Plainfield Republican Club" has been printed in both daily papers of recent date and has probably been seen by the vast majority of our citizens.

While the avowed intention of that letter seemed to be to traduce the character of Mr. James T. MacMurray, general manager of the Pond Machine Tool Company, the version as contained in one paper at least, casts most serious reflections on the integrity of the entire body of employes of that institution.

The present campaign has without doubt engaged grave differences of opinion among the voters of Plainfield, but when a body of men, assuming the title of a Republican Club goes so far in promulgating its ideas as to charge that we, the employes of a great manufacturing concern, hold our positions therein on condition only that we cast our ballots according to the dictates of our superior officer, the time has come to take serious exception.

Such insinuations as those already printed place us on a level with the most debauched vote sellers. Were the members of the Republican Club men at all familiar with existing conditions, such a slander, we flatter ourselves, would have been impossible. That they should, in their ignorance, be so ready to rob us of our reputation as the gainers of honest livelihoods, stamps them as men who are willing to go to any extremes to gain their point.

We may not enjoy the affluent circumstances of many of the members of the so-called Republican Club, but we do contend that we are every whit as honest and upright as any of them.

Let the Republican Club stick to truth and fact in its contentions; let it avail itself of every fair argument possible. We do demand, however, that our reputations be spared; that we be not charged as having sold our liberty with our skill.

We declare absolutely to the public of Plainfield that our votes are our own, to do with as we please; that Mr. MacMurray does not nor does any one else, in his behalf threaten us in the manner charged by the Republican Club, nor in any other manner.

We resent most emphatically the insult placed upon us in the Republican Club's letters, and we maintain that a deep and abiding injury has been done us.

This letter represents the unanimous sentiment of our entire body, and we give it forth in the hope that more credence may be accorded it by the Plainfield public than to any such anonymous communication as that of the Plainfield Republican Club.

WORK ON GAS TANK.

Delay Necessary on Account of Scarcity of Iron.

On account of large orders for pressed steel the work on the new gas recepticle which is being erected on East Fourth street corner of Washington, has been delayed somewhat on account of difficulty in getting the iron for the new tank fast enough.

The contractors, a Philadelphia firm, announced some time ago that the tank would be completed by the first of December but it is now apparent that the new addition will not be ready for use before the first of the year at the earliest. It will be much larger than the present tank when it is completed and already it is almost as large as the old one. It is said that when it is completed it will be one of the largest tanks in this section of the State.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION

DELEGATES FROM THIS CITY AND ELSEWHERE TO GATHER AT NEWARK.

Association to Meet on November 17, 18 and 19—The Programme for the Several Lessons.

Plainfielders will be among the more than 1,500 delegates who from all parts of the State will gather in Newark next month, at the annual meeting of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association. The convention will be held November 17, 18 and 19. The association was organized in New Brunswick in 1858.

The first four sessions this year will consist of an institute prepared for teachers of the elementary grades, but to which all who are interested in the training of the young will be welcome. These will be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday afternoon and night, and Wednesday morning and afternoon, November 17 and 18. On Wednesday night the first public meeting will be held. This and all subsequent gatherings will take place in the Peddie Memorial Church.

The convention will open with an address of welcome by Mayor Henry M. Doremus, who will greet the delegates on behalf of Newark. Rev. Dr. James I. Vance will welcome them on behalf of the religious organizations of the city, and Rev. Charles Hastings Dodd, pastor of the Peddie Church, will extend the greetings of his congregation.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Philip Swain will conduct the W. C. T. U. Gospel temperance meeting in the rooms on Madison avenue tomorrrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

There is a decided increase of interest in the mid week prayer services held at the First Baptist Church. Rev. Dr. Chambliss, who now has charge of these services, has awakened this interest by practical and helpful talks.

FISK FOR THE TICKET.

Says Republican Convention Made a Mistake, But Candidates Should be Supported.

Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk to a reporter for The Daily Press today said: "I think it is a serious mistake for a certain faction of the Republican party to cut the ticket nominated at Elizabeth. The ticket nominated is composed of good straight clean men and should be supported by every Republican. I believe the convention made a mistake in nominating such a ticket, but now that the work is done, let the party stand by the ticket."

O'Neil Hurt in Fight.

George O'Niel, eighteen years of age, of 418 East Fourth street, was savagely kicked in the face and beaten about the body Thursday night by Frank Carver, of West Fourth street. Carver brings serious charges against O'Niel and attacked him, it is said, by way of revenge. He had been "laying for" O'Niel for three days and nights before he finally located him and beat him almost to insensibility. O'Niel is now under a doctor's care at his home. It is probable that a law suit will result.
